Nutley, N. J.,
31 January, 1910.

My dear Miss Tarbell:

It seems queer I have just been thinking about you and those queries the last few days. I had perfect faith that in due course I should hear from you. I can wait two months, or perhaps three for them, for my work is still unfinished — alas!

Poor Miss Dodd is very sad over the illness of her mother. She has been a faithful daughter.

With kind wishes,

Yours sincerely,

Caro Lloyd Withington.
