

November 18, 1938

Dear Mr. Putnam:

Here is the manuscript with the revisions on which I have been working. I am sending it again without the last twenty five hundred words - a bit of round up. I haven't got that yet I want it yet, and I am afraid if I keep this thing around much longer I shall burn it up, and be obliged to return that $500.00. So here it is. And the final paragraphs will follow very soon.

Faithfully yours

Mr. A. J. Putnam
60 Fifth Avenue
New York City