Mr. J. H. Coit,

Moffat, Yard & Co.,

New York.

Dear Mr. Coit:

I have just received from the Macmillan Company the following note:

"The present status of the stock and plates of your book is as follows: Everything has been delivered and accounted for with the exception of the plates of 'The Life of Napoleon,' and 'Father Abraham,' and the sheet stock of 'Father Abraham' and a shortage of 244 in the sheet stock of 'Madame Roland.' We have been notified that the plates and sheets have been shipped, with the exception of the shortage noted above. The shortage should be adjusted by Mr. Coit with the binders, and we understand from Mr. Coit that he will do this."

If there is anything I can do to help hurry up matters, believe me, I shall be very glad to do so.

Very sincerely yours,

T
