Dear Mrs. Seton:

I hope what I have written on your book suits your purpose. As you see I have commented on what interested me most and which seems important - your conclusion about the matriarchal character of the Mois.

You certainly are an amazing traveller. How you could go through all that and come out looking as fresh as a daisy, which I am sure you did, is past me.

I must say that I was mighty glad when you arrived safe in enchanting Bali.

Happy Holidays to you

Very sincerely

MrS. I am taking the book down to the Pen & Brush as you request.
