

Monday
2

Dear Sara:- Well - If you ain't the good sport! I wish was so stunned as Monday morning when I came back from the woods I found you scribbled note. I had really had you in mind all the time I was gone - telepathy I suppose I had made up my mind you must go to a hospital unless you were better. I am glad it is over & without amplification. If you are so far along - Steve will be no infection I suppose - that was what happened to But.

If you can take it easy if it will be all that - if necessary can you do so at home?
That's what's worrying me.
Aunt you not - let it clear away for a little while whatever you want to do can be arranged. I can go home with my mother I probably shall have a few lectures but that could easily be arranged.
I rather think it is a good thing for written to be alone - she's as set up as a queen over being her own boss a little while! When the excitement is over it will be another story of course but now she is quite kind & I rather think would have been disappointed if I had gone home! I should certainly have done so if it had not been for the Washington dinner. I think I wrote - you shall I was invited by Secretary Daniels to the Cabinet dinner on Dec 15th - Oh how I wish you could - my mother refuse an invitation to meet the President! I had to get a new money dress which almost killed me. Much made me a black net - white is my pretty and entirely practical at this an admirable tale! I only a suggestion of it - excepting it net - a flasher now. I liked it - they will do do Clara & Ella - Much means it must be fairly good. I bought all necessary accessories - new slippers new comb & new neck thing per.

The Haynes knew I was coming & wrote me the night. I felt gentlemen interested. They say she has no great hair but they needn't say - any as full of life & with as much a piece & her W. W. don't need a college education! She's rather too pleased to wear the clothes she had on the other night but they certainly were reminiscent - a perfectly magnificent gown - I can't describe it but will tell you about it - when I see you. I enclose list of books -

I attached

When I think how much it cost me but - after all it is good business. The Daniels are dear - Southerners, I suppose they pay I my informal they lead a queer sort of people to look at but all of them interesting. Of course the past I know. was the only man that I saw. She's certainly my darling - a lovely person deep hair - good color - her eyes & beautiful teeth she's animated & attractive I have no trouble keeping her last week fighting for Ann!

I had a wonderful time in the woods. I now stand 3 ft 5 inches every day - I've gained a little & sleep well. It was not so cold as 2 years ago - and quantities of snow.
The little Mr. Vandell's came up - told me about them sometime I'm glad my looking is over under me for the top of head & ears now.
I'm sending you some magazines as they are plenty & I caught you.
I sent you all the money yesterday & I kept part of this extra for a month & keep the present.
2 days.

a little while with Mr W. 2 20 minutes or more with the Phil. He was quite frank 2 very plain. They all feel 2 think that things are in a very dangerous state - it depends on Germany's next move 2 later it whether we have war or not - of all kinds of another passage time 2 fear we are in for it - The Phil evidently admits this - He spoke about the difficulty of counting a lady Wences when he called the nurse (was surrounded by secret service men).

The Hugs are against the admiral so were all the people at break I spent most of my time for the

THE President and Mrs. Wilson were entertained at dinner last evening by the Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Daniels at their home in Wyoming avenue. The guests to meet them were Admiral and Mrs. Benson, Gov. Stuart of Virginia, Senator Blair Lee, Maj. H. A. Landon, Miss Ida Tarbell, Miss Mary Lee, Mrs. A. W. Bagley, Representative and Mrs. John H. Small, Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Pindell of Peoria, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank I. Cobb and the Surgeon General of the Navy and Mrs. Braisted.

Cent
 Daphne J. Robert was a cross of big pearls which were belonged to Matthew Whistler

Mr Daniels wrote

This is the man who was elected of the Petrograd at opening of administration - no great person.
 Man who ruled the editorial page of N.Y. Herald - they have a person about 10 miles from us!