

HELL WEEK—

During the past few days, rumors have run riot on the campus concerning Pledge Training Week—less culturally known as Hell Week. There can be no doubt that these stories have been greatly exaggerated, but at the moment reports indicate that the charges are partially justified.

In order to clarify the situation, we print for the benefit of all the fraternities, the following story published March 17, 1937 at the time Hell Week was officially abolished.

"Hell Week in Allegheny has been definitely abolished" was the statement released by the Dean's Office last week. This step was taken through action of the Inter-Fraternity Council with the unanimous consent of the fraternities on this campus.

At a meeting of the Inter-Fraternity Council of Allegheny on March 3, its members discussed and then passed a resolution to abolish Hell Week on this campus. The motion was voted upon in each of the fraternities, and on March 10 it was reported that the motion had been unanimously accepted.

This action is in line with the commendation of all national fraternity groups and of the National Inter-Fraternity Conference. Four representatives from Allegheny attended the National Inter-Fraternity Council held in New York City last November, during which interesting and lively discussions on inter-fraternity affairs, with particular emphasis laid upon rushing, were held.

These representatives reported back to the Allegheny Council concerning the discussions about Hell Week. This recent action of abolishing Hell Week in Allegheny resulted from this conference and from reports of the national committee about this important subject.

The resolution also stated that before pre-initiation plans were made by the various fraternities, the exact meaning of Hell Week should be determined.

Dr. J. R. Schultz, Dean of Men, enthusiastically stated that this action is a fine and forward step in accordance with policies of the best colleges. He declared that "fraternities have outgrown many of their childish and immature notions. Hell Week creates much ill-feeling and animosity among the students, and the resolution abolishing Hell Week at Allegheny will establish on a sound basis good will among fraternities."

DEMOCRACY TODAY—

For some time now there has been much talk about the wane of democracy in this country. However, a recent issue of Fortune carries the results of a nation-wide survey which would lead us to believe that democracy is as potent a force today as it ever has been.

Thinking men have said that democracy is a state of mind—a feeling of equality, in position and in opportunity, something which goes deeper than a mere form of government. Politicians would have us believe that the present social security laws are indicative of a gradual reversion from the typical democracy of the United States. They base their belief on the grounds that the laws arise from an overpowering desire for security.

Fortunately, the Fortune survey contradicts rather than confirms these assumptions. The survey shows that the great mass of Americans are still quite loyal to their adopted form of government. All of which should show that the need for security which is so much talked about by unscrupulous politicians is merely another point upon which opposition groups may capitalize.

Before we go further, however, let us point out that our aim is not to discuss the pro and con of social security legislation, but merely to point out that the democratic spirit is still close to the heart of every American.

The figures as presented in Fortune show that most Americans consider

PLAYSHOP USING NOVEL PRODUCTION

JUDGMENT DAY PROMISES AUDIENCE EXCITEMENT

Combining the stage proper and the members of the audience into a court room scene, the Allegheny Playshop is presenting a novel method of production in Elmer Rice's Judgment Day which opens tomorrow night at 8:15.

Due to the close relationship between actor and audience during the stirring trial, the spectator will find himself an actual part of this exciting melodrama.

The central theme of the play concerns itself with the trial of a man and a woman charged with the attempted assassination of the dictator of their country. They are the leaders of a political party which is admittedly hostile to the dictatorial regime, and they protest their innocence, contending that they are being tried for their political opinions, and for the purpose of discrediting their party and arousing popular sympathy for the dictator. The entire action takes place in the court room, in an atmosphere of tension and excitement, and reaches its climax in a startling and unexpected denouement.

Judgment Day was opportunely written at the time of the upheaval in Europe which followed the famous Reichstag fire, and Mr. Rice has made his trial upon the entanglement proceedings of that celebrated cause. Although the approach is indirect, the totalitarian state is obviously the chief object of attack, and the parallel between the play and fascism is unmistakable.

And today, since Europe is once more in a state of chaos due to the ironclad rule of a dictator, Elmer Rice's Judgment Day will be of interest not only because of its theatrical effectiveness, but also because of its reminder of recent political happenings in Europe.

The box office will be open every afternoon this week from two to five. By presenting their activities cards, students may receive reserved seats for any of the three performances.

DR. TOLLEY'S SUBJECT "HABITS" IN CHAPEL

Gives Discussion On Intellectual and Social Habits

"I suppose the real reason that we have schools and universities is that under proper instruction you can prevent the formation of bad habits," said President William P. Tolley in his chapel address Monday morning.

Dr. Tolley said that by the time one is twenty-five his intellectual habits are established, and once habits are formed they are not easy to break. This is true of bad habits as well as good ones.

More often than not your habits in speech and your mannerisms give away your profession or occupation. These habits are formed usually between the ages of twenty and thirty.

President Tolley continued by saying that social habits are fully as important as working habits. He emphasized the importance of social intelligence and intellectual inquiry. College, he referred to as the "four golden years for the purpose of inspecting your habits."

In closing, Dr. Tolley named important social and work habits for college students. Cleanliness and tidiness he considered as helpful and to facilitate studying, he suggested a desk used only for that purpose.

VESPER SPEAKER WILL BE SPOFFORD

Edward Spofford, '40, will speak this Sunday in Ford chapel in the second of the new series of vesper services presented under the sponsorship of Allegheny Christian council. The program will start at 4:45 p. m.

Muriel Matson, '42, opened the series last Sunday, discussing "Getting the most out of life." The program was under the direction of Robert Oberlin, '41. Recorded music of Bach and Handel was also featured.

CWENS HOLD ANNUAL DANCE FRIDAY NIGHT

FIFTY-SIX FRESHMEN WOMEN INVITED BY ACTIVE CWENS

Annual dance of the Epsilon chapter of Cwens will be held Friday night at the Phi Delta Theta house.

Guests will include Miss Ann Pomeroy, Mrs. Elisabeth Spann-Delorme, and Miss Virginia Boyd who was a Cwen at the University of Pittsburgh. Fifteen alumnae Cwens have been invited to the dance which is to be given by the eleven present Cwens. Fifty-six freshman women have received invitations for which a scholastic average of 73 is necessary.

The dance is held annually in an effort to entertain freshman women who are eligible to be Cwens next year.

In speaking of the forthcoming event, Helen Shaffer, '42, president of this year's Cwens, said, "Plans have been completed for what we hope will be a most successful dance. We are very anxious to greet all our guests on Friday night at the Phi Delta house."

The dance is semi-formal. The Cwen colors, gray and red, and the symbol, the crown and scepter, will be used to decorate.

Music will be provided by the Towne Club orchestra. The dance will be from 9 to 12:30 p. m., but girls will be required to take an eleven o'clock for the necessary 12:30 permission. The programs may be obtained from Muriel Matson on Thursday or Friday.

ADAMIC SPEAKS ON IMMIGRATION IN LECTURE HERE

Advocates Acceptance Of New Americans'; Stresses Unity

Aspiring "unity from a diversity of cultures" was the subject of the lecture entitled "Thirty Million New Americans" given by Louis Adamic in Ford Memorial chapel last Thursday.

The native born Yugoslavian described his adopted country not as a nation but as "a teeming nation of nations. There is no bridge, highway or skyscraper built in this country that is not in part representative of immigrant labor. Even with New York City alone counting a foreign element of 73 per cent of its population, people are not at ease because of prejudice. Let's make America safe for differences," Louis Adamic asked.

"It is our duty to synthesize the Mayflower and the steerage into one cooperative group! This calls for more than a tolerant attitude. We must accept one another." Such a commonly used expression as melting pot was disapproved by Mr. Adamic because it has evidences of taking people to turn them into one thing with neat.

Repeatedly Mr. Adamic used the phrase, "I am not blaming." He asserted his task as a writer was to inform.

Certain writings of the present period he particularly cited as a means of making Americans aware of the problems of immigrants. Listed among them were Willa Cather's My America, Rolvaag's Giants in the Earth, Sanburg's Lincoln, Van Doren's Franklin, and Mary Eyles Chase's Flowering of New England.

VARSITY DAY IS PRONOUNCED SUCCESSFUL

William Scarpitti, on behalf of the committee in charge of the Varsity Day last Friday, extended thanks this week to the faculty, the students, the orchestra, and the many others who aided in making that program of the Block "A" Club so successful. Mr. Scarpitti said, "No financial report has been prepared, but we are certain that the evening was a huge success. A report of tickets and finances will be released as soon as possible."

An estimated crowd of 150 couples attended the dance following the double-header basketball program. The orchestra made a most satisfactory debut into the swing life on the campus, though they were not successful in finding a name.

The Block "A" Club will next sponsor a banquet from the proceeds of their Varsity Day program.

SENATOR NYE WILL SPEAK IN FORD CHAPEL

CONVENTION COMMITTEE HAS FIRST MEETING

General Plans Discussed; Key Personnel Will Be Named; Held May 7, 8, 9, 10

Meeting informally with Mr. Paul H. Giddens Monday night, members of the advisory committee for the coming Republican Mock convention to be held on this campus, discussed general plans and routine.

Allegheny Undergraduate Council President Charles Miller, '40, met with representatives from the sororities, fraternities, independent organizations and dormitories. Those in attendance were Eleanor Harter, '40, Mont MacKinney, '40, Madeline Karitsky, '40, Patricia Van Ostrand, '41, John Harney, '41, Alan Brandt, '41, Helen Litten, '40, Jean Boyd, '40, Jean Lancaster, '40, Rachel Mumbulo, '40, James Schultz, '41, Ben Beacom, '40, Edward Robinson, '40, William Mohny, '40, Julius Raskin, '42, Jean English, '40, and Llewellyn Davies, '40.

Further meeting of the committee was scheduled for Sunday at 3:30 p. m. At this time the key personnel, such as the chairmen of the state delegations, will be named.

The committee plans to hold the convention May 7, 8, 9, and 10.

"The purpose which we have in mind is the stimulation of interest in the forthcoming national conventions, their issues, and personalities," stated Mr. Giddens, faculty advisor, to the committee.

AARON DIRECTOR TO OPEN SERIES OF LECTURES

The first of a series of ten weekly lectures will take place Thursday, at 7:44 p. m., in Ford Memorial chapel, when Mr. Aaron Director will speak on "Economic Preparation for War."

Mr. Director, of the Department of Economics at the University of Chicago, has recently completed a study on wartime price policy at Brookings Institute in Washington. The lecture will be followed by questions and discussion in which all may participate.

Mr. Director's lecture initiates the lecture group, the remaining nine of which will follow on successive Thursdays. Students may either hear the lectures directly or by means of a public address system.

In World Bound By Our Campus Are Found Three States of Being

In this world of ours which is bound by this campus, there are three states of beings. (For purposes of simplification we are omitting illness). Namely: well-being, moderate well-being, and fatigue.

Well-being is an extremely rare affliction in these parts and is common only to those who have returned after spending a holiday with relations in an unknown city. By the way, this is an excellent way to catch up on lost sleep and regain renewed zeal for even the duller activity. Moderate well-being is possessed by conscienceless persons who take time out from classes to pursue more thoroughly their social activities. I believe that you, too, will find that a few days vacation every now and then will do great things for your morale.

Now we will consider that state in which most Alleghenians continually find themselves. The nationally known, but not nationally advertised, condition, is commonly known as fatigue.

The manifestations of fatigue vary greatly in persons and in the stage which it has reached. Slight fatigue is sometimes practically unnoticeable, but, unless remedied immediately it has a tendency to become worse and

FORENSIC GROUP SCHEDULES N. D. LEGISLATOR

"UNCLE SAM, WATCH YOUR STEP"—SUBJECT OF SENATOR'S SPEECH

Gerald P. Nye, United States Senator from North Dakota, will speak in Ford Chapel Monday night at 8:30, in the fifth of Philo-Franklin union's monthly programs. His subject will be "Uncle Sam, Watch Your Step."

Senator Nye has been active in the United States Senate since 1925 and will be remembered as the instigator of the recent munitions investigation conducted in Washington. Only a few weeks ago he declared himself behind Senator Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan, Republican possibility for the presidential nomination this year.

Before entering politics, Nye was affiliated for fourteen years with various newspapers, beginning his career as published of the Hortonville (Wis.) Review in 1911. Four years later he became manager and editor of the Daily Plain Dealer, Cheyenne, Iowa; then moved to North Dakota and purchased the Fryberg Pioneer. He later settled in Cooperstown, N. D., and became editor and manager of the Griggs Company Sentinel-Courier, at which post he remained until he was appointed to the United States Senate in 1925 to fill a vacancy caused by the death of one of the congressmen. He was elected in 1926 and again in 1932, coming up for re-election this year.

Active in the negotiations which were successful in bringing Nye to Meadville for the month's Philo-Franklin program were Robert Oberlin, '41, and Representative Robert Corbett of Pennsylvania, Allegheny, '27, a personal friend of Nye.

Admission will be by activities tickets.

MISS KEMP TO SPEAK ON SPAIN

Miss Alice Kemp will discuss contemporary Spanish fiction in the Craig Room this Sunday afternoon at 3:30.

Mrs. Elisabeth Spann-Delorme read selections, in German and English, illustrating the mysticism, regionalism, symbolism, and emotion of the contemporary German novels, in the Craig Room program last Sunday.

Mrs. Spann-Delorme, herself well acquainted with Germany, stated that its present literature is above the Nazi regime, and is more truly German than that written before Hitler's ascension to power.

advances to that stage which may be called chronic-fatigue. In this stage the patient has very little desire for company of any sort, dislikes any kind of strenuous activity, and is definitely irritable. This type of sufferer spends a great deal of his time dreaming of long, unending, and peaceful sleep in a soft bed. He has a distinct aversion for anything pertaining to studying and seems rather mired up about the whole thing.

The most advanced and by far the most desirable state of fatigue is acute or advanced fatigue. At this point the fatigued one has come to consider everything as just too, too amusing. His conversation is extremely unintelligent, and life has taken on a rosy glow which makes everything appear simple and very beautiful.

To attain any of these stages is very simple. The first may be gained by an excess of muscle-straining exercise, or the loss of a little sleep. The loss of more than a little sleep quickly produces the second, and no sleep at all puts you in that beatific state of acute fatigue. Take it from me and visit relations in foreign cities. If you stay around here long enough you will find yourself writing inane things like this.

—A product of fatigue.

themselves as middle class, whether they are in the upper income bracket or in the lower. Most Americans prefer private employment to public security; a majority would rather risk the trials and tribulations of private business than have a secure position on a governmental payroll. The general optimism is further emphasized in the common belief that a reconciliation of labor and capital can be effected under a capitalistic system. "In the hope that springs eternal" most American parents plan to send their offspring to college to enjoy the advantages which they themselves were denied. The general consensus of opinion is that no matter how dark and forboding the horizon may appear today, tomorrow will hold a brighter one. What does all of this mean? It means that the death rattle is not in the throat of democracy, as some would have us think. It means that the majority of Americans are satisfied with the treatment accorded them under this system, and though they are desirous of bettering their condition it shall be through the opportunities found in democracy rather than through social and economic revolution.

My Almanac

By RICHARD TAYLOR

Two weeks ago, Joe Lewis made another valiant defense of his heavyweight title by outpointing Joe Godoy of South America. This made the seventh consecutive time Louis has successfully defended his championship; these fights dating back to June 22, 1937, when he knocked out Jimmy Braddock to win the crown. There has never been a more colorful figure in ring history than Joe Louis. Also his courageous attitude has placed him at the top with the former champions. But is Louis a real champion? If you surveyed the view of the United States who can remember as far back as John L. Sullivan, you would find very few who would believe that Joe Louis would have a chance in the ring with such men as Bob Fitzsimmons, Jack Johnston, Dempsey, and others. The ones who believe that many of the oldtimers would slaughter the Brown Bomber really have no basis for their argument—the only reason for their attitude is jealousy. Mike Reilly, proprietor of the River Street Tavern, a fight fan for the past 50 years, is jealous because the attention and publicity Joe Louis has received, has spoiled his picture and memories.

ORGAN RECITAL TO BE HELD SUN.

Mr. Edward Johe will present an organ recital in Ford Chapel Sunday at 4:30 p. m.

THE PROGRAM

1. Prelude and Fugue in A Minor.....J. S. Bach (1685-1750)
This composition is from Bach's "Weimar Period" (1708-17), during which he served as Court Organist and as a member of the Duke's Kapelle. Marked by harmonic utterances and a contrapuntal smoothness, the so-called "GREAT" works from this period, revealed Bach as a composer of genius.
2. Magnificat Joseph Bonnet (1834-)
Joseph Bonnet is organist at St. Eustache in Paris. This composition to be played is based upon a Gregorian Theme treated in variation form.
3. Two Dances from "Henry VIII".....Edward German (1862-1936)
a. Shepherd's Dance.
b. Morris Dance.
Having attracted attention through his incidental music for Shakespeare's "Richard III", the composer leaped into greater popularity with the "Three Dances" written for Sir Henry Irving's production of "Henry VIII".
4. Chorale in A Minor Cesar Franck (1822-1890)
Franck was one of the few romanticist composers who reverted to classic forms as a basis for composition. His three chorales for organ are examples of a classic form which he imbued with new colors; free treatment of thematic materials. The chromaticism prevalent in his style is also prominent here.
5. Scherzo from Sonata in E Minor.....James H. Rogers (1857-)
Mr. Rogers was formerly organist at Euclid Avenue Temple in Cleveland. This scherzo adheres to the capriciousness which is associated with the literary term.
6. Larghetto from Symphony No. 1.....Robert Schumann (1810-56)
Schumann claimed that his object in writing music was to influence the imagination of the listeners that they could go on dreaming for themselves.
7. Chorale Karg-Elert (1877-1933)
If a composer can become "stylized", then Karg-Elert is truly of the modern school that fills a canvas with real colors.

WORLD-WIDE ESSAY CONTEST SUBJECT OF JAPANESE CULTURE

In commemoration of the 2,600th North America and the Hawaiian Islands. The contestants, irrespective of nationality, will compete in the zone of his residence. Prizes will be awarded in each zone as follows: One first prize of a first class round trip to Japan and $3,000 for a three-months' stay; two second prizes of a first class round trip to Japan and $1,000 for a month's stay; and several third prizes of $500 in books published in Japan. The contest is one of many celebration projects which are being conducted throughout the Japanese Empire this year by the government and people. The essay contest, however, is the principal undertaking on an international scale. Prospective contestants may obtain the rules and regulations of the contest by writing to the Japan Institute, Rockefeller Center, New York, which is the cultural society's office in the United States, to the nearest Japanese Consulate, or directly to the Society for International Cultural Relations, Marounouchi, Tokyo.

'GATOR TANKERS LOSE TWO MORE

Journey to Grove City
Today; Two Meets Remain

The Allegheny Tankers, with only two more meets remaining on their eleven meet schedule, will journey to Grove City this afternoon with good prospects of winning their second meet of the season. Their one and only victory came over the Grovers in the first meet of the season.

Our swimmers lost a golden opportunity for a win last Saturday in the meet with Westminster. If they had taken the final relay, the result would have been different. The other meet last week was just another disaster. The final count was 47-17.

Buffalo State 48—Allegheny 17.

300 yard medley relay—Buffalo S. (Rowley, Phillips, Tierney), 1; Allegheny (Burrows, Knight, Lichtenfels), 2. Time—3:34.8.

Yesterday afternoon the girls finished the first bracket of the ping-pong tournament. There are now left thirty-six of the seventy-two who signed up to play what will be an unusually long tournament.

To save delay and defer complications, watch the schedule so you can play off your games as soon as possible.

Thelma Cronk wants to see everyone out for basketball at the end of this week. Start the season out on the ball, girls.

The ski races that Mother Nature postponed were held this week-end at Bousson. Buck Miner, '40, distinguished himself. Larry McCluskey, '43, and George Cordoza, '42, also proved their skill in this sport.

A little difficulty with the dam diminished the water supply, eliminating the skating possibilities. Perhaps King Winter will favor us with some real winter sport weather to enjoy a few more week-ends before the season is over.

SIGS WIN IN VOLLEYBALL—

The S.A.E.'s made a clear sweep in the volleyball tournament to take the crown. They have to their record six victories and no defeats.

Phi Kappa Psi took second place honors with five wins and one loss, the latter to the S.A.E.'s.

For third place the Phi Gams and Phi Delts tied, each having three wins and three losses. The tie is to be played off Saturday at 1:30 p. m., in Montgomery gymnasium.

31-Points

Art Gratz, whose record-breaking 31 points Friday night in the 79-26 trouncing of Buffalo State climaxed a brilliant three years' as a regular on the 'Gator five. This senior forward's total was four points better than the long standing mark held by Rossiter in 1906 and tied by Baker in 1909.

SKI RACES HELD AT BOUSSON SATURDAY

A skiing party was the feature of this week's outing at Bousson. The fact that the snow came too late for last week's carnival did not seem to dampen the spirits of the skiers Saturday.

Under the direction of John Krimmel, '40, a ski run was planned on which races were held. Although most of the races were close, Larry McCluskey, '40, seemed to be the victor more often than anyone else. John Krimmel and Buck Miner, both of '40, George Cardoza, '42, and Larry McCluskey and Wally Hanson, both of '43, participated.

RECORDS FALL AS 'GATORS WIN

FACE HAMILTON,
HOBART ON TRIP
THIS WEEK-END

New Marks Are Gratz's 31
Points, a 74-Point Total,
And Two Wins Over Grovers

BY ART DISKIN

Last week's basketball surprises were by far the most spectacular of any seen in Montgomery gym in many years. Records were smashed all over the place, and new ones were set up that will probably stand for a long time.

The Tuesday night win over Grove City by the score of 40-24 made it the second successive win over the Grovers this season. The last time Allegheny had beaten Grove City twice in one season was eleven years ago, in 1929.

Next, the 79-26 manhandling dished out to Buffalo State on Friday evening was the biggest score made since 1912. In that year a 'Gator squad piled up a gross of 75 against Geneva College.

Gratz Deadly.

Art Gratz, the dead-shot forward, took individual honors in the Buffalo game by sinking 31 tallies, thus eclipsing a record of 27 made by two 'Gators more than 30 years ago. One record of 27 was made by Den Rossiter against Grove City in 1906—the other by Dick Baker against Union College in 1909.

It is interesting to note that Gratz made more points than the entire Buffalo squad—while Alex Hart, Gratz's mate in the forward spot, did all right on his own hook by amassing 21 points.

The fans that jammed the gym on Friday evening for the Block A Club's benefit event were given a bad moment or two as Eddie Robinson, the fast-moving spark plug of the Allegheny defense, was taken out of the game with blood streaming from a cut over his eye. Eddie spent the next two days in City Hospital having the laceration taken care of, and it was learned that the injury was not severe.

Start Slowly.

Against Buffalo State, the 'Gators put on a display of power that had their opponents out-classed from the start. At the end of the first quarter the score was 14-8, a not too impressive lead. But when the rest period was over, Allegheny put on a spree that rolled up 20 points before Buffalo could even catch its breath. After that it was clear sailing for the locals.

Buffalo sent in the entire substitute squad in an effort to stop the rampaging 'Gators, but no combination could be found to stop Alex Hart and Art Gratz, whose brilliant fast-breaks caught their opponents flat-footed.

The entire gym was rocked with cheers for Gratz, in the closing quarter, as the fans saw the lanky sharp-shooter equal and then surpass the all-time individual scoring record.

More cheers followed—as another record, the one-game total—fell before a 'Gator squad that was really "on".

Rough Game.

It was a rough and tumble affair—almost unnoticed by the crowd in the first period was a pileup that cost referee Abele a front tooth. Robinson's injury caused the crowd to cool down for a few minutes, but when Marasco took over Eddie's position, the fireworks started again. The brawny Rafe turned on a little razzle-dazzle of his own that added to Buffalo's downfall.

Next week will see the basketball season climaxed by a series of final games that promise plenty of excitement.

Away This Week-End.

Friday and Saturday will see the 'Gators engaging Hobart and Hamilton, on the home floors of both these schools. Next Wednesday comes the long awaited meeting with Washington and Jefferson in Montgomery gym, and on Friday evening Allegheny will close the season by entertaining Hiram, also in the local gym.

NOTED NEW YORK ADVISOR GUEST IN MARCH

Allegheny's women students will bring to the campus, March 4 to 8, Elizabeth MacDonald Osborne for a week of "The Impression We Leave."

Elizabeth MacDonald Osborne is an adviser-lecturer from New York City who for six years has studied college women, their undesirable habits and their latent possibilities. Her main concern is the impression created through poise, voice and conversation, grooming and social amenities.

During the week of March 4 general discussions with the entire women's group will be followed by smaller conferences composed of six to eight girls. Definite plans will appear in the Campus later, it was announced by Helen Ochsenhirt, '40, student chairman for Mrs. Osborne's program.
