

BECK, DRUCKER VIE FOR ASG PRESIDENCY

THE ALLEGHENY CAMPUS

Vol. LXXXVII, No. 17 ALLEGHENY COLLEGE, MEADVILLE, PA. Thursday, Feb. 21, 1963

ASG Revision Passes

The proposed ASG constitution won the approval of 97 per cent of the students voting in last Thursday's referendum and thus stands approved; the fate of the proposed universal honor program remains in doubt.

Of 83 per cent of the resident student body voting in the referendum, 58 per cent were in favor of the proposed honor system. According to Honor Committee Chairman Bruce Africa, the Honor committee was gratified at the support the program received but felt that there was some question as to whether this percentage was high enough to put the universal system into effect this year.

Consequently, the results of the referendum will be given to President Pelletier for a final decision as to whether or not the universal honor system should go into effect. Dr. Pelletier has been away on a business trip, but will return this week. A decision on the fate of the program will be made after his return.

The new ASG constitution goes into effect just before the ASG elections. According to Constitution Committee Chairman Hank Drucker, "The entire constitution committee is very gratified by the overwhelming vote of confidence students gave the new constitution."

Jazz Personality Here on Saturday

Ahmad Jamal

Appearing Feb. 23 at 8:30 p.m. in the David Mead Field House will be the Ahmad Jamal Trio, recording artists.

With experience ranging to the concert stage of Carnegie Hall, pianist Jamal is reputed to be "the most successful of all pianists in bridging the gap between jazz and the popular record market."

Tickets for the event, sponsored by the ASG Activities Committee, are on sale for students with I.D. cards, faculty and administration at the Auditor's office for $1. Others may obtain tickets at the House of Music for $1.50.

Panel Discussion Set Wednesday Morning

An administration "Press Conference" has been set for 11 a.m. next Wednesday in the Field House, it was announced at the Tuesday night meeting of the Undergraduate Council. Morning classes will be shortened so that all students may attend.

President Pelletier, Dean Ross, Dean McKean and Dr. Edwards, will comprise the panel to which any interested student can question concerning any aspect of college policy. ASG President Curt Fee stated that the council has so far made available to the panel a list of questions dealing with drinking policy, apartments for students, the mid-term break, scholarships, and the usage of campus buildings by students.

In other business, Tom Jamison announced the names of all those candidates running for ASG and class offices and election procedures for the coming elections were discussed. Students may sign only one petition for each office Jamison said. Notification of polling places and voting times will be published in the next issue of The Campus.

Jim Meadowcroft urged any person still holding an ambassador program application to forward it immediately, as the ambassador committee must begin screening applications.

Something new! The C.U. has spent $2,000 for furniture for the small dining room. It is to be used as both a lounge and a conference room. Some of the old furniture is being re-upholstered.

Thirteen Students Compete for Offices

Thirteen students will compete for the top five positions in the Allegheny Student Government, it was revealed this week by ASG Elections Committee Chairman Tom Jamison. Elections will be held March 4. Runoffs will follow on March 5.

Competing for the presidency will be two juniors, Robert Beck of Pittsburgh and Henry Drucker of Rutherford, N.J.

Beck, who has been chairman of the Independent student organization since this fall, is also chairman of the Fund Drive Carnival to be held in May. He is a member of the Fund Drive Committee and the ASG Student Activities Committee. Half way through his sophomore year Beck transferred to Allegheny from Princeton, where he was a member of the Varsity Crew team (and won freshman numerals) and a member of the Intercollegiate Committee, which set up social functions. He is a pre-med major.

Beck is a 1959 graduate of Wilkinsburg, Pa., High School, where his activities included being head of the Usher Squad (a service group), the tennis team, band and orchestra and other clubs.

Drucker has served as chairman of the Constitution Committee which recently drew up the new ASG constitution, has been Chairman of the Freshman Seminar program this year, and has been Special Assistant to the Director of WARC. For two years he has been a voting member of the Undergraduate Council as a representative of the Independents. Drucker is a member of the Academic Committee, Publications Board, Pi Delta Epsilon and was on his Freshman Dorm Council. A philosophy major, he is currently working as Assistant in Logic to Dr. Richard Hutcherson.

A graduate of Rutherford, (N.J.) High, where he was president of his senior class, Drucker was a member of the Executive Committee of the Bergen County Student Council Association. He was also manager for the baseball and basketball teams and was a reporter for his high school paper.

Four people will compete for the newly created Vice-president of Communications. They are: Ward Lyndall, '65; Sandra DeMarino, '64; William McAfee, '64; and John Quattrocchi, '64.

The Vice-president of Communications will be responsible for the financial aspects and coordinating of the college's Campus, Kaldron, Literary Magazine, and radio station. He will serve as chairman of the Communications Board and will assure the smooth operation of Allegheny's media.

David Graham, '64; Richard Mooney, '64; and Stephen M. Ross, '65 are the candidates for the office of Education Affairs. The Vice-

Committeeman Discusses State Educational Aid

Duane Wilder, Co-Chairman of the Governor's Committee of One Hundred (Advisory Committee on Education), will speak in Ford Memorial Chapel at 8:15 p.m. tonight on "State Support for Higher Education in Pennsylvania."

Wilder received his B.A. from Princeton University in 1951 and his M.B.A. from New York University in 1953. His business enterprises include: Director and Chairman of the Finance Committee of the National Forge Co., Director of the High Pressure Equipment Co., and Director of the Youngsville National Bank. Mr. Wilder is also a member of several civic organizations.

This group was appointed by Gov. David L. Lawrence in 1961 at the request of the General Assembly, as a result of its inquiries into the operation and program of the Department of Public Instruction.

The committee was to look into and prepare recommendations of financing an adequate education program, dividing costs between state and locality, improving and bringing up to date curriculum and administration of the public schools.

Another of the duties was to work for increased state and local financial effort on behalf of public elementary and secondary education, especially for improved teachers salaries.

'The Visit' Opens

The Visit, opening on Thursday, Feb. 28 for a three-day run, is the first American stage hit by one of the most significant new European playwrights, a Swiss named Friedrich Dürrenmatt.

The drama served as a vehicle for Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne in tremendously successful runs in London, New York and other American cities for over two years. Elton Bagley and Joanne Martin will have the Lunt and Fontanne roles in the Allegheny performance.

The play is under the direction of Charles Hampton Jr. Performances will be given Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, Feb. 28, March 1 and 2.

Independent Meeting

There will be a general meeting of all independents in Henderson Auditorium on Monday, Feb. 25.

Foster B. Doane, Prominent Trustee Dies in Florida; Mourned by College

By Julie DeFrancois

Allegheny's flag flew at half-mast Saturday and Sunday as the college paid tribute to one of its most devoted friends and trustees, the late Foster Baird Doane, '17, who died Feb. 14 in Sarasota, Florida, at the age of 69.

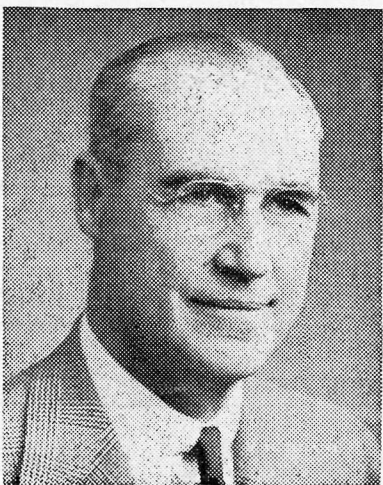

One of Allegheny's most colorful alumni, Mr. Doane owned a 3,500 acre ranch near Bandera, Texas, where he and his family made their home, a 400-acre ranch in Colorado, an island in Canada, and a duplex apartment building in Chicago. He was an active sportsman and skilled marksman, and also enjoyed oil painting. He was a collector of relics of the Old West.

Among the livestock on the Doane ranch are prize beef cattle, 200 head of Santa Gertrudas (a breed of Texas Longhorn and Indian Brahmas developed by the famed King ranch in Texas) and other livestock, including 1,500 head of sheep, 1,000 Angora goats, and 20 horses.

Mr. Doane's road to success began in the depths of the depression in 1929, when he was a co-founder of the Magnaflux Corporation, which burgeoned into a multi-million dollar industry just before World War II, when he patented a process for non-destructive testing of stress on metals. This process saved the government millions of dollars during the war. He became president of Magnaflux in 1944, and later chairman of the board.

Born in Meadville in 1893, Mr. Doane was a Varsity tennis player and member of Delta Tau Delta at Allegheny. He received a B.S. in Chemical Engineering from the University of Pittsburgh in 1920 followed by an M.S. at Pitt and

Bowl Team Challenged

A match between Allegheny's College Bowl Team and two student teams will be held next Tuesday at 7 p.m. in Henderson Auditorium, Quigley Hall.

It will last for one hour and it is hoped that as many members of the college community as possible will be able to attend to give the team's morale an added boost and to see an exciting contest.

Senior Class Party Tomorrow Night

YOU are invited to GEORGE'S BIRTHDAY PARTY!

WHERE: Home of Cochran

WHEN: Friday, Feb. 22, 9:30 to 11:30 (after the B.B. game)

WHAT ELSE? It's the birthday with an element of chance. Come try your luck. You will draw your ticket at the door. You may pay anywhere from 25 to 75 cents, or you might get in free!

AND? Free R.C.A. and Columbia record albums will be given away throughout the evening to the people with the lucky numbers on their tickets.

MORE? A band and refreshments

Come with a date, or to find one. This is for EVERYBODY.

P.S. Special note to seniors. This is to finance your senior week, so if you want a good one, come to the party!

The Press Conference

The administration's interest in consulting student opinion on various college problems has again been demonstrated by their announcement of the "College Press Conference" next Wednesday as well as by their encouragement of student committees investigating college matters.

By holding a convocation simply to explain college policies and seek out student opinion, the administration is making a commendable effort to show the student body that Allegheny administrators value what individual students think. We doubt that such a program would be found in larger institutions.

Likewise, the newly-formed Dining Hall Policies Committee and the recent College Housing Investigation Committee show respect on the administration level for student opinion.

The Dining Hall Policies Committee should help resolve long-standing questions on diners' dress and the menus.

The Housing Committee has made a number of recommendations to improve college dorm facilities, as reported last week. We hope these recommendations are heeded, not only because this writer's room in Caflich is periodically flooded by drains which back up in the lavatory across the hall, but because they should make dorm living in general more pleasant.

We urge students to take advantage of the opportunity the Convocation offers to ask questions about college policy which bothers them — whether about tuition, drinking, or food — and hope that student response justifies continued effort by the administration to seek our student opinion.

Foster B. Doane

With the death last Thursday of Foster B. Doane, Allegheny College has lost one of its most devoted alumni and trustees.

In his 69 years Mr. Doane made an impressive mark on the business world and, with his varied and far-flung interests, seemed to enjoy life with a vigor and opulence perhaps greater than most of us will attain.

Yet through all the successes in his career, Foster Doane never forgot Allegheny. His gifts to the college and efforts on its behalf have been important in Allegheny's development, but his material rewards for his work here are undoubtedly much less than in his other fields of endeavor.

It is through the unseen work of such men as Mr. Doane that Allegheny has become what it is today. There is little the college can give in return except the satisfaction of a job well done and the dip of a flag at his passing.

As long as Allegheny can hold the loyalty of alumni and friends of the caliber of Foster Doane, it shall continue to surge forward in the field of higher education.

DeFrancois, Hyde Appointed To Assistant 'Campus' Staff Positions

The first freshmen appointees to The Campus staff positions were announced today by Editor Lew Fisher.

Julie De Francois has been named Assistane News Editor. She was editor of her high school paper in Manville, N.J., at the time it won a first place in Columbia Scholastic Press competition, and also was sports correspondent for two radio stations and four newspapers, one of them The New York Times, in the New York City area.

She participated in Girls' State and was a member of the Student Council, as well as a number of other organizations. Miss DeFrancois has worked on the News Staff since September.

Mary G. Hyde has been appointed Assistant Copy Editor. At her high school in Arlington, Va., she was a member of the copy staff of her annual which won the highest All-American Award given in the nation that year by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association, and was a member of Quill and Scroll, high school journalism honorary. She also belonged to a number of other high school organizations.

Miss Hyde is a member of the AWS Education and Evaluating Committee, was on a Freshman Council Committee, was on the President's List last term, and has been on the News and Copy staffs of The Campus since September.

Gozur to Interview

Captain Gozur of the Air Science Department is conducting interviews for those male sophomores who are interested in the Advanced Air Science program.

Interviews began Feb. 18 and will be concluded by March 1. Interested men should contact the Air Science department and sign up for interview times.

Letter To The Editor

To the Editor:

We are pleased to see that Mr. Benjamin has followed the suggestion of several freshmen by increasing the afternoon library hours.

It is unfortunate that he has not also followed the suggestion of several hundred upperclassmen by increasing the evening hours.

Dave Kuhnert
Mort Labovitz

Dining Hall Policy

During the early part of this semester a "Dining Hall" policy committee was established on the Allegheny campus. The committee is to function as a sounding board, and will meet regularly in an advisory capacity with the administration.

The chairman of the committee is Mort Labovitz with Joan Walling, Karen Darlington, Sandy Miller, Hank Winkler, and Robert Von Roch serving as members.

The committee realizes that students dining at Brooks and South Halls have many petty gripes but it would be appreciated by the committee if the complaints forwarded to its members would be of the nature of true and constructive criticism. Diners are also encouraged to express likes, as well as dislikes, to the committee.

This committee has long been overdue on campus, and its success will depend largely on the attitude with which the students dining at Brooks and South Halls respond to it, according to its members.

Robert Von Roch

Counselor Recruitment

Sophomore and junior women interested in becoming Student Counselors in South Hall next year may now secure application blanks in Dean Knights' office. They may be returned to the office only between Feb. 25 and March 1. No applications will be accepted after March 1.

Because of the pressures of the three-term system, it is strongly recommended that a girl interested in Student Counseling not consider any major campus office.

Such qualities as scholarship, character, personality, integrity, ability to work with other students, etc., are taken into consideration in the final selection by the Committee. After an initial screening of applications, selected candidates will be notified about interviews with South Hall Resident Advisers and present Counselors.

Merrick Is Chairman

Dr. Wayne Merrick, head of the Political Science Dept., has been named chairman of a voluntary legislative council "to help prepare and coordinate federal legislation that would benefit the Crawford-Mercer-Erie district," Congressman James D. Weaver of this district has announced.

Some 35 persons will serve on the committee, which will also maintain a close liaison with Rep. Weaver and the district.

'Campus' Report

10 YEARS AGO: — and not too different! Fund Drive activities included personal solicitations, a competition for contributions between men and women, a Variety Show, a special sneak preview of the operetta H.M.S. Pinafore, and the All-College Carnival. (All within two weeks.)

25 YEARS AGO: Allegheny Outing Club held the first Intercollegiate Snow Carnival in the history of district colleges.

50 YEARS AGO: Washington's Birthday has really become the holiday of the entire year for Allegheny students, with the Washington Birthday Dinner becoming an annual event.

Prints Exhibited

Two collections of prints, one from the Ferdinand Roten Galleries and the other the Retrospective Show of the Ohio Printmakers, are on display on campus.

The Roten exhibit, on display in the main corridor of Murray Hall, consists of 33 prints by Kollwitz, Daumier and Goya, and are described as "social comment covering a century and a half." Included are lithographs, colored lithographs, aquatints, woodcuts and etchings.

Prints in this exhibit are for sale at prices ranging from $5 to $225.

The Ohio Printmakers Retrospective Show in the Pine Room of Brooks, includes work done between 1947 and 1962. The 57 items are representative of modern work in various media. They are not being offered for sale.

Hulsemann To Lecture

Guest of the Geology Department, Dr. Jobst Hulsemann, will hold two seminars and a lecture next Thursday and Friday.

Oceanographer at Woods Hole Oceanographic Institute in Woods Hole, Mass., Dr. Hulsemann will conduct a seminar on oceanographic research; Thursday's seminar will be entitled "Project Mohole" Both seminars will be held at 2 p.m. in Alden Hall.

"Environment of a Marine Basin" will be the subject of his lecture to be delivered at 7 p.m. Friday in Henderson Auditorium.

WARC Staff Changes

Hank Drucker has officially relinquished his WARC post as Special Assistant to the Director in order to participate as a candidate in the forthcoming ASG elections, according to an announcement by WARC Director Norman Greene. Greene stated that Drucker has successfully completed his specific duties and congratulated him for "a job well done."

Vicki Lukavich, a senior who now serves as Copy Editor of Campus and is a member of Pi Delta Epsilon, has been named Public Relations Director, succeeding John Quattrocchi.

With the growth of the station it has been found necessary to increase the size of the public relations staff. Interested persons may apply to either Vicki Lukavich or Joce Jordon, Personnel Director.

D K G Presents Foreign Students

Three foreign students from the Meadville Area high schools presented a program in Quigley Hall a week ago Friday. Alpha Gamma Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, honorary education society, hosted the program.

Miss Mabel Clark of Titusville was the moderator of the program entitled "New Frontiers."

Memories Of Horseback Riding At Allegheny

by Linda Seifried and Lewis Fisher

For twenty-four years at Allegheny, when a touch of spring came as it did this week, members of the Boots and Saddles Club would begin polishing their gear and planning activities in anticipation of the Spring horseback riding season.

From 1936 to 1960 Allegheny students enjoyed the college's horseback riding facilities, which few colleges of Allegheny's size have. New stables to replace an old barn and two riding rings were constructed in the athletic area when Robertson Field was acquired in 1949. On the first floor of the stables were stalls, a grain room, tack room, rest rooms and a large lounge, with storage space on the second floor.

In addition, riding trails wound through the woods in the vicinity of the athletic field.

Today, the stables are boarded up, and are used by the maintenance department for storage. The pad-dock is used for occasional picnics and bonfires.

The riding program was dropped in 1960, despite much student sentiment for keeping the program. According to Miss Margaret Kirk, of the Physical Education Department, there were two reasons that the department abandoned the program: expense and increased enrollment.

In one year, Miss Kirk pointed out, 64 students could take riding, using the nine horses rented for six weeks in the fall and six weeks in the spring. There were four in a class and eight classes a semester. The fee was $15 per person, which brought in $960 a year. This included riding instruction as well as extra-curricular riding. However, horse rental and feed, along with the groom and building maintenance, cost $3,000 annually.

In the second place, Miss Kirk said, physical education facilities remained the same although enrollment increased each year. Since at that time one teacher taught both riding and dancing, the schedule became increasingly difficult. The dance class could handle 175 women, to the riding class's 64. "Dance is an essential and riding is an extra," Miss Kirk stated. Consequently, the program was abandoned "until the college could afford adequate facilities," she said.

The announcement of the abandonment of the program was made year, and raised much student op-at the end of the 1959-60 academic position, according to The Campus of May 13, 1960. A resolution was passed in a meeting of the Undergraduate Council calling on the administration to reconsider its decision, and a number of petitions were circulated among the students.

College Treasurer Dr. Allen B. Edwards was quoted at the time as saying that the financial problem, "while not of prime importance, was a major factor in the suspension of riding." Also considered was the need for a balanced curriculum.

It was noted that the decision might only be temporary.

With the halting of the college riding program, the Boots and Saddles Club, long a popular campus organization which formed the nucleus of undergraduate riding fans, was disbanded.

Since 1960 student opinion on the riding program has been fairly quiet and now this year's seniors are the only students here remembering the days of the boots and saddles.

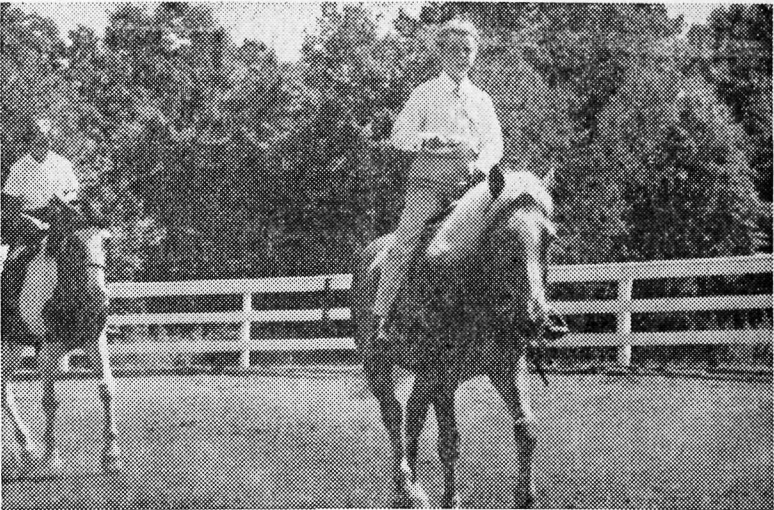

THE COLLEGE'S STABLES at Robertson Field remain boarded up all year now since the student riding program was dropped in 1960. They are used for storage.

Evans' Host Tea

Allegheny undergraduates from the New York City - Long Island area have been invited to participate during spring vacation in a program to acquaint high school students with the college. Alumni Secretary Richard Ruhlman has announced.

Undergraduates, prospective students, and representatives of the faculty and administration will gather on March 23 at the Great Neck, L.I., home of Jerry Evans, '63, for the event, to be called the Allen Evans Memorial tea in memory of Jerry's twin brother, an Allegheny student killed in an automobile accident last summer.

Students from the New York - New Jersey - Connecticut area interested in planning the event are asked to contact Evans at 6-9019 or Mr. Ruhlman.

MEADVILLE CHILDREN also used the college's riding facilities, and here canter around one of the two riding rings once used at Robertson Field.

Committee Proposes Senior Gift

The Senior Class Gift Committee held their second meeting Sunday afternoon to hear Mr. Robert Sherman and Dr. Alice Edwards explain the operation of mutual funds.

Both the Class of 1961 and the Class of 1962 have given a class gift in the form of investing an initial sum upon graduation into a mutual fund. In this way, by adding a little more each year, the amount grows instead of being spent immediately upon smaller items.

Mr. Sherman informed the committee that the gift of the Class of 1961 was already greater than any other class gift in the history of the college. The classes who decide to adopt this policy will let the amount accumulate in the mutual fund for 19 years. Then, at their 20th class reunion, they present the amount to the college and designate the purpose for which they want it used.

The 13 members of the Senior Committee will reach a definite decision before the end of the second term. Their plans for third term includes consulting with all members of the senior class, either individually or in small groups, regarding the proposed gift.

Albee Discussed

Dean Julian Ross will discuss the work of Edward Albee, author of the play, "Who's Afraid of Virginia Wolfe," at the next meeting of the Socrates Club on March 3 at 8 p.m. at the Ross home at 355 Ben Avon Ave.

Dr. Ross suggests that those planning to attend first have some familiarity with the works of Albee, now on reserve in Reis Library.

Dean's List Omission

The name of Allen Karlebach was omitted from the 85-90 group of the Dean's List published last week due to a recording error in the Registrar's Office, which expresses its regrets for the oversight.

Student Editors Visit New York City To Participate in Press Conference

Four members of The Campus staff departed at noon today for New York City to attend the 5th annual Student Editors' Conference on International Affairs, sponsored by the Overseas Press Club, the U.S. National Student Association and the Reader's Digest Foundation.

Attending from Allegheny are Editor-in-Chief Lew Fisher, Feature Editor Dotty Craig, Assistant Copy Editor Mary Hyde and John Quattrocchi, news and feature writer. They will return Sunday.

The conference, to be held at the Overseas Press Club, emphasizes understanding of trouble spots in international affairs in addition to enabling between 200 and 300 student newspaper editors and staff members from across the United States to discuss common problems.

White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger will be among the speakers, who include top persons in the field of journalism and foreign affairs.

Featured on the Sunday program is a session at the Columbia University Graduate School of Journalism on "the freedom of the student press." Panel members will be present or former student editors at the University of Chicago, University of Mississippi, University of New Mexico and the University of Alabama, who will discuss recent disagreements between student editors and the college administration in several states.

Carnegie Hall To Host Choir

To participate in the first annual concert of the newly formed Intercollegiate Choral Festival the Chapel Choir will travel to Carnegie Hall in Pittsburgh on Friday, March 8.

Also participating in the event will be college choirs from Bethany, Chatham, Mount Mercy, Saint Vincent, Washington and Jefferson and the men's and women's glee clubs of the University of Pittsburgh.

Richard Karp, director of the Pittsburgh Opera Company, will be guest conductor of the 330 singers for the opening and closing massed choral numbers. Each participating group will present its own eight-minute program.

A goal of the Intercollegiate Choral Festival is the eventual commissioning of a choral work for the organization.

Tickets may be obtained for $1.00 from any Chapel Choir member.

later did work at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Mr. Doane was devoted to Allegheny throughout his life, serving as a general trustee at the time of his death. According to Dr. Allen Edwards, he faithfully came from Texas to Meadville for board meetings.

He donated a $25,000 scholarship fund to be awarded annually to "students showing promise in originality and constructive thinking." Allegheny awarded him an honorary D. Sc. degree in 1953, a year after Bethany College gave him an honorary LL.D.

Mr. Doane was in Florida to recuperate from surgery at the Mayo Clinic last fall. Attending funeral services for Mr. Doane in Texas on Sunday was President L. L. Pelletier, who cut short a business trip to Florida to fly there.

Miss Judy Halfast

New this term to the secretarial studies department is Miss Judy Halfast, who has replaced Mrs. Patricia Conn.

Miss Halfast graduated from Indiana State College and has done additional work in guidance counseling at Pennsylvania State University. This is first teaching in college. Previously she taught at Shaler High School in Glenshaw, Pa., and at North East High School in North East, Pa.

Miss Halfast, a native of Youngsville, Pa., already enjoys Allegheny and teaching here. She is interested in the advantages for students who have their certificates in secretarial studies and also in the job opportunities available to them. She informs students about visits and interviews to be given on campus by employers of various companies.

Among outside interests Miss Halfast enjoys tennis and knitting.

Monmouth Students Favor Three Semester Program

Monmouth, Ill.- (I.P.) —The most prevalent comment on the new Monmouth College academic plan, according to a recent student opinion poll, was the heavy work load which has been placed upon the student since the adoption of the 3-3 course schedule.

Student comment:

"There is more time to concentrate on each subject, but teachers are pushing the students so hard that it is hard to really learn what you so quickly pass over."

"... the new plan tends to make everybody rush..."

"... each instructor seems carried away by the increased amount of time a student can devote to his subject and assigns more outside study than the student can handle along with each of his other courses."

"... but it seems that the work load has increased too much. He must get proper rest in a single night. Six to ten hours of homework in one night may upset a person's balance for the rest of the week."

The poll also disclosed that most students had much good to say for the plan. Almost all liked the three courses and the opportunity to delve more deeply into each subject. These students felt:

"We are able to concentrate on a few subjects and spend more time studying and less time attending a great number of unrelated classes."

"This is a much better program in that it is more of a challenge to the student, and a foil for the general crammer. It is a necessary step for the betterment of Monmouth."

"I think this will be a good system once the students and faculty get adjusted to it. I feel that it is a better system."

Other poll questions and answers:

Upperclassmen: In your estimation, are your grades higher or lower than at this time last year? Higher 122; Lower 224.

Upperclassmen: Do you believe that the work load is heavier or lighter than last year, under the old academic plan? Heavier 362; Lighter 19.

If you received a warning grade slip, did you receive more or less low grades than at the first grading period of last year? More 153; Less 70.

2 for Bridge?

One more couple is needed to fill out a team for participation in the Allegheny contest of the National Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament. Six teams have already signed up.

The tournament will be held Sunday afternoon in the College Union, according to Tournament Director Tom Harper.

Any couple interested in participating is asked to contact Harper at 6-1555 as soon as possible, he said. He added that a faculty couple could fill in to make the team eligible for competition.

Music Dept. Sponsors Concert

The second of a series of three chamber music concerts, sponsored by the Music Department, has been set for next Thursday at Ford Chapel at 8:15.

Participants will include Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Neurath and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lynn. Also appearing in the program will be Miss Dorothy Jeanne Smith, Assistant Librarian, and Miss Kaye Wynn, a sophomore.

Guest artist will be the Rev. Neal Ferris, pastor of the Unitarian Church, an accomplished violinist who formerly was associated with the Austin Symphony Orchestra. This will be the first appearance of the Rev. Mr. Ferris in a public concert.

The following program will be offered:

Quartet in D major, for flute, violin, viola and cello, K. 285.....W. A. Mozart
Mrs. Lynn, Mr. Ferris, Mr. Neurath, Mrs. Neurath

Two Songs for contralto with viola and piano.....Johannes Brahms
Miss Wynn, Mr. Neurath, Miss Smith

Six Variations on an Original Theme, for flute and piano.....Niels Viggo Bentzon

Mrs. Lynn, Mr. Lynn

Trio in C major, for piano, violin and cello.....Johannes Brahms
Mr. Lynn, Mr. Neurath, Mrs. Neurath

Students To View Parisian Actors

A bus trip to Pittsburgh to see two one-act plays performed by Le Tréteau de Paris, a troupe of Parisian actors, is being scheduled for Sunday, March 10, by the Department of Modern Languages. The troupe will produce Giradoux's L'Apollon de Bellac and Cocteau's Orphee.

Leaving about 4 p.m. on the 10th, the bus will return late that evening.

The cost of the trip, including round-trip bus ticket and admission to the plays, will be $4.50. Students may either take a picnic supper or eat in Pittsburgh.

Reservations may be made by contacting Miss Hanson by Monday, Feb. 25. Payment in full is due at the time the reservation is made.

Grapplers Defeat Case After Losing to Prexies

Last week Allegheny's wrestling team added a notch on each side of their record. On Wednesday they were defeated by a rugged W & J team 29-7, but on Saturday they came back with a strong 29-5 win over Case.

Being no match for the experienced Prexies, Allegheny could only register one pin and one draw. The pin came in the first match when Bob Parker put away Lou Pogoreliz. It looked like the Gators might roll, but the bottom fell out when W&J won seven matches in a row. Chuck Whitaker and Lynn Hartley were victims of pins during the onslaught. Going into the final match the Gators were down 27-5. Gil Gray wrestling at heavyweight fought to a draw with Marty Reily and the final score stood at 29-7 in favor of W&J.

Rebounding from Wednesday's defeat the Gators manhandled the Rough Riders of Case. Getting the match underway, Bob Parker gained a 7-4 decision at 123. This was followed by three more decisions from John Anttonen, Denny Andrews and Bob Lerch with John Bernhard winning by forfeit. The score at this point was 17-0 with four matches remaining. Ray Battey then lost a close riding time decision 2-1 to give the Rough Riders their first 3 points.

Unfortunately for Case, this was their first and only win of the contest. After Battey's loss, Jack Saxer pinned Ben Myers with 6:30 gone in the match. Gil Gray followed with another pin at 191 and Pat Butler drew with Marty Geisel to make the final score 29-5.

With this win the Gators have evened their record at a respectable 2-2. They cannot win the PAC race, but can still finish in the upper division to gain several points toward the Conference trophy. With only one match left on the schedule before the PAC tournament, the Gators will probably finish with a 3-2 record.

The final match is with Wayne State in Detroit on Feb. 23. The Tartars have never given the Gators much trouble, as shown by last year's 38-0 shutout. Wayne State has yet to have a winning season, and their only strength is at 130 lbs. In 1962 the Gators registered 7 pins and one decision as they waltzed by the hapless Tartars.

MD Speaks to Pre-meds

William O. Robinson, M.D., will be guest speaker at the regular meeting of pre-medical students Wednesday evening at 8:15 in Henderson Auditorium. His topic is "The Value of a Liberal Education for the Prospective Physician."

Dr. Robinson is presently serving as clinical instructor in surgery at the University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine and is on the senior surgical staff of Mercy Hospital in Pittsburgh.

Before the lecture the Faculty Pre-Medical Advisory Committee will discuss several facets of pre-med academic grades and courses.

All pre-med students are expected to attend, and if unable to do so, are asked to see Mr. Benjamin before the meeting.

Other interested students and faculty members are also invited.

president of Educational Affairs charts all ASG activities of an educational nature as well as assuming the duties of the defunct Vice-presidency of National and International Affairs.

James Meadowcroft, '64, and Robert "Buck" Smith, '65, are running for the Student Affairs vice-presidency. Under the revised constitution the responsibilities of the Vice-president of Student Affairs remain largely unchanged. He will be, as before, in charge of the Fund Drive, the Traffic Committee, and the Student Activities Committee, but will no longer serve as President of the College Union.

Marilyn Pyle, '65, and Susan Werner, '64, are running for ASG Secretary.

Sorority Elections

Alpha Chi Omega and Alpha Xi Delta sororities have elected the following new officers:

Alpha Chi: Carol Fetcko, president; Judy Corcoran, first vice-president; Mary Sue Mason, second vice-president; Sue Hendricks, recording secretary; Joan Walling, treasurer; Mary Ann Janik, membership; Mary Jo Bell, Panhell representative; and Sandy DeMarino and Jan Giliberty, social chairmen.

Alpha Xi Delta: Bette Mitchell, president; Annette Gilliland, first vice-president; Judy Traskos, second vice-president; Sara Alstetter, recording secretary; Kris Moore, treasurer; Anita Hirsch, membership; Dawn Goodrich, Panhell; and Sheila Stanley, social chairman.

Delinquents Released

Delinquent grades (60-69) and failing ones (below 60) reported at mid-term are being sent to parents of the following students: all freshmen; all students on academic probation; and students who are on academic warning because their cumulative averages are close to the minimum.

Only grades below 70 are reported at mid-term. Students wishing to learn of their grades may consult their faculty advisers.

Duties of Class Officers Explained

Class officers exist.

While this is a well-known statement of fact, their actual duties and functions have generally been unknown to the majority of students.

So that students may elect class officers next month with more understanding of the duties they perform, this year's Class Council (all class officers) has listed the following functions of class officers:

1. As representatives of their own classmates they must be willing to take new ideas and suggestions to the Class Council and A.S.G.

2. Class officers should be a balanced representation of each class — two male and two female. The pattern has generally been for a male president and treasurer and female vice-president and secretary. The president and vice-president generally function as co-officers.

3. The president and vice-president of each class are automatically non-voting members of A.S.G.

4. It is the responsibility of the officers to plan such class activities as banquets, programs, dances, parties, meetings, and any other class business that may arise during the year.

5. The treasurer handles the class finances, including fund-raising as well as spending.

6. Junior class officers also function as the officers of class council. Next year this will mean reporting the actions of Class Council to the student body through "Campus" articles.

7. Senior class officers have the added duties of planning Senior Week and the choice of a class gift.

8. Class Council: all class officers meet together on alternate weeks. The main purposes of Class Council have been to keep informed of college policies and activities, and to relate this information to their classmates. The Council meets with various representatives of the college (faculty, administration, trustees, alumni, etc.) to discuss their respective functions.

The present Class Council has recently decided to take the responsibility of planning and leading future Freshmen orientation, beginning this coming Fall. This will be an important new function for future officers, so they should be students with good ideas and guidance ability.

9. One of the most important areas of work for officers concerns perpetuating class unity, in the hope of better alumni relations.

10. Class officers act as representatives to many alumni meetings, as guests or speakers. In this capacity they act as a connection between the college and the alumni.

11. Officers are responsible for finding appropriate speakers for their banquets. The speakers are chosen from alumni in four different areas: Allegheny faculty, athletics, graduate school and trustees.

Fire in Baldwin

A defective washing machine motor in Baldwin Hall was responsible for a fire which brought two Meadville Fire Departments and the Meadville Rescue Squad to the college dormitory at 6:20 p.m. Friday.

It was the third time firemen were called to Baldwin during the present academic year.

The fire was caused as lint which surrounded the defective motor caught fire and filled the room with smoke. Firemen rushed into the first floor rear room and disconnected the machine's plug from the baseboard. Equipment was not needed to control the blaze and firemen reported no damage to the room. The only damage evident was done to the washing machine motor.

Montgomery Fire

A small fire three weeks ago today in Montgomery gym was "probably caused by a cigarette," Meadville fire officials said last week.

The fire occurred in a small shower room off the handball court on the second floor of the gym and did an estimated $400 damage. Investigation is now completed, according to Fire Chief Fred A. Carmen.

SPORTS SPOTLIGHTS

by ANDY SHAPIRO

As a postmortem to the intramural basketball tournament which was once again captured by Phi Gamma Delta, a few comments should be made on a problem which seems to hamper the complete success of this and other team sports.

The responsibility for the proper officiating of every team contest, whether it be touch football, volleyball, basketball or softball, is held by each participating team. At specified intervals a fraternity or independent group is supposed to supply competent referees who can adequately officiate a particular sporting event. Unfortunately, this is not always the result and the blame cannot be placed on the individual who in most cases has been pushed into the job.

Negligence or general lack of concern in the choosing of officials has led to unnecessary arguments and hot tempers which have marred several contests during the year. The outstanding reason is found to be the incompetence of one or both of the referees who seem to know little about the sport which they are officiating.

In order to prevent this from happening in the future, it might be advisable for each participating group to take a little more responsibility in choosing their representative officials.

Phi Gams Sweep By Independents; Capture Basketball Championship

Phi Gamma Delta won its third consecutive inter-fraternity basketball championship with a convincing and hard fought 48-30 victory over the Independents on Tuesday night. Combining an effective zone defense with accurate shooting, the Figis jumped off to an early lead and were never headed.

Highlighting the Phi Gam performance was a well balanced offense, typical of Figi games throughout the season. Although George Botcher led the victors with 11 points, seniors Joe Valentino, Gary Koehler and Stoner Tracy once more paced the Figi attack.

Brian Hathaway, a standout performer for the Independents all season, again garnered scoring honors with 14 points.

Last week the Chi Rhos, by suffering two defeats, were knocked out of contention for the intramural basketball championship. The Crows, perhaps looking ahead to their game with the Phi Gams, were whipped by a strong Independent team, 37-31. The Indies pulled away in the third quarter with help from Brian Hathaway, who finished the evening with 19 points.

The next night the Independents again came through with another win — a 33-31 thriller over the Phi Deltas. The game was decided at the foul line as the Indies made 11 out of 15, while the Phi Deltas shot a dismal 3 for 11. Lou Garcia was high man in the contest with 14 points.

The Phi Gams, back on the winning track, throttled the Chi Rho offense in the second and third quarters to gain a 50-40 win. The consistent play of Joe Valentino, who racked up 17 points, and the red-hot shooting of Hank McCauley in the second half were more than the Crows could handle.

The Phi Psis, while starting out the season slowly, have been in high gear recently. They continued their winning ways with a 64-40 thrashing of the Sigs. Eleven Phi Psis hit the scoring column with Chris Byers on top with 12. Dean Shure of the Sigs took high game honors with an impressive 19 point performance.

Aquamen Cop Three; Undefeated In PAC

The Allegheny College swimmers continued their winning habit by downing Washington and Jefferson by the score of 57-29 on Wednesday, Feb. 13 and by beating Case on the following Saturday in a close match, 46-39. In their most recent meet, on Tuesday afternoon, the Gator Aquamen overwhelmed Westminster, 64-21, to extend their record to an impressive nine wins against only two setbacks, remaining undefeated in PAC competition.

Led by freshman Bob Sook, who sprinted to victory in the 60- and 100-yard free-style events, the Gators had a fairly easy time in their triumph over W&J. Wins also were registered by Craig Toedtman in the 160-yard individual medley, Jim Beatman in the 200-yard butterfly, Rick Harris in the 500-yard free-style, and Skip Shaffer in the 200-yard breaststroke.

In a thrilling match with Case the two teams tied 39-39 going into the last event. The Allegheny 400-yard free-style relay team of Bob Wilson, Jim Beatman, Bob Sook and Dave Ludwick rose to the occasion and set a new pool record in the contest to provide the margin of victory in the meet. Bob Sook continued to lead the sprinters with victories in the 60- and 100-yard free-style tests. Case was led by Mike Caesar, who scored wins in the 200- and 500-yard free-style events.

The Gators found the going a little easier in the Westminster match as they splashed to victory in all but one of the events. Rick Harris paced the attack by setting school records in both the 200- and 500-yard free-style contests with times of 2:09.7 and 6:04.8. Other winners were Beatman, Toedtman, Sook, Shaffer and Lou Schultz.

On Saturday the swimmers will journey to Detroit to take on the Wayne State team which is, according to Coach Bill Hanson, the strongest in the PAC.

averaging 23.6 points per game which is good enough for a second place among the Conference scoring leaders. Merkousky hit for 24 in the first game between the two rivals.

On Tuesday, the 26th, the team will travel to Cleveland to play Western Reserve who has the distinction of being the only team in the Conference to send Bethany to defeat. Bethany lost to Reserve by one point.

John Dankvloic and Bob Taylor, a pair of 6'4" forwards, could make things tough under the boards. Dankvloic averaged 21 points a game in his sophomore year and is third in the conference in scoring this year.

Gators Face Thiel

The next and last home game will be this Friday against the Thiel Tomcats. The Gators beat Thiel by 3 points at Greenville, but according to Allegheny's coach, Robert Garbark, "they will be a tough nut to crack."

Two-game Winning Streak Halted; Case and W & J Defeat Gator Quintet

Allegheny's two-game winning streak went by the boards last week as they lost two conference basketball tilts.

Without Jim Marquis, who was injured in the Oberlin game two weeks ago, the Gator hoopsters had a bad time of it, losing to Case Tech 81-59 and to Washington & Jefferson 69-52.

In the Case game the Gators, led by Hank Kachelriess and Howie Sterling, held on during the first half, as they were only behind 36-28 at half time. Case caught fire in the second half and pulled away.

Kachelriess scored 22 points and Sterling dumped in 12. John Willett with 7 points, Jim Sample and Larry Katz with 6 apiece, Rich Pachuck with 4, and Chris Tarr with 2 rounded out the Allegheny scoring.

On Saturday, W&J shot 42% from the floor to soundly defeat the Gator quintet for the second time this season. Inability to work the ball for a good shot hurt the Gator effort as they forced themselves to take many bad shots.
