November 21, 1935

Dear Miss Walker:

I hope that the revision which Miss Roseboro and I have worked out and the additions - some seven pages of manuscript - following Mr. Mac[illegible] suggestion will prove this first chapter satisfactory. Of course you know if there is anything further in the way of correction or addition you would like I shall be glad to consider it.

As I understand from our talk this morning I am to go ahead on my agreement with Mr. Mac[illegible] of February 11th. As I explained to you I have already turned down work in order to give right-of-way to this manuscript and I take it from what you say that it will be safe for me to continue to do so. As a matter of fact I have two rather important propositions on my desk which I will lay aside if Mr. Mac[illegible] feels that it is reasonably sure that I can satisfy him.

Thank you for your kind offices in the matter, and be sure I shall be glad to talk over anything that comes up.

Very sincerely yours

Miss Helen D. Walker
222 wst 39th Street
New York City

Digital Image, 2009. The Ida M. Tarbell Collection, 1890-1944. Allegheny College Pelletier Library