

1893
The economic year was not the sidereal year - both tend to make it:

The farm, ^{particularly} ~~very~~ ^{deducted} on the price structure - the failure to adjust value to this advantage - the failure of the price to rise as value - making growth - ~~supp~~ building ~~reducing~~ use

See p. 31 of Vol XIX -

Good Analysis -

It was the lack of stability.
The farmer considered only the year in which he was busy & conducted his business well - according to an average of ten or fifteen years -
