

July 2, 1930

Dear Mr. Graeve:

It was fine of you to be so prompt about the article and of course I am delighted that you like it. Tell Mr. Moore that I appreciate his congratulations and particularly his suggestion for a new ending. He is quite right in thinking that this incident will be far more effective than the present last paragraph. I will have it for you the first of the week, possibly before.

Yes, I should like very much to discuss the next article before you go away on July 10th. I am coming into town on Monday and could see you at almost any hour you say - save three in the afternoon. If tea time suits you I can be at the Cosmopolitan Club, 133 East 40th Street, at half past four or I can run down to the Butterick Building in the morning if that is better for you. A note here will find me Monday evening.

Faithfully yours

Mr. Oscar Graeve
Butterick Building
New York City