My dear Miss Butler:

How kind of you to take the trouble to tell me that you enjoyed my visit at Johnson Hall on Tuesday. It is I that first should have written you thanking you for the opportunity to meet that group of fine girls. Nothing so heartens me as to see so many of them coming on and particularly do I get satisfaction from informal meetings such as you arrange - your beautiful Hall - these serious speaking girls and above all your gracious understanding self. Well, that gave me a deep sense of satisfaction. I shall not forget it.

Thanking you again for your thoughtfulness in writing me, believe me

Sincerely yours

Sincerely

Miss Eliza Rhess Butler
