

Ida Mabel Finkell;

Please pardon the delay - I was at Clifton when the U.S.S. came and return it to you by this mail - After next Tuesday my address will be Clifton Heights, Clifton Mass. -

In the description I gave you of father like Lincoln? If not please make it so as he was exactly like L. -

I have written to Mr. Ayres but have a word here I heard from him He may be dead or moved away - I only know him through the Genealogy work and saw him in Phila - nearly 5 years ago - If you know of anyone in P. whom you could send to look him up? If not I fear we must use another picture.

I have a whole book full of Hanks addresses, you know this little book you care to use them. If we got out the right kind of a circular every Hanks in America & England would buy a book. It would certainly pay to send individual circulars in this way. I will send the book if you wish it bye & bye -

I hope the book you are going to get out is not the size of this sheet on which you have printed "Hanks Hanks". Please have it printed on heavy swell paper with wide margins and narrow lines. We must make up the paper & style what we lack in words - Now please make it dead swell -

And say I think it would be dear to have cunning little pictures of steeples & bells and things stuck it in any old place by the side of the front illustration in a cute way the subject in hand - a picture for instance of the old abbey at Malmsbury - You could get that at the Astor Library in the History of M - and then a picture of Sturtevant's which is also in the Library - I perhaps of the Ships & pyramids - Then of the steeples. Wells as I speak of them - If the coat of arms the Great Eastern, the silk mills, Hambleton, Roshmond & all the rest - just tiny pictures but awfully well done you know - Please where in this would be gorgeously cute - & quite correct

That man's name is Col. Bennett - not Hewitt - Is it? Where did you get that name? Col. Hewitt is the man I wrote to -

Did you get that mill of Joseph Hewitt?
How did you like father's picture?

I hope I have not made too many connections but you see I have not seen the thing for so long & the last copy was so hatched up -

Sincerely yours

Andrew Hewitt
