

ALL INDIANA LAWYERS WANT "CALLAGHAN'S INDIANA DIGEST"

JAMES T. BARNETT

J. H. PATTON

BARNETT & PATTON

LAW BOOKS

PHONE RILEY 6696

INDIANAPOLIS

42 VIRGINIA AVE.

March 21, 1938.

Miss Ida M. Tarbell
120 East 19th Street
New York City, New York.

Dear Miss Tarbell:

Mr. Coleman, Director of the Historical Bureau of the State Library here, has asked us to write you with reference to the First Revision of the Indiana Statutes, published in 1824.

Miss Tarbell, we do have a perfect copy of this 1824 Revision, in its original binding, and all pages intact, and in our opinion a very fine copy, which we told Mr. Coleman we would deliver to you for $40.00. This is an exceptionally low price on this Revision and I think Mr. Coleman will tell you so. They are very, very scarce, especially a perfect copy. Knowing you want to make a present of this copy we do make you this special price. Of course we will send the copy to you for your inspection before purchasing it.

We would like to know as soon as possible if you are interested in this book. We will not quote it again before hearing from you.

Very truly yours,

BARNETT & PATTON

James T. Barnett
James T. Barnett.

JTB/C