Dear Miss Giles:

Mr. Verity, Chairman of the American Rolling Mill Company, has written Miss Tarbell that he has sent you several interior views of their plant, together with photographs of himself and Mr. Charles R. Hook, the President.

Mr. Verity writes:-

"As regards the photographs, if it should be your wish to use both of them that will be all right. If you only have space for one I would prefer that you use Mr. Hook's photograph, as he is now the active head of our business and was the author of the plan which I sent you, and had also the responsibility of putting it into effect. Data covering Mr. Hook's association with our business is attached to his photograph."

Miss Tarbell knows that the above is true. She would like very much if you could use the pictures of both Mr. Verity and Mr. Hook. If you should decide to use only one she suggests you use the picture of Mr. Hook.

I called Mr. Swope's secretary today and she told me she would send you pictures of Mr. Young and Mr. Swope, both formal and informal, if she could secure them.

Very truly yours

Secretary to Miss Tarbell
