ENROLL 196 NEW STUDENTS

Total Registration Only 3½ Per Cent Under Last Year's Figures; Includes 20 New Upperclassmen.

FRESHMEN HAVE VERY BUSY FIRST WEEK

Newcomers Entertained After Upperclassmen Return.

Differing from the practice of previous years, most of this fall's Freshman Week program took place after upperclassmen had returned to the campus.

Wet weather spoiled the first event planned for the entertainment of the newcomers, a tour of the campus which was scheduled for 4:30 Tuesday afternoon, September 19. The dinners held at Cochran and Hulings for mixed groups of freshmen and the "Sing" conducted in the chapel by Prof. Luvaas at 7:30, were successful. A "Feed" for freshmen women at Hulings Hall and an explanation of fraternity rushing rules given freshmen men by Paul Grant, '34, rounded out the first day's program.

President Tolley opened the second day's exercises in the chapel at 8:00 o'clock with a devotional service and an address on "N. R. A.; New Responsibilities Apparent", in which he cautioned students to use wisely the individual freedom which accompanies college life.

An English placement test completed the morning program, and at 1:30 p. m. a foreign language placement test was held.

Rain again necessitated a change in routine, when the Field Day event scheduled for Arter Hall field on Wednesday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock had to be held in the Hulings Hall gym. Miss Nancy Peffer, Cary March, '33, and Dean Evelyn Miller had charge of the entertainment, which consisted of a tug of war, relay races, novelty races and other amusement.

Dinners Wednesday night were held for the women at Hulings Hall and for the men at Cochran. At Cochran Hall, Dean Schultz emphasized different phases of college citizenship in his talk to freshmen men. In Hulings, new girls heard Miss Helen Walper, a freshman student who entered Allegheny last February, talk on college life and activities, were addressed by Dean Evelyn Miller on study methods and the desirability of making friends, were introduced to the hostesses and hall staff, and heard Miss Mary Jane Anderson, president of the Women's Senate, and various members of the Women's Activities Board explain the rules and spirit of student government. Dancing and special musical numbers filled out the remainder of the evening for the girls.

Thursday morning Professors C. F. Ross and Guy E. Buckingham spoke to the freshmen in the chapel. At 8:00 o'clock Professor Ross explained the registration procedure and addressed the class briefly on proper evaluation of a college career. Professor Buckingham spoke at 11:00 o'clock, stressing correct reading and study habits, harmonious adjustment of individual personalities, and the advantages of frequent conferences with faculty advisers.

Freshmen Advisers' office hours were held Thursday afternoon from 11:30 till 4:00; and in the evening a movie party was held at the Academy where "Another Language" was playing.

A Personality test opened Satur-

Mr. Anderson Makes Plans For Debates With Ohio Colleges

Debating Coach Hurst Anderson attended a meeting last Saturday at the Cleveland University Club and, in conference with coaches from Oberlin, Western Reserve, Ohio Wesleyan, and Wooster, made plans for the winter debate season.

"After discussing some twenty different questions, we decided to use the N. R. A. as the basis of our debates this year," said Prof. Anderson.

The exact wording of the question has not yet been chosen

The heads of debating in the four Ohio colleges together with Prof. Anderson, arranged their schedule for the coming year. Each team in the league will meet each other one once.

Although Prof. Anderson lost some good debaters by graduation, he needs only to look to his sixteen or seventeen freshman debaters of last year, now Sophomores, to be assured of a good season.

Mr. Fred Haberman is taking charge of women's debating activities this year.

FOUR FRESHMEN NEED NOT TAKE SPEECH I

By rating in the first 100 per cent of the freshman class on the English placement test, and by passing a special oral test, four freshmen were exempted from Speech 1.

Of the 15 eligible to take the special oral test the following were successful in winning exemption: Marian Elliott, Joseph Macedo, Barbara Schuchman, and Martha Schreiner.

ALUMNUS RECEIVES GOVERNMENT POST

Dr. Frederic C. Howe, '89, has been appointed "consumers' counsel" of the Department of Agriculture. His job will be to wage a nation-wide war on unfair food prices.

A prominent literary as well as political figure, Dr. Howe is an author of some note. After graduating from Allegheny, he received a Ph. D. from Johns Hopkins and later studied at Oxford and in Germany.

ROOS WINS SCHOLARSHIP AT PASADENA PLAYHOUSE

Will Roos, '33, left on Monday, Sept. 25, for Pasadena, California where he has received a scholarship at the Pasadena Play House, a school of drama and play production.

Roos is remembered at Allegheny for his excellent work in the drama department, and it was because of his proficiency in acting both here and at Carnegie Tech, where he studied for a year, that he was granted the scholarship.

Mr. Paul Younger, who is in charge of the publicity and new student department at Allegheny, accompanied Roos to take a month's vacation in the West.

Mr. Younger plans to spend some time at Pasadena, California. From there he will make an extended tour through the southern part of the country. He plans to return to his work here on or about November 1.

ALLEGHENY FACULTY ADDS NEW MEMBERS

Professors Ufford, Heller And Ogilvie Will Teach Here.

With the resumption of classes this fall, three new members of the Allegheny faculty began their first term of teaching here.

Dr. Charles Wilbur Ufford has succeeded Dr. Charles J. Ling in the department of Physics and Astronomy. Mr. John L. Heller is the new instructor in Greek and Latin, replacing Mr. William C. McDermott, who is returning to Johns Hopkins University to complete work for his Doctor of Philosophy degree. Mr. Albert E. Ogilvie, the most recent addition to the faculty, is teaching courses in human anatomy, comparative anatomy, genetics, histology and embryology. Dr. Skinner, who formerly taught these biology courses, will retain the men's hygiene lecture hour and will also lecture to women hygiene classes. His free time will be used in establishing a practice among the townspeople.

Dr. Ufford comes to Allegheny College from Princeton University where he taught for the past four years.

He graduated from Haverford College in 1920 and received the Clementine Cope Fellowship for a year's work at Cambridge. After earning a Bachelor of Science degree in electrical engineering at the Massachussetts Institute of Technology, he spent a year in the employ of the General Electric Company in Schenectady.

In 1923 Dr. Ufford entered the Harvard Graduate School and remained there until 1928 when he took his doctor's degree in physics. On completion of his work at Harvard, he was awarded the Sheldon Traveling Fellowship in Physics which he used to study at the Universities of Leipzig, Munich, and Zurich.

Mr. John L. Heller, new instructor in the classical languages, also comes to Allegheny College from Princeton University where he com-

New Rushing Plan Being Enforced By Interfrat Council

Allegheny's Interfraternity Council is experimenting this year in an attempt to remove that perennial sore spot: Freshman Rushing.

The plan, drafted by the Interfraternity Council last Spring and which is now in effect, employs a "deferred rushing system. During "Freshman Week," fraternity men were not allowed to approach freshmen. On Sunday, pledging activity began; but entertainment of freshmen by upperclassmen during this week is restricted to the fraternity house.

The burden of enforcing the new rushing rules falls on the freshman whose infraction of the new code will result in the loss of his right to pledge until the second semester and in curtailment of social privileges.

To curb pledge-breaking, fraternities have agreed that the freshmen who breaks his pledge may not become affiliated with any other fraternity until three months after he has returned his pledge pin.

Do you have "a nose for news"? That nose can be put to good service by The Campus this year. Whatever you can do, we can use you—features, news, sports, society, editorials, typing, copyreading, make-up, exchanges—surely you'll be at home in one of these departments.

And juniors and seniors—there isn't any rule against upperclassmen entering the newspaper game a little late in their college careers.

Attend the meeting for all Campus staff members and new applicants on the first floor of Ruter this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

95 Last Semester Students Do Not Return This Term

Each fall when students return to Allegheny, someone is heard asking, "Is Bill back?" or "Have Jean and Louise returned yet?"

Below is a list of the students who attended last year, but have not yet been registered at the office, 95 in all. They are classified according to their official standing at the close of school in June.

JUNE CLASS SENDS FIVE OF BEST TO HARVARD

Five outstanding Allegheny graduates of last year have exchanged the Blue and Gold for the Crimson of Harvard.

The five—Katharine Millhoff, Sanford Corcoran, Harry Pore, Benjamin were, during their careers on the Ross Brown, and Harry Thomson hill, leaders in scholarship and in student activities.

Corcoran, Brown, Thomson, and Miss Millhoff were elected to Phi Beta Kappa last year.

Consistent with his enviable records as debator and public speaker for the college, Corcoran will study law at graduate school.

Thomson, also an Allegheny speaker and debater of merit, will pursue his M. A. in history.

Miss Milhoff, one of the most brilliant students Allegheny has produced, and Harry Pore, former editor of The Campus, intend to work for Master of Arts degrees in English literature.

Ross Brown, former basketball and football letterman and active participator in student government, will study in the business school.

Brown and Pore were members of Phi Gamma Delta, Thomson, of Alpha Chi Rho, and Corcoran, of Phi Delta Theta.

FORMER ALLEGHENIANS SHIP WITH ADMIRAL BYRD

Two former Alleghenians, Paul Siple, '32, and Alton Lindsey, '29, will ship with Admiral Richard E. Byrd as official biologists on his second expedition to the Antarctic.

Part of the expedition has already set sail for the trip to the pole, and the remainder will follow next Monday.

Siple, who will be head biologist of the party during their two-year stay in the Antarctic, utilized experience gained on his Antarctic trip of 1928-30 to aid Admiral Byrd in the general planning of the expedition.

In addition to completing his collection of Antarctic birds, Siple expects to collect some material, especially bacteria, of the region, for the Allegheny collection. He also intends to fill a contract with the American Museum of Natural History in New York city for birds and animals of the polar section.

Alton Lindsey, who will act as assistant biologist, was a great friend of Siple's when the two were students at Allegheny. An excellent student, Lindsey was elected to Phi Beta Kappa here and continued his work at Cornell, where he studied botany. For some time he was a ranger-naturalist in the Mt. Rainier National Park. His home is in New Brighton.

A LETTER FROM THE EDITOR

Dear Readers:

Here it is Wednesday morning and the editorial column is as blank as a stage cartridge. Oh, and the editorials we could have written this summer—just like that reading you were going to do, you know! You probably know what to expect in the editorial column of a first issue: a statement of policy, a welcome to freshmen, etc. Remembering this, we had a sudden wild hope that maybe we could leave the column blank, with instructions at the top to fill it in as you thought it ought to be. On second thought, we decided that maybe some of the 2500 alumni to get this first number might not find that trick of style as humorous as they did when they read "Tristram Shandy." Then, too, someone might be too conscientious to fill the column in, and then we wouldn't be making full use of receipts from those two nice big cigarette ads.

So, we'll dig in and scan the week's news for "hooks" on which to hang editorials, as the newspapermen say.

Of course, the outstanding news is that we have 196 new Alleghenians. The Campus wants to welcome the newcomers and wants them to enjoy their first year at Allegheny.

Perhaps it's superfluous to say these words of welcome after noticing the well-lighted fraternity houses and the beaming faces of the brethren. Somewhere on the front page, we believe, is a story on a change in rushing rules. Certainly, the Interfraternity Council has taken a forward step in inaugurating the deferred rushing and pledging system. It gives the upperclassman time to get his baggage unpacked. But is the deferred rushing period long enough to let the freshman get acquainted? The week of deferred rushing was Freshman Week, and every day was crammed full of activity—just glance down that story on page one if you entertain any doubts. Now, it stands to reason (despite the implied paradox), that a freshman after such an arduous week of orientation has hardly had a chance to get a taste of college life as it's going to be in October, November, December, etc. Wouldn't it be better to lengthen the deferred pledging period. We'd like to say a whole semester, but to tell that to a lot of strong fraternity men is about the same as speaking to a disarmament conference on pacificism.

While discussing the freshman, we must congratulate the girls at Hulings for the fine spirit in which they carried out their first experiment with the "Big Sister" plan.

As the blank space in the column grows smaller, we believe we ought to say a few words about policy. The Campus hasn't any pet proble mto work on this year; we will try to treat problems and formulate policies fairly and intelligently as occasion arises.

And a word about contributions: We want a lively column of campus opinion in our Letters from Readers column. You don't have to sign your name if you don't want to—if we decide your letter is worth printing, we'll take the responsibility. Destructive criticism is so often run down, but don't be afraid to make it if it's fair. Often there must be the razing before the raising.

Yours for a good year,

EDITORIAL WE.

M. E. Conference.

The Erie Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church met at Allegheny September 14-17. Bishop Adna Wright Leonard of Pittsburgh was presiding bishop. A feature of the four-day program was a special service on Friday evening, September 15, to commemorate the 100the anniversary of the connection of Allegheny College with the Methodist Episcopal Church.

BENTLEY HALL LISTED IN ARCHITECTS' SURVEY

Bentley Hall was one of the two Meadville buildings to be studied by representatives of the American Institute of Architects and the Historical Society of Western Pennsylvania last Saturday.

The Unitarian Church building,, corner of South Main and Chestnut Streets, an example of the Greek revival in early 19th century architecture, was the other structure considered outstanding.

Measured drawings and historical information were taken and will be used in the publication of a work intended to be a record of aesthetic development in Western Pennsylvania.

FRESHMAN WEEK

day's program. In the afternoon various churches had welcome entertainments for the new students. Stone Church Epworth League held a program at the church. The First Presbyterian Church, through the efforts of Robert Bain and Miss Mary Hildebrand, arranged a picnic on the Oakland Pier at Conneaut Lake. Mrs. Curtis Webb, of the Baptist church, entertained at an informal buffet supper. Committees of young people from the Trinity Lutheran Church planned an informal reception at their church.

Saturday evening, the first All-College dance of the year climaxed the Freshman Week program.

NEW FACULTY MEN

pleted in June his work for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy. He is a graduate of Haverford College, 1927, and a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

Instructor Heller resides at Calfisch Hall where he is a proctor.

Late in August when he returned from a special Summer session at Edinburgh, Scotland, Mr. Albert E. Ogilvie was engaged to teach at Allegheny. From 1928-32 he taught comparative anatomy and embryology at Lawrence College, Appleton, Wisconsin; and during the previous year was a member of the faculty at Drury College, in Springfield, Missouri. Mr. Ogilvie, a graduate of Columbia in 1927, is at present a candidate for his doctor's degree, having completed some of his work in Summer school sessions at the University of Chicago and furthered it with attendance at a special session at Edinburgh University this Summer.

Instructor Ogilvie is a resident and proctor at Calfisch Hall.

COB PIPES TOO MUCH FOR WASHINGTON CO-EDS

At Washington College the coeds were granted permission to smoke during lectures so the brave lasses swept into psychology class with corn cob pipes between their teeth. The professor's composure was admirable. He merely ordered all the windows to be kept closed and courteously bade the girls to light up. Not many minutes passed by before the psychology class fled en masse in the direction of the infirmary. Guess they couldn't take it.

Mm Mm Mm WOULD YOU LIKE TO TAKE A WALK

Statistics obtained from the women at the dorms at Denison University show that walking dates have a margin of sixty-two per cent over all other types. Church dates are decreasing, and, of course, movie dates are out of the question.

COLLEGE PRESIDENTS DO HAVE SENSE OF HUMOR

The story goes that several college presidents were discussing what they would do after they retired. What would they be fit for? was the question.

Well," said one of them, "I don't know that I'd be fit for anything, but I know what I'd like to do. I'd like to be superintendent of an orphan asylum so I'd never get any letters from parents."

"I've a much better ambition," exclaimed another. "I want to be warden of a penitentiary. The alumni never come back to visit."

INSTRUCTOR MARRIED; ANOTHER IS ENGAGED

On the same day last year that Alleghenians took their last examinations of the term, Reginald Hewitt, graduate instructor in biology, was married to Miss Roberta Phillip, of Meadville.

Several weeks ago, local newspapers announced the engagement of Miss Ruth Johannesmeyer, '34, to Paul Siple, 32. During the past few weeks, Miss Johannesmeyer has been in Boston, working as stenographer of the Byrd expedition.

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

SOCIAL CALENDAR

Wednesday evening:

Professors Way and Tippin will talk to the girls about the various phases of football.

Thursday, 6:30

Freshmen women will meet in the recreation room to organize.

Friday

The Delta Tau Delta fraternity will give a rushing tea dance.

The Intramural Athletic Council will meet on Thursday, at noon, in Coach Daniels' office.

All students interested in dramatics are asked to sign up at the playshop tomorrow (Thursday) afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Playshop.

There will be an important meeting of The Campus staff in the Campus office at Ruter Hall this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Freshmen and upperclassmen interested in journalistic work are urged to attend as there are still a number of vacancies on the editorial staff.

NOVELIST SYMPATHIZES WITH MODERN STUDENT

To you who think the college student of today has just one grand vacation at college, we quote Booth Tarkington, Princeton, '93: "I think, perhaps, we were happier, gayer, and more cheerful than the undergraduates of today. But this is because we were lazier. Princeton men today have a much saner attitude toward things than we did, and the undergraduates are much more widely read." He added that he thought college students of today work 90 times harder than students forty years ago.

U. OF CHICAGO CLAIMS PRIZE FROSH TRICK

One Professor Reuda, who incidentally is a huge man with a black beard, has been giving a series of lectures on Gothic Architecture at the University of Chicago. He had scarcely started to speak one morning, at the beginning of the term, when a student in the back of the room raised his hand.

"Yes?" said Professor Reuda.

"Is this French II," the student asked in a worried tone.

"No this is Gothic," said the Professor and resumed his lecture. A few moments later the student again raised his hand.

"Well," said Professor Reuda.

"It says in this booklet," the student said, "that French II is given in this room at this hour."

"Can't help it," said the Professor, "this is Gothic."

About ten minutes later the student raised his hand again.

"What now," said Professor Reuda, patiently.

"Are you Miss Simmons,"

At this point the exasperated Professor discontinued his lecture and marched the entire class over to the dean's office to bear him witness that it all actually had happened

GATORS SEEK REVENGE ON EDINBORO, SEPT. 30

Coach Tippin Priming New Material and Veterans For Opener.

With hopes and enthusiasm soaring high the Blue and Gold 'Gators of Allegheny are looking forward to a most successful season despite the fact that they face an exceedingly stiff schedule throughout the year.

Eagerly awaiting the first combat of the season the Alligators will invade enemy territory when they travel to Edinboro State Teachers College this Saturday to avenge a defeat administered to them last year.

Although possessing a lighter line and backfield than last year, the squad this year will have much faster men and will depend chiefly upon speed, quick action, and tricky plays in forcing the pigskin across the enemy's goal.

Coach Tippin with the assistance of Coaches Way and Daniels has been hard at work to whip the squad into shape to meet the stiff competition that will be encountered this season. Starting a rigorous period of training on Thursday, Sept. 14, the 'Gators have been fully occupied; and, according to Coach Tippin, they are in an excellent condition. The squad will have engaged in only three scrimmages before their first encounter as most of their time has been given to fundamentals and to conditioning themselves for a hard grind.

"Red" Vanaman, the fighting red head, will captain the Blue and Gold aggregation this season. Captain Vanaman is a seasoned and veteran player and is capable of handling his team in a most competent manner. With him will be other members of last year's team. Berger, McKim, and Hamer will support in the backfield with Horn and Lubic at end positions. Other veterans for line positions are Edwards, Kent, Widmann, Remaley, Glass, Nevins, McNutt, Bock, Blasdell, Wanick, and Hamilton.

In addition, the squad has been greatly strengthened and enlarged by an influx of new material. Among these the most prominent are Al Grow, guard; Diaz, fullback; Weber, halfback; Dunbar, halfback; Froelich, tackle; Good, tackle; Hesselgesser, end; and Dunbar, end.

With experience and training under the expert advice of Coach Tippin these new men will slowly replace the gaps left last year with the graduation of Brown, Horn, Balser, Waite, Ungerman, Bugbee, Koehler, and Robblee.

Coach Tippin has stated that the team possesses an unusual amount of spirit and fight, and he also remarked that with the student body behind it, he was confident of a successful season. The students realize the need of whole hearted support and in order to keep the courage and pep of the team at full capacity, the students must back it 100 percent.

The first home game will be one of the most difficult of the season as the 'Gators will tangle with the strong aggregation from Springfield.

DARKNESS BRINGS OUT N. U. SERENADERS

Frosh Class Full Of Sports Talent Reporter Learns

Freshmen men will contribute a wealth of athletic talent to Allegheny sports if one can judge from the following survey made by a Campus sports scribe.

Don Ervin had basketball and baseball as his sports in Sinclairville High, N. Y. Paul Kennedy played football in the Pittsburgh area at Dormont High, while from a place near there, Bridgeville, come Charles Whitaker and John Froelich, football lettermen for two years. New York state sends two more athletes in Arthur Swanson and Frank Dean. Dean has letters in track and cross country from LaFayette High, Buffalo; and Swanson played football at Lakewood, N. Y.

Charles Dunbar ran off with four letters in football and played baseball at Mt. Lebanon and Swavely. Duane Good earned his football letter in Wilkinsburg High. Albert Grow, of Bradford, was interested in track, wrestling, and football.

Bob Smith, Titusville letterman in swimming, and Fred Keck, Mercersburg Academy swimmer and tennis player, should soon be splashing around in the Allegheny pool. Cobb Diaz copped a football letter for his

COACH DANIELS PLANS INTRAMURAL CHANGES

New Intramural Handbook to Be Published Next Week.

Coach Art Daniels, who will have complete and sole direction of intramural sports this year, has disclosed a new and different intramural athletic programme for 1933-34.

Touch football and a golf tournament, pending decision of the Intramural Council tomorrow afternoon, are to be added to the programme of of sports. With boxing cut out of this year's card, athletes have twelve sports in which to participate.

Touch football, a leading intramural sport in many American colleges and universities, is being tried here by Coach Daniels in response to popular demand. The golf tournament, like all other sports this year, will be on a team basis, instead of individualistic. Each group will enter a team in each sport, and scoring will be made as a result of the team's showing, rather than individual performances.

Meeting tomorrow at noon, the Intramural Council will discuss the new Intramural Handbook which will embody a number of changes and innovations not found in last year's handbook. Much of the work on the new 40-page handbook was done this Spring and Summer; and the booklet should be ready for distribution in about a week.

Following a foreword by President Tolley, the new handbook contains an article explaining the purpose and function of intramural sports at Allegheny. The roster of the Intramural Council and a picture of the Participation Trophy, with the winners mentioned, and the eight pages of revised Intramural Council constitution are next in order. An outstanding improvement is the simplified scoring system, which will make scoring easier and clearer than it has previously been.

General rules, governing all sports, and specific rules for each sport occupy the next section of the new hand book. The twelve sports are divided into three "seasons," as it were—Fall sports: touch football, tennis, cross country, and a golf tournament; Winter sports: volley ball, basketball, handball, wrestling, and bowling; Spring sports (to begin after Easter): swimming, track, and mushball. The interest shown in the one handball court last year will be given a better chance this winter, for three courts will be available. The above schedule is so planned that there will be something doing in intramural sports at all times throughout the year.

The Handbook will close with intramural sport records of previous years.

To make a more closely knit and efficient group, the Intramural Council will elect a president and a secretary. The Council will install a managerial system, somewhat similar to the varsity system, to control competing teams.

Another fine point in the new system will be the organization of an officiating staff composed of nine men, representing each team in the league and responsible to the Council.

Asked to name the qualifications of a "cultivated gentleman" a group of Cornell students listed first the correct use of speech; second, the necessity to be conversant with public affairs and current events. Tying for third place were the possession of certain social graces and the ability to express oneself well.

Turkish tobacco is packed thousands of tiny leaves to the bale. It averages 400 leaves a pound.

Why—

Tobaccos grown in this country are "seasoned" with tobaccos from Turkey and Greece

THE ANSWER IS VERY SIMPLE:

TOBACCOS to taste right in a cigarette need to be flavored or seasoned just the same as you might season a steak or a pudding.

No tobaccos have ever been found that equal the spicy aromatic tobaccos of Turkey and Greece for this purpose. That's why we send 4000 miles for aromatic tobaccos from Samsoun and Smyrna, Xanthi and Cavalla.

When blended and cross-blended in just the right amounts with Chesterfield's mild ripe Domestic tobaccos, the result is a rich flavor and a fine fragrance.

Chesterfields are seasoned right—they taste right. May we suggest you try them.

Board Chairman's Life Interesting, Varied, and Active

The following item fom "The Pittsburgh Press" may help Alleghenians to become better acquainted with Mr. A. W. Robertson, '06, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of Allegheny College:

"The humanitarianism of A. W. Robertson, chairman of the board of Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Company, was demonstrated to Pittsburgh clearly after the North Side gas blast.

"We can argue about responsibility later—this is no time to be talking of lawsuits," he said as president of the Philadelphia Company.

This humanitarianism and other attributes of character were contributed by many influences in his early life.

Necessity made him a productive member of the family when he was 11 years old. He shoveled snow, was a deckhand on a lake steamer, sold pots and pans from door to door, worked in a sawmill, kept books, ran a bathhouse, wrote for a newspaper—but he finished school.

He was high school principal for two years and then with a surplus of $65 entered Allegheny College at 22. He ran a boarding house, did some writing and other odd jobs and graduated in 1906. He graduated from the University of Pittsburgh and was admitted to the bar in 1910.

Selected by the Pittsburgh Railways as an attorney Mr. Robertson rapidly won promotion and finally was elected president of the Philadelphia Company. In January, 1929, he was named chairman of the board of Westinghouse—with an army of employees and 24 plants.

At college he won his football letter, but today his garden is his faorite athletic field. He lives at Panama Lodge, Mt. Oliver, and is a director in many civic, commercial and social organizations."

FRESHMEN DRAWN FROM 9 STATES, 90 TOWNS

This year's Freshman class represents nine states and about 90 towns. Pittsburgh and vicinity furnished most of the new students (56), while enrollment from Meadville and surrounding districts was not as high as usual.

A geographical census follows:

Meadville	21
Pittsburgh (city)	8
Mt. Lebanon	8
Dormont	8
Wilkinsburg	5
Cleveland	5
Butler	5
Erie	5
Oil City	5

Boston, Mass.; Des Plaines and Chicago, Ill.; Dallas, Texas; New Haven, Waterbury, and New Britain, Connecticut; and Chevy Chase, Md., are among the more remote contributors.

work in that sport at Charleroi. Caging baskets at Aspinwall High was George Robie's pastime.

Duane "Swede" Halvarson played soccer at Tilton School, down East. Unfortunately for Allegheny, soccer is not played here, but "Swede's six and a half feet might be put to good use on the basketball floor.

Norman Dalrymple, North East, is another football man; and so is Marion McCracken of Scottdale High. McCracken also has letters in swimming

RUSHING RULES SET BY PAN-HELL. BOARD

Active rushing, for the girls, does not begin until October 16 and ends October 21. Until that time every one is urged to comply with the regulations made by the Pan Hellenic Board.

Rule 1. No upper classmen will be permitted in the rooms of any rushee except in the presence of a representative of one or more fraternities until October 16, 1933.

Rule 2. No freshman or rushee will be permitted in the rooms of any upper classman until October 16.

Rule 3. Absolutely no money can be spent on rushees.

Rule 4. There must be no double-dating between rushees and upper classmen.

Rule 5. Any one violating these rules will have a fine of $25.00 imposed upon her fraternity.

Within the next few days these rules may be subject to some slight revisions but until then, fraternities are notified these rules stand.

All-College Dance Success Gratifying To Men's Senate

One hundred and twenty couples celebrated the final event of Allegheny's "Freshman Week" program, the first All-college dance of the year, at the college gymnasium Saturday night.

Sponsored by the Men's Senate working through a committee of Fred Kebort, Senate president; Joe Kagy, and Dave Smith, the dance in honor of the freshmen proved to successful that those in charge are planning another low-priced open dance for the near future.

Saturday night's party was chaperoned by Prof. and Mrs. Lee D. McClean and Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Finney.

Music was furnished by Barney Knapp's "Melody Weavers"

GEOLOGY CLASS TO USE SIPLE JEWELS

Geology students at Allegheny will have the use of a collection of about 50 precious stones which Paul Siple, '32, brought with him from his recent trip to Turkey.

Rubies, emeralds, topaz, and brilliantines are among the cut and uncut stones which the former Allegheny student collected in Constantinople and Egypt.

Professor Kalfayan, head of the Department of French at Allegheny, can testify to the truthfulness of the adage that the world isn't such a big place after all.

Returning from Europe on the S. S. Olympic during the latter part of August, Professor Kalfayan became an intimate friend of his table mate, a young professor pursuing his Ph. D. in Biology. Much to his surprise, Mr. Kalfayan learned when he had returned to Meadville, that his traveling companion was Albert Ogilvie, who was engaged during the latter part of August to take a place as instructor in advanced biology at Allegheny College.

WOMEN SELECT NEW DORMITORY MARSHALS

On Monday at 10:30 each section of Hulings Hall and the other resident dormitories for women held an election to select the Marshals for the coming semester. The results of the elections are:

Cochran Hall—Jean Sebring and Sara Ann Davis.

Hulings Hall—

Second Front	Betty Hill.
Second Back	Ruth Crawford
Third Front	Ruth Crawford.
Third Middle	Jean Kelly.
Third Back	Deborah Mountford.
Fourth Front	Grace Bunner.
Fourth Back	Betty Anderson.

Second Floor Of Hulings Hall Is Greatly Improved

"Just when I get in my last year they fix me up like that!" That was the remark of one fair co-ed as she inspected the improvements made during the Summer on Hulings Hall, women's dormitory at Allegheny.

Under the direction of E. S. Phillips, architect, the entire second floor front section of Hulings Hall was revamped. Instead of having all the rooms of the same color, five different colors are employed in the decorating scheme, giving each room individuality. The bath rooms have new showers added. A new floor has been put in the loggia, and new carpets have been laid in the living rooms and halls

In addition to the work done to adorn the dormitory, the important improvement of installing an automatic sprinkler system is being made. Work on this project was begun four weeks ago,, and in two more weeks should be complete. The hall will then be fireproof.

Minor improvements include coats of paints for Beebe and Hammett Houses, women's dormitories, and the completion of the painting of rooms in Calflisch Hall.

For this one we are indebted to the Southwestern College:

Professor: "Can anyone give the derivation of the word auditorium?"

Freshman: "Yes. From audio, hear, and taurus, bull. A place where you—"

Four Additions Made To Staff At Hulings Hall

The staff at Hulings Hall has added four new members this fall.

Miss Gregory, the dietician, comes to Allegheny from New York City. She is a Wellesly graduate, having attended Simmons for a year and having received her Master's degree from Columbia. Previous to her position here she managed a restaurant and taught diatetics in a New York high school.

Miss Gregory is extremely interested in co-education and student government. For her, Allegheny's chief charm is the air of informality and friendliness.

The House Mother of Hulings Hall is Mrs. Ross of New York City. She is well qualified for her position since she has had experience as a physical education director in the middle west and also in Concord. In Concord she acted as a Dean of Women in the Senior High School where she established an athletic association and various other activities for the women students. In the summers she has done playground work; in this capacity she produced pageants and became familiar with every type of activity for girls.

Mrs. Ross received her master's degree from Columbia and is at present working on her doctor's degree.

Miss Prescott, who is new Hall Hostess serves as switch board operator in the day-time. She was graduated from Mary Baldwin College and has received her master's degree from Columbia this spring. She has shown a genuine interest in all student activities and will act as advisor to the Women's Student Government. During the past summer Miss Prescott had the opportunity to observe student life in England and has returned to this country with renewed interest in the problems of the world now and the students relationships to them.

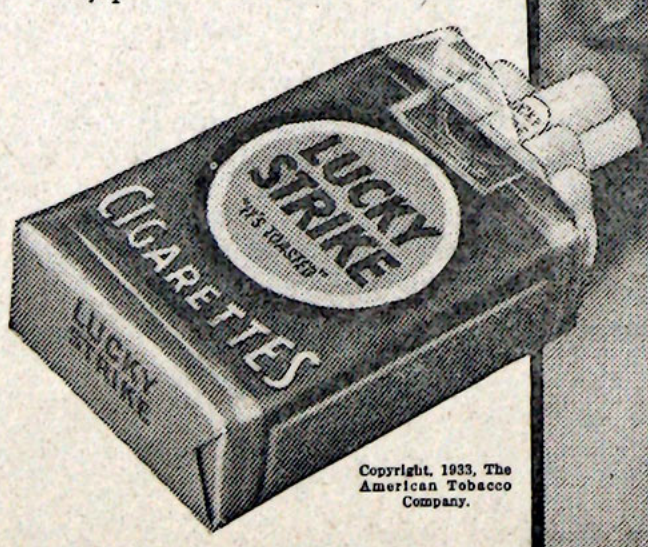

At the University of Giesson, Germany, Herr Professor enters a lecture room crowded with impatient students. No one interrupts the lecture; when students differ they shuffle their feet; if they agree there is great applause. It's a case of away with restraint!
