Miss Ida M. Tarbell,
Pictorial Review
New York, N. Y.

My dear Miss Tarbell:

Some time ago you had a series of articles in Pictorial Review, about Abraham Lincoln.

I commenced to read them but found them so far fetched just could not.

We will admit that Lincoln was a wonderful man, my Grandfather was born in 1801, and his youngest son is now living, you

My grandfather was eight years old when Lincoln was born.

There is still a good deal of the Aristocracy in the South and we haven't forgotten.

I am enclosing a clipping from the Raleigh News and Observer.

Very respectfully
(Miss) Minnie F. Stone
