

March 24, 1925

Dear Rutger:

I am sending you a rough analysis of Chapters - I suppose it's talking points you need, also three or four "high lights." I hope this is enough, but if not I will dig out more.

You ask for biographical data about Ida M. Tarbell - there is nobody I know less about. You will find in the January American, however, the way she looks to one of her friends, Mary Mullett. I should think that would be enough. I am asking the American Magazine to send you a copy.

Sincerely yours,