

ONE LEXINGTON AVENUE
NEW YORK CITY

Dear Lady:

Mar 19 - '26

That was a rich letter from Ireland. So glad to get such a full report. It's really wonderful how you have turned out the articles: and great that the first made such a hit with the office. Certainly I'd do a fourth, if you see the material & they want it. Clean up! Clean up! while the good being and love is out!

I went in to see Sarah yesterday & she showed me the "picks" in Ireland paper - must have been a pretty good photo - looked around as a new paper portrait. I read & told her your letter - said I'd at least extracted news from you - & some was fresh to her. He rejoined to father in Boston's telegram to you about the ms.

I hope you have the Ben Book. Eugene calls it "a beautiful book" - meaning both contents & form. Henry Harrison said this morning that he'd never seen or heard of a book like it - of the sort - so much of the living man in it.
Scotty was up again in speaking of it; & Mary Haskell just told me that she read it right through last night - having picked it up about 12
and so on. It is very gratifying.

No news with me. I go my rounds, fairly content.
Work at book or Henry's manuscript - fumble a little now & then - dine with Brother (who is starting in on a new job Monday - a promotion & first step)
* Mrs. Huchins son Frank has a wood mfg business at Jacksonville - finish for houses &c. He must know not about the building situation. Don't hesitate to
* (Yellow from 4 - 1000)