Dear Ida.

Two weeks ago I
pronounced the head
of our department
that I would write
and ask you if you had another
subject prepared.

And at Your ton-
ques end, - Some thing on the trust
to some of the economic questions
of the day. I have been ill and
relegated to the Athie hospital, so
I am now, Writing

has been impossible. To tell the truth, I hated to ask you to consider any other subject, as I was delighted, and more too,
 with the idea of hearing
 you talk on anybody
 or any thing. The reason for suggesting that you make this change is that we have recently been visited by the suffragists and the
 anti's, so we are pretty well posted on the women
 question, and the men

Are anxious to hear
You speak on some
economic subject.
Have you given a
speech at your Command? If not,
don't take one
moment of your valuable time to

Think of me!
I wish I were to
attend your meeting
Monday Night. You
will hear Dr. Shaw, I hope, and will
be won over to her cause, I think. She is such a wonderful
woman. I want you

to know her better, and she is anxious to know
you. We enjoyed her
immensely as a guest,
and she gave us one
of the most eloquent
addresses I ever heard.
Poor lady! She is too old to be so one makes
I am counting the days
now before I have you under my roof. You will try, please, to come Friday or Saturday.
Please do! You shall rest, and be lazy, and do
anything you like,

And spend an unfashioned, quiet Sunday. Don't put me off until Monday. You would be so tired, and besides I should see nothing of you. I shall be all true by the

Trusted. With love.

Devotedly Yours
