

February 25, 1938

Dear Mr. Hertz:

Thank you for the trouble you took in trying to date Dr. Butler's ~~trip~~ to Robert Lincoln. As Robert Lincoln died in 1926 it must have been in that year or earlier.

will
The letters had already been willed to the Congressional Library, the only condition being that Mr. Lincoln destroyed certain communications thinking that they would injure the reputation of men whom he respected.

I am glad The Hidden Lincoln is going so well. I have had a number of letters about The Times review which of course means that the writers in most cases will follow up the book.

With best wishes

Very sincerely
