

April 14, 1927.

Mr. W. E. Bacon,
Albany Chamber of Commerce,
Albany, New York.

My dear Mr. Bacon:

Thank you for your prompt attention to my inquiry about women in the Albany Chamber of Commerce.

You are good enough to say that I ~~may~~ write you if I want further information. I do, in the case of one woman you mention, the one who "owns and manages the largest amusement park in this section of the state". What I would like to know is how the lady worked her way into any such enterprise; how it was begun; did she inherit her park or did she build it up from the bottom? Possibly she will give me her story herself though, if you happen to have it in your file, perhaps you would ask a secretary to copy it for me.

Thanking you again for your letter, believe me,

Very sincerely,

INT B.M.
