

File - Suburban Address

April 11, 1933

My dear Mr. Reynolds;

I have been out of town for some little time so that my attention has just been called to your letter of March 22nd.

deut

I wish I could help you with the information you want for your correspondence. I do not remember, however, ever to have seen the quotation to which you refer. I think the most direct way to go after it is to look over the list of Richard Grant White's writings. He may have done an article on Lincoln. What you are after would probably be there. But if that is not so the indices to his books might be a quick way to get at it.

I am sorry I have not time to make a search for it myself. It would interest me to do it, but I am under rather severe pressure just now and short of time.

I am glad to be of any help at any time in a Lincoln matter, and I am sorry I do not have what you want now.

Very sincerely yours

Mr. F. J. Reynolds
