

ALLEGHENY TO BE HOST TO Y. M. C. A. DELEGATES

Western Pennsylvania Council Will Convene Here Dec. 4, 5, and 6.

PROGRAM PLANNED

Distinguished Philippine Educator to be Principal Speaker.

Allegheny College is to be host to the Student Council of Western Pennsylvania, a division of the State Y. M. C. A., which will hold its fall student conference here during the first week-end of next month, Friday, Dec. 4, through Sunday, Dec. 6. This will be an important event for Allegheny, since it is expected that there will be delegates from the seventeen colleges, two seminaries, and two preparatory schools which comprise the western Pennsylvania section of the Student Council.

Concerning Allegheny College and the arrangements which are being made here, the descriptive folder of the conference has the following to say:

"Extensive plans are being made by the Administration and Student Body of Allegheny College for the entertainment of the visiting delegates. Most of these will be housed in the fraternities, dormitories and homes of faculty men adjacent to the campus. And what a campus—rated as one of the most beautiful in the country. And the luxurious fraternities and the fine background and tradition which surrounds this, one of the first colleges west of the Alleghenies."

Camilo Osias, for ten years president of the National University of the Philippine Islands is to be one of the chief speakers. Other lecturers will be Mr. J. C. Mace, lecturer and prominent radio speaker, and Mr. Jesse R. Wilson, general secretary of the Student Volunteer Movement.

"Modern Students in a Changing World" will be the theme of the conference. The complete program will include the annual banquet, several conference sessions, recreation periods, and possibly visits to points of interest in Meadville.

Allegheny's Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, composed of William Boetker, Robert Brakeman, Paul Cares, Charles Hartung, John Coffin, and faculty advisor Dr. Beiler, are making arrangements to entertain the large number of delegates which are to be expected. Cards will be distributed to fraternities, to faculty members, and to members of the Presbyterian, Methodist, and Baptist churches, on which they may indicate the extent to which they are willing to aid in the entertainment of delegates.

Interfraternity Group Holds Regular Monthly Meeting Wednesday

Regular monthly meetings of the Interfraternity Council continue, as the delegates met on Wednesday evening, November 11, at the Beta Kappa House to discuss methods of enforcing Council regulations for freshman rushing.

The conference, which was in charge of Mr. John Coffin, of Beta Kappa, rejected a plan previously developed, under which each fraternity was to post $100 in a local bank, as a security for possible fines in case of penalty for infraction of Council regulations.

The tone of the discussion indicated that the various representatives, while in favor of restriction, felt that other methods of control and enforcement could be developed if need should arise.

Freshman rushing methods again came in for discussion. A Committee on Rushing is at present studying methods and restrictions for rushing to be found in other institutions. Their findings will be submitted at some later date, and an attempt made to develop from them some satisfactory system to be used here.

William Boetker was selected during the course of the meeting to represent the local group at the Interfraternity Council to be held in New York on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, November 25, 26, and 27.

The next meeting of this group will be held at the Phi Kappa Psi House on Wednesday, December 2, with Mr. Frank Morse in charge. As this group convenes, the graduate advisors of the various fraternity groups will be in attendance, injecting a new note into established routine.

BAND TO HAVE NEW UNIFORMS NEXT YEAR

Next year the college is going to equip the band with new uniforms. These will be "pep" uniforms rather than the old style formal military dress. These uniforms will be white trousers with blue and gold sweaters. This "pep" band idea has been developed in many schools and Allegheny's band will indeed be in style next year.

Debate Squad Will Continue Practice Speaking to Clubs

The first of a series of debates by members of the English Language 4-A class before service clubs and schools will be held tomorrow at the Franklin Kiwanis Club. Two members of the class, which constitutes the men's varsity debate squad, will discuss the question: "Resolved, that capitalism as a system of economic organization is unsound in principle."

The practice of sending student speakers to various organizations in the vicinity of Meadville was instituted two years ago. The program is being broadened so as to include service clubs within a 75 mile radius of Meadville. Four appearances besides the one tomorrow have already been scheduled. On December 4 two members of the class will present the question before the Kiwanis Club of Geneva, Ohio. The Kiwanis Club of Corry, Pa., will be the scene of a debate on December 10. On December 14 the question will be discussed before the Jamestown, New York, Rotary Club at noon and at the Lakewood High School in the evening.

The Language 4-A class will engage in a triangular debate with Oberlin and Wooster on March 3 and 4. The Allegheny affirmative team will meet Oberlin at Oberlin on March 3 and the Wooster negative team at Wooster on March 4. On the same trip the affirmative team will appear at Delaware on March 2 in a debate with Ohio Wesleyan and two evenings later at Cleveland where the team will debate with Western Reserve.

MISS LILA NEWDICK WELL RECEIVED HERE

In spite of unfortunate conflicting engagements Ford Memorial Chapel was well filled last Friday evening when Lila Newdick of Boston gave a dramatic presentation of Alexandre Dumas' four act comedy, "A Marriage of Convenience."

Endowed with a speaking voice of exceptional beauty and a charming stage presence, the artist delighted her audience with a very artistic interpretation of character and plot. The scenes between the young countess and her maid were particularly delightful, and Miss Newdick's portrayal of the character part of the old uncle showed her dramatic versatility. The sparkling lines of this comedy of the eighteenth century were startling in their modernity, and, save for the quaint manners of Louis XV's court, might well have depicted the present day.

Following the play, the Meadville Branch of the A. A. U. W., under whose auspices the entertainment was given, held an informal reception at the Phi Gamma Delta House, affording an opportunity for members and friends to meet Miss Newdick.

SENATE TO PROPOSE CHANGE IN PROGRAM

On Tuesday, November 10, the Student Senate met in its regular weekly session to discuss projected student changes.

Tentative programs have been submitted by this body to the faculty Committee on Chapel Programs for the latter's approval. Present plans call for one student conducted chapel during each month.

The Senate was scheduled to meet at noon yesterday in Alden Hall for further routine business and possible further discussions of the programs under consideration.

HARRIERS TERMINATE UNSUCCESSFUL SEASON

Allegheny's cross country runners wound up a rather unsuccessful season last Saturday by losing to Geneva, 18-27. Geneva took first, second, third, fourth, and eighth places, while Allegheny took fifth, sixth, seventh, ninth, and tenth. Of the Allegheny runners, Ish was the first to cross the finish line, while Morgan and Marks tied for sixth and seventh places. Lubic took ninth and Beiler was tenth.

NEW ARRANGEMENT IS MADE IN CAMPUS STAFF

Fairer Selection of Editor and Manager is Goal of New System.

Final arrangements concerning the administration of The Campus have resulted in a complete reorganization of the paper, involving the editorial and business departments. A new plan of management will be put into operation as soon as practicable.

Earlier this fall it was understood that the former publications board would function this year in its regular capacity, with changes only in personnel, but President Tolley has announced the dissolution of this board and the adoption of a new plan of operation which, it is hoped, will be more efficient in the methods of selecting the editor-in-chief and the business manager. In this step, The Campus has been placed upon a wholly amateur basis and made independent of other publications, except in its financial organization, which will remain under the administration of the Treasurer of the college.

The new plan, which was proposed by Mr. Seely, faculty advisor to The Campus, provides for an editorial competition to begin during the Freshman year. The first year men will compete as reporters for the positions of department editors, who will be chosen in May of that year. The freshmen will assist the sophomore department editors in gathering and editing the news before it is submitted for publication.

From the group of sophomore editors, four men will be selected in May to comprise an editorial board of juniors, the members of which will assume in rotation the task of editing the paper. They will also be expected to submit editorials and suggestions for the improvement of the paper. At the end of the Junior year, the editor-in-chief will be chosen from this group, his selection being made upon a basis of the quality of the issues he has edited and the editorials submitted. This arrangement will provide each of the religion of the Pharisees. He of the religion of the Pharisees. He stated that, in modern language, these people were shocked when questioned concerning their petty religious laws by Jesus, who said that these rules were made so that one could escape religious duty through following them. The laws of the Pharisees, as well as the religious laws of other ancient peoples, were made up of a "don't" program. The people were held to an old faith in a moving world. Their religion were the causes of their conceptions of the shape of the earth, the creation of man, the position of the earth in the solar system, and other similar things. Their eating was controlled by their religion, which provided for fasting and for the omission of such things as pork from the diet, and which forbade the eating of animals that were not killed in some special manner.

DR. BEILER SPEAKER IN CHAPEL LAST MONDAY

Dr. I. R. Beiler, Professor of Bible at the College, gave an interesting talk to the students at the chapel service, Monday.

He went on to show how the young people of today can be compared to Jesus as he appeared "Shocking" to the Pharisees. He stated that the youth of today also appear shocking in their quests for reform and revolt. They are eternally in search for the truth.

Dr. Beiler's convictions toward this comparison were shown by comparing religion to a wire. Just as a wire shocks when it is alive and has no effect when it is dead, so does a religious message "shock" when it is alive and have no effect when it is dead. By this comparison he pointed out that it is the "Shocking" religion, or that connected with the young people of today, that is really alive.

PHI DELTA CONVENTION HERE DECEMBER 4-5-6

Fall Party to Climax Social Program of Tri-Province Convention.

The local chapter of Phi Delta Theta is rapidly completing plans for the fraternity's annual Tri-Province Convention, which is to meet this year at Allegheny College on December 4, 5, and 6.

During this period three business sessions have been planned, the first of which will be held Friday morning, December 4; the next one on the ensuing afternoon; and the final one on Saturday morning. In these sessions, there will be a discussion of questions of general fraternity interest, the most important of which appears to be finances.

On Friday evening a banquet will be held, and speeches will be made by the general officers of the fraternity. The following night another banquet will be set for approximately one hundred men and women. Following this affair, the Phi Delta Theta Fall Party will be held.

The Tri-Province Convention embraces twelve of the one hundred and two chapters of the fraternity, which was founded in 1848 at Miami University, in Oxford, Ohio. Since that time Phi Delta Theta has established chapters in forty-four states of the United States, including Allegheny College in its scope in 1879, when the local chapter was founded. All of the chapters of the Tri-Province Convention are from Pennsylvania except two: West Virginia Alpha, and Maryland Alpha. The chapters of the state are as follows:

Pennsylvania Alpha, at Lafayette College; Pennsylvania Beta, at Gettysburg College; Pennsylvania Gamma, at Washington and Jefferson College; Pennsylvania Delta, at Allegheny College; Pennsylvania Epsilon, at Dickinson College; Pennsylvania Zeta, at the University of Pennsylvania; Pennsylvania Eta, at Lehigh University; Pennsylvania Theta, at Pennsylvania State College; Pennsylvania Iota, at the University of Pittsburgh; and Pennsylvania Kappa, at Swarthmore College.

NEW STUDY ROOM POPULAR WITH STUDENTS

The new study room of the Reis Library has proved very popular with the students, many taking advantage of the opportunity of studying there, away from noise and other disturbances. A record kept during the past week shows that nearly one hundred students have studied in the Library each evening.

A new table for use in connection with the system of catalogue slips has just been added to the Library's modern equipment. The Remington Rand Company constructed this new table to order so that it would harmonize with the large central desk, and it is expected to be a great aid in the use of the catalogue slips. This fine piece of furniture is eight feet long and two feet wide. The base is made of marble and the hand-carved ends are of the pedestal type.

In the periodical room, the new racks have been completed, and the two hundred and eighty-four magazines will soon be transferred to them. Also, the older portion of the Library is being repainted so as to match the new addition. The shelves, which are being refinished, will be set up as soon as they arrive.

These continual improvements and additions to our Library are keeping it up in the front rank of its field.

VICTORY VALUABLE

A football victory means a great deal to the University of Boston's football team. For if Boston wins a game after ten consecutive defeats the co-eds will once more speak to the members of the team and allow them to make dates.

Town Students Will Present Novel All-College November 24

The all-college "Hobo Dance" which was scheduled previously to be held this Saturday has been changed and will be held in the Gymnasium next Tuesday evening, November 24, the evening before Thanksgiving Recess, with dancing from eight o'clock until eleven o'clock.

A committee of town students, aided by Miss Cora E. LeRoy, has been working on final plans for the event which is to be grand finale of the fall social season. This all-college will be the final wind-up of social affairs to be held before the Thanksgiving holidays.

The entire nature of the "Hobo Dance" has not yet been revealed, but, complicated with by both men and women, the theory being that there should be plenty of old clothes this year. The committee has also announced that the decorations and fittings of the gymnasium and the refreshments, will be of a novel nature, and that the entire program of the evening is to be a very novel and interesting one. The entire faculty is invited and urged to be present to help make the first attempt at novel dances a success.

In order to encourage a large number of students to come singly instead of coming in couples the price for admission has been made thirty-five cents for single admissions and seventy-five cents for couples. The money is to be turned over to the Athletic Fund of the College.

DR. LEE ADDRESSES UNIVERSITY CLUB

Dr. R. Edwin Lee, of Allegheny College was the speaker recently at a dinner and meeting at the University Club at Erie, his hearers being members of the Erie section American Chemical Society.

Dr. Lee's subject was "Einstein and the Universe Builders." The substance of his lecture was material he had gathered in his past experiences and at the California Institute of Technology last winter, where he spent several months.

The lecture given by Dr. Lee at Erie was the third of the series before this same section, the other lecturers being Dr. E. K. Reed, Department of Chemistry, Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, Md., and Dr. W. D. Bancroft, of Cornell University.

ORGANIZED THEATRE PEP MEETING SUCCESS

Under the leadership of Head-Cheerleader Kelly, a very successful pep meeting was held at the Park Theatre last Friday night in preparation for the game with Geneva on Saturday. The center section of the theatre was practically monopolized by the student body, the football team, and the coaches. Pennants of various classes decorated the walls of the building, while a large Allegheny banner on the stage formed the background for the band.

At nine o'clock the lights were turned on and the program got under way with the singing of the Alma Mater. Coaches Crum and Lopeman were called to the stage, where they expressed confidence in the team and urged the whole-hearted support of the student body. Following some fine cheering by the students, an unsuccessful attempt was made to get a speech from Allegheny's co-captains, Garbark and Morse. The meeting was closed with more cheers, two selections by the college band, and a song.

LIBRARY GIFT

Tennessee Wesleyan College Library has received a gift of almost 200 books in the fields of religion, history, German, French, and English literature and on miscellaneous subjects from Brown University. The volumes are duplicates of books already in the Brown University Library.

NINE MEN NOW ENTERED IN WAKEFIELD CONTEST

Oration Contest to Take Place in Playshop Theatre December 3.

RULES ANNOUNCED

Attractive Prizes Bring Forth Cream of Debating Talent.

Nine men thus far have signified to Professor Hurst Anderson their intention to enter the Wakefield Oration Contest, which is to be held in the Little Theatre in Arter Hall on Thursday evening, December 3.

Those entered are as follows: William Boetker, Bramer Carlson, Sanford Corcoran, Kenneth Johnson, Harold Loyal James Mansell, Douglas Marks, William Olson, and Harry Thompson.

These speakers will compete under rules which were formulated last year by the Committee on Debate and Oratory. Before the Thanksgiving Recess, each one is required to submit an original oration, containing not more than 1800 words. From these, the six best will be selected to be delivered on December 3.

For this contest, three prizes are offered, the first one of $40, the second $15, and the third $10. Last year the first prize was awarded to Howard Plate for his oration on "News Stand Brains;" the second prize to James B. Hamilton, who delivered "The Road's End;" and the third to Will Roos for his speech on "Fortune's Inequalities."

Of the three winners, the one man who has developed the best speech by next spring is to speak at the National Intercollegiate Forensic Meet, which will be held at Allegheny College in May.

The rules for this year's contest are as follows:

1. The Wakefield Oration Contest will be held on Thursday, December 3.
2. The contest is open to men of the Senior, Junior, and Sophomore classes.
3. A winner of a previous contest is not for that reason, debarred from competition.
4. The orations are to be the original work of the students entering the contest.
5. No oration shall exceed 1800 words.
6. Three typed copies of each oration should be in the hands of the Committee on Debate and Oratory not later than Wednesday, November 25.
7. If more than six orations are submitted, the Committee reserves the right to eliminate all but six. The basis of choice to be the quality of the written oration.
8. Three prizes of $40, $15, and $10 will be awarded to the best orations.
9. The Debate and Oratory Committee will choose Allegheny's representative in the Civic Oratorical Contest from one of the three orations. The choice will depend upon which of the prize winners has developed the best oration by the time of the intercollegiate contest which is to be held in May, at Allegheny College.

Dr. Tolley Delegate at Inauguration of New Bucknell Head

President William Pearson Tolley represented Allegheny College at the inauguration of Homer Price Rainey, 37, former president of Franklin College, Indiana, as the seventh president of Bucknell University on Friday, November 13.

In addition to 42 college presidents and delegates from 69 other colleges and universities, representatives from numerous learned societies and foundations attended the ceremonies and took part in the academic procession. A large number of this group were present for the opening of the day's activities at Lewisburg, Pa., which began with a college breakfast given for the delegates.

In the presence of delegates from 111 colleges and universities and the students and faculty of Bucknell University, Dr. Homer Price Rainey was inducted into the office of President of Bucknell University by Dr. John Warren Davis, Acting President of the University Board of Trustees. In Eliasville, Texas, 2,000 miles away, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Rainey, heard the ceremony by means of a special telephone circuit.

SINGERS WILL HAVE TWENTY NEW ROBES

Twenty new robes have recently been purchased for the Allegheny singers, making a total of sixty uniforms. They are to be used mainly for home concerts, but can be utilized by the enlarged chorus on trips. They were ordered to be here in time for the Student Volunteer trip to Buffalo, but since the trip has been cancelled due to difficulties in financing it, there is no present demand for them. However, the robes will be here in time to be used for the Christmas concert in the chapel.

Playshop Scores with Production of "Arms and the Man"

Playing before near capacity audiences on each of the three nights of its performance George Bernard Shaw's "Arms and the Man" scored one of the greatest successes in the history of the Allegheny Student Playshop. Professional in its every detail the play is more than worthy of the many compliments and tributes that have been paid it by three highly appreciative audiences. It is difficult to conceive of a more brilliant performance in any theatre in the collegiate world. The polish and finesse which was displayed by the amateur actors and producers of the Student Playshop is comparable to any performance on the legitimate stage.

The success of the performance can be largely attributed to Mr. G. B. Shaw himself. In "Arms and the Man" he has attained that rare essence of humorous satire which makes the play itself a most interesting study. He brings the spotlight of his satire to focus on the swashbuckling grandeur which inevitably accompanies the blaring of the bugle and the cry "To Arms." Through the exaggeration of his characters he mocks and pokes delightful fun at the characteristics of militarism—the arrogant demeanor, flashy uniforms, brass buttons, jangling swords, and clicking heels. He veils his satire behind the most amusing and entertaining of plots. It will be readily seen, then, that the Allegheny Student Playshop had a most excellent vehicle by which to display its excellent talents.

Space prohibits tributes to the individual members of the cast. The quality of their performances is a common topic of conversation on the campus of the College and in many homes in Meadville. To say that it was excellent would be to put it mildly.

The unit probably as much responsible for the success of the production as the cast and one always in the background when praise is being meted out is the production staff. No finer scenery could be found in any theatre in the country. Properties, lighting, make-up, costumes were all executed with a perfection seldom found in student theatres. Correct in every detail, balanced to perfection, they added immeasurably to the expertness of the production. Individual mention should go to Miss Marjorie Ashe, Mr. Harry Hill, and Mr. Robert

Palmer, whose excellent work has not received the tribute deserved in the programs.

"Arms and the Man" will long be remembered in the theatrical history of the College and should achieve notable mention in the realm of the collegiate theatre.

The cast was as follows:
Raina Miss Jane Blair
Katherine Miss Jean Holman
Louka Miss Virginia Slacum
Bluntschli Mr. Earl Kohn
Sergius Mr. Jack Fallon
Petkoff Mr. Bramer Carlson
Nicola Mr. Louis Haberman
A Russian Officer Mr. Charles Shaw
The cast was under the direction of Miss Alice Huntington Spalding, and Mr. J. W. Hulbert supervised the technical work.

THE NEW ARRANGEMENT

In the news column of today's Campus will be found a story concerning a new and complete reorganization of the editorial and business ends of the weekly publication. This plan, a product of Mr. F. F. Seely, is one that deserves the highest praise and will undoubtedly prove to be successful in achieving its purpose.

This plan aims at three ends which have not been attained in previous years in the way they should have been. These aims are to secure a more qualified editor, to select him on the basis of pure merit, and to eliminate fraternity politics in one of the places that they should be absolutely lacking. The new election committee will serve to achieve this last purpose entirely, for with only one student participating in the selection and in the minority there will be small chance of any such practice. As for the first purpose, the potential editor will be well-trained in every phase of his work—copy editing, makeup, and news value—before he assumes his duties and will not fall into the job unacquainted with his work. A true checkup will be had to elect the new editor since a tangible record will be at hand during the discussion of the candidates, and the man who does the best work will necessarily be chosen. There will be no chance for any other consideration.

The business staff will be selected in the same manner and with the same care. He will be trained in his work and will be selected on the basis of amount of work done and the quality of his achievements. Again vote-trading will be absent.

For some time the Campus staff has been one of the most loosely organized groups in the college. With the present arrangements, a better editor and business manager will be selected and will not be burdened with routine matters so that he may devote his time entirely to administrative work. The new system deserves commendation and with the right amount of cooperation should succeed beyond all expectations.

IN CORRECTION

During the past several weeks when a discussion of a matter of great interest was being held in the editorial columns of The Campus, certain persons unable to grasp the portent of such matters have tried to content themselves with the belief that such comment was the agitation of students not connected with the paper in the least. In other words, the editor has been accused of merely obeying the dictates of a few residents of Hulings Hall and acting accordingly. A junior member of the staff has been credited with having publication of these editorials achieved. Therefore, the editor takes this opportunity to reiterate the editorial policy of The Campus and to explain exactly who is responsible for the administration of it.

All editorials are written by the editor-in-chief, or if written by any other member of the staff, are done at his suggestion and with his approval. He alone is responsible for the paper and its contents and directs its policy at the suggestion of no one other person. Therefore, any person who has been under the illusion of believing another responsible for the editorials has been mistaken and has wasted much energy in trying to reach an understanding with anyone but the editor-in-chief. Any discussion as to matters commented upon in these columns should be had with only the editor-in-chief if any decision is to be arrived at. We wish to make this clear in order that no other student will receive the blame for any writing which may not be pleasing to any person or group of persons. Since it is poor policy to indulge in personalities when accusing, we cannot mention the person who has prompted this editorial, but we hope that the matter has been sufficiently clarified so that no one else will be accused of anything which he or she has not done.

CAMPUS CLIPPINGS

A chair of football has been established at the University of Pennsylvania with a professor of football occupying it.

At the University of Alabama a student received thirteen B's and one F for work during one quarter. The single failure was a psychological course, "How to Study."

One innocent Freshman at Penn State was detected on the second floor of a sorority house on the campus. When asked what he wanted he replied that he was in search of an English professor and thought that this was the English department.

Within a week five students at the University of Budapest took their own lives because of poor grades.

At the University of Arizona the men organized a Club which demands that "the co-eds go dutch on all dates." The club has the backing of many of the women.

THE SCRUBBING BRUSH

Dear friends, and those who read "The Scrubbing Brush," the editors of this column have been concentrating throughout the past few decades (and physics lectures) upon the following masterpiece of contemporary excellence.

Behold it, examine it, and digest it. Mix it in your breakfast food, hang it outside of your boudoir to frighten the ghost away. It is a parody on the "Rhapsody in A Minor (in Greek)." But enough of words! Read on, ye brave, and stop here, ye Phi Betes.

All the stews and students were there, for was it not the day of the Geneva game? All the Alumni took out their pints and pinted.

"Come forth!" cried the coach. The team slipped on their jackets and came second.

"Damn it!" cried the prex, and all the students ran down to French Creek.

"NO, the gridiron is hot enough with old Nick out there," cried the fans. But what good were fans on a day like that?

"Kick off," cried the ref. and forty people took poison for it was no easy thing to disobey an official.

"First down," bragged the ref. as he tripped over the forty yard line.

"Second," yells Lopeman as he falls off the bench.

"Hot dog," cries an enthusiastic fan and twenty Owens were killed in the rush. For a nickle was a nickle in those days.

"Oh, it is Geneva's ball," moaned the crowd.

"That's alright, we've got a couple more down at the Phi Psi house," says Williams.

"Time out, time out," yells Garby.

"But who's going in for him?" asked Bugbee, a little groggy from the last play.

"First down and ten to go," yelled Brown.

"My gosh, we've lost a man," shouted Cort.

"There goes the whistle. Let it go, we'll get another."

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

There will be a very important meeting of The Campus staff this afternoon at 1:15 on the third floor of Bentley Hall. All freshman, sophomore, and junior members are requested to be present as important announcements are to be made.

This is the last week that pictures may be taken for the Kaldron. Mr. Gregory leaves for Cleveland Saturday afternoon. So will all students who have not had their pictures taken please have them taken this week.

The Allegheny Band takes this opportunity to express its appreciation to the Bates' Music House for their transportation of musical instruments to and from the theater last Friday.

GENEVA AND ALLIGATORS BATTLE TO SCORELESS TIE

A determined band of Allegheny Alligators fought gloriously last Saturday in the mud of Montgomery Field to withstand the flashy attack of Geneva College, holding the Covenanters to a scoreless tie. Throughout four quarters of thrilling football the battle waged back and forth with neither team being able to produce a scoring punch, although on several occasions touchdowns appeared inevitable. Allegheny effectively stopped the dreaded Geneva passing attack, while the Covenanters in turn held the Blue and Gold's quartet of powerful backs in close check. As far as first downs and yards gained from scrimmage are concerned, Geneva can boast of a decided advantage. The Alligators were able to register only one first down, while the Covenanters accumulated twelve. But Allegheny's defense rose to great heights whenever it was seriously needed and held under the battering charges of the Gold and White.

As the game opened Allegheny won the toss and elected to receive. Berger caught the ball on the 15 yard line and returned it to the 35. Varano dove into left tackle for 1 and picked up 4 more at right guard, while Berger made 4 at center. With 1 yard to go for a first down Allegheny played safe punted; Geneva returned to its own

30. A Geneva back skirted left end, fumbled but recovered on the Allegheny 45. The center of the Blue and Gold line held and Geneva was stopped for no gain on one play and lost 1 yard on another. Then the Allegheny secondary defense demonstrated that they were on their toes, too, and broke up a short forward pass. Geneva punted to Berger on the 15 yard line who returned to his own 23. After two plays Garbark punted right back to the Geneva 40. The Covenanters were held to 1 yard at center, but a trick play went through the bewildered Alligators for 15 yards and a first down. A spinner at left guard netted 9, then a forward pass was incomplete. But a reverse into the center of the line was good for 10 and another first down. Geneva continued the march, obtaining a first down by virtue of an 11 yard pass. A play through center made 2, while a cutback at left end struck dangerously near the Blue and Gold goal and placed the pigskin on the Allegheny 6 yard line. With their backs to the wall the 'Gators offered dogged resistance. Geneva started around left end, but Garbark broke through and stopped the play for no gain. On the fourth down Geneva tried a short pass which the

WESLEYAN WILL BE MET AWAY THIS SATURDAY

But one more game stands between the Blue and Gold Knights of the Gridiron and an undefeated season on the field. West Virginia Wesleyan will be the final foe to be overcome, and the contest will be waged away from home next Saturday.

In all probability, Allegheny will be outclassed by the West Virginia team, although not by so great a margin as to entirely eliminate a chance for victory. That chance lies in a savage, fighting spirit that can drive the team into playing its top-notch band of football.

Wesleyan's record, although marred by quite a few defeats, is yet impressive because many of its opponents have been among the strongest teams in the East. West Virginia University barely managed to win by a 12-0 score. W. & J. had a hard time of it to gain a 14-0 edge. N. Y. U., one of the crack teams of the country, was victor by a 54-0 score. On the other side of the ledger appears a 51-6 drubbing for Salem, a 19-14 victory over Glenville Teachers, and a scoreless tie with the ever-potent Navy.

Battles, a stellar ball-carrier, a stellar passer, and a stellar punter who has been mentioned as a possible All-American, is the man who must be feared in the back-field. And his teammate, Art Boechtel, who usually receives his passes, will also need to be watched. The team's defensive

Phi Gamma Delta Winner in Intra- mural Tennis Tilt

The Tennis Tournament was finally finished last Wednesday afternoon when Sam Smith and Peterson played for the championship, and Peterson emerged as the victor. When the scores were compiled for each fraternity it was found that Phi Gamma Delta racqueteers with 32 points, had taken first place. Second honors went to Phi Delta Theta, who had gathered 15 points, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon, with only 4 points, ranked third. Next in line came Beta Upsilon with 3, then came Alpha Chi Rho. Delta Tau Delta, and Phi Kappa Psi with a point apiece, while Beta Kappa and the Non-Fraternity men gleaned no points at all.

strength is due in no small measure to a pair of excellent ends.

With a man like Battles in the game, it is impossible to predict the type of offense the West Virginians will use. However, it is doubtful if they will be able to gain consistently by passing, because Allegheny's aerial defense has improved decidedly since the season started.

All the regular men on the Alligator line-up will probably be in shape for service. Along with the luck of the game, no injuries and a fighting spirit, the Blue and Gold will need to expend its last ounce of energy in its last and hardest game of the year next Saturday.

CAMELS are FRESH

in nature's own mild way!

EVERYONE knows now that Camels are the fresh cigarette.

If inquiry went deeper, it would reveal that Camels are the natural moisture cigarette.

That's important, because in handling fine tobaccos, when you process out natural moisture, you sacrifice freshness and flavor too.

Camel smokers needn't worry about that, because Camels are blended of fine Turkish and mild Domestic tobaccos that are never subjected to violent processing. They need no parching or toasting to make them smooth, palatable, cool.

That's why the Camel Humidor Pack is such a boon to Camel smokers—it preserves the freshness, flavor, natural moisture, fragrance that are in this fine cigarette to start with.

Camels are fresh in nature's own mild way, and if you want to see what that means in unalloyed smoke-enjoyment, switch to them for just one day—then leave them, if you can!

"THE MUSICAL MAGPIES"

Society

Social events continued very active during the past week. On Tuesday evening, Sigma Alpha Epsilon entertained with their annual Faculty Reception, which was a great success. Wednesday evening, the Ladies' Auxiliary of Phi Kappa Psi presented their annual Bridge Party. On Saturday, the annual Father's Day was presented by Beta Upsilon and Beta Kappa. Phi Kappa Psi also presented their fall dinner-dance on Saturday evening.

DINNER DANCE

Hallowe'en relived on Saturday evening, November 14, when Phi Kappa Psi held a dinner-dance amid the traditional orange and black decorations at the chapter house. Dutch Kress and his Olympians furnished the music for the gala occasion, which was chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Giddens. Guests of the fraternity included Mr. and Mrs. Phil Corbin, of Warren Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Otto Cutter and Miss Ellen Jane Cutter, of Meadville; Dr. H. H. Turner, of Pittsburgh; Mr. Kenneth Bowman, of Johnstown; Mr. Robert Burr, of Pittsburgh; Mr. B. X. Bowdin, of Johnstown; Mr. Howard Lauf-fenberger, and Mr. Austin Blatz.

S. A. E. RECEPTION

Sigma Alpha Epsilon held a reception for the faculty and administration of the college on Tuesday, November 10, at the chapter house. The reception line included: Dr. and Mrs. Ling, Mrs. Paul Hill, Mrs. Lee, and Mr. Harper. There were one hundred and eighty present at the affair which included the fraternity and sorority presidents and the active members of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Music was furnished by Dr. Church. Mrs. Church accompanied by Dr. Church, Thomas Mansell accompanied by Charles Hartung, and Dave Whitsett accompanied by Charles Hartung. Refreshments were served by the Minerva Club.

B. U. AND BETA KAPPA ENTERTAIN FATHERS

Beta Upsilon celebrated on Saturday with a Father's Day program. The affair turned out to be one of the largest affairs of this kind ever to be held at this institution. The guest speaker of the affair was Dr. B. F. Crawford, of Pittsburgh. Other guests of the fraternity were: Dr. Hartung, Beaver Falls; Mr. Mathis, and son, New Brighton; Reverend Mansell, New Brighton; Mr. Umstead, Mr. Bartberger, Mr. Ramaley, all of Pittsburgh; Mr. LaBorde, Dubois; Mr. McCall, Pittsburgh; Mr. Kagy, and Mr. Krise, of Dubois; Mr. Rocky, Brookville; Rev. Boetcker, Erie; Rev. Strickler, Titusville; Rev. Sleppy, Linesville; Dr. Darling, Dr. McClean, Dr. Akers, of Meadville; Mr. Parker, Stoneboro; Mr. Snare, Connellsville; Mr. Keener, Pittsburgh; and the Misses Crawford, Hartung, and Roberts.

An enjoyable Father's Day banquet made the weekend highly successful for the Beta Kappa fraternity. Guests at the banquet were: Mr. Hartman, Dr. Church, and Mr. Way, all of Meadville; Mr. Vensel, Mr. Welsh, of Ford City; Mr. Black, Mr. Gerow, Venango; and Mr. Jones, Dubois.

Other guests over the weekend included: Dr. Gorrah, Mr. McGarragh, both of Franklin; Mr. Heffley, Beaver Falls; Mr. Black, Bruin; Mr. Maitland, Kinzu; Mr. Lewis and Mr. Collins, both of West Springfield; Mr. and Mrs. Phillips, Coraopolis.

Women visitors were entertained by the Ladies Auxiliary of Beta Kappa at the home of Mrs. Church.

CHI RHOS BANQUET GRIDIRON WARRIORS

On Monday evening, in the private dining room of Cochran Hall, Alpha Chi Rho presented their annual banquet in honor of the football representatives of the college. The affair was very colorful. Decorations were in blue and gold, including the candlesticks and flowers. The tables were arranged in the shape of a block A. Guests of the fraternity, including year an editor-in-chief thoroughly familiar with the practical sides of publishing The Campus.

Elections will be made by the retiring groups of editors, and the editor-in-chief will be chosen by the retiring editor, the faculty advisor and the Dean of Men, with the approval of the President. Records of competitions will be posted monthly in The Campus office in an effort to eliminate misunderstandings and complaints.

A similar plan will be inaugurated in the business department of the paper; competitions in this branch, however, will not start until the sophomore year. From the competing group will be chosen a junior board of four men, among whom will be divided the various functions of the paper. These duties will be rotated periodically in order to afford the competitors a knowledge of all phases of the business administration. The business manager of The Campus will be chosen from this group in May of his junior year after the plan employed in the editorial department.

No definite arrangements have yet been drawn up for the management of other campus publications.

all the football men, were: Coach Crum, Coach Lopeman, Dr. Skinner, Dr. Tolley, and Dr. Schultz. After an excellent meal, the usual after-dinner speeches were presented. From all angles, the affair was very successful. Miss Dale handled the arrangements of the celebration.

D. A. T. PARTY AND TEA

On Friday night, November 6th, Delta Alpha Theta fraternity held a dance in honor of their pledges: Elzear Fulton, Mary Pharmed, Margaret McElheny, Letta Bryant, Fern Morris, Marguerite Morris, Rozena Strickler and Peggy Van Aken. Autumn leaves and lighted lanterns were the cleverly arranged decorations, and the music was furnished by Les Daniels and his orchestra. Virginia Charlton, Mary Alice Speer, and Beulah

GENEVA GAME

Allegheny defense easily broke up. With Garbark standing behind his own goal to punt, the Alligator forward wall held shoulder to shoulder, and the kick sailed beautifully to Geneva's 35 where the runner was stopped in his tracks. After gaining 9 yards on two plays the Covenanters lost their ground when Horn sped through and smeared a forward passer before he could get rid of the ball. Geneva's punt was high and short, being downed on the Allegheny 25. On the third down Berger booted a quick kick to to Geneva's 45. Geneva tried the center of the line, but it was a stone wall and no ground was gained. However, a long Geneva forward pass was successful when interference with the receiver was ruled. As the first quarter ended the Geneva team shot a play through the line for an 8 yard gain to Allegheny's 31. Several plays later Berger intercepted a forward pass and squirmed up to Allegheny's 35 yard mark. Three plays failed to give the Crummen the required yardage and Garbark punted to the Geneva 26. For the remainder of the first half was on fairly even terms with the Blue and Gold appearing more formidable than in the first quarter. At the end of the half Geneva had possession of the oval on its own 20 yard line.

The second half was also replete with excitement, but both teams held and prevented scoring. In the fourth quarter, through a fumbled punt, Allegheny held Geneva on her own one yard line, but the leather was kicked out of danger. The game continued with streaks by both teams until the final whistle ended the contest.

Smith were invited guests. Dr. and Mrs. Skinner were the chaperones.

On Friday afternoon, November 13, from three to five, Delta Alpha Theta entertained at tea in the sorority rooms. Guests of the chapter included the women members of the faculty and wives of faculty members. Mrs. Ling presided at the tea table.

"They keep tasting better and better to me!"

Every Chesterfield is like every other one. No matter how many you smoke, the last Chesterfield of the day is just as smooth and soft—as cool and comfortable—as the first.

They're milder, too! Chesterfield uses only mild, ripe, sweet tobaccos—the smoothest and ripest that grow.

Notice, too, how white and fine the paper is. It's the purest that money can buy.

All this care . . . to make Chesterfields taste better—to make them milder. And millions of Chesterfield smokers say it in their own way—"They Satisfy!"

GOOD . . . they've got to be good!
