

Memo - Education

In revision make a point of the emphasis Young puts on scrutinizing an opportunity when it comes down the street. This goes with his emphasis on ^{intuition} - the use of intuition.

It was a hunch unquestionably that made him recognize when he was with Tyler that ~~in little~~ ^{the} developments the ⁱⁿ laws ^{growing public utilities} were beginning to grow up, helter skelter, based often on ignorance, greed or a public demand that something should be done and the legislators responding without knowing themselves very well what should be done. All ^{highly suspicious} man of legislator - legislator of business men. ^{necessary to} Peculiar thing this learning all about it - clarifying it - adapting it to the needs to those of the public and to those of business. The young man saw that there was a field.

In his talk at Chandler he told me what ^{a thrill!} got when he realized that here was a new, ^{uncharted} field for lawyers and that here he was in a contact where he could do something himself. It was the basis, I take it, of his making a success of that thing.

Use in connection with this educational item what Crocker says about Young's emphasis on seeing an opportunity.

I think it is the intuition. Could very well be used ^{connection with} in/what Crocker said.
