INTERFRATERNITY SING FRIDAY NIGHT

Vol. LIV., No. 22 MEADVILLE, PENNSYLVANIA MAY 6, 1936

Faculty Ousts ODK Despite Committee Recommendations

Faculty-Student Committee Report is Presented; Adopted in Part.

Refusal of the faculty at a meeting held Thursday to accept the recommendation of their Administration Committee in conjunction with a student committee concerning ODK marks the end of Psi Circle of Omicron Delta Kappa, honorary activities fraternity, at Allegheny, effective next fall. This action, also affecting Omicron Epsilon Delta, similar organization for women which has been inactive for the past three years, resulted from the petition of ODK and other organizations following similar action by the faculty in February.

Recommendations concerning Phi Beta Kappa, Kappa Phi Kappa, meeting nights for clubs and honorary fraternities, and Friday night and radio parties were also made by the committee.

Concerning ODK the committee suggested that a scholastic average of 85 be required for admission and that excellence in a few rather than many activities be emphasized for membership. Membership in clubs and honorary fraternities should not count toward ODK. Optional purchase of a key was also suggested.

Suggestions that optional purchase of a key and reduction of expenditures were accepted by the faculty regarding Phi Beta Kappa.

The recommendation that Kappa Phi Kappa reduce its expenditures for dinners and speakers, investigate the possibility of merging with Kappa Delta Epsilon, similar organization for women, and purchase of a key be optional, was refused.

In the recommendation for each organization the committee proposed that representations should be made to various national organizations that initiation fees be reduced.

Tuesday night was approved as the meeting night for all clubs and honorary fraternities. Each organization is to submit a schedule of meeting nights to the newly-formed Allegheny Undergraduate Council.

Parties on Friday night will continue to close at 11:30 and there is to be no change in respect to radio parties.

Annual Sing Will Be Held Friday Night

The annual Interfraternity-Intersorority Sing will be held Friday night, immediately following the completion of the May Day festivities.

For the second consecutive year the sing will be held between fraternities and sororities. Previous to last year, the sing was open to the men groups only.

This year no awards will be made for outstanding groups. The usual judges' decision has been removed to further enable all groups to participate. Also different from other years is the decision not to require a common number to be sung by all the groups. Each entrant is permitted to sing any two numbers.

All of the sororities have signified their intention of entering the sing. The number of fraternities entering is still doubtful.

Physics Dept. Representatives Return From Washington

Dr. C. W. Ufford, John Sampson, and Herbert Nye returned late Sunday afternoon from Washington, D. C., after attending the annual spring meeting of the National Physical Society of America which was in progress from April 30 to May 2.

Representatives from colleges and universities from coast to coast were in attendance. Among the noted scientists who addressed the gathering were Robert A. Millikin, Prof. Arthur H. Compton, and John E. Slater. Papers and discussions were given by outstanding research engineers of Westinghouse, General Electric and other industrial institutions of the country.

Student Officers Of W. S. G. A. Body Installed Friday

Installation of newly elected officers of the Women's Associated Government body was held in Hulings Hall Friday evening, May 1. At that time Mary Virginia Jones succeeded Annabelle Broomall as president of the organization.

After reports of the ensuing year had been given by Barbara Burns, Jane Stover, Jane Gleason, Mary Virginia Jones, Julia Ferguson, and Lois Slocum, the outgoing president, Annabelle Broomall, installed the senior court. Members of the Activities Board were then individually installed. The officers placed were: First vice-president, Barbara Burns; second vice-president and secretary-treasurer, Ruth Meyers; third vice-president and publicity chairman, Julia Ferguson; fifth vice-president and big sister chairman, Betty Elliott.

Other members of the Activities Board are Valerie Fullerton, social chairman; Helen Nagay, house chairman; Lydia Mieczkowski, secretary-treasurer.

Mary Virginia Jones was then installed as the new president of the association by Annabelle Broomall.

Over 500 High School Students Present Saturday

Approximately 500 students were present for the activities of high school day last Saturday. About 275 of them competed in the scholarship tests. A large number of parents and teachers were also guests of the college.

Although numerous high schools were represented, those who had the largest proportion of representatives were the Erie, Mount Lebanon, Mercer, Wilkinsburg, and Dormont high schools.

The program was carried out as planned. The tests took place in the morning, after which a buffet luncheon was served in Cochran Hall. President Tolley greeted the students in the Playshop, where they were entertained by two performances of "Fashion" and a concert by the Allegheny Singers. Other high school guests flocked to the athletic field, where the track season opened with a meet in which Bethany was victorious over Allegheny. Throughout the day all the college buildings were held open to a continuous stream of inspecting high school students.

The winners of the Allegheny scholarships will be announced in the near future.

Prizes To Be Given For Campus Photos

All students and faculty members who have taken photographs of the campus are invited to submit them in a contest sponsored by the Photographic Club. Three prizes of five, two, and one dollar respectively have been offered by the college administration for the best pictures.

Photographs must be submitted before noon on Wednesday, May 20. They may be given to Helen Miller or David Abel, the committee in charge of the contest. Contact prints or enlargements may be submitted, but the negative must accompany the print, and, to be eligible for a prize, the negative must be capable of enlargement. The administration reserves the right to have cuts made from any negatives submitted.

The pictures will be judged at a meeting of the Photographic Club to be held Wednesday evening, May 20, and will be on view in the Library until Commencement Day, June 8. Any number of prints may be submitted, the only restriction being that they must have been taken on the campus, with or without buildings, with or without persons, in or out of doors.

"Fashion" Is Presented Before Allegheny Students

Playgoers were carried nearly one hundred years into the past last Saturday and Monday evenings by the Allegheny Play Shop production of "Fashion; or Life in New York."

The entire production of this famous play of Mrs. Anna Cora Mowatt, first produced in 1845, was in period, and contained the following announcement, explaining the nature of the production:

"Card to the Public.

"The Management takes this method of announcing to its patrons that in order to give them a variety of STERLING ENTERTAINMENT they have laid aside the Grand Dramas of today and offer for their approval this early American comedy which was first produced in New York in 1845. This revival by the PLAY SHOP is carried out in the spirit of the period with the old painted back drops and roll curtain. The flat, almost shadowless lighting, studiously avoided on the stage today, is characteristic of the time when the only light sources were the hooded fotloights and even rows of lamps behind borders and wings."

The scenery was an excellent replica of that of the period, and was most ably designed and constructed. Perhaps, though, the most unique feature of the entire production was the lighting of the hooded footlights by a colored servant before the performance began, a procedure reminiscent of pre-electric days. The costuming was most colorful and authentic, displaying the characters to great advantage.

The entire cast performed their character parts with ability, despite the fact that on Saturday the play was given three times, twice before high school audiences.

The play provoked almost constant laughter from an attentive audience. This reception was caused not only by the comic lines written in the play, but also by the direct moral appeal to the audience of the fashion common to our great-grandfathers. This element, incongruous to our ears, could not fail to cause a reaction very different from that intended by Mrs. Mowatt when she wrote the play.

On its own merits, "Fashion" proved a very entertaining drama of New York high life, in which appeared the lady of fashion, wishing to set the customs for the city; the fortune-hunting French valet imposing as a count; the noble exponent of American democracy, the farmer from Cattaraugus; the pure and innocent country girl, now come to New York, but not to be tempted from the straight and narrow path—these and many more of the type which excited the interest and admiration of countless playgoers of the previous century.

"The Play Shop's own Company of Commedians" performed.

Annual May Day Festivities To Be Held Friday Night

Crowning of May Queen Features Annual Program.

Allegheny College will hold its annual May Day celebration in front of Bentley Hall Friday, May 8th, at 7:15 p. m.

The Junior and Senior classes will be heralded by the playing of the Alma Mater. The Flower Girl, Nelda Tolley, and the Crown Bearer, Bill Tolley, will follow. The Court, composed of Frances Boone, Lois Slocum, Annabelle Broomall, Beulah Burch, Katherine Starr, and Jane Stover, will precede the May Queen, Laura Beebe.

Mrs. Paul Lyon (Helen Morrow), the May Queen of '34, will crown the May Queen of '36.

The festival this year is marked with distinction due to the fact that the dance has been recognized as a major art and the source of enlightenment has been the actual performance of the students in classes.

The music for several of the dances has been composed along with the composition of the dances, all being done within the classes.

At the opening of the dance Intellect is found reigning supreme over all from her high pedestal, beckoning to Joy. However, Stupidity is not far away trying to over-power Intellect and finally succeeds and Intellect is driven off for a time. Envy, Anger, Hate, and Fear are brought on by Stupidity, and then finally Sorrow. Once more intellect is found trying to overcome Stupidity, and finally does so; Love and Humor end the cycle.

The Inter-fraternity and Inter-sorority Sings follow. The evening will be ended with a May Day Dance in the gym, sponsored by the W.A.A.

Speakers Are Selected For Commencement

Dr. John Erskine, professor of English, at Columbia University, and Dr. Earnest A. Hooton, professor of Anthology at Harvard University, have been selected as speakers for the 121st annual Commencement program of Allegheny College. Their acknowledgement was received by college authorities last week.

Dr. Erskine will deliver the main address of the commencement program. A well known writer, he is author of "The Private Life of Helen of Troy," "Tristan and Isolde," and "Penelope's Man". Besides his fame as an author, Dr. Erskine has gained an enviable reputation as a speaker.

Author of "Ancient Inhabitants of the Canary Islands," "The Indians of Pecos," and "Up From the Ape," Dr. Hooten has agreed to deliver the Phi Beta Kappa address.

Plans for the entire commencement program have not as yet been completed. It is expected that they will be announced within a week. The complete program will be published by The Campus upon its release.

Clarke Elected To Presidency Of Educational Group

Stanley Clarke, '37, was elected president of Kappa Phi Kappa national honorary education fraternity for the next year, at a meeting held recently at the home of Dr. F. G. Henke.

Other officers elected were Keith Hutchinson, secretary, and Dr. G. E. Buckingham, treasurer.

Clarke succeeds Richard Darling, '36, retiring head of the organization.

At the meeting a buffet supper was served by Mrs. Henke. During the latter business plans for the annual commencement alumni breakfast were discussed. The banquet will be held at 6:30 a. m., June 7. President Clarke is at present endeavoring to engage a well known speaker for that time.

The next meeting will be held on May 13, at the S. A. E. house.

Journalism Class Visits Plant Of Erie Daily Times

In its progress from a reporter's typewriter to the maw of a giant press, the English 16 class in news-writing watched the write-up and editing of an article describing their visit to the Erie Times plant Thursday afternoon.

Ten students, headed by Frederick F. Seely, instructor in journalism and English, comprised the party.

They saw the copy whisked from the editor's desk, and galvanized into newsprint in an incredibly short time.

In the composing room, proofed and corrected copy was set into forms. From impresses of type made in flexible mats, the group saw molten lead poured to form semi-cylindrical plates.

A moment later, the story was roaring along on the presses at 70 miles per hour.

Escorted by members of the Times staff, the party saw teletype and stock tickers chattering news and statistics. Tons of newspaper polls were viewed in the storage rooms.

Watching the circulation squad in action, the journalism class saw the final issue rushed on its way.

In the student group were Esther Dawson, '36; Charles D. Miller, '37; Joseph W. Philippbar, '38; Solon W. Stone, '38; R. Glenn Stoops, '35; Martha Swanson, '38; David L. Taylor, '36; John C. Wheatley, '38; George Houck, '39; and Sam J. Ziskind, '38.

Robert Smith Enters Senior Library Contest

A late entry to the senior library contest, Robert Smith has displayed a collection composed chiefly of mathematics and physics books. In addition there is a group of French and German books and a few in Chinese and Italian.

All students are again urged to visit the display of libraries and vote upon the best.

Winners of the contest will be announced in the issue of The Campus next week.

Campus Staff To Be Chosen By Next Week

Announcement of the new Campus staff for the 1936-37 academic year will be made in next week's issue of this publication.

Yearly a staff is chosen prior to examinations. The newly selected group then takes over the publication of the last issues to give them experience for the next year.

Mr. F. F. Seely, faculty adviser of The Campus, and Orin R. Hawkins, present editor, will confer this week on the selection of a new editor and a supporting staff.

Three senior men will be terminating four years of work on the publication when this term expires this next week: Hawkins, who will end a two years' editorship, Richard Darling, present assistant editor, and Frank Bailey, who has been active in the news field throughout his college career.

June 6 Set As Date For Annual Senior Prom

Although no plans have been completed for the holding of the annual Senior Prom, the date of the function has been announced for Saturday, June 6.

The affair will be held in order to establish a senior memorial for the class of '36.

Although no committee has been organized for the arranging of the dance, it is expected that Arthur Vangeli, president of the Senior class, will soon delegate a group to handle the selection of an orchestra and all other details.

It is expected that the affair will be of an all college type, and held on the campus.

Dr. Darling Gives Talk To Photography Club

Dr. Darling gave an informal talk before a meeting of the Photographic Club held Monday evening, May 4. His subject was "color photography", which he illustrated by many excellent films in both the Dufay color process for still pictures and the Kodacolor for motion pictures.

At the next meeting of the club, to be held Wednesday evening, May 20, elections for officers for the following year will be held, and the pictures submitted in the contest elsewhere announced in this issue will be judged.

"PEACE"

"Peace" is the one word, or one topic on the tongues of people everywhere today. Politicians, laborers, business men, college students, and everyone else focus their verbal discussions upon this one word, and set it up as what the world needs.

It is not our aim in this editorial to propound the theory that college students should organize for peace, or anything of the sort. It is written to bring to you the views of H. I. Phillips, a syndicate columnist, who, under the title "Thoughts on the Daily Crisis" hits the spot as well as anything ever will. We will not bother to introduce his thoughts by any comment, but present them, and let them bring forth their own comment. In our estimation it is the cleverest thing that has yet to appear on that single important word, "peace". Following are his comments:

1. Peace is a good thing but it takes too many wars to get it.

2. Two decades ago the bloodiest war in history was fought to enforce respect, among other things, for international treaties. And ever since the soldiers went back to work, treaty breaking has been developed into a major industry. It was the war to end war, but we didn't say when, or what war!

3. The world was outraged in 1914 when Germany broke one treaty and referred to it as a scrap of paper. And 22 years later the average man has become so accustomed to repudiations all along the line that if he picks up a paper and doesn't find that any nation has scrapped a treaty, he thinks the editor is suppressing the news.

4. In 1914 when the world heard that Germany had violated a solemn pact, it gasped in astonishment and shouted, "this means war." Today when the news comes that some nation has torn up a half dozen agreements, run a treaty through a chopper, and used a covenant to wipe grease off a machine gun, it yawns and chirps, "tsk! I hope this doesn't mean trouble."

5. If we have war, what happens? We have to fight until we get a peace treaty. And then what? We have to fight over peace until we get another war.

6. The delegates to the peace conference hereafter should make certain of two things: (1) that the signatories can read and write; (2) that an international treaty is not a souvenir program of a hockey match.

DOLEFUL LAMENT

With a maze of comprehensives, six week exams, and finals looming ominously on the horizon, we mournfully pause to extend our condolences to the student body.

For to you, oh students, is destined a week of mental turmoil, an insufferable period of enforced thinking.

With you and all your kind, we sympathize deeply. In fact, we weep with you and rend our garments.

And no wonder!

For we, too, are obliged to take them.

As college students we demand
A bonus in advance;
Before we go to another land,
Let life give us a chance.

THE SCRUBBING BRUSH

A young man, obviously a student, wearing a Block "A" sweater, a brief for the Supreme Court question sticking out of his pocket, face buried in The Campus reading The Scrubbing Brush, (of course), carrying a Kaldron under his arm, and taking an active part in a meeting of the Interfraternity Council, walked down the street.

He approached a shop and glanced up. Yes, there they were, all three of them, looking like gold, but actually painted yellow. Two are on the same plane and the other one, the one in the middle, a little higher than the two on either side.

He glanced in the window and viewed its contents of revolvers, glassware, battered musical instruments, stoves, chairs, old coins, semi-precious stones, watches, etc.

The student felt in his pocket and entered the shop. As he entered, a bell rang and a little, shriveled-up man came forward, rubbing his hands.

"Vell, mine frient, and vot can I do for you today?"

The student pulled a small bright object out of his pocket and tossed it on the counter. "What's it worth?" he asked.

The man back of the counter looked at it, bit it and bounced it on the floor and then offered, "$.50."

"Sold," replied the customer, "even if it cost me twenty bucks."

* * *

Fifty years later the bright object was sold at an auction for $5000 as one of the last keys of Psi Circle of Omicron Delta Kappa.

Among the notables receiving a shortening of thatch since the last publication are the grass on the campus and George Phi Gam. No complaints have been received concerning the grass; in fact, several people have remarked that it feels good to be able to walk around without being tickled under the chin (the cutting of the grass won't stop that, girls).

Concerning George, however, faint rumblings have been issuing from the village. Threats of bombing and arson have been issued against the Phi Gams for the use of non-union labor. It will be remembered that action was threatened against certain sophomores for non-union tonsorial operations last fall, according to reports.

The students-to-be who were here Saturday got a good cross section of the Meadville weather except for snow. What price of glory.

I am due for a Carnegie Medal. I saved a girl's life. It seems that this girl was choking on some alphabet soup and I took the words right out of her mouth.

The President of our country is very diplomatic. I took my nephew, Egbert, to see him recently. When we came out of the White House, Egbert said, "Did you see how Mr. Roosevelt smiled when he shook hands with me?" I've got to hand it to the President. When I first saw Egbert, I burst right out laughing.

While visiting the President, I told him my idea to stabilize the country. "What this country needs," I said, "is a lot of horses."

The laziest man in the world has been found. He's the guy who buys a rowing machine for exercise and then puts an outboard motor on it.

Everything is bound to come out eventually. This came out in the mail. A letter to one of the profs. of the Ed. dept. was addressed:

"DR. GUY E. BUNKINGHAM"

Ohioans To Be Track Foe This Saturday

Strong Hiram Team to be Hurdle of 'Gators.

Allegheny's trackmen will journey to Hiram College this week-end to try to even the win and loss ledger.

After their defeat Saturday by the Bethany outfit they will be out to even the score at the expense of the Terriers. In view of some of the performances and times in the last meet, the 'Gators should have an even chance of accomplishing their purpose.

Hiram has also competed in one meet, so the advantage of seasoning should be about even. Last week they encountered Otterbein College and triumphed.

The 'Gators emerged from their contest with Bethany in fine shape. No serious dangers from lameness were evidenced. After their close battle with the West Virginians, the 'Gators should be able to furnish an exciting day for the Ohioans.

Nye's run in the 220, and Post's victory in the 100 gave Allegheny's hopes a boost for chances of victory in future meets. These two men turned in the best performances of the Bethany meet.

Stone should be able to give a better account of himself in the 2-mile run, and Deloss will probably be in better shape for the mile, giving Allegheny a few more points toward a win.

The Terriers' hopes will rest on the shoulders of John Heubner, from Lakewood, Ohio, captain and star performer in the hurdles and half mile, and Dennis Davies, from Twinsburg, Ohio, a crack mile and two miler.

Walter Derrick, from Albion, New York, and Alex Cmaylo, from Lakewood, Ohio, will be Hiram's entrants in the dashes. Cmaylo will run the 100 and 220. Derrick will run these events and the 440.

In the field events Hiram will be represented by Bill Zabor, from North Royalton, Ohio, and Louis Remaley, from Granger, Indiana, in the discus. Bob Petley, from Akron, Ohio, will throw the javelin, and Walter Derrick and Bill Zabor will put the shot. Hiram's points in the high jump, broad jump, and pole vault will depend on the showing of Elmer Munc, from Berea, Ohio.

Allegheny will probably be represented by the same lineup that encountered Bethany.

Nye and Post will definitely run the 100 and 220 events, Vereeke and Swanson will strive for a win in the 440. Deloss, White, Beiler and Stone will be selected to take care of the distance events. Shafer and Clarke will compete in the pole vault; Linn, Morrell, and Cares the high jump; the two Lavely brothers in both hurdle events; John Lavely in the discus; Horace Lavely, the shot put, and along with Swanson, the broad jump. Becker, Eberle, and Spence will throw the javelin.

Intramural Track Meet To Start Thursday Afternoon

Interfraternity trackmen will vie for titles Thursday and Saturday of this week.

Increased ineligibility rules make it difficult this year for men to enter. Any man competing in a varsity meet is ruled out.

Several men will not be on the field to defend titles won last year, among them Robinson, 100 and 220 winner; Hawkins, 440 winner; Beiler, 880 titlist.

Boots And Saddles Club Announces Riding Contest

The Boots and Saddle Club, under the supervision of Miss Nancy Peffer, will present on Tuesday, May twelfth, a "Gym Kahna" at 3:30 behind Arter Hall.

The contest will be a carnival or stunt horse show. It is a contest, not to be based on horsemanship, but on competition. Anyone is eligible to enter. The less one has seen of a horse, the better qualified to enter. Beautiful ribbons will be given to those fortunate (?) enough to win their events.

A special drill will be presented by the members of the Boots and Saddle Club.

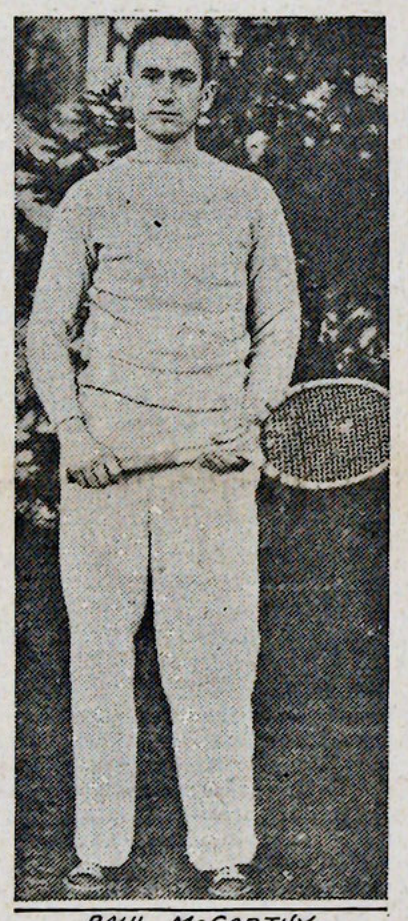

Middlebury College will join other schools in dropping Latin and math as entrance requirements.

Hockey was first played in America in 1901, starting at Vassar, Bryn Mawr, Smith and—Harvard Summer School!

Trackmen Fall Before Bethany Team Saturday

West Virginians Cop 70-56 Verdict From 'Gators.

Bethany and Allegheny track teams fought a close duel on Montgomery Field Saturday afternoon before a large audience of students and high school visitors. It was anybody's meet until the last, but Allegheny's superiority in the track events was not enough to offset the weakness in the field events and the 'Gators were forced to accept the short end of a 70-56 score.

Up until the last two events, the javelin and the broad jump, Bethany held a scant 2-point margin.

Outstanding events of the day proved to be displays by three freshman members of the team. Mert Post, century hope, blazed through with a 10.4 win. Bill Nye supplied the standout performance of the meet with a flashing finish to cop the 220 in 23 seconds flat. Allyn White surprised all by spurting across the line to win the mile run.

One of the best exhibitions of running prowess was displayed by a Bethany star, Brown, when he took the lead at the start of the two-mile and kept increasing it all the way to the tape.

Doepkin, Bethany luminary, totaled 20 points, taking four first places to lead the individual scoring of the day. He won the broad jump, the high jump, the high hurdles, and the low hurdles. Hoerner garnered two firsts, in the 440 and 880, for the victors.

Johnny Lavely totaled ten points for the 'Gators with a first in the discus, a second in the high hurdles, and a third in the low hurdles and shot put. Bill Nye with a first in the 220 and a second in the 100, tallied eight.

Honors for the "iron man" running of the day went to Mike Deloss, Allegheny distance runner. Competing in the half mile, the mile, and two mile events, Mike managed to gain two thirds and a second place.

The results of the meet with Bethany:

100-yard dash—Won by Post, Allegheny; Nye, Allegheny, second; Handonshield, Bethany, third. Time—:10.4.

220-yard dash—Won by Nye, Allegheny; Wolff, Bethany, second; Post, Allegheny, third. Time—:23.

Tennis Team Takes Easy 4-0 Win From Hiram

Rain Prevents Completion of Doubles After Rout of Singles.

Allegheny's tennis team opened its '36 season by overwhelming Hiram College representatives, 4-0, before a crowd of high school visitors.

All the points were scored in the singles matches. Rain, at the last minute, prevented the playing of the doubles.

The 'Gator racquet swingers displayed good form in downing the Ohioans. In all except one match the Alleghenians won with surprising ease.

Chuck Nevins, Allegheny's number one man, marched to an easy win over McCarthy, Hiram's ace netter in the first match, 6-1, 6-3. In the second match, Heb Manness had an even easier task in romping over Greenwood in straight love sets, 6-0, 6-0.

The closest match of the day was between Al Wellons, intramural champ, now playing varsity number three. Goodalle furnished some tough opposition before going down before the Alleghenian, 9-7, 6-4.

Bob Dennis' victory over Bailey, 6-0, 6-1, completed the rout and assured the 'Gators of a win regardless of the outcome of the doubles matches.

The tennisers showed excellent prospects for the matches yet to come on the schedule. Outlook for a successful season is good, with a chance to equal the record of last year's squad which hung up one of the best records in the district.

The match with Thiel, originally scheduled for yesterday, has been postponed and will be played here Monday afternoon.

Journeying today to New Wilmington, the 'Gators engage the Titans of Westminster College.

Friday will see the team in action at Geneva College. Grove City will furnish the opposition on the home courts next Tuesday.

An effort is being made to secure a match for the junior varsity team for this Saturday.

Classical Club Votes To Purchase Books For Library

The Classical Club voted to contribute fifty dollars from its treasury towards the purchase of books for the Library at its final meeting for the year held on Tuesday evening, April 28.

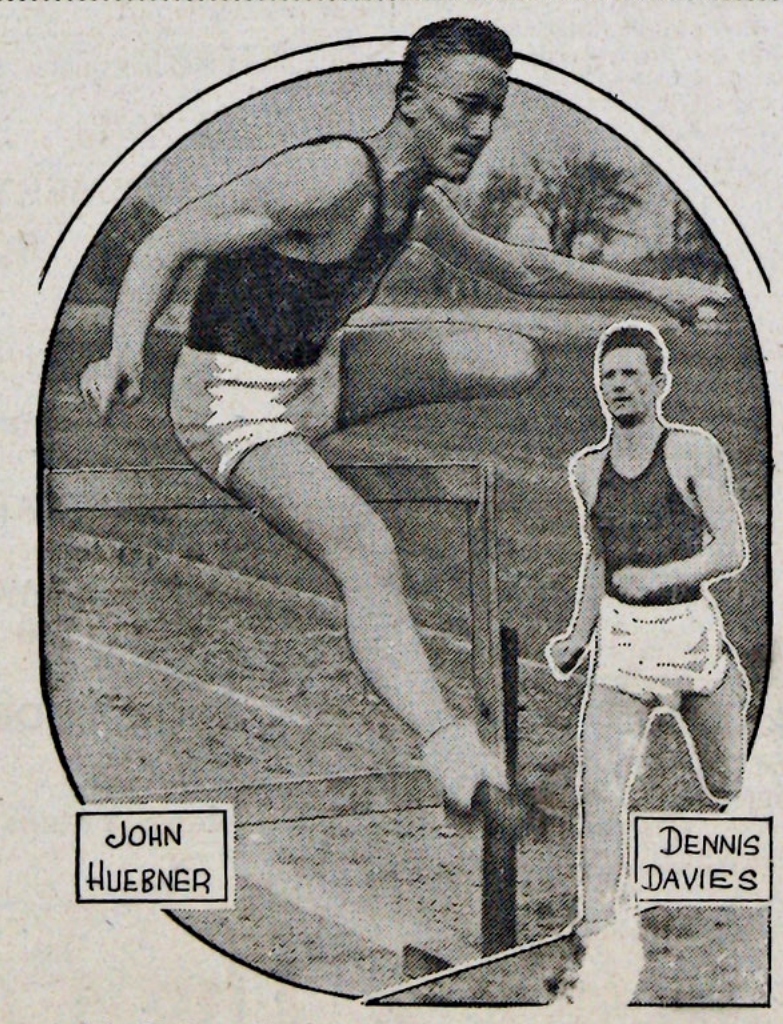

Dr. Heller read a paper on "Night Life at Rome", and the meeting closed with the singing of Latin songs and light refreshments.

Women with vulgar and uncouth-sounding voices are most likely to succeed as radio speakers, says Harvard's Dr. Gordon Allport and Dr. Hadley Cantril of Columbia.

Inter-frat Mushball Reveals Baseball Lingo

Mushball is certainly a funny game. Take it from the yells floating around the diamond as the interfrat mushers compete for league titles. All the elements of baseball are there. Most of all the terms used by the onlookers and the players massacre the King's idiom.

Not so long ago fans were satisfied with calling the various phases of the game by their right names. But now! Today you saunter to the plate, or even waltz, swing the bludgeon, or willow over your frame as the chucker or hurler winds up to toss the ol' pill at you. As a result the slugger either fans the air, whiffs, or else blasts the cover off the ball. If he connects his base depends on how far into the garden he has pasted the apple.

John Huebner, Hiram senior and captain of track team to meet Allegheny this week. Huebner will run the high and low hurdles, and the half mile. Dennis Davis, a junior, is one of the best distance men to represent the Terriers in some years.

Both of these men will prove serious threats to Allegheny's chances Saturday.

Alpha Xi Delta.

Members of Alpha Xi Delta entertained their mothers at an annual Mother's Day celebration the week-end of May first. Their program of entertainment consisted of a banquet on Saturday night and a breakfast in the chapter rooms on Sunday morning. The banquet program consisted of a song rendered by Mrs. Bott, a greeting by Barbara Burns, a reading by Mary Vogan, and a reading by Margaret Jackson.

The following mothers were present: Mrs. Aldinger, Mrs. Bott, Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. McAlevy, Mrs. Ferguson, Mrs. Daugherty, Mrs. Myers, and Mrs. Vogan.

There will be a meeting of the Outing Club this evening at 8 p. m. Any students desiring membership should confer with Harry Repman, Phi Gam house.

RADIO

TID-BITS

The coming, at last, of the spring season brings with it with the other desired element, the dance season. Big time dance bands will begin appearing at the dance spots. They will soon be featured weekly at the lake, in Erie, and other summer places. Don Redman is to start the season off at Waldemeer in Erie soon . . . Ben Bernie, wanting to meet more people, says the easiest way to do it in these times is to become a bill collector . . . Wayne King could easily ask the question, "What's in a name?" Recently he received a letter from a radio fan at Clarksburg, West Virginia, with the salutation "Dear Waynn Kind." . . . Ace Brigode and his Virginians, nationally popular radio, recording dance orchestra, have a mascot which receives respect wherever the band goes. It is a pet skunk, presented to Ace by an admirer at the University of Iowa, while the band was playing an engagement there . . . Ted Weems, orchestra leader, will tell you that he is a direct descendant of Angus Weymes, the Scot who is charged with the invention of the bag pipes. You needn't be alarmed. He has none in his band . . . NBC page boys refer to sound-effects men as "noise racketeers" . . . Guy Lombardo recently played for a dance at Sing Sing. And was Guy surprised when he realized that the Sing Singers go for his soft, soothing music in a big way! They made him stand on the stage for three minutes while they gave him a rousing ovation . . . We wonder what has ever become of Jack Pearl, the famous "Baron Mauchausen". Remember he and his "Vas you dere Sharlie?" He and Sharlie (Charlie Hall) seem to have disappeared . . . There's a big difference in the type of baton different leaders use. Paul Whiteman, as might be expected, uses an almost-sledge-hammer. Guy Lombardo waves a hand-carved engraved cane. Freddie Rich believes fingers were made before batons, and uses his. Mark Warnow uses a yellow pencil, while Howard Barlow uses a fountain pen . . . It's good to hear Emerson Gill back in Cleveland. He had been off the air for a long time. We can remember when his theme "Weary" was hummed plenty on this campus, being very popular. He has discarded it now. His vocalist, Marian Maun, has lost none of her appeal.

LEAP WEEK SEENS.

Hey, Gert, I'm next on that telephone—try and make it snappy, will you? I don't want Jean Brown to get ahead of me—she'll ask Buzz first . . . where am I taking him? To the Tea Dance, of course . . . I don't care if she has been dating him, he asked me for a date once when she was out of town, so I really ought to take him someplace . . . Betty, where are you going tonight? To the show . . . I'm taking Ben . . . he has already seen it and we're going to sit in the second balcony . . . he deserves it because he asked Doris to go to his party before he asked me.

Did you hear about what happened to Mike? He got stood up . . . Jane said she forgot his name . . . she couldn't very well go to Caflisch and ask for the fellow whose date hadn't arrived yet. Phil finally got even with Bob . . . she told him to be ready at eight and didn't arrive until a quarter to nine . . . I'm taking Jim for a walk, then down to Doc's—he is lucky to get even that because the only thing he ever took me to was a basketball game . . . I can't remember whether I ever had a date with George or not . . . I'm going to ask him to the W.A.A. dance anyway . . .

We better get our dates now, girls—after they see us in those May Day costumes none of us will be able to get dates . . . Where is that telephone—Out of my way woman, I just found out that Nancy gave Phil's pin back last night . . . aw . . . Sal . . . that's not fair, I knew it first . . . let me talk to him after you get through, will you? . . . quit pushing . . .

Mary, will you go get about ten dames to come up here and practice for that serenade? . . . and try to find that girl who knows a B.K. song . . . Why are you calling the florist, Katie? a corsage? . . . well, I never thought of that at all . . . I suppose I ought to send Bill one too—which would be best, lilies or pansies? . . . Does anybody want a date with Sam? . . . Why not? . . . oh, I forgot—the Phi Delt house is quite a long walk—no wonder more of them don't get dates . . .

I simply can't get used to rushing around opening doors, putting on fellow's coats, and walking on the outside. Neither can I . . . after last night when that big truck came along and splashed my new suit, I refuse, leap week or no leap week . . . Did I see you on the bridge last night, June? . . . You did not—he's not going to get MY pin . . . I'm staying away from the bridge and the cemetery THIS week . . . I wonder how I can get a date for the tea dance? . . . Just go see Ruthie, she has a dating bureau . . . only fifteen cents for a Sig, twenty-five for a Phi Gam, ten for the rest . . . Lou, can you let me have a couple of dollars? . . . Joe would have to order steak instead of spaghetti . . . how was I to know he didn't like the darn stuff?

Do you suppose if I asked Benje for a date he would give me a C in English? . . . I could save on my date with Fred, and take Benje to see "Lover's Delight" at the Park . . . Save the fourth dance for me at the tea dance, Jean . . . are you coming Marty? . . . Operator, will you call section 31 and tell Tom Jones he has a caller?

HISTORY on the MARCH

CURT COMMENTS:

Pennsylvania went to the polls last Tuesday—or rather, some voters did. Aided by the sparsest vote in years, organization candidates in both parties triumphed. Next November, amateur citizens will hotly argue the merits of candidates not of their own choosing.

A special session of the legislature was summoned by Governor George Earle for May 4. Unemployment relief, flood control, and the adjustment of state statutes to harmonize with the Federal Social Security Act are to be considered. Elimination of fire hazards in state institutions also will be acted upon. Meanwhile . . .

With an unpopular sales tax driven off the books, neighboring New Jersey faced a revenue-for-relief dilemma last week. Hordes of unemployed men and women converged on Trenton, took possession of the legislative halls during a recess. Violent "lobbying" was feared, but the crowd dispersed when action was assured. Meanwhile, local communities issued begging permits wholesale.

Following the onslaught of the Italian northern offensive, terrified Ethiopians fled Addis Ababa, the capital. Italian occupation was expected momentarily. In the south General Rodolfo Graziani met stiff resistance from black swarms headed by Turkish General Weheb Pasha. Rome was poised for a victory celebration.

The New Deal agricultural program, by its curtailment of farm products, has forced many Americans to subsist on canned dog food, Senator Lester J. Dickinson, of Iowa, possible presidential nominee, charged before an audience of five senators last week. Which moved caustic commentators to declare that, after wrapping your alimentary canal around some food served in highway eating joints, America has yet to raise its gastronomic standard to that level.

Approximately 12,538,552 persons—equivalent to one out of every ten in the nation's population—will in 1936 receive direct income from the Federal Government, a United Press survey disclosed recently. Largest blocs of recipients include: unemployed, war veterans, AAA benefits.

ATTENTION, ECONOMICS STUDENTS:

Amounts received as an annuity under an annuity or endowment contract shall be included in gross income; except that there shall be excluded from gross income the excess of the amount received in the taxable year over an amount equal to 3 per centum of the aggregate premiums or considerations paid for such annuity (whether or not paid during such year), until the aggregate amount excluded from gross income under this title or prior income tax laws in respect of such annuity equals the aggregate premiums or consideration paid for such annuity. —Extract from the tax bill on corporation surpluses now being deliberated in Congress.

CAMPUS CLIPPINGS

Finally proving that professors are actually human, a University of Rochester faculty member corrected a quiz paper in a rather unique way. The paper contained a little of everything and a great deal of nothing. It evaded the point, beat about the bush, and showed evidence of a lack of knowledge on the question. Hence the professor graded the paper with a carefully drawn sketch of a shovel.

According to a Ohio University research artist, the average campus date costs the suffering (?) male a total of $1.15. Said the researcher, extra tooth paste, brilliantine, soap, etc., used in preparation for the date costs .05. A show costs 70 cents and of course the inevitable "bite to eat" costs at least 30 cents more. Two lone pennies must also be figured in for wear and tear on shoes and pant's crease. Loss of sleep and nervous tension, in cold cash, are valued at 3 cents. The one remaining nickle is for peppermint gum to guard against nature's worst crime.

A scientist at Washington and Lee recently declared that extensive research has proved that the energy given off by a professor during an hour lecture is equivalent to the energy supplied by eating one-half a peanut.

It's a funny world. If a man gets money, he's a grafter. If he keeps it, he is a capitalist. If he spends it he's a playboy. If he doesn't get it, he's a ne'er-do-well. If he tries to get it, he is a communist. If he doesn't try to get it, he lacks ambition. If he gets it without working, he's a parasite. And if he accumulates it after a life-time of work, he is a sucker. You just can't win."—Niagara U. "Index".

Officials of DePauw University have posted directions for proper conduct in case of fire. Students have added their own pertinent comments, most appropriate of which is: "Notify the Dean of Women—she'll throw a wet blanket on it."

OPEN FORUM:

An educated man is not one who knows everything; he is one who knows where to go and find the information and to shape his judgment.—Dr. Robert A. Milliken, president, California Institute of Technology.

There are counselors who say "Do nothing;" others who say "Do everything." I say to you "Do something," and if it does not work, do something else.—Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Reis Library Assistant Is Speaker At Cambridge Springs

Miss Betty McLaughlin, assistant librarian of the Reis Library staff, spoke at a meeting of the Pennsylvania Library Association held at the Bartlett Hotel, Cambridge Springs, yesterday. The meeting was an all-day affair.

Speaking last evening Miss McLaughlin presented a list of popular non-fiction books which were published last year. The speaker listed those which should be found in every small library.

At a round table discussion Miss McLaughlin reviewed fifteen of these books.

Other members of the staff who attended the meetings were Misses Marion May, Agnes Painter, and Mary Hendershot.
