

Dear Miss Tarbell:-

This note is just to say that I found your article -
"Henry, George and Edward Bellamy"
very fine.

A great many Single Taxers here have read it, and called it to my attention.

May I add that my husband has gathered from all parts of the world Henry George Memorabilia, and it is, I believe, the only collection aside from the one Mrs. Anna George de Mille donated to the N.Y. Public Library. Among other things, it contains bound volumes of the "Standard".

I offer you the use of these books, papers and other materials if you desire to use them at any time.

Mrs. de Mille (the daughter of Henry George) is one of my close, personal friends.
