J. C. PENNEY-GWINN CORPORATION

GREEN COVE SPRINGS, FLA.

February 9, 1927

My dear Miss Tarbell:

When you were here last Spring, you spoke about the possibility of your coming down here again.

I should like to extend to you, on behalf of this whole organization, from Mr. Penney to the last farm settler, a hearty and cordial invitation to be with us upon the evening of February 17th, when we are to hold our Second Annual Banquet.

This is the one big occasion of the year for the farmers, and this year we are to have with us the ministers of the Memorial Homes group and their families. This occasion is in commemoration of the second anniversary of the purchase of the property by Mr. Penney.

Since you were here, many changes have taken place. Some eighty-eight farms are occupied, and almost four hundred acres of potatoes will be in the ground by Saturday night of this week. About fifty preachers and their families are occupying the apartments in connection with the Memorial Group at Penney Farms, and within two months undoubtedly the twenty-two apartment houses and the Chapel will be completed, and the Chapel and organ dedicated April 24th.

We appreciated your visit of last year, and we are very eager to have you with us again at any time, but if possible we would appreciate your being with us Thursday evening, February 17th.

With the hope that you may be able to accept our invitation and with personal regards, I am

Sincerely yours,

S. Walter Morton

Digital Image, 2009. Ida M. Tarbell Collection, 1890-1944. Allegheny College/Pelletier Library