

PHI BETA KAPPA

ELECTIONS HELD--

HONORS AWARDED

Allegheny's annual Scholarship Assembly was held at the chapel service today when the Phi Beta Kappa elections, first and second honors were announced, and the undergraduate scholarship awards for the school year 1930-1931 were presented.

The scholarship awards for undergraduates were announced at Commencement last June, but, due to the fact that few of the undergraduates were present the announcement was repeated.

Those seniors who have been elected to membership in Phi Beta Kappa are: Paul Cares, Harmon Gilbert, and Jack Hartman.

The following is a list of the honors and scholarship awards given for work done in the year 1930-31:

Junior Honors

First Honors

Paul Benjamin Cares,
Harmon Herrick Gilbert,
Andrew Jack Hartman,
Isabel Lucile Stamm,

Second Honors

Albert Clyde Jeffords,
Clifford Merle Lewis,
Charles Edward Lunn,
Dorothy Alden Sherman.

Sophomore Honors

First Honors

Sturges Flagler Cary,
Sanford William Corcoran,
William D. Hammon.

Second Honors

Charlotte Merrill Merwin,
Minnie Carol Moore.

Freshman Honors

First Honors

Josephine Rusling Bates,
Dorothy Day,
Mary Catherine McCalmont,
Sarah Elizabeth VanKirk.

Second Honors

William Farr Church,
Fred Leland Ewing,
George Paul Grant,
Genevra Anna Hazen,
Virginia Jane Miller,
Elnore Mae Page,
Myrtle Sanzenbacher.

Kappa Alpha Theta Alumnae Prize, member of Kappa Alpha Theta second in scholarship—Dorothy Day.

Alpha Chi Omega Prize, given by Miss Florence E. Harper, Freshman member of Alpha Chi Omega first in scholarship—Helen Elsa Rickard.

Phi-Kappa Oration Prize, first prize—Paul Reams Smith; second prize—Cecil Eugene Bartholomew.

Robert Davidson is MADE CHEER LEADER

Robert Davidson of Warren was elected as freshman cheer leader at the regular chapel exercises on Friday, September 25. Harold J. Rowe and Elliot R. Jones were the other candidates for election, a close vote resulting in the election of Davidson.

Love, intoxication, and faculty intelligence are the reasons for freshmen flunking out of school, says one of the Deans of Nebraska University.

Statistics as to the term's registration at the college reveals a loss of only nine students from the total enrolled at this time last year. The effects of economic depression are apparently almost balanced by Allegheny's reputation, especially as to women's opportunities. Due to the extra accommodations made possible by introduction of Beebe House as a dormitory for freshman girls, the always over-full list of co-ed applicants could be drawn upon more extensively.

The Registrar's office reveals that 581 students are now on the college rolls, only a slight decrease from the total of 590 one year ago. The senior class numbers 110; the junior, 125; and the sophomore, 156. The total of new entrants, where one logically expects a rather larger decline in "hard times" than among the older Alleghenians, surprisingly enough shows an increase of six. Its registration is 196, as opposed to 190 last year at the end of the first term. However, this growth is limited to the women members of the class, and has its basis in the additional room provided at Beebe

House. The number of freshman men is less by one from that of 1930, the number of girls having increased from 76 to 83.

Ten students have been enrolled with advanced credit, three of these having returned to Allegheny after studying at some other school. One other, Karl McBride, of Glens Falls, N. Y., is also a former Alleghenian. The others returning to their former Alma Mater include: Miss Charlotte Feazel, of Cleveland, Ohio, entering from William and Mary College; James Mansell, New Brighton, Pa., from Geneva College; and Stanley Vollmer, Clayton, N. J., from the University of Pennsylvania.

The others admitted with credit from other colleges, mostly to the sophomore class, include:

Miss June A. Fuhs, Dormont, Pa.; Miss Elzeur Luella Fulton, Clearfield, Pa.; Miss Elizabeth K. Ritts, Titusville, Pa.; Miss Mary E. Shuman, Pittsburgh, Pa.; John J. Johnston, Farrell, Pa.; Harold W. Loyall, Pleasant Plains, Ill.; and Miss Alma Vin-

Each department editor will be provided with a key, and the staff will have access to the building at any time. Final arrangements are to be made within a few days.

The room is to be furnished with necessary tables and desks, and in the future it is expected that filing cabinets and other facilities will be available for use. Due to the shattered budget of this year, no unnecessary expense can be shouldered, and therefore, only that equipment which is needed will be purchased.

TRYOUTS HELD IN PLAYSHOP THEATRE

Players Guild Will Announce First Production of 1931-32 Season Next Week.

On Wednesday and Thursday of last week tryouts were held in the Playshop Theatre, with a total of 67 students taking advantage of the opportunity to affiliate themselves with the organization. Thirty-seven freshmen and 30 upperclassmen comprised the group which made the public appearances. This brings the total of students registered with the Playshop to 158, or nearly 30 per cent of the entire student body.

Although there will be no more public tryouts held at the Playshop, Mr. Hulbert announces that interested students may come to Miss Spalding's office and arrange to be heard any day this week. Those who are not interested in acting, but desire to become acquainted with the inner workings of the Theatre may arrange with Mr. Hulbert to assist in the technical work connected with the production of plays.

It is expected that next week the Players Guild will announce the title of the first full-length production of the year. A meeting is to be held this week, and the announcement will be forthcoming in next week's issue of The Campus.

Two Debate Meets Will Be Held This Next Week

Simultaneous meetings on Saturday, October 3, of the intercollegiate debating associations of Ohio and Pennsylvania will determine the official questions to be argued in the respective districts governed by the group. Schedules will also be drawn up at that time.

Assistant Professor Hurst Anderson, coach of debate, will represent this school at the conference in Cleveland of the Ohio Debating League. The colleges associated with this group are: Western Reserve, Oberlin, Wooster, Ohio Wesleyan, and Allegheny. The session will take place at the University Club, starting at noon with a luncheon.

Two hours later the Pennsylvania Debating Association, including the principal colleges in this state, will convene at the Penn-Harris Hotel, Harrisburg.

Dr. Herbert Wing, Jr., of Dickinson, will preside during the business program, which includes a general discussion of debating practice and policy as well as the selection of a proposition for debate and the drawing up of schedules. Allegheny's delegate to this meeting is Harmon Gilbert.

DR. AND MRS. TOLLEY FETED BY A. A. U. W.

President and Wife Entertained by University Women at Iroquois Clubhouse.

On Thursday evening, September 24, at the Iroquois Clubhouse, the American Association of University Women held an informal dinner in honor of President and Mrs. William P. Tolley, of Allegheny College.

Before the dinner was served, Miss Dorothea Kerr, accompanied on the piano by Miss Adelaide DeMaison, entertained the guests with two songs.

After dinner Mrs. I. R. Beller, president of the Association, introduced Miss Clementine Calvin, who gave a brief speech of welcome to President and Mrs. Tolley.

In responding, Dr. Tolley made the point that women, because of their leisure time, their intelligence, and their sensitiveness to moral issues, may perhaps solve the world problems. A group such as the A.A.U.W. should accept the responsibilities of, first, organizing for political action to combat public dishonesty, and second, organizing for the elimination of economic waste in present-day civilization.

Other guests of the association included Dr. and Mrs. William H. Crawford, Dr. and Mrs. Clarence F. Ross, and husbands of association members.

The committee on arrangements for the dinner consisted of Mrs. T. D. Ballinger, Mrs. Leland J. Culbertson, and Mrs. H. H. Bittler.

Dr. Henry H. Crane Addresses Students at Special Chapel

Dr. Henry H. Crane, pastor of the Elm Park Church, Scranton, Pa., gave an interesting and highly valuable talk to the students at the chapel service Tuesday.

Dr. Crane began by showing the lying power of partial truth. He mentioned the misleading effects of newspaper headlines which do not well show the idea of the following article or which do not give the whole truth. He then pointed out that the statement "Christianity is the narrow way," is a similarly misleading statement. He went on to say that statements leaving wrong impressions are, to all intents and purposes, lies. He showed how the narrow way leads eventually to the broadest and fullest life and how the broad way, or path of least resistance and utter freedom, resulted in nothing at all.

This last point was very clearly illustrated by the analogy drawn with the use of a grain of corn. A grain of corn pushing up through the narrow way to the surface of the earth and eventually reproducing its own kind is obviously doing more good than a grain being blown along the broad free way of an asphalt pavement, even though the first grain may lead a more restricted life.

He went on to show, however, that restriction alone does not make for an ultimately full life. He pointed out that the conditions for life must not be disregarded, that life must not be stifled, but that, under the correct tutelage of one who has found the right way for life, a life may be led through the narrow way to the broad full life. In closing Dr. Crane pointed out that Jesus following the narrow way came to the fullest life.

Radio Broadcast Room Turned Over to Campus Staff

The room formerly used for broadcasting purposes in Bentley Hall has been turned over to The Campus staff for an editorial office, it was announced today by Dr. Tolley. This is the first time that Allegheny has had the use of an office for its journalistic work.

The room is to be furnished with necessary tables and desks, and in the future it is expected that filing cabinets and other facilities will be available for use. Due to the shattered budget of this year, no unnecessary expense can be shouldered, and therefore, only that equipment which is needed will be purchased.

DELTA SIGMA RHO ANNOUNCES CONTEST

Men's Contest Set for Oct. 16; Women Will Compete for Second Time Oct. 23.

In accordance with its annual custom, Delta Sigma Rho, honorary forensic fraternity, will next month present an Extemporaneous Speaking Contest. At a meeting last Wednesday the society prepared the rules governing the tourney and selected chapel dates for the speeches to be presented.

The men's contest will take place first, on Friday, October 16. The more recently established competition for women occurs the following week, on October 23. Definite action as to the subject has been delayed, but it is understood that some phase of college life on the Allegheny campus, such as was discussed last year, is favored again this season.

To the winners of the respective contests Delta Sigma Rho presents a loving cup. The men's prize will be offered this year for the sixth time, representatives from five different fraternities having won the trophy during the past half-decade. Last year's victor was William Boetcker of the present junior class, who placed the award in the possession of Beta Upsilon. Previous triumphs had been scored by Van Osler Hammett, of Phi Gamma Delta; Bert H. McGill, Delta Tau Delta; Robert F. Rutherford, Phi Delta Theta; and Howard N. Plate, Alpha Chi Rho. The first fraternity whose representative brings home the cup for the third time will assume permanent ownership, but so far no group has more than one leg on the trophy.

Miss Adele Ely, '31, was the first to have her name engraved on the cup for women, when last year, as delegate of Alpha Chi Omega, she carried off the honors in the girls' contest. Competition in this field of forensics was innovated in 1930 in response to the action of the national organization of Delta Sigma Rho in throwing down its barriers to women's membership. With co-eds entitled to election to the fraternity group it was thought wise to recognize them in the principal function sponsored by the society at Allegheny.

In the previous contest, however, the comparative inexperience of Allegheny women in public address drew discriminatory regulations, entitling them to twenty minutes more for preparation than was accorded the men. Absolute equality is provided for under the present rules, every aspirant for honors before the rostrum being entitled to one hour of preparation and three minutes of the audience's time.

All reading or other research work for the contest must be done before the specific topics are announced, for the actual composition of the speeches is to be done in a room where only writing materials may be had. Of

Dr. Tolley Speaks on Christian Education in Chapel Monday

President Tolley spoke on "Christian Education" in chapel Monday, September 28, taking his text from the eighth chapter of "Mark," which tells of the healing of a blind man.

This text tells a story of how Jesus led a blind man out of a city, and after having spat upon his eyes and laid his hands upon him, asked, "Seest thou aught?" The once-blind man said that he saw men, but they were as trees, walking. Again the master placed his hands upon the man's eyes, and this time he saw clearly.

Dr. Tolley considered this miracle in the light of a parable on education. He stated that education is a process very similar to the miracle, for, before one is educated, he sees things in a confused state, and needs some master touch, such as the blind man had, to see things clearly.

"To be an educated person, one must have the power to observe accurately," continued Dr. Tolley. "It is for this reason that the Greeks, and not the Egyptians, are considered the first educated race. Although the Egyptians were a highly civilized nation, they did not compare to the Greeks in education because they were not accurate. Education will not better one's power of sight, but education can help to focus one's eyes and tell what to look for.

"A good bit in education also depends upon one's point of view, for one gets wisdom only when he has the correct point of view. Secular education does not develop a point of view, but by Christian education, one learns to stand by Jesus and see all things from his point of view."

Dr. Tolley concluded his talk by advising the students to try to cultivate the habit of accurate observation, and not to be ashamed to stand by Jesus and solve problems by looking through his eyes.

LARGE ATTENDANCE IS SEEN FOR HOMECOMING

Friday, October 9th, and Saturday, October 10th, will be eventful days for Allegheny, since Friday is Inauguration Day for the new President, and Saturday is the annual Home-Coming Day. This dual program is expected to attract a record number of delegates and visitors, inasmuch as many who come for the Inauguration will stay for Home-Coming and many who are going to Home-Coming will arrive a day early and see the Inauguration.

Very extensive plans have been made to insure the success and brilliancy of the Inauguration Exercises. Invitations have been sent to colleges and universities to designate one of their faculty to represent that particular college at the celebration. This representative may be the president, the dean, or any faculty member chosen by them. Expectations are that there will be approximately 125 colleges represented and that there will be approximately 150 delegates.

An idea of the extent of the plans for Inauguration can be obtained from the following data taken from a folder prepared for mailing to the delegates:

Hotel Accommodations—For official delegates are provided by the College at the Lafayette and the Kepler Hotels.

Automobile—Special parking will be provided for automobiles.

Registration Headquarters—Will be in Bentley Hall, but additional registration desks will be provided at the hotels.

Check Rooms—Will be found in Bentley and Hulings Halls.

Telephones—Will be available for guests in Bentley and Hulings Halls.

New Health Advisor Conducting Medical Examinations Here

Dr. C. W. Skinner, Allegheny College supervisor of health, engaged in ascertaining the general health of the school through individual examinations of all students, has to date completed examinations of freshman girls. Conferences with freshman men and upper class men and women will proceed with all possible dispatch, so that the task may be completed by some time in November.

These examinations, preceded by an oral discussion of the examinee's health history and general condition, are conducted in accordance with a form approved by the American Medical Association. For this service a fee of five dollars has already been charged all students. This charge will likewise take care of any calls which students may have occasion to make upon Dr. Skinner during his office hours, which were scheduled for announcement in Chapel today.

The primary object of the examinations is to develop in students a habit of having a thorough periodic check-up regardless of apparent satisfactory condition, with a view to preventing rather than combating ill health.

THOBURN CLUB WILL MEET THURSDAY NIGHT

The Thoburn Club will hold its first meeting of the year at seven o'clock Thursday evening in Reis Library. The meeting will probably be held in the History Seminar room on the second floor. The purpose of the meeting will be primarily organization for the year and the discussion of plans.

FRESHMEN NOW IN MANAGERIAL RACE

In chapel last Friday, September 25, Donald Williams, manager of football, announced a new policy concerning the selection of assistant managers. The practice of deferring competition until the sophomore year has been abandoned, and in the future, candidates will begin service in their first year. At the end of the year, one half of these men will be chosen as assistants to the junior managers with a further cut of fifty per cent being made after the second year of service. Out of the remaining juniors two men will be selected to fill the positions of senior managers and will receive the regulation sweater and letter.

LEWIS ANNOUNCES STAFF SELECTION

Clifford M. Lewis, editor-in-chief of the Allegheny Literary Magazine announces the following staff appointments: Assistant editor.....Edith Fox Poetry editor.....Rowena Baker Fiction editor.....Harry Thomson

These appointments are tentative and are subject to the action of the Publications Board. Some additions are to be made later, and the policy of the magazine will be made known following a meeting of the Board.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT CONTINUES TO GROW

Allegheny College Orchestra Now in Process of Formation.

Professor Luvaas' constantly expanding program of musical activities has been enlarged this year by the formation of an orchestra, under the supervision of Major Donald Olmes, who will conduct the band as well. The vocal work will be directed by Professor Luvaas himself, including both the Allegheny Singers and the newly-organized "Allegheny Second Singers," as the group will probably be called.

The orchestra will not be limited to members of the college, but is open to anyone in Meadville caring to compete for a position. This instrumental group is expected to take an important part in local musical circles by playing for college plays and other campus functions. At the present time the personnel of the orchestra is not complete, stringed instruments in particular being needed.

With Major Olmes in charge, the band looks forward to an unusually successful season. As in the past it will appear at all athletic contests, and it will in particular be a feature at the inauguration next month.

The Allegheny Singers have already begun intensive practice in preparation for their first appearance on October 9, Inauguration Day. The "second team"—those interested in vocal training, but not quite good enough for the Singers—is being assembled. The value of this body of "shock troops" is evident from the fact that in the future Professor Luvaas plans to draw principally upon this source in filling vacant positions among the Allegheny Singers.

A joint concert with band, orchestra, and singers participating will be presented soon in chapel.

Professor Luvaas announces that partial scholarships to the Pennsylvania College of Music for piano, voice or violin, are available through him.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Definite assurance has been given that there will be an All-College Dance on Home-Coming evening. No details could be secured, but will undoubtedly be announced soon.

There will be a meeting of The Campus staff this afternoon at 1:15 in Room 13, Ruter Hall. A final call is made for all freshman men and women who are interested in competition for editorial positions.

A meeting of the publications managerial staff will be held this afternoon at 1:15 in Room 14, Bentley Hall. All freshmen interested in competing for managerial positions are requested to be present, along with all sophomore competitors.

"RICH IN TRADITION"

"Allegheny, rich in tradition," is a phrase oft-quoted and one dear to the heart of every alumnus. The skeptic may ask, however, what the present student body is doing to further enrich the college in tradition, and honesty forces us to be silent.

This fact was brought rather forcefully to our minds last Friday when the chapel period was devoted to a pep meeting. At that meeting a new assistant to the Athletic Director was introduced to the student body, and his advent upon the platform was accompanied by most vociferous applause and enthusiasm with the audience standing. Think back to the week before when Allegheny's new president was formally presented to the students. It is true that lusty applause followed the introduction, but, other than that, no mark of deference or cordial and respectful greeting was in evidence. The faculty was as negligent in this respect as the student body.

It is far from the wishes of The Campus to cast disparagement upon the spontaneous greeting which was accorded the Assistant to the Athletic Director, but the comparison and contrast, we believe, will be obvious.

The Campus suggests that President Tolley be the last person to enter the auditorium, and upon his arrival on the platform the audience and those seated on the platform rise and remain standing until the President has taken his seat. To facilitate matters at Friday's chapel, will the faculty members rise first, thereby leading the timorous student body to do the same?

This is done at many schools throughout the country and seems to us a perfectly proper mark of deference to authority and position, and is a tradition that has been omitted in Allegheny's collection.

A COMMENDABLE ATTITUDE

Last week the sophomore class went on record as being opposed to any form of unorganized freshman hazing. Largely through the efforts of one person was this decision reached, but now that the problem has been brought before the eyes of the students, we are certain that a more sensible attitude will be taken in the future.

It has seemed for some years past that the Allegheny students were not aware of the fact that hazing has gone the way of the one-horse buggy and muttonleg sleeves. Sophomores still believed in the practice, but indulged in it in a half-hearted manner that harmed the school considerably. Now that the class as a whole has decided on this commendable course of action, we have no need to fear any juvenile actions in that line in the future. The committee deserves praise and with it goes the hope that the members of the present freshman class will see fit to follow their example next year.

AMATEURIZATION

When Allegheny formulated her new athletic policy, dumped overboard her "professional sportsmen," and determined to start off in the fall of 1932 with clean hands as Carnegie Foundation Report Number 23 would define cleanliness, she had indubitably performed an act worthy of the attention which it drew. On the other hand, persons close to the administration caution those who have watched the engineering of this and other striking changes of policy, from regarding these events as isolated, unrelated, "sufficient unto themselves."

On the contrary, the entire program is intended as a continuous whole. It is understood that action to amateurize athletics will be extended to non-athletic functions, with the Board of Publications and all other activities to be placed on an amateur basis. The gradual accretion of salaried positions and opportunities for petty graft have simply progressed until it is evident that student institutions need a general overhauling, as institutions everywhere do in the course of time. The steps in the general plan must necessarily be taken one by one, so that any official announcement must await action by the proper committees; but Dr. Tolley declares that "when we begin school next fall we shall have an amateur campus."

CAMPUS CLIPPINGS

Nationally prominent fraternity executives will attend the first Pitt Interfraternity convocation, scheduled to be held on the campus, October 9 and 10. Among the speakers will be Alvin E. Duerr, Delta Tau Delta, National President of the Interfraternity Conference; Dr. Francis W. Sheppardson, national president of Beta Theta Pi; Cecil J. Willkinson, executive secretary of Phi Gamma Delta; and Dr. Joseph C. Nate, national president of Sigma Chi.

The University of Pittsburgh will receive an appropriation of $1,320,000 from the state for the next biennium. The bill appropriating this money was signed by Governor Pinchot on June 26. Before the bill was signed it was cut $300,000 under the amount which had been passed earlier by the Legislature.

The Freshman enrollment at Juniata College this year was the largest in the history of the school. There were 170 members of the Freshman class.

The members of the Sophomore class at North Carolina State are endeavoring to outlaw drinking at that institution. It is said to be the first voluntary action of the kind taken in a state institution.

A special telephone arrangement has been installed between the men's dormitory and the women's dormitory at Antioch for the purpose of promoting a more intimate social contact between the men and the co-eds.

This year's freshman class at Westminster is the largest one in the history of the school. It contains 35 more students than any previous class to enter the college.

Dr. D. R. Anderson, a graduate of Hoge Military College, has been elected president of Wesleyan College, Macon, Georgia.

Students at Westminster are taking part in a crime survey. The survey is in charge of Thomas Mansell, instructor in business administration. The survey is for the purpose of determining the cost of crime in Lawrence and Mercer counties.

Syracuse University enrollment figures, expected by Universities authorities to show a decrease because of the depression, will in reality be increased. The Director of Admissions reports a 100 per cent. increase in the Teachers College, 25 per cent. in the College of Home Economics, a plethora of applications for the College of Medicine, whose enrollment is limited.

A professor at Thiel College applied for entrance into the bow-leg club. After consideration the club felt the need of a faculty member and lowered the requirements for membership from a six inch span to a four inch span.

Seventy-five bad checks are passed each day at the University of Missouri.

RUSHING.

After indulging in the "hit or miss" method of selecting fraternity members for the past several weeks, most of the fraternity members in the college are agreed that our present system of rushing is exceedingly inefficient. Conversation in front of Carnegie Hall, where upperclassmen are waiting to swoop down upon the freshmen as buzzards, has brought out the fact that everybody is disgusted with present conditions. The mistakes in pledging further stresses the seriousness of the problem later in the year.

Such practice is really criminal. A freshman, bewildered by the novelty of college life, unaware of the seriousness of his decision, is practically forced into a pledgeship before he realizes that membership in a fraternity means the formation of habits for the rest of his life. After he has lived with newly selected friends for a time, he becomes used to their habits and is moulded accordingly. Naturally he is satisfied with his fraternity after that evolution. But the fact remains that if he had had a chance for more careful investigation, he may have made a different choice and would probably have been more successful in his collegiate endeavors.

Something must be done and done quickly for the protection of both the fraternity and the freshman student. Everybody looks to the interfraternity council for a suitable solution; yet plans are voted down as soon as they are proposed. Fear, jealousy, mistrust make action almost impossible.

The first thing that should be done is to prohibit rushing during Freshman Week. That period is for the freshmen in order that they might become oriented and able to form a true conception of their newly-elected college. Then entertainment should be had to eliminate this mad rushing and vulture tactics. A definite period should be fixed, made long enough to permit the freshman to learn the most essential characteristics of each fraternity. Each new student should be provided with literature giving the most important features of each fraternity, written after the manner of the articles in Baird's "Manual." After this period, one of formal, supervised bidding should follow to prevent the practice of "lead-piping." With such care, practically every evil of rushing would be eliminated.

The Interfraternity Council stands ready to enact any such legislation that will be an improvement over the present system. Faith, trust and courage on the part of the individual groups are necessary before one thing can be done.

THE SCRUBBING BRUSH

Our cub reporter covers Friday's chapel and writes the following story: "The first organized chapel of the year was Friday. This chapel was for the purpose of a pep meeting. Cheer pamphlets were distributed, and everyone was asked to learn them. Football Manager Williams gave a short speech of the change of policy concerning assistant managers. Freshmen were urged to come out, because of the better opportunities offered for leadership in the senior year. At the end of the freshman year, 50 per cent of freshman managers would be chosen for sophomore 'helping managers.' At the end of the year 50 per cent of these would be chosen for junior assistant managers. Two of the remaining candidates would be elected for senior football managers, both getting as awards a fine sweater and letter.

"A call was also put out for sophomore candidates, because too many were out for basketball manager, result being that the work was too hard for the few that were out for football.

"Kelley took over the program from here saying that the student body had not enough spirit to back up the team. A few cheers were then tried. Daniels, the new swimming coach, was introduced and gave a short speech on pep. Coach Weigh then gave a speech on keeping that pep throughout the year. 'Coach Crum put in the last word.

He said Kelley had told the truth for once about he got him to speak. Then he went on to say that the depression had hit pep as well as pockets. The team was picking up and with the students' help the team was sure to play a much better game. Not for one game, but for the entire year. The football skedual was too easy. The first two games were skedual because football as in exams if started out with an easy apomant, or exam, makes the whole year more successful. That is if the first games prove easy. He ended in saying that the success of any team depended entirely on the student body.

"Next freshman cheerleaders were elected by popular vote. Howard Rowel, Bob Davidson, Buck Jones competing. Davidson won, the girls voting in a body for him. That election ended with a lot of razzing for those girls.

"Chapel closed with more cheers. A new skyrocket was tried and was a great success. The girls were again razzed for not joining in the cheers, especially when asked to yell alone. The pep meeting was called for eleven o'clock Friday night."

ANNOUNCES CONTEST

Inasmuch as the contest is essentially an interfraternity affair, eligibility to competition is limited to one participant from each Greek-letter group and from the non-fraternity and non-sorority bodies. The rules also deny entrance to all initiates and pledges of Delta Sigma Rho, and to previous winners of the tourney.

A letter has been circulated among the various Hellenic organizations on the campus, calling for selection of the fraternity entry, and enclosing a copy of the rules, which follow:

1. Delta Sigma Rho sponsors two annual extemporaneous speaking contests, one for women and one for men.
2. The Delta Sigma Rho extemporaneous speaking contests are open to one representative of each fraternity and each sorority and one representative of each of the ungrouped women and ungrouped men.
3. Any student elected to Delta Sigma Rho whether elected or not is by virtue of such election barred from participation in the contests.
4. All previous winners of the contests are barred from participation in the contests.
5. Members of Delta Sigma Rho shall choose and announce a general subject at least two weeks in advance of the dates of the contests.
6. The faculty members of Delta Sigma Rho or a committee representing these members shall provide specific topics falling within the field of the general subject, and shall not announce these before the contestants draw specific topics.
7. Contestants shall draw for places of speaking and topics one hour before the contest.
8. Each contestant shall be assigned a room for the preparation of his speech.
9. Nothing but writing materials shall be used in the final preparation of the speeches.

10. The Men's Delta Sigma Rho Extemporaneous Speaking Contest cup shall be awarded to the winner of the men's contest.

11. The Women's Delta Sigma Rho Extemporaneous Speaking Contest cup shall be awarded to the winner of the women's contest.

12. The speeches shall be three (3) minutes in length.

KALDRON STAFF TO BE APPOINTED VERY SOON

The Kaldron Staff has not been selected as yet. John Underwood, Editor-in-Chief, announces that the selection will be made very shortly, probably before the publication of the next issue of The Campus.

Society

During the past week social events were continued at full swing. Alpha Chi Rho and Beta Kappa presented their first chapter parties of the new semester. Visitors were numerous at the various fraternity houses over the past week-end. Announcement is made of chapter parties presented this coming week-end by Phi Kappa Psi, Delta Tau Delta, and Phi Gamma Delta. It is hoped that the sorority pledge list will soon be available for publication.

PHI KAPPA PSI

Visitors at the Phi Kappa Psi House over the week-end were: Wilnot T. Moss, Indiana; Dr. Drake, Erie; George Hutchings, Erie; and Donald Severn, Lancaster.

Pennsylvania Beta chapter of Phi Kappa Psi announces the pledging of Robert Edwards and John Edwards of Emlenton, Pa.

PHI GAMMA DELTA

Visitors at the Phi Gamma Delta House were: Edward Stewart, Cleveland; Bertram Meadowcroft, Trafford; and John Louthan, Pittsburgh.

Phi Chapter of Phi Gamma Delta announces the pledging of Paul R. Elder, of New Castle, on September 28.

DELTA TAU DELTA

Visitors at the Delta Tau Delta chapter over the week-end were: Frank Johnston, Lancaster; John Gregory, Akron; John Knapp, Warren; Dr. and Mrs. Wallace, Sharon, and Mrs. Helfrick and daughter, Jane, of Titusville.

Ira David Bowser, of Reynoldsville, has been pledged by Alpha Chapter of Delta Tau Delta.

PHI DELTA THETA

Mr. and Mrs. Harner and Mrs. Gallagher, Duquesne; Mr. and Mrs. Dentler and daughter, Martha, Warren; Dr. and Mrs. Smith, Warren; Robert Pratt, Albert Christner, Pittsburgh; Mr. Slocum and Mrs. Griffing, Erie, visited the Phi Delta Theta house recently.

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON

Week-end visitors at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon House were: Foster Alder, Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. Serene, Saltsburg; Major Murray, Erie; Mr. and Mrs. Klicka, Pittsburgh; Mr. Pentecost, Indiana; and Mr. Bowser, Reynoldsville.

Additional pledges of Sigma Alpha Epsilon are Joseph Serene, Saltsburg; Wayne Hibbs, Greensburg; and Robert Bair.

ALPHA CHI RHO

Dancing to Dutch Kress' Olympians Alpha Chi Rho's pledges were entertained at a pledge party held on the evening of Saturday, September 26, at the chapter house. Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Skinner were the chaperones, and the Misses Edna Stambaugh, Martha Loesch, Gladys Hadden, and Betty Jackson, all of Meadville, Ruth Conway, Jane Bunner, and Eleanor Rice, and the Messrs. Paul Eiler, Michael Vetovich, Richard Cessna, Earl Green; Ray Furney and Gene MacMillan, both of Sharon; and Tom Gill, Ross Carey, George Booth, and Arch Cunningham, all of Meadville, were the fraternity's guests.

BETA UPSILON

Visitors at the Beta Upsilon house were: Mrs. Leopold, Dubois; and Carl Barrin, Emlenton.

The following men have been pledged recently by Beta Upsilon: Clair Cowles, Sugar Grove; David Sleppy, New Castle; Richard Smith, Pittsburgh; Robert Goring, Pittsburgh; Charles Strickler, Hydetown; and Edward Franklin, Saltsburg.

BETA KAPPA

On Friday evening, September 25, Beta Kappa entertained its pledges at a chapter party held at the house, under the able chaperoning of Coach and Mrs. H. P. Way and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Daniels. Kress' Olympians furnished the music for the gay occasion, which was attended by thirty couples, including the following guests: Miss Sue Lauers and Miss Olive Kreidler, both of Oil City, and the Messrs. George Barco, of the class of '29, and Ralph Ewing, ex-'28.

Alumni Secretary

Issued Largest

Register in June

Shortly after the close of the school year of 1930-31 the largest and most complete issue of the Alumni Register of Allegheny College was published and mailed to all Alumni whose addresses were known.

The publication of such a register naturally required a great deal of work on the part of the Alumni Secretary, Miss Mina French, and her office force. The first copy was sent to the printer in August, 1930, and it was not until December of that year that the second copy and corrected proofs were taken to the printer. Then, early in March, a preliminary proof copy was cheaply printed and mailed to the Alumni. It included the class lists and instructions to send any corrections to the Alumni Office by March 23. After that date the corrections were made and the forms were closed at the printing office. In remarking about some of her experiences in the work Miss French stated that several Alumni formerly believed deceased had been discovered and recalled from the dead to be listed among the living Alumni.

In the first pages of the register is a list of all the Presidents and Chairmen of the Board of Trustees with their accessions and exits and similarly arranged columns containing all the Trustees of the College. Then there are lists of the Active Trustees, Presidents of the Faculty, Acting Presidents of the Faculty, Vice Presidents of the Faculty, Deans of Men, Deans of Women, Acting Deans of Women, and Librarians. The next pages of the first part of the register are taken up with lists of Professors, Acting Professors, Associate Professors, and Instructors. In all cases the dates of accessions and exits are given. The second part of the book consists of a register of the students by classes, the names of the graduates being printed in large type and the names of non-graduates in small type, all with their various degrees indicated.

The next section contains the names of all those who were in College only for the period during which the Student Army Training Corps was on the campus. It is followed by a list of all the honorary degrees conferred by Allegheny to graduates or others. The next section is an entirely new addition to the Alumni Register. It is a geographical arrangement of our Alumni. This section is followed by the customary alphabetical list of Alumni.

Doctor Tolley at the Inauguration Exercises. Mr. Andrew A. Culbertson, of Erie, Pa., will preside at the exercise, and President Emeritus William H. Crawford will offer the benediction.

The name of Ernest E. Wilkins, president of Oberlin College, has been added to the large array of distinguished speakers which will address the delegates at the banquet on Friday evening. This banquet is for delegates, trustees, faculty members, their wives, and certain other specially invited guests. It will bring the activities of Inauguration Day to a close.

On Saturday, Home-Coming Day, will occur four important events; namely, the formal opening of Reis Library, the Alumni Luncheon, the Allegheny-Westminster football game, and lastly, an all-college dance.

From present indications the Home-Coming this year will be fully as good, if not better, than last year's Home-Coming, which was pronounced as the best in many years. Last year 1000 people were estimated to have attended, but an even larger number is expected this year, due to the attraction of a two-day program.

At the formal opening of Reis Library on Home-Coming morning there will be a complete program of appropriate exercise and speeches. The Allegheny Singers under the direction of Prof. Morten J. Luvaas will assist.

At noon a buffet luncheon will be served to Alumni and delegates at Cochran Hall. This luncheon will be served under the direction of Miss Mary Dale, College Dietitian. Following the luncheon there will be the Allegheny-Westminster football game.

ALLIGATORS SHOW STRENGTH BY SMOTHERING TEACHERS IN FIRST GAME OF SEASON

Allegheny's contribution to the 1931 football season trotted onto the turf of Montgomery Field last Saturday and proceeded to smother Clarion State Teacher's College under a 45 to 0 score.

Considering the fact that it was the Blue and Gold's first encounter of the season, little or no fault can be found with the brand of football which the Alligators exhibited. The staunch Allegheny line tore the Clarion forward to shreds; on the offense gaping holes were opened for the backs to speed through, and on the defense the Methodist line was practically impenetrable. So thorough was the Blue and Gold defensive play that Clarion failed to register a single first down throughout the duration of the game. The 'Gator backfield was a quartet of hard running, hard blocking, clever machines which disorganized the Clarion gridders more and more as the game progressed.

The opening of the first quarter saw Clarion kicking off to Allegheny. Denison received the ball on the 10 yard line and returned it 20 yards. Garbark made two tackle thrusts which gave Allegheny 13 yards and a first down. Three more plays at the line, however, did not yield the required yardage and Garbark punted. The Teachers, finding they could make no headway, punted to Denison who returned the pignik 9 yards to Clarion's 30. Nick Varano punted around left end for 14 yards. Garbark covered the remaining distance to the goal line, but Allegheny was penalized. Clarion finally gained possession of the ball and staved off disaster for the moment by intercepting a pass. Clarion made a yard on a line plunge and then was held to no gain. The Teachers punted to Berger who returned 5 yards to the Clarion 48 yard stripe. Allegheny fumbled but gained 11 yards on an exchange of punts. It was Allegheny's ball on the Clarion 39 yard line. Garbark tossed a pass to Varano who broke away for 13 yards. Denison was on the receiving end of the pass on the next play and wiggled 11 yards to the Orange and Black 10 yard marker. Garbark picked up 9 yards at left end and then, two plays later, crashed through right tackle for Allegheny's first touchdown. Varano's place kick for the extra point was blocked.

Clarion chose to kick off; Berger picked the oval out of the air and advanced to the 34 yard line before he was stopped. Varano skirted left end for 3. A pass from Berger to Garbark was good for 9 yards. Berger hit right tackle for 5 and then left guard for three more. Garbark then tucked the ball under his arm and stepped between right tackle and end for 43 yards to the Clarion 10 yard line. The whistle blew for the end of the first quarter with the score 6 to 0 in favor of Allegheny.

Resuming its march down the field, the Blue and Gold crashed through for its second touchdown and Balser plunged the line for the extra point. Horn kicked off to the Teachers' 35 yard stripe. After losing 5 yards the Orange and Black punted to Berger who returned the ball 5 yards. Berger slid through left tackle for 5 while Varano plunged into the line for a short gain. A pass, Berger to Garbark, was ruled good on the grounds of interference with the receiver. Then Berger stepped into the picture again and sped around right end for 20 yards. Berger and Varano to gether advanced the pignik to the immediate vicinity of the goal line from where Berger plowed through for a touchdown. Varano's place kick was good.

Horn again kicked off for Allegheny, booting the ball to Clarion's 15. The Teachers shot a play into Allegheny's secondary defense which was good for 5 yards, but after losing 9 at right end, Clarion punted. Allegheny received the ball in midfield. Berger then made a thrilling 42 yard run to within 10 yards of the Clarion goal. Several plays later Varano bucked right guard for the Alligator's fourth touchdown of the afternoon. Varano's kick sailed squarely between the up-rights. The half ended a few minutes later with the ball in Allegheny's possession.

The second half was merely a repetition of the first in so far as the Blue and Gold's offensive strength was concerned, for they pushed three more touchdowns across. The first scoring in the third quarter came as the result of Berger's pass to Garbark for 12 yards. Then Berger cut in at right tackle and fought his way for 12 yards before he was downed. Garbark ran wide around left end for the touchdown. Berger's place kick was wide. The Alligators procured their next score when Berger passed to Boylan, who showed his heels to the Normal boys and did not stop until he had the oval behind the goal line. Allegheny's final touchdown was one of the most spectacular plays of the day. Berger, standing on his own 45 yard line, heaved a 48 yard pass to Boylan who made a perfect catch and sprinted across the goal.

It would be unfair to name any players who were outstanding in the contest. However, some of the reserves saw quite a bit of action and deserve no little praise for the way in which they more than held their own. Cort, Ray, Edwards, A. Varano and Turner, playing under the Blue and Gold banner for the first time, showed a great deal of promise, while Hamer, Vanaman, Kohler, Robles and Tinsman proved that the Alligator reserves have potential power.

Realizing that Clarion is merely the bottom rung of the ladder from which Allegheny must ascend to football supremacy in this district, one must not boast of the ease in which the Methodists overcame the Teachers. At any rate, no one should register disappointment, because the outlook for a successful season is exceedingly bright.

EDINBORO TO PLAY HERE NEXT SATURDAY

Teachers Will Bring Strong Outfit Here for Season's Second Game.

Next Saturday afternoon, October 3, the Allegheny football team will play its second game of the season, this time opposing the gridiron stars of Edinboro State Teachers College. This is the second home game in succession for the Alligators, and will start at 2:30, being played as usual at Montgomery Field.

Although the Edinboro aggregation will be seen in action for the first time in this game, it is believed that they will prove to be a little more difficult to subdue than Clarion. Last fall, it will be remembered, the 'Gators could not gain more than a 19-0 advantage over their squad in a game, which was supposed to be a set-up. However, from the showing that Allegheny made against Clarion last week, the team seems to be off to an auspicious start this season, and if they keep up the same calibre of football there is no reason at all why the team should not beat Edinboro by a comfortable margin.

Practically the same line-up will start the game with possibly the exception of Dennison, who may be unable to play on account of an injury to his arm sustained in the Clarion game.

TURKEY RACE WILL TAKE PLACE OCT. 23

Friday, October 23, has been set by those in charge of Allegheny's intramural program as the date for the annual turkey race. The rules governing the entrance and running of this race are practically the same as last year. A more detailed explanation of these rules will appear in an early edition of The Campus.

Phi Sigma Iota Elects Members in Chapel Today

Phi Sigma Iota, National Honorary Romance Language fraternity, announced at the annual scholarship assembly today the election of new members. Those honored by election to Phi Sigma Iota are Ross Brown, Katherine Earnest, Margaret Evans, Jack Hartman, Helen Hopkins, Charlotte Merwin, and Dorothy Sherman.

Phi Sigma Iota is an organization which recognizes excellence in scholarship and interest in the Romance languages. Those elected must have a high scholastic standing, especially in this field, a thing which makes election to Phi Sigma Iota an honor to be highly regarded.

THIS AND THAT

Now that the season is well under way, it will be proper to consider the activities of some of the coming opponents of the Alligators. After the splendid performance given by the Blue and Gold team last Saturday against Clarion there can be little doubt as to the potential strength of the team. The point that now requires attention is the strength of some of the opposing teams.

Thiel took a trip to New York last Saturday and took a 28-0 trimming at the hands of Fordham. The New York team apparently had little trouble with Thiel, for during the course of the game twelve substitutions were made.

And Westminster and Slippery Rock played to a scoreless tie. Slippery Rock must have a strong team this year. Or perhaps Westminster simply got off to a bad start.

Allegheny's last opponent of the season, West Virginia Wesleyan, lost a tough game to W. & J. last Saturday. The Methodists' strong suit during the game was its defense. Several times when W. & J. was within striking distance of the goal the defense stiffened and the Methodists took the ball on downs. When they had the ball, however, they lacked the punch to break through the strong W. & J. defense. The game ended with the score 14-0 in favor of the presidents.

Two weeks ago Duquesne gave Geneva a 13-7 lacing, and last week Geneva beat St. Francis by one touchdown, 12-6.

Harriers Lose to Alumni in First Meet of Season

Allegheny's Cross Country season, though not formally opened until Saturday, was launched last Saturday afternoon, September 26, with a preliminary race with the Crawford Harriers.

The race not only tested the Allegheny runners against real competition, but also served as time trials for the men.

The Crawford Harriers are a group of Allegheny Alumni who, because of an undying interest in Cross-Country as a sport, are attempting to arouse local interest in the sport in the hopes that this section of the country may produce some good distance runners.

Due to the fact that there were only four men on the opposing team, the number of scoring men was limited to eight, with the result that the score was tied at 18-18. Paul Drebelbis, '30, and Tom Gill, '30, ran a very nice race to tie for first at 25 min., 28 sec. Raymond E. Bentley, '28, took ninth place for the Alumni, and H. Wilton Ellis placed tenth. Bentley is the present official holder of the record at 24 min., 42 sec. for the course, which was then about 150 yards longer.

The following is a list of the runners in the order in which they finished the long five mile grind: Paul Drebelbis and Tom Gill tied for first; Norman Ish, third; John A. Lubie, fourth; Douglas K. Marks, fifth; Roger G. Morgan, sixth; A. Clarke Beller, seventh; N. H. Lunn, eighth; Raymond Bentley, ninth; Wilton Ellis, tenth; D. B. Brown, eleventh; Arthur Crawford, twelfth; J. L. Angove, thirteenth, and Charles Barberger, fourteenth.

Although the squad is not in its best condition, Coach Dykeman hopes to have the men in shape to meet Westminster this Saturday. There was a scarcity of material at the beginning of the year, but the Freshmen seem to be of the type that will make good runners. Several of the Freshmen are giving the veterans a hard chase for their positions, and it is possible that the positions may shift about during the season.

Allegheny is fortunate this year in having as a Cross-Country coach, Mr. Howard E. Dykeman of the Carnegie Institute of Technology. Mr. Dykeman graduated from Carnegie Tech in 1925 where he was on both the track and Cross-Country teams for four years. He captained the Cross-Country team two years. He holds the present records in both the mile and two-mile at Carnegie Tech. In 1923 he placed fourth in the Intercollegiate Meet in the two-mile and the next year he took second in the same race. In 1924 Mr. Dykeman placed eighth in the final Olympic tryouts in the two-mile.

At present he is working as Designing Engineer with the Mead-Penn Iron Works of Meadville. He hopes that his sideline as a coach of Cross-Country will produce good results, and with all his past experience he should produce a winning pack of harriers this year.

Campus Lore

This is the first of a series of articles dealing with points of interest on our Campus. They will be written in an effort to help the new Freshmen, as well as the older students, become acquainted with the Campus of our school.
—Editor's Note.

When you idly stroll about the college campus, pointing out various objects of interest to friends or mentally taking note of them, does it ever occur to you what hazy ideas we really have concerning these college traditions of ours? Of course there are some features that are just here and have no history, yet are none the less prized and held dear by every student.

Such are the Bell Rope Tree, ivy-covered and beautiful ever, whether in the tender leafage of spring or in the royal robes of autumn; the Gothic Arch attractive in beauty alike whether seen in foliage outline or in the delicate curves of twig and branch when the limbs are barren of leaves; the Rose Window seen from in front of Bentley, framing the distant scene of hills now violet in mist, now green in the light of the sun. These are the gifts of nature along with the Lyre Tree, the Seven Sisters, and the Hand of Knowledge.

But there are other objects of beauty and interest about the campus the history of which we may learn if we will listen to the voice of the past. You have noticed the ivy growing on the east end of Bentley Hall. This ivy was planted with much ceremony by the Class of 1900. The whole story is told in a volume of the Literary Monthly for that year. Then there is the Circle of Pines, planted one tree for each member, by the Class of '73. At the present time about five of these trees have been removed. The elm tree along the North Main street walk out from the library, planted by W. P. McElwain, '85, bears a silver plate high up on the trunk, embedded in the bark, which marks this tree as one of more than passing interest. Perhaps not everyone is aware that the pine tree out from the northeast corner of Wilcox Hall was planted by Bishop Thoburn in his student days. The tree just in front of the east end of Bentley was planted by J. C. High of the class of '73.

We wonder how many persons or college community have seen the inscription on the stone in the east end of Bentley Hall. This is the old corner stone of the building, bearing the name of our founder, Timothy Alden; and above it over the lower window is still another stone with an inscription commemorating the gift of the site of Bentley. If you are curious to know what these inscriptions are, just go around to the northeast corner of Bentley any time and read them. The red paint makes the former difficult of perception at first glance, but it is worth a searching second glance.

Everyone knows the Sophomore Stone just east of Bentley Hall to the left of the walk leading to chapel, with its inscription.

"SPES SIBI QUISQUE SOPHOMORES OF CLASS OF '1880"

But not everyone knows the history of the modest little stone. In the spring of '78 it was brought from the fields north of the campus on a stone boat by the class of '80. The Freshmen, desiring to prove '80's mettle, rolled the stone into the ravine. But '80 was equal to the task of proving their determination to leave on the campus a lasting memorial of their Sophomore year. They got a block and tackle from the Erie Railroad Company and while the Freshmen were out for the evening the work began. All sound was muffled, and the tackle was applied, and the stone glided up a well greased plank to the top of the hill. By three o'clock the work was finished and no trace of it remained next morning but the proud stone again lay in state in its place. This time it was protected by an armed guard of '80's members, and Bentley for a time constituted a garrison for the protection of the Sophomore stone. This armed guard was sufficient reason for the Freshman class to have nothing more to do with the stone.

But not only local traditions go to enrich our Campus lore. It is rumored that George Washington once visited our campus, and the willow tree at the junction of the Chapel, Bentley and Library walks is pointed out as being near the spot where he once rested. This may be myth, but true historical tradition we have in the old flag borne by Company I of the Thirty-Ninth Regiment in the Civil War, a company composed to go from the college to the battle-fields. Today the granite boulder bearing the copper entablature in front of Bentley is a lasting reminder of the soldiers and sailors also who went from Allegheny to the service of their country.

Those who wish may also see the signature of Lafayette in the old college guest book and also that of Harriet Martineau, the English poetess, advocate of free thought and social reform, and writer on political economy, history and biology.

The latest additions to our many historical gifts are the sun dial and the rustic bridge; although these are relatively young they have come to be regarded by the students as real points of interest and beauty.
