Dear Miss Tarbell:

The package with the book and the half dollar with the Lincoln head on the obverse have been received and your note. I am so glad you are again at home and hope this will be the last time for awhile that you will need the ministrations of even such a good friend as a hospital can be.

The book seems a fine addition and the coin is certainly interesting. Both gifts will be properly accredited and I will write a note to the donors,thanking them. Thank you so much for your continuing help in building up this collection.

The papers with commencement news were sent you after its close and I trust these will give you a picture of what went on. It was smaller,naturally, than last year when we had the great reunion and so many attractions but Iwas told that there were about 450 at the alumni luncheon. Dr. Crawford was present and of the fifty year class ten members were on hand. Andrew W. Robertson was given a medal for distinguished service. His son, David, graduated and will go into the defense work at onc. The weather was lovely and everyone seemed to have a fine time.

The Alpha Chi fifty year celebration,with a beautiful tea on the Campus Sunday, was one of the high lights of the Commencement.

With affectionate greetings, I am,

Faithfully yours,
