New York City.

Dear Miss Tarbell:

I have just has the local photographer make some new views at the Drake Well Park, only one of which it seems to me would be of any interest to you in connection with the article you are preparing for the magazine section of the Sunday Herald Tribune. I inclose it herewith.

Things are coming along famously. Every few days somebody is moved to present something to us for the museum. It is quite surprising how much is coming out of old trunks and attics that is of interest. If this keeps up we may have to enlarge the museum before we know it.

Cordially yours,

John H Scheide

You can see the casing of the well near the foot of the flag pole in the photograph.
