OFFICE OF THE DEAN OF WOMEN

March 12, 1930

Miss Ida M. Tarbell
120 East 19th Street
New York City, New York

My dear Miss Tarbell:

4:20 P. M. March seventeenth will find us at the railroad station awaiting your arrival. In the meantime, we shall watch for the books, and have them placed in your room.

You may be interested to know that the Faculty have voted to grant credit for your course in Biography to those students wishing to arrange for it.

The eleven o'clock appointment hour you suggest can readily be arranged. In fact, any readjustment which you may wish to make after you come will gladly be made, of course. We want you to enjoy your stay with us, and have no wish to make it a burden for you.

If you have any last minute instructions for me I shall be most happy to serve you.

Very sincerely yours,

Amelia E. Clark
