

April 2, 1921.

Miss Ida M. Tarbell,
120 E. 19th St.,
New York City.

My dear Miss Tarbell:

In your article "Women's Work in the World War", you give on page 6 the proportion of women to every thousand men employed in the leading war industries at various dates. I think it would add to the interest of the reader if the actual number of women so employed were given, particularly in the case of the final figures in the fall of 1918 when the proportion of women rose to 139 per thousand.

If you can get these figures will you kindly send them to me? I shall be very glad to get them.

Yours very truly,

American Editor.