ALLEGHENY TO MEET CANISIUS IN LAST HOME GAME OF SEASON

Merritt's Squad Faces New York School Saturday—Has Impressive Record This Year

Allegheny's football team will face a real assignment on Saturday, November 13, when they meet Canisius College on Montgomery Field. The game will mark the last home appearance of the Blue and Gold warriors this year, and from all reports the Merritt-men will have to play real football if they are to close their home season with a victory. Although Allegheny has never met Canisius on the gridiron before and the game was scheduled originally as a let-up before the hard Geneva encounter, the Buffalo eleven boasts a very impressive record to date this year, and a hard contest is anticipated.

Canisius has been greatly underrated this year by almost everyone except the Allegheny coaches who have realized the importance of this game for some time. Coach Merritt made a trip to Buffalo to scout Canisius in their game with the Quantico Marines on November 2.

Because of the fact that the team is one that has not aroused much comment in this vicinity, the opinion has prevailed that the Buffalonians would be easy prey for the Blue and Gold. This opinion, however, appears to be far from the truth. On more than one occasion this year Canisius has demonstrated that it is an exceptionally good team.

The mere fact that Grove City found it a difficult matter to defeat the New York Staters by a 10-0 score, and also that the Crimson considered themselves quite fortunate in securing the victory, should make Allegheny's followers wary. The Allegheny squad fell before the Crimson by a 14-7 score, which, in comparison, is but a slightly better showing than Canisius made against the powerful Grovers.

Canisius' 9-0 victory over St. Bonaventure also demonstrates the strength of the Buffalo school. In their game with Geneva, Canisius held the score at 7 all for three periods, and although they lost by the topheavy score of 28-7, they registered 10 first downs to the Covenanters' four. Again, in an election day game on November 2, Canisius played quite brilliantly, holding the strong Quantico Marines to a 6-0 score, the Devil-Dogs getting their only touchdown by means of a 55-yard run by Levey in the first quarter. On no less than five occasions Canisius held the Marines for downs within its own 5-yard line, demonstrating the fact that the Catholic defense is a strong one.

About a week ago, Coach Merritt announced his intentions of resorting to experimenting in both the Thiel and Canisius games, not because he regarded them as "set-ups," but rather because he desired to find out just what abilities his players possess in order that he may have his strongest lineup in action when the team faces Geneva in their last game of the season one week from Saturday. Then, too, Merritt is looking forward to next year when four major elevens will be met, and at least five other games will be played.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB HOLDS REGULAR REHEARSALS

KEEN INTEREST SHOWN BY MEMBERS INSURES A SUCCESSFUL YEAR

Keen interest is being shown among the members of the Men's Glee Club this year in the work which has been planned for them. All the rehearsals up to the present time have been very well attended, with practically every member present. Many new men are included in the personnel of the club, as well as a number of the former members, promising a large and well balanced club.

At present there has been nothing definitely decided concerning concert trips this winter. It is expected, however, that with the co-operation of Alumni Associations, a trip can be arranged to include Cleveland and another in the Pittsburgh district. A possible trip is being looked forward to during the Easter vacation.

The following is the present personnel:

CLEVELAND ALUMNI GIVE LUNCHEON FOR TEACHERS

On Friday, October 29, a luncheon-meeting was held by the Cleveland Allegheny Alumni at the Mid-Day Club on the occasion of the annual Northeast Ohio Teachers' Association conference, which was held in Cleveland.

Out of town guests present were Jean Frey, '95, Elizabeth Frey, '88, Agnes Van Hoesen, '17, Sarah Van Hoesen, '11, and Helen Harper, '13, of Youngstown, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Kepner, '16, of Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Davies, '25, of Dover Center, Ben Thoburn, of Struthers, Harriet Brydle, '25, and Lillian House, '18, of Conneaut.

After the luncheon, which was served in one of the club's private dining rooms, John W. Barkley, '11, acted as master of ceremonies, and introduced the following, who gave impromptu greetings: Mr. A. C. Conner, Dr. C. P. Lunch, Agnes Van Hoesen, Jean Frey, Lee Kepner and Albert Munhall.

State Prohibitionist Addresses Students At Chapel on Friday

At the regular chapel services on Friday, November 5, Mr. Lofton S. Wesley, State Secretary of the Intercollegiate Prohibition Association, addressed the student body on the subject, "Prohibition."

In opening his talk, Mr. Wesley pointed out that there is more intemperance in this country at the present time than ever before, and that a great deal of it can be blamed on the younger generation. Mr. Wesley said that drinking by the young people can be placed on certain specific causes. In the first place, the young people drink for the fun of it, because they do not stop to consider the harm that it will do them, nor do they realize the cause for which prohibition has become a law, and in the second place the younger set, when told not to drink, take the warning as a dare.

"There has never been an amendment to the consitution," Mr. Wesley declared, "which has had so much opposition and such a long struggle before it was enacted as a law as did this amendment. Medical research shows that two glasses of beer or one glass of whiskey causes eighteen per cent more deaths among those who use liquor than among those who abstain from it entirely. Moreover, business interests have been aided a great deal. Many lives are often in the hands of one man, and it is necessary that he possess a steady nerve, an alert mind, and a capacity for instant action"

In conclusion, the speaker said that this country wants a clean government, a clean relation in regard to social, political and economic conditions, and an interest in the welfare of its people.

Alleghenians will be interested to know that the name of Art Dahl appeared last Saturday in the lineup for the Army. Dahl broke into the game in the second half, and scored a touchdown against Franklin and Marshall, and also kicked the point from placement.

FAMOUS MEZZO-SOPRANO TO APPEAR HERE NOV. 22

MADAME JULIA CLAUSSEN TO PRESENT SECOND CONCERT PROGRAM

Madame Julia Claussen, famous Swedish mezzo-soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company, will appear in Ford Memorial Chapel on Monday evening, November 22, as the second number of the College Concert Course. Madame Claussen was one of the outstanding stars of the 1926 Metropolitan Opera Festival at Cleveland, which many local faculty members and students attended. She took the role of Delilah in "Sampson and Delilah," and of Amneris in "Aida." The Meadville people who heard Madame Claussen speak well of her ability as an opera singer. She is even more widely known in concert than in opera, and an evening of high class entertainment is assured the music lovers of this community.

Madame Claussen was born in Stockholm, Sweden. In her childhood she studied piano and did not take serious voice culture until her eighteenth year, when she entered the Royal Academy of Music of that city. There she remained four years, conscientiously pursuing her work with voice, piano, plastique and dramatic art.

At the age of twenty-two she made her debut at the Royal Opera in the Swedish capital in Donizetti's "La Favorita." So extraordinary was her success that she was at once engaged as the leading mezzo-soprano there. But her initial triumph, instead of satisfying her musical ambitions, only spurred her on to further perfect her art.

Madame Julia Claussen continued her study in Berlin, and it was there that her beautiful singing attracted the attention of the Director of the Chicago Opera Company, who immediately engaged her for leading roles. She made her American debut as Ortrud in "Lohnengrin," a part in which she "made operatic history as the greatest Ortrud New York has ever known."

Madame Claussen has appeared as a guest artist at some of the most important opera houses in Europe, besides her current appearances at the Metropolitan and her seasons with the Stockholm Royal Opera Company. In concert she has sung throughout the United States, Canada and Mexico,, and in most of the European Countries.

In her native land Madame Claussen's extraordinary talents have received full recognition. She is court singer to King Gustave V, holding all the prerogatives this office commands. But much as Madame Claussen values all these tokens of the king's and her countrymen's esteem, it is America's sympathetic and universal response to her beautiful art that gives her the most sincere satisfaction; for she is an American citizen and is happiest in the contemplation of her triumphs here.

SOPHOMORE CLASS PLANS TO ENFORCE FROSH RULES

RAZZING COMMITTEE IS APPOINTED TO BRING OFFENDERS BEFORE SENATE

Disobedience, conceit, and general indifference toward the rules and traditions at Allegheny have caused the Sophomore Class to organize a razzing committee to discipline the Freshmen. For the past month, the freshmen regulations, which are compiled by the Student Senate, have been disobeyed repeatedly by various members of the class, and since the Sophomores are to enforce these rules, drastic measures are to be taken in order to bring obedience and order among the yearlings.

A council has been appointed by Harry Carlson, president of the second year class, consisting of one man from each fraternity which is to act as a student razzing committee. All Freshmen who disobey the rules will be reported to this committee, who will then get the sanction of the Student Senate to inflict punishment upon the culprits.

The members of this committee are as follows: E. V. Culver, chairman, Phi Delta Theta; P. S. Corbin, Phi Kappa Psi; T. Z. Pressel, Phi Gamma Delta; G. B. Underwood, Delta Tau Delta; J. F. Hartman, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Harry Carlson, Alpha Chi Rho; C. E. Reuning, Beta Upsilon; W. E. Beyer, Beta Kappa; and J. A. Bobango, Non-fraternity.

REV. L. W. SHERWIN, '08, GIVES CHAPEL ADDRESS

OIL CITY MINISTER SPEAKS BEFORE STUDENT BODY LAST WEDNESDAY

The Rev. Mr. L. W. Sherwin, '08, of Oil City was in charge of the chapel services last Wednesday morning, November 3. Using Luke: 14 as a text, he spoke concerning the magic word "efficiency." In opening his talk he enumerated many scientific and engineering accomplishments of this age, which are mainly a result of the efficiency of those who are responsible for this great advancement. Continuing, the Rev. Mr. Sherwin said, "The most significant thing in the world today is not the great scientific achievements, but it is in the discovery of Jesus."

The Rev. Mr. Sherwin advised that one should not fear to ask questions concerning life, for the result of all investigation should only cause a greater respect for Jesus and his teachings. "The most efficient thing in life is to have the spirit of Christ find you."

In concluding his talk he said, "We never do our best until we have forgotten ourselves. It is a fine art to become lost within our thoughts of Jesus."

ORATORICAL CONTEST SCHEDULED FOR DEC. 2

COMPETITORS' APPLICATIONS NOW BEING RECEIVED BY DOCTOR SWARTLEY

Applications are now being received by Dr. S. S. Swartley for competitors in the Wakefield Oratorical Contest, the date of which has been set for Thursday evening, December 2. Only six contestants are allowed to speak, but in case there are more than six applicants, eliminations will be on the basis of the quality of the orations turned in to Dr. Swartley. Thus far R. J. Corbett, winner of the contest last year, Robert Wilson and Cyril B. Hartman have announced their intention of competing.

The Wakefield Oratorical Contest was originated about twenty-two years ago, when Mr. James A. Wakefield, '90, of Pittsburgh, announced that he would award a prize of fifty dollars to the winner of the contest each year in the name of his grandfather, the Rev. Mr. Samuel Wakefield, D. D. In former years the winner received the entire fifty dollars, but the committee on oratory and debate are considering the advisability of awarding a first prize of thirty-five dollars and a second prize of fifteen dollars. The winner, besides receiving the prize, is given the opportunity of representing the College in the International Civic Oratorical League contest, which is held in the spring of each year.

SEVERAL NEW FEATURES TO MARK 1927 ANNUAL

KALDRON PICTURES MUST BE TAKEN BEFORE THANKSGIVING

Announcement has been made by Edwin J. McKay, editor of the Kaldron, that all senior and fraternity section pictures must be taken before the Thanksgiving vacation. The work on the class and fraternity sections of the Annual is progressing rapidly, and it is expected that these sections will be practically completed by that time. The football games are being written up as played and the staff photographer, Eaton, has taken several action pictures of the games which will be used as backgrounds for individual players. There will be some new and unusual features in the annual this year.

During the past two years the feature section of the Kaldron has been entirely devoted to one particular topic, but this year a new and original plan is being developed for this department. Humorous occurences on the campus and side-lights of College life are being recorded daily which will be used for the Comic Calendar. The entire staff meets every Monday at 4:30 P. M. in the Quill Club Room of the Library.

Mrs. Lizzie Best Graham, '75, wife of the late Robert G. Graham, '72, died October 27. Interment was made in the Meadville Greendale Cemetery.

BLUE AND GOLD BARELY DEFEATS THIEL IN GAME AT GREENVILLE

Wasted Chances In Every Quarter Mark Contest—Touchdown Made Early In Second Period

Failing to gain at the right time and neglecting numerous opportunities to score, Allegheny barely nosed out a 6-0 victory over Thiel at Packard Park, Greenville, Saturday, November 6. Ideal football conditions coupled with Thiel's Home-Coming Day brought out a large crowd to witness the contest.

The Blue and Gold completely outplayed the Lutherans throughout the game, chalking up 15 first downs to Thiel's one, but the Lutherans rose to their greatest height in the season's playing, their alertness and fighting spirit having much to do with checking the Blue and Gold. Intercepted passes, numerous off-side penalties, and failure to get an even share of the breaks, kept Allegheny from scoring the four or five touchdowns that their superiority entitled them to.

The game started auspiciously for the Blue and Gold. Thiel received the kickoff and after being held for several downs were forced to punt. On Allegheny's first offensive play, Brendel ploughed through the center of the line for 32 yards to the Thiel 12-yard line. On the next play, however, Berkman, Thiel right halfback, scooped up Davis' fumble and ran the ball back to Allegheny's 45-yard line. After several exchanges of punts, Allegheny worked the ball down to the 21-yard line. At this point the quarter ended. It required the Blue and Gold but five scrimmages to carry the ball over at the opening of the second period. Gillis scored the touchdown on a three-yard run around right end.

On account of off-side penalties, Allegheny did not again threaten the Thiel goal line until near the end of the half. At one juncture they were given five-yard penalties on three successive plays. This hampered the play until Moon intercepted a Thiel pass on his own 43-yard line and raced to the Thiel 23. With one minute left to play, Allegheny made a first down on the seven-yard line. In three plays they put the ball on the one-yard line, but the half ended before the score could be made.

Before the second half was over, the band of Allegheny rooters were given a shock more than once, as Thiel threatened to cross the goal line for the first time in thirty years against an Allegheny team.

The Blue and Gold began the third period by driving into Thiel territory, but Schilling, Thiel quarterback, intercepted a pass on his own 35-yard marker. Allegheny held for downs, and, when the Thiel punt was blocked, Capt. Kinnunen recovered the ball in the middle of the field. Allegheny then began a drive which ended when the Lutherans held for downs on the 19-yard line. Near the end of the quarter Waleski dropped a Thiel punt, and Skorovan, left end, picked up the ball and raced to the Allegheny 10-yard line before he was brought down. Taylor added a yard at tackle as the

Pep Organization To Be Established On Permanent Basis

The newest organization to make its appearance on Allegheny's campus is "The 45 Club." This organization, the real name of which is "The Go-Get-Em Gator Club," is the brain child of Cy Hartman and Chuck Yengst, and is a semi-secret body composed of five members from each fraternity and non-fraternity group on the "hill."

The club was formed with the avowed intention of fostering Allegheny school spirit, and lending active support to every college activity. The organization is intended to be a permanent thing, and its membership is to be limited to the present quota of forty-five men, the majority of which are to be elected from each year's Senior class. Only such men as give indication of possessing a good school spirit are eligble for the club roster.

With an eye towad establishing the club upon sound and permanent basis, the present members, who were selected by each group on the "hill", have elected the following officers for the first semester: president, Charles Yengst; vice-president, William Rhodes; secretary, Lester Graf; and treasurer, Frank Wicks.

At a meeting held several weeks ago a few general rules and regulations were agreed upon, and a committee appointed to draw up a constitution and set of by-laws.

The club made its first appearance at the St. Francis game, at which time the members, as a body, occupied a reserved portion of the bleachers and formed a nucleus for the cheering section. At the Grove City game the organization again put in its appearance, and this time its members served as ushers and ticket sellers before going to the cheering section. It was also this same "45 Club" that was in charge of the mammoth celebration the evening before the game with the Grovers.

At present the club is only in a nebulous state, but it has already made itself felt in the pep meetings held in the chapel and at football games.

DR. H. W. CHURCH TO TAKE MEDITERRANEAN CRUISE

FACULTY MEMBER TO BE ASSISTANT DIRECTOR OF F. C. CLARK CRUISE

Dr. H. W. Church, head of the Romance Language Department at Allegheny, will be assistant conductor of the Frank C. Clark Mediterranean cruise during his sabbatic leave of absence which begins at the close of the first semester of this school year.

The cruise will be made on a special chartered ship, the Transylvania, a new seventeen thousand ton Cunard liner. The ship sails from New York on January 29. Stops will be made at the Madeira Islands, Lisbon, Cadiz, Seville, Gibraltar, Algiers, Tunis, Athens, Constantinople, Naples and Rome. Four days will be spent in the Holy Land, including visits to Jerusalem and Bethlehem, and ten days will be spent in Egypt at Alexandria and Cairo.

At the close of the cruise Doctor Church will go to the University of Paris, where he will spend the summer in study. Doctor Church's family will accompany him on this trip.

Anyone who is interested in making this cruise may receive all information concerning it from Doctor Church.

SIXTEEN STUDENTS ENTER MANAGERIAL CONTEST

After several weeks of soliciting advertisements for the various College publications, seven sophomores and nine freshmen have completed sufficient work to gain positions as managerial competitors for this year. The men selected are John F. Burn, Gerald Crowe, John Grant, Osler Hammett, E. F. Phillips, Jr., Herbert Mook and Wilbur Schade, all of the class of 1929, and Otis R. Carpenter, Chester Hearn, Don Hillman, Edwin T. Layng, H. Frederick Lewis, Wendall Gornall, Thomas Moltrop, G. Munnel and Edward A. Tucker, of the class of 1930.

This is the first time in several years that so large a number of men have reported for this work, and the prospects for the coming year are excellent. At the first call about twenty-five reported, but several of these dropped out of competition during the first three weeks.

The managerial competitors are largely responsible for making the Allegheny College Publications a possibility, as they collect approximately two thousand dollars from local advertisers. This year over fifteen new business concerns are advertsing in the publications and many old advertisers have increased the size of their space.

President James A. Beebe was a speaker at the convention of the Pennsylvania Association of Deans of Women at Harrisburg last Friday. On Sunday, November 7, President Beebe delivered the sermon at the Franklin Methodist Episcopal Church of that city.

FRESHMEN TAKE HEED

It is about time that a little advice be given to all students, especially to the members of the first year class, when one realizes that the mid-year finals are ony about eight school weeks distant. Advice of this nature is usually disregarded by all except the adviser, but at any rate it takes a lot of weight off the latter's chest.

Many are the times that members of the faculty and upperclassmen have advised the yearlings on the importance of settling down to work at once. Year in and year out they have gone over this same old problem. The result usually is that the freshman pay no attention whatever to them,—not that the counsel is all ballyhoo and that these students are different from any others, but simply because someone has given them the idea that it isn't done. Yet, if the new students would make a few inquiries they would discover that a large percentage of yearlings are forced to leave school at the end of each term because of failure in their studies.

Now, we take upon ourselves the duty of pointing out a few angles of the problem under discussion especially for the freshmen. Underclassmen, who might benefit by them, have either flunked out during their first year and have learned their lesson or they are too ignorant to learn and are still in school hanging on the ragged edge. For some reason first year students do not seem to realize the importance of their being in college. Some do not know how to study or have any conception of how to settle down to concentrated thought. Some do not know just what their instructors expect of them and how to accomplish it when they do understand.

Right now is the time to get down to hard work, for the greater part of the first term is already history. A good start means a foundation for future work, and all the subject material of a course cannot be absorbed the night before a final examination. Adopt your own set of study rules and get to work now, for no one is able to teach you how to study.

LET THE GOOD WORK CONTINUE

Last spring the College Administration undertook the task of repairing the walks about the campus. The work was rushed to completion before the Commencement exercises took place, and we may add that the administration's efforts, as far as they went, were greatly appreciated by the student body.

But what about those "sink holes" near the Crawford Memorial drinking fountain? Of all the various parts of a walk that need repaired for beauty's sake, certainly that part where the water stands in a pool for three days after a rain needs repaired the most. Even a mere sprinkle will fill all the bowl-shaped holes on the walks within a fifteen foot radius of the fountain. It stands to reason that the section of the walk, which is in the center of campus activities and which every student and guest traverses, ought to be in a better condition.

To point out further defects in the sidewalks and approaches to the various buildings, one needs only to notice the steps to Ruter and Alden Halls. The slant and shape of the steps leading to Ruter cause a constant menace in freezing weather to those who must enter that building, while the drippings of water from the roof at Alden Hall cause the same menace at that place.

Many cases of wet feet, colds, sore bones and muscles, embarrassment and a great deal of inconvenience could be avoided if the above places were repaired. Now would be the proper time for improvements before winter weather fully arrives. Let the good work of last spring continue!

FORMER MEADVILLE CITIZEN GAINS RECOGNITION AS A PIANIST

Mr. George Mulfinger, whose father was formerly head of the German Department at Allegheny, has attracted world wide attention as a pianist. After graduating at the University of Chicago, Mr. Mulfinger became the pupil of Emil von Sauer, the most famous living pupil of Franz Liszt, with whom he has been studying for the past three years in Vienna. At the same time, he has been studying composition under Franz Schmidt, eminent Austrian composer.

During the past year Mr. Mulfinger has appeared in various recitals in southern Germany and Berlin. He is now in New York City and recently gave a recital which was well received. The following is a criticism by an eminent German musician of a recital given in Berlin: "Mulfinger's playing has the power to enthrall one to the end. High technical culture and complete command of all nuances and colors are possessed by this richly endowed pianist."

A student at Washburn, Kansas, was convicted of bootlegging, fined $100 and sentenced to six months in jail. He was trying to raise funds to complete his law course.

FORMER PROFESSOR ELECTED PRESIDENT OF THE UNIVERSITY OF TOLEDO

Dr. E. A. Smith, president of the Wisconsin Teachers' College, Lacrosse, Wisconsin, was unanimously elected to the presidency of the University of Toledo recently by the Board of Trustees.

At one time Doctor Smith was head of the History and Economics Department at Allegheny. He received his A. B. degree from Ohio Wesleyan University and his Ph. D. degree from Johns Hopkins. He spent two years, 1906 and 1907, studying in the University of London and the University of Oxford. In addition to performing the duties of a head of a university, Doctor Smith is also a writer, several books being accredited to his name.

At Cornell last year the students were so disgusted with the football schedule of home games that a movement was started to boycott athletics. Although the movement didn't get very far last year, the schedule this year is decidedly better.

Smoking is now permitted on the campus of the Colorado Agricultural College, where for the past fifteen years it has been prohibited. The ruling was temporarily lifted during the war, and its enforcement has been difficult ever since.

PI DELTS TO HOLD OPEN HOUSE THIS EVENING

ALL MEN INTERESTED IN JOURNALISM INVITED TO SMOKER AT DELT HOUSE

Pi Delta Epsilon, honorary journalistic fraternity, will hold a smoker this evening beginning at eight o'clock at the Delta Tau Delta house for all men of the College interested in journalism.

The fraternity was founded at Syracuse in 1909, and the chapter at Allegheny was installed in the spring of 1922. The aim of the organization is to encourage journalistic writing among college men. Membership in the fraternity is made up of those students who have shown exceptional ability in work on the College publications over a period of at least two years.

The entertainment at the smoker will be quite informal. Refreshments will be served.

Y. M. C. A. COLUMN

The Young Men's Christian Association is attempting to unite all the young men of the College, who are interested in Christian work, into a club for the purpose of holding discussion groups on subjects which may be of interest to the members. It is planned to have luncheon meetings, which will be held in the guest dining room of Cochran Hall and other convenient places. The price of the luncheons will be reasonable, and the meetings will be held as often as the members demand.

This new type of club is being arranged to take the place of the weekly discussion groups which were held in the "Y" room of Cochran last year.

The Y. M. C. A. cabinet desires to enlist about thirty College men to carry out this new plan. All the young men of the College who are interested in Christian work, and who would desire to become affiliated with this organization, are urged to hand their names to Robert L. Kirkpatrick of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity.

Since all the dates on which an all-College function may be held during the first semester are taken by the fraternities, the social committtee has found it impossible to give an all-College dance this term as was planned. James Meadowcroft was appointed as head of the social committee for the coming year and is endeavoring to secure a favorable date early in the second term on which to hold the event.

Donald W. Leeper, president of the association, attended a conference of the executives of the Y. M. C. A. councils held at the University of Pittsburgh during the week of October 25. About twenty representatives from the normal schools, colleges and universities of this district were present at the conference. Problems concerning the making of the Y. M. C. A. a means of service on the campus were discussed.

ALLEGHENY BEATS THIEL IN CROSS-COUNTRY RUN

Preliminary to the Allegheny-Thiel game last Saturday, Allegheny's crack cross-country team met and defeated the Thiel runners. Although the course was nearly five miles long and very different from that to which the Blue and Gold team is familiar, all five of the men that Allegheny started finished well. Captain Bentley and William Wycoff came in together to tie for first place. These two runners had practically no competition, finishing some two hundred yards ahead of the next man. They lowered the course record by nine minutes. The score of the event was 19-36, 30′ 15″. The runners finished in the following order: Bentley and Wycoff (A), Obenauf (T), Ellis and Dreibelbis (A), Kunkle (T), Isenberg (A), Beil, Brant and Stoyer, all of Thiel.

BAND CLEARS OVER $400 ON "LA BOHEME" BENEFIT MOVIE

The benefit movie, "La Boheme," which was staged at the Park Theatre to help pay for the new uniforms with which the College Band was outfitted this year, brought approximately $425 into the Band treasury. In addition to this, $35 was cleared by selling programs at the football games.

The trip to Erie for the Bethany game cost about $34, so that the band still lacks nearly $100 of the amount required to pay for the uniforms. It is hoped that this deficit can be made up during the winter by giving concerts in nearby towns. In anticipation of these concerts the band is practicing regularly on Monday and Thursday afternoons of each week in the chapel.

ALLIGATOR TO BE DISTRIBUTED BEFORE THANKSGIVING

The "Rushing" Number of The Alligator, Allegheny's humorous publication, will be ready for distribution before the Thanksgiving vacation. The copy is rapidly being collected, and any additional material should be in the hands of the editor by November 11. The first issue will contain twenty-four pages of jokes, cartoons, and humorous stories. A feature of the first issue will be two full-page drawings by George Anderson and Paul Firden.

NEW YORK ALUMNI DINNER

The annual meeting and dinner of the Allegheny College Alumni Association of New York and vicinity will be held in the Town Hall Club, 123 West 43rd Street, New York City, Friday evening, November 19, at 6:30. President James A. Beebe will be present.

Reservations may be made by addressing the Secretary, Mr. P. A. Beck, 27 Pine Street, New York City.

THIS AND THAT IN ALLEGHENY ATHLETICS

BY WAY OF INTRODUCTION

"This and That" is not an entire stranger to the columns of The Campus, for it was started early last spring and made a regular appearance until this fall, when the unknown persons responsible for it suddenly developed severe cases of plain laziness and decided to rest for a time from the arduous labors of the so-called columnist. And now, their vitality restored by a rather lengthy vacation, they have suddenly reappeared with "This and That" again—with its vitality a question of considerable doubt, despite the period of relaxation.

Two New Men

Wycoff and Dreibelbis, are showing up particularly well at the long grind. The first-named is a runner of some experience, who is giving Captain Bentley a close run for first honors in every meet, while Dreibelbis, with no experience whatever, has done remarkably well. Ellis, a veteran from last year's squad, and Isenberg, another new man, comprise the remainder of the team.

An Up-and-Coming Team—

Which will give Geneva—powerful as Bo McMillan's outfit is—a great battle, and which will develop next year into one of the finest football elevens in the section—such is the 1926 Blue and Gold gridiron squad. With only one man to be lost by graduation next June, and the Dartmouth system thoroughly drilled, it is difficult to take other than an optimistic point of view concerning next season.

Our Harriers Look Good

From all appearances it seems that Captain Bentley has a powerful cross-country outfit this season. Overwhelming victories over Grove City and Thiel indicate this. The school, as a whole, gives little credit to these runners, however, and a litte interest taken in their efforts would not do any harm. They have a tough job—those cross-country men—and they're doing it for Allegheny. Give them some encouragement—they're deserving of it.

Plenty of Credit Due Merritt

Last spring, when he first visited Allegheny, Mel Merritt stated that he would build for future seasons. And his green team, with the most difficult early-season schedule in the history of Blue and Gold football teams, established a national reputation with its splendid showing against Pitt and N. Y. U., only to have injuries riddle it in the latter game. There can be no doubt that these injuries have hindered the team in later games, but close observers can see the team developing rapidly, first defensively and then offensively, into a powerful outfit. And to Merritt goes much of the credit. He knew what he was doing and that he had a tough job on his hands, but he went about it in a quiet, efficient manner which is bound to have its effect when another season rolls around.

ALLEGHENY DEFEATS THIEL

quarter ended. Consternation appeared among the ranks of the Allegheny followers when, at the first play of the fourth quarter, a pass from Douds to Taylor netted six yards. This put the ball on the Allegheny three-yard line. Thiel attempted another pass, but Gillis intercepted it near the goal line, and the danger was averted. Waleski punted out of danger and the game see-sawed back and forth. The Blue and Gold gained apparently at will in the middle of the field, but could do nothing when in a position to score. Thiel intercepted another pass and brought the ball to Allegheny's 23-yard line. Here Thiel was held and a possibility of a score was again averted. During the remainder of the game Thiel tried desperately to complete a pass that would wipe out the small margin of defeat, but the game ended with the ball in Allegheny's possession

Poor playing on the part of both teams made the contest "just an ordinary football game," though the rapidity with which the ball changed hands made it somewhat spectacular at times. The Blue and Gold put up a defense that held Thiel helpless on line plays, but offensively Allegheny's playing was decidedly below par. Not so much in general team play, but in the manner in which the team was directed on the field can be ascribed as the reason for failure to score more than once. Time after time, the Blue and Gold backfield registered pretty gains only to have their effect cancelled by fumbles or penalties on the following plays.

Given a dry field for the first time in a month, Allegheny's famed forward passing failed to function with any degree of success. Fourteen times the ball was hurled through the air, but only four times did it reach its mark. On five occasions the pigskin sank into the arms of a Thiel man. Numerous penalties also marred the game. Allegheny was penalized a total of 40 yards, most of these violations being listed as "back field in motion," while Thiel lost 55 yards in penalties, the greater number of which were for holding.

Gillis gained most consistently for Allegheny, although Brendel and Moon accounted for considerable yardage. Behrhorst, Captain Kinnunen and Slaven led the defensive work of the team.

The score:

Allegheny—6		Thiel—0
Huges	L.E.	Skovron
White	L.T.	Cunningham
Billings	L.G.	Hazen
Behrhorst	C.	Zundel
Gibson	R.G.	Packard
Kinnunen	R.T.	Dimperio
Slaven	R.E.	Vassia
Waleski	Q.	Schilling
Gillis	L.H.	Mitchell
Davis	R.H.	Berkman
Brendel	F.	Patterson

Score by periods:
Touchdowns—Gillis.
Missed goal—Waleski.

Substitutions—Allegheny: Moon for Brendel, Brendel for Moon, Moon for Brendel, C. White for Moon, Cober for Gibson. Thiel: Gliston for Gunningham, Kunkle for Hazen, Lattimore for Zundel, Taylor for Berkman, Douds for Mitchell, Zundel for Lattimore, Rogers for Kunkle, Kunkle for Packard, Goodwin for Bliston, McDonald for Douds, Mitchell for Taylor, Cunningham for Goodwin, Berkman for Mitchell.

Referee—McFarland, (W. & J.); Umpire—McGlinchey, (Duquesne); Head linesman—Connelly (Pitt).

FOOTBALL NOTES

Pitt's rejuvenated football team secured a brilliant victory over West Virginia last Saturday to the tune of 17-7. Rooney, Welch and Booth starred for the Panthers. The Mountaineers got their only touchdown as the result of a fumble.

New York University had its hands full in defeating Carnegie Tech by the slight margin of 6-0. The New Yorkers could not cross the Tech goal line, their scores coming as the result of two perfect placement kicks by Strong, the brilliant New York half-back.
