Tom Gladden Installed As AUC Prexy Pankopf Elected Treasurer of Council

Tom Gladden was installed as president of the Allegheny Undergraduate Council by outgoing president Steve Graffam at the regular AUC meeting held in the College Union Sunday. George Culberson, vice-president, and class representatives to AUC were also installed at the meeting.

Al Pankopf was elected to the office of AUC treasurer on Sunday and Nancy Divine was named secretary, to act as a non-voting member of AUC.

Voting on the last day of elections on the "Principle of Honor" showed a total of 314 students in favor of the Code and 114 students opposed. All five amendments to the AUC constitution were passed by student vote.

Biondolillo Takes First In Dramatic Division Of National Forensic

Samuel Biondolillo won first place in dramatic declamation in the Grand National Forensic Tournament in which over 50 colleges and universities participated. The tournament was held April 1 through 4 at Mary Washington College of the University of Virginia, Fredericksburg, Va.

Biondolillo also reached the finals in the poetry division of the contest. Dick Popeney, another Alleghenian, defeated 19 other contestants to enter the finals in address reading, but was defeated by a Manhattan College student.

Debate teams of Joe Shapiro and Chuck Wells, negative, and Dick Popeney and Ann Bowden, affirmative, engaged in debates with nine other colleges on the question of federal Fair Employment Practice legislation.

Candidates were also entered in several other forensic events: oratory, Popeney; extemporaneous speaking, Wells; impromptu speaking, Miss Bowden and Wells; encomium, Popeney; address-reading, Miss Bowden; poetry-reading, Shapiro; and book review, Shapiro.

225 Prospective Frosh Here April 25, 26 For High School Weekend

An estimated 225 prospective Allegheny freshmen will visit the campus on the weekend of April 25 and 26 for the second annual High School Weekend.

On Saturday morning the prospective students will attend classes and confer with members of the faculty. Following a tour of the campus in the afternoon, they will attend a round-table discussion conducted by present members of the student body concerning various phases of college life. At 4 p.m. a preview showing of "Beggars In Paradise" will be given in the college Playshop. On Saturday evening, the Allegheny Singers will give the final concert of their 1953 spring tour in Ford Memorial Chapel and the guests will also have the opportunity to attend the Terrapin show at Montgomery Pool. An all-college informal dance will be held in Brooks Hall from 9:30 to 12 with music by the freshman band.

On Sunday morning Dr. Charles M. Laymon, pastor of the Indianolo Methodist Church, Columbus, Ohio, will speak in Ford Chapel. Dr. Louis T. Benezet will speak at a banquet closing the weekend on Sunday noon. Tom Gladden will be master of ceremonies.

According to Barb Voges and Jim Lyons, co-chairmen of the Student Admissions Committee, over 1200 invitations have been sent to high school seniors from a wide area. They were sent to those people who have applied for admittance and to others whose names had been turned in to the Student Admissions Committee.

Gail Howe and Bruce Hemer are in charge of housing for the students. Prospective men students will stay in the Delt, Sig, and Phi Psi fraternity houses and in Cochran and Beebe dorms; the women will stay in Caflisch.

There will be a meeting of the Student Admissions Committee at 8:30 o'clock tonight in the Admission Office.

High School Debaters To Hold Tourney Here Friday And Saturday

The ninth annual High School Debate Tournament will be held on Friday and Saturday, April 17 and 18, at Allegheny under the sponsorship of the speech and dramatic art departments. Teams from 13 high schools will engage in five rounds of debate on the national high school debate question, "Resolved: That the NATO Countries Should Form a Federal Union."

A banquet for all debaters will be held on Friday evening, followed by entertainment and refreshments in the Playshop.

The winning school will be awarded a trophy. Members of the winning team, and of the second- and third-place teams, will be awarded gold, silver, and bronze medals, respectively.

Mr. Howard H. Martin and Mr. Herbert J. Hess are co-directors of the tournament. Members of Philo-Franklin Speech Union and G-1 students will act as time-keepers. Faculty members will act as judges, and the Cwens will conduct tours of the campus.

High schools participating are: Bradford, Butler, Erie Academy, Franklin, Girard-Rice Avenue High School, Grove City, Harbor Creek, Meadville, North East, Oil City, Wesleyville, Jamestown, N.Y. and Jeffersonville, N.Y.

Dr. Alexander H. Kemp, '15, will be the speaker for the Founder's Day Convocation to be held at 11:20 a.m. on Thursday, April 23, in Montgomery Gymnasium. Dr. Kemp, a medical missionary who has been described as "the Allegheny Schweitzer", will speak on "Great Teachers and Great Teachings."

Dr. Alexander H. Kemp

During the program Dr. Kemp will be presented with an honorary Sc.D. degree by President Benezet.

The convocation will mark the first presentation of a song, "Allegheny Speak to Us," by Dr. Andrew Wells Robertson, '06, a Pittsburgh attorney and Allegheny trustee, and Miss Marian R. Gray, ex-'37, a former member of the Allegheny Singers. Dr. Robertson wrote the words and Miss Gray composed the music for the anthem, which will be sung by the Chapel Choir.

The audience will join the members of the choir in singing the Alma Mater.

Following the convocation a luncheon will be held in the small dining room of Cochran Hall in honor of Dr. Kemp, Dr. and Mrs. Robertson, and Miss Gray.

29 Years In Africa

Dr. Kemp returned to America in March of 1952 after 29 years in Angola, Africa. At the "bush" hospital where he was the only doctor he had as assistants a missionary nurse whom he trained himself and native assistants who gave the chloroform for operations, treated the numerous tropical ulcers, and helped in the general work of the

The Pitcairn-Crabb Foundation has donated $1,000 to the College for completion of the faculty grants for summer study. Located in Pittsburgh, this charitable foundation gives gifts to church-affiliated institutions in the area. In addition to the Pitcairn-Crabb contribution, $2,000 had been previously received from the General Board of Education of the Methodist Church.

"Campus" Staff Appointments Announced; Foley, Walck Named To Editorial Posts

Four freshmen have been appointed to the staff of The Campus during the past week, and one staff member has been promoted, according to editor-in-chief Pat Riesenman. Bill Foley has been named photography editor to succeed retiring photographer Ronnie Damm; Bob Pierce has been appointed assistant makeup editor; Marilyn Bennett and Marlene Burchfield have been named to the copy desk; and Barbara Walck, a present member of the copy desk, has been promoted to the position of copy editor, which has been vacant since last May.

Foley was recently elected president of next year's sophomore class and is Phi Delta Theta's representative to the Inter-Fraternity Council. A history-political science major, he was a member of the freshman cabinet this year and serves on the AUC Handbook Revision Committee.

Pierce is also on the Handbook Committee. A member of Alpha Chi Rho, he is an English major and has contributed to The Literary Magazine.

Miss Bennett is a member of Heelers and has worked on The Campus since first semester.

Miss Burchfield, an English major, was a member of the Publicity Committee of the freshman class. She is also a member of the Newman Club, ACA, and the Outing Club.

Miss Walck, a sophomore English major, was appointed to the staff of The Campus in February, having worked on the paper since last fall. She is a member of the Independent Women of Allegheny.

Damm will remain as a member of the staff in the position of advisory photography editor.

Reitman Named Prexy In Chi Rho Elections

Sanford Reitman was elected president of Alpha Chi Rho for next year in elections held last Monday night. Dick Keller was named vice-president; Bob Pierce, corresponding secretary; Jim Gigone, recording secretary; and Andy Anderson, treasurer.

Dangerous Precedent?

Now that we've had a little time to get over our week of elections, a few observations on their administration seem worth making.

We believe that it is undesirable for an outgoing AUC president to endorse any candidate. We realize that no one knows the demands of the office better than the man who has held it, but endorsement of a candidate sets up the possibility of frictions which may be carried on after the outgoing president has left school.

If the president should endorse a candidate who loses, the passing on of vital information and techniques of administration to the winner might be performed somewhat reluctantly, to say the least.

And we don't believe that the student body needs formal instruction as to whom to vote for. We had fine candidates this year and we've had fine candidates for many years past. The constitutional provision that allows the runner-up to become vice president is a written expression of confidence in the ability of the nominating committee to select capable candidates. We therefore feel it unnecessary for the president to endorse any candidate.

We are certainly not disappointed in the outcome of this year's election for AUC president, but we do feel that a dangerous precedent has been established. We hope that Tom Gladden will keep this in mind when he is in Steve Graffam's position, next year at this same time.

Spring Tonic

Allegheny students painted the town red last Friday as the Red Cross leeched some 167 pints from the campus community. According to the Meadville paper we were not only successful in keeping the staff of workers busy all day long, but surpassed the output which the Meadville community has thus far recorded for any single day. For this achievement several persons are to be congratulated: the donors who filled the many bottles with the life-giving fluid, the student organizers and sandwich girls, and certainly not least of all, the staff workers of the Red Cross whom we kept busy through the lunch hour and past the usual closing hour.

Rain-checks were offered to several students who for one reason or another were unable to contribute blood Friday. It would be commendable if these 25 or 30 persons would be joined by another large group of Allegheny students and faculty when the Bloodmobile unit visits Meadville again next month. If you have not yet been bled this spring, we are sure you will find the experience comparable to a spring tonic. Ask anybody who's sporting a blue spot on his forearm.

Howell Wins Cigarettes In Chesterfield Contest

Tom Howell was the winner of the recent Chesterfield Cigarette contest, in which entrants were asked to guess the number of pennies in a jar in the Bookstore.

The correct number of pennies was 1,111, with the nearest guess being 1,100, according to Charles Bowser, Chesterfield representative on campus. First prize in the contest, which ended on March 25, was a carton of Chesterfield cigarettes.

Pommers Lead Discussions At Pacifism Conference

During the past weekend Dr. and Mrs. Henry Pommer, Nan Kilburn and Joan Anderson attended a conference at Ithaca, New York. The subject of the conference was "The Place of Young People in the Pacifist Movement."

As resource leaders the Pommers led discussions on various topics concerning pacifism. The conference was held at the summer home of Harrop Freeman, professor of law at Cornell University.

Pins 'n Sins

Well, if our Meadville weather has refused to recognize the arrival of spring, our student body certainly hasn't. They've responded the way people have been responding since Adam and Eve, and a good thing it is, too.

Marriages, engagements, and pinnings have been coming at such a fast and furious pace lately that you'll pardon us if we don't get everybody in. We'll try.

Congratulations, first, to Shirley Dobson and Dick Poux ('52), who were married over Easter vacation.

Best wishes also, to the five couples who recently became engaged, namely Pax Hart and Jean Gesaman (Princeton Seminary); Bill Oehmler and Bev Carson; Barb Bacon and Warren Haney (Penn State '52); Nancy Johnston and Ed Snyder; and Ray Lewis and Ed Byham.

And in the pinning department we have four to report. Sally Kloppmann and Wally Walsh were pinned, as were Florrie Hays and Dom Mattei, Laurie MacArthur and Hap Lynch, and Lee Dewey and Paul Roese. Best of luck kids.

Faculty seems to be trying to keep up with the student body in the way of social events. The library was the scene of a real ball—it was almost like Sunday afternoon—last weekend when the profs got together in a "come-as-a-book-title" party. Unfortunately, our faculty was so ingenious that we can't even report on their various costumes without running into trouble with the censors.

And with snow a few days ago, the kids who picked up a jazzy Florida tan looked out of place. That'll teach 'em. The aristocrats!

Pardon us, but we can't help but remark that there is a Betty Fish in the Terrapin show. The Readers' Digest has nothing on us.

And the college has purchased some pretty fine prints, now on display in the CU, if you'd like to get in on a little beauty on your way down to the grill.

Letter to the Editor

To the Editor:

As editor of this year's edition of The Kaldron, I must have the satisfaction of answering the completely unfounded article which condemned the policies and ethics of myself and my staff. I would, furthermore, like to make clear at this point, that whoever was responsible for the article did not even take the time to find out if the picture they described of the book conforms to the actual content of this year's Kaldron, which, by the way, it does not. Any resemblance between the book and the description found in the last issue of The Campus will be as much a surprise to myself as it undoubtedly will be to the author of the forementioned article.

Let us for example consider this statement: "This year, for one reason or another, the editor of The Kaldron decided to make it a senior book, thereby forcing the neglect of some campus activities to the emphasis of others." This statement in itself proves that the article was conceived in ignorance. If someone from The Campus had bothered to ask my staff, or the faculty adviser, or myself, or the Publications Board, or any one of a number of interested students who followed the progress of the book, they would have found out that the only change made in the senior section of this book from last year or any other year, was to put the name, home town, and fraternity or sorority affiliation of the senior beside the senior's picture instead of on the bottom of the page from left to right. We also changed the dimensions of the pictures and had a dark background for these pictures.

As for neglecting some campus activities, if The Campus will check this year's book they will find every organization that was present in last

by Barbara Walck

"Although it is a small choral group, I think musically we are achieving very new and different effects," Mrs. Margrethe Hokanson enthusiastically declared about the Workshop Ensemble which she directs.

This ensemble—there are ten members at present—was started in the fall of 1950 "for anyone who just likes to sing," as one member put it. But the group is unique in that the voice is used as an instrument producing new and varied tonal qualities. Occasionally a musical instrument, such as a clarinet or perhaps a cello, is actually blended in, and the result is a type of vocal chamber music.

Mrs. Hokanson also explained that each person sings his own individual part against the rest of the group, although several parts may coincide in any particular measure. As one member declared, "With such a small number you have the feeling of understanding the individuals and their own interpretations." Occasionally the group is accompanied on the organ or piano.

Last year the Ensemble recorded the musical background for the Playshop production of "Peer Gynt," and this year they performed in the Chapel during the Christmas season.

The group will appear in the Playshop production "Beggars in Paradise" April 25 through May 2. On stage and in costume, the singers will help to create the atmosphere for the various scenes. In one scene the group represents a heavenly choir singing a Bach number entirely without words. The arrangement by Mrs. Hokanson uses only vowel sounds to create the celestial effect. The Ensemble will also sing "Ring Dans" and "Now Is the Month of Maying."

Before coming to Allegheny Mrs. Hokanson was director of the Nordic Choral Ensemble, founded in 1939 at the visit of Crown Prince Olav and Crown Princes Martha of Norway to the United States.

The Ensemble then toured this country, receiving enthuiastic reviews everywhere it appeared. But during World War II the group disbanded.

Present members of the Allegheny Ensemble are Barbara Bacon, Betty Narwold, Mary McEwen, Marilyn Mills, Sue Dickson, Ellen Brown, Jack Olofson, Dave First, and faculty members Miss Pat Tanton and Mr. Douglas Pickering.

Attention Veterans!

College auditor William Rice has requested that all veterans attending under PL 346 or PL 16 close out their Bookstore purchases by Friday, April 24. Purchases must be completed by that date in order that the college may bill the Veterans Administration for the current semester.

A concert of chamber music will be presented at 3:30 p.m. on Sunday, April 26, in Ford Memorial Chapel. The event, originally scheduled for March 1, was postponed because of the illness of Dr. Herbert Neurath.

The program will include J. S. Bach's Cantata "I Bear My Cross-Staff Gladly;" Walter Piston's "Sonatina" for violin and piano, a contemporary American work; and Robert Schumann's "Quintet" for piano and strings, an example of the Romantic era in music.

Mambo Learns The Facts Of Life

by C. F. E.

Let's face it, evolution is a fact. Every day we discover new information which adds to an already imposing list of evidences, and which nails down Darwin's original theory more securely than ever. Last month, for example, we came across a story in the New York Times which seems to us to constitute irrefutable evidence in support of the theory that man and the ape descended from a common ancestor.

It seems that the Bronx Zoo recently acquired a new male gorilla named Mambo (gorilla names aren't too tough to coin), and the zoo authorities felt that Mambo might be maladjusted unless he were supplied with a playmate. After all, Mambo is only three years old and any normal baby should have friends. At any rate, it seems the only available gorilla in Mambo's age group is a five-year old female named Sumaili, so the zookeepers decided to introduce the two in the hopes that they might — say in 10 years or so, when they reach maturity — settle down and get married.

So a few days later Mambo was gently placed in Sumaili's cage while the Bronx Zoo people and the Times' reporter watched with interest. The result was as inevitable as tomorrow's Times. Sumaili — just five years old, mind you — got a gleam in her eye, extended a welcoming paw, and frightened poor Mambo half out of his wits. Mambo raced around, tried to hide in a corner, finally wound up seeking protection behind one of the sympathetic attendants.

Now try and tell us that we don't have much in common with the apes! Our "human" females may be a bit more subtle. They may fool most men into thinking that it is the men who are in pursuit of them, but take a quick look at the lower forms, and then a quick look back, and the real story reveals itself.

Sumaili may not have a poodle cut which exposes the nape of her neck, she may not douse herself with perfume, put her hair up every night, paint herself with Max Factor's products, or use any number of other "devices" which will make Mambo view her through the traditional rosy-colored glasses, but the instinct to catch her man is still there. Then again, it may not be instinct. Maybe Sumaili learned the technique watching the people who look into her cage. You never can tell with these animals.

"Beggars In Paradise" Here April 28 - May 2

Over 50 students will take part in the Playshop production "Beggars in Paradise", to run from April 28 through May 2. Described as a "Merry Miracle of Flanders" the play was originally written in Flemish by Gaston-Marie Martens and translated into English by Marston Balch.

"Beggars in Paradise" has been performed in 15 countries. The play was produced for the first time in America at Tufts College in 1950.

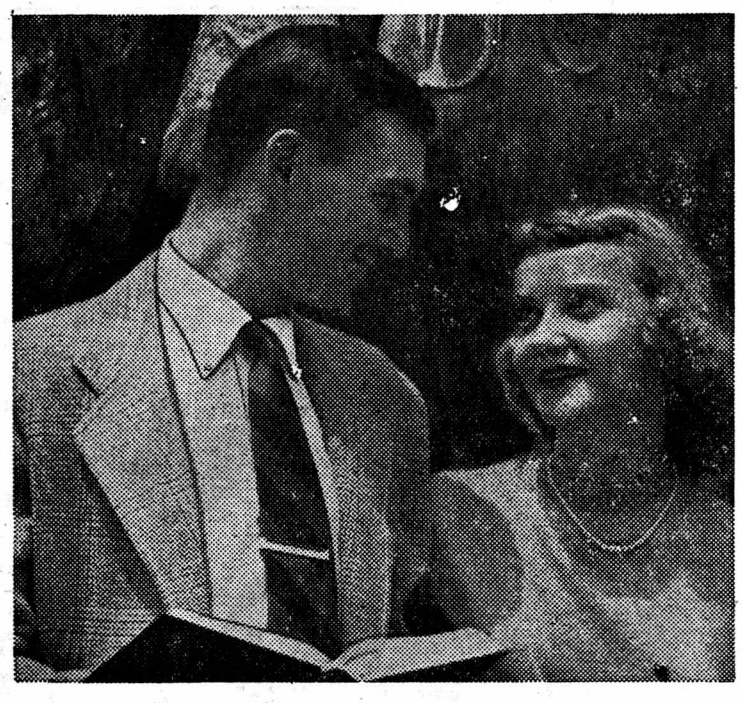

Students may make reservations for the performances by presenting their Playshop activities tickets at the box-office.

Baseball Team Opens At Susquehanna Today

Gator Track Team Preps For Opener; Time-Trials To Be Run This Weekend

Stepped up practice and hard work have marked Hilltopper track practice, as Coach Bill Hanson prepares his charges for their first meet against Westminster a week from Saturday. With approximately 50 aspirants out for the squad, Hanson hopes to have a better balanced team than he did last year when the Gators posted only one victory.

Eight lettermen return this year and will form the nucleus of the thinclads. Hub Ocamb in the javelin, Bob Buck in the high jump, Dave Warren in the hurdles and Graham Dunlop in the pole vault will probably be consistent starters as they were last year, augmented by the other returnees and some promising freshman material.

Freshman Prospects

Among the first year men who have impressed Coach Hanson are Chuck Waitz, Art Steffe, and Dick Bender in the hurdles and Ron Zehner in the sprints. Jim Lauffer, Dick Feffer, Don D'Alession and Don Barron have also shown promise in workouts so far. The squad has been divided into two teams for time trials which will be held today and Saturday. The showings made by the squad in these practice meets will determine to a large extent the starters in the opening meet a week from Saturday.

Team Needs Depth

Members of the football and soccer squads have been working out with the team and have swelled the number of men out for the sport. If the depth problem can be solved, the team should be in much better shape at the end of the season than they were last year. The first real indication of the team's strength cannot be gained, however, until the Westminster meet next week.

Publicity Department Receiving Applications

The Publicity Department is now receiving applications for student assistants for next year, college executive secretary John R. McFarland has announced. Openings are available for reporting and for secretarial positions.

The work averages about 13 hours per week, most of time being scheduled between classes. Interested students are requested to see Mr. McFarland or Mr. Kern as soon as possible. Selection of student assistants will be made before the close of the current academic year.

hospital. An average of 70 patients were treated daily for malaria, sleeping-sickness, bilharzia, relapsing-fever, filaria, and other tropical diseases. Most of these were caused by insect-transmitted germs, and caused many more deaths than the wild animals. Certain civilized diseases, such as appendicitis, gall-bladder trouble, and cancer, were almost unknown.

Combat Witch Doctors

Besides treating patients at the hospital, Dr. Kemp did much to undermine the influence of the witch-doctors by teaching in the schools and villages that diseases were caused by germs rather than by evil spirits and that diagnosis was better accomplished by the use of a microscope than by drinking the sasswood poison. He also demonstrated that cures could be obtained through hospital methods rather than by securing charms from the witch-doctors.

For 20 years Dr. Kemp was head of the Taylor Institute with its school for boys, industrial and agricultural work, and was twice appointed superintendent for districts half as large as Pennsylvania.

year's book, also represented in this one, plus. If they wish to go further and check the space allotment they should also be surprised to find that it conforms almost exactly to last years. We see then that not a single item contained in the statement of The Campus has any basis or truth.

Next The Campus wishes to know how much authority the editor of any publication has that he may decide policy without the consultation of other members of the staff, and in cases of major decisions without conferring with the Publications Board itself. In the first place, there was not a single decision made concerning The Kaldron that did not have the sanction of the editor, the faculty adviser, and at least the member of the staff who headed the department in which a change was being contemplated. Play Pitt Tomorrow; Home Opener Scheduled Wednesday With Mt. Union

The Hilltopper baseball squad has been working hard for the past few weeks in preparation for their first contest of the season this afternoon at Susquehanna. Tomorrow they travel to Pittsburgh where they will play the Pitt Panthers. The first home game of the season will be next Wednesday when the Gators will play host to Mount Union.

Nine Lettermen Return

The initial turnout for the diamond sport found 35 hopefuls reporting to coach Bob Garbark. After a few days' workout in the gym and a couple out in the open air, Garby cut his squad to 24 men. Despite the fact that nine lettermen return, only three positions are definitely nailed down. Gordie Black and Tom Beagan will start in the outfield, and Fritz Cotton on first base. Beagan and Black were two of last year's leading hitters and should be the mainstays in the Gators' scoring punch this year.

Thirteen Freshmen

Thirteen freshmen are on this year's squad and it is going to be a real fight between them and the other six returning men for the remaining six starting spots on this year's club. Besides Black, Beagan and Cotton, the following men are back from last year: Al Pankopf, Don Baer, Bill Bishop, Ed Benson, Gene Loughney, and Bill McVay.

Freshmen vying for positions are Bill Regan, Jim Balky, "Scoot" Altmire, Jim Bogden, Cliff Morton, Jerry Sandes, Tom Wisnewski, Carl Erickson, Mert Davis, Harry Larrimer, Art Walsh, Dick Wigton, and Will Neil. Bill Davis and Guy Toren are two transfer students on the squad who should give the team a boost.

The first two games should furnish us a better indication of the Hilltoppers' chances than the recent practice sessions. Little is known about the Susquehanna team, but Pitt always looms as a threat on the Gator schedule. The Panthers defeated Allegheny in the last game of the season last year, 7-1, to close the Hilltoppers' record for the season at three wins and eight losses.

Gator Courtmen And McIndoe Rate High In 1953 NCAB Ratings

The final statistics released by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau on small college basketball finds the Gator Courtmen and captain Bud MacIndoe among the leaders for the 1952-53 campaign. The Hilltoppers as a group were tied for 20th place among the nation's small colleges in the total offense department with 1,525 points in 19 games for an average of 80.3 points per game. The team also placed 32nd in the free-throw percentages with a mark of 69.5 per cent. Eighty colleges were included in the report.

MacIndoe, the six-foot-four center, climaxed his college career by ranking 17th among the top individual scorers with an average of 24.1 points per game. He had 458 points for the 19 games this season. The Gator captain also tied for seventh with McClements of Springfield College for free-throw honors. Both had an 80.6 average. Mac converted 104 of 129 free throws during the season.

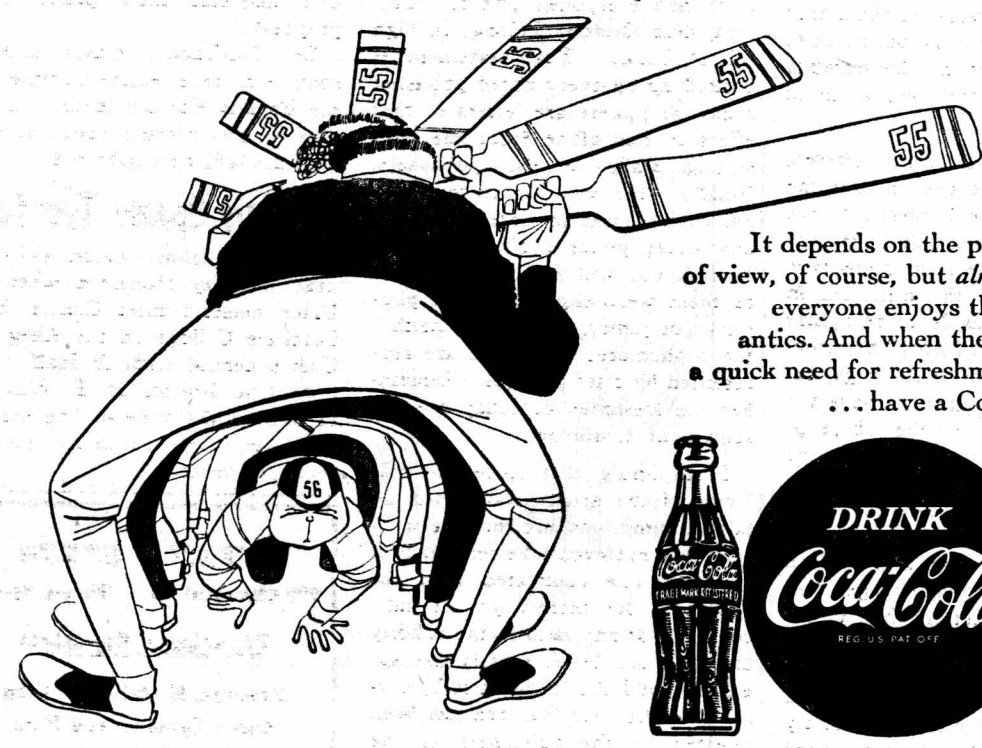

Dr. Ross Selected As Budget Committee Head

Dr. Julian L. Ross, dean of instruction, has been selected to chairman this year's budget committee of the Western Crawford County Community Chest. Dr. Ross was a member of the budget committee last year and was chairman of the committee several years ago. He is also a member of the Community Chest Board.

Dr. Ross has served as treasurer of the Red Cross chapter in Meadville and is a member of the chapter's board this year.

Sandor Glancz

Pauline Betz And Sandor Glancz To Give Table-Tennis Exhibition Tonight

Tonight in Mongomery Gym, Sandor Glancz and Pauline Betz, two of America's top table-tennis experts, will give an exhibition of the game at 8:15 p.m. The show is being sponsored by Radio Station WMGW and the college, and a 50 cent admission will be charged.

The duo introduce the French game of Jokari, in addition to their regular table-tennis show. Best described as squash-tennis without a court, the game has proved fully as popular in America as it has in Europe. During the course of the evening, Miss Betz and Mr. Glancz will accept challenges from the audience, and will conduct a table-tennis clinic, open to all students, faculty and guests.

Glancz, who was European champion before his debut before American audiences two years ago, has earned an enviable reputation among the greats of the game. In his first two exhibitions in this country he drew over 18,000 spectators, and has played to large crowds across the country. His opponent, Miss Betz, although better known for her prowess in tennis, is a highly regarded tournament favorite since she turned to table-tennis a few years ago. Among her victims have been Reba Monness, former U.S. champion. This additional attraction to Allegheny's sports program this year will enable the many devotees of table-tennis on campus to see the game played by two real experts. Tickets for this event may be secured from representatives in the fraternity houses, or from the athletic department.

Draft Test To Be Held April 23 In Alden Hall

The Selective Service College Qualification Test will be given in the biology laboratory on second floor Alden Hall on Thursday morning, April 23, according to Miss Reba Garvey of the College Testing Center.

The Medical College Admission Test will be given at the same place on Saturday, May 9, and will take the entire day.

Students taking either examination will be notified of the time to report by Educational Testing Service of Princeton, N.J., which prepares and supervises the tests.

North Sings "Traviata" With Erie Philharmonic

Mr. W. S. Wright North sang Tuesday and Wednesday nights in the concert version of Verdi's "La Traviata" with the Erie Philharmonic Orchestra. Mr. North sang the part of the Marquis.

The orchestra was directed by Fritz Mahler, with Dr. Herbert Neurath as assistant conductor.

The concerts were held in Erie at Strong Vincent High School Auditorium.

Student Affairs Group To Assume Bigger Role In Planning Activities

The membership of next year's Student Affairs Committee will be increased by one faculty member, the chairman of the college assembly and Public Events Committee, according to a recommendation from the Student Affairs Committee approved by a vote of the faculty last week.

The faculty also voted to designate the Student Affairs Committee the official clearing house for activities, with authority to determine the number and distribution of scheduled events for the college calendar.

The following principles were accepted as guides for its work:

1. Monday night shall be set aside for fraternity, sorority, and the independent meetings.
2. Tuesday night shall be set aside for departmental club and special interest meetings.
3. Evening hour examination, lectures, concerts and recitals, contests, etc. Shall be scheduled during the remainder of the week. Hour exams which by certification of the Dean of Instruction must be given in the evening shall have scheduling precedence.
4. Regularly scheduled rehearsal and practice times and varsity athletic events shall be under the jurisdiction of this committee.
5. Evening social functions of student organizations shall be limited in number as at present.
6. Requests for all events during any academic year must be submitted in writing to the Student Affairs Committee (on forms provided) not later than May 1 of the preceding academic year. Requests for changes or additions during the course of any academic year must be submitted to the committee (on forms provided) not later than the committee's regularly scheduled meeting time during the week preceding the date for which the event is requested. The committee will report its action directly to the person submitting the request.

Application forms for scheduling events for next year will be distributed within the next week.

Faculty To Consider IFC Rushing Proposals

The Inter-Fraternity Council recommendations on first week-first semester rushing have been presented to the Faculty Council and will be discussed at the meeting of the council scheduled for tomorrow afternoon. The recommendations, which were published in the March 26 issue of The Campus, were submitted to Dean of Students Charles W. McCracken by IFC with the request that the Faculty Council study them and state their opinion of the proposals.

Dr. McCracken stated that as soon as he receives the statement of the Faculty Council further discussion of the rushing program with students will be conducted.

Tennis Opener Tuesday

The 1953 tennis season will open next Tuesday afternoon when the Gator netsters meet Clarion State Teachers College on the Allegheny Courts behind Caflisch Hall.

Athletic director H. P. Way has announced the time of the contest as 2 p.m. The lineup has not yet been determined.

Gator Grandstand

by Doc Thoburn

After what seems like an eternity, Hilltopper athletics will start rolling again this afternoon when the baseball team under Coach Bob Garbark travels to Selsingrove for a game with the Crusaders of Susquehanna. This game was not originally scheduled and will enable the diamond-men to make a short tour, as they will play Pitt at Pittsburgh on their way back.

The Meadville weather has held up better than in the past, and as a result the Gators are probably in better shape for the beginning of the campaign than they have been for some years. The fact that only three of the nine returning lettermen have cinched positions on the team is indicative of the freshman talent available this year. With the experience of the returning men balancing the first-year talent, the team should be able to better last year's record of three wins and eight losses.

* * * * *

With the listing of the basketball and swimming lettermen of the past season, it has come to our attention that over 90 letters have been awarded to participants in the major varsity sports over a period of one year from March 1952 to March 1953. There were very few duplications of awards, with only a small group of men winning letters in more than one sport. The total number comprises about one-fifth of the male population of the school, an amazing record for athletic participation when one realizes that this list does not include the men who did not receive awards.

Tickets On Sale For Annual Terrapin Show Set For April 22-25

The eighth annual Terrapin show will be presented Wednesday through Saturday, April 22-25, at 8:30 p.m. in Montgomery Pool. Doors will open at 8:15 p.m. and admission will be by ticket. A charge of 25 cents has been found necessary this year in order to meet expenses. Tickets may be purchased at Brooks desk during the lunch and dinner hours from Monday through Wednesday, April 20-22.

Under the direction of Terrapin president Anne Mack, this year's show is co-ordinated around the theme "Terrapin Times". Ten routines will depict various portions of a newspaper, such as headlines, society page, and sports section.

Participating members include Major Terrapins Sue Black, Ann D. Clark, Audrey Dickson, Charlene Faller, Peggie Gizzie, Joan Laden, Anne Mack, Martha Nicholson, Frannie Price, Sue Rollinson, Georgia Secor, and Joan Spinning, and Minor Terrapins Barbara Brown, Pat Campbell, Joyce Carter, Lella Chase, Ann Clark, Nancy Engstrom, Betty Fish, Nancy Fullerton, Marilyn Hansen, Carolyn Pennington, and Blanche Vanis.

Miss Marjorie Kirk of the physical education department is the adviser for the group.

did. Ask the faculty adviser or the staff members themselves.

As for consulting the Publications Board, this editor was present at every meeting until The Kaldron went to press, and freely discussed policy at these meetings. In the final analysis, The Campus has insulted the staff and the faculty adviser as well as myself, to think that they would take their responsibilities so slightly as to be, as The Campus termed it, at the complete whim of one person.

The only valid argument offered, and it would have been nice if the article would have bothered to see if there was another side to it, was the omitting of the large stereotype group pictures of the freshmen in which it is impossible to recognize oneself without following the directions at the bottom of the page, because yearbooks just don't have the money or space to do the job properly. We were given exactly the same budget as last year to operate on, but the general economic situation of the world failed to realize this and costs went up a good deal. Because of this some changes had to be made. Something had to go. It could hardly be the senior pictures. I think even The Campus will agree with me there. It could not be the fraternity or sorority pictures because they reflect a good deal of the campus life as well as paying $25 a page, and that money was essential to pay the publishing bill. Nor could it be sports, administration, etc., without effecting the general picture of campus activities which are essential to such a book. True, by cutting here and there, disregarding any theme, or giving the book anything to distinguish it from books of the last decade, we could have come up with an edition that, if it had nothing else in it, had everyone's picture. This idea, dear Campus, belongs in high school books. That statement is backed up by every noted publisher today, and there are letters to that effect in our office from the consulting staffs of the publishers. Finally, when you add up the number of freshmen in fraternity, club, and other pictures about campus, I think you will find that no more of them were slighted than sophomores or juniors. After all, neither the sophomores or juniors are represented by class pictures. Remember the freshmen of today are the seniors of tomorrow.

I am afraid that since the majority of the article was based on false assumptions and that the writers could not even take time to consult any one connected with the yearbook, but merely go off half-cocked, that any faith in the validity of future articles is severly damaged. I would like to conclude by saying that the 1953 Kaldron has been selected by the publishers as the book they will use next year as an example of their work, both from a material content and technical viewpoint.

Several novelty numbers have also been planned. Miss Valeta Hershberger is adviser to Orchesis.

Approved Housing List Announced By Lyons

Students desiring rooms for next semester may check the approved housing list in the Student Personnel Office, Bentley Hall, after May 11, student housing chairman Jim Lyons has announced.

Through the use of an approved housing list an attempt is being made to provide the students with a wide choice of rooms and locations for college residents, Lyons said. Through the evaluation of rooms, landlords have been urged to provide adequate equipment, services, and conditions at prices that are fair to students. Evaluation sheets are available giving the costs, size, equipment available, and services for the rooms. The result hoped for is to provide those students who are not living in fraternity houses and dormitories with adequate and inexpensive living conditions.

All students are reminded that they must live in residences approved as rooming houses. This requirement must be met before a student may begin registration next fall.

Ballish To Return Next Year; Hopes To Expand CU Program

Tom Ballish, '52, present director of the College Union, has received a draft deferment for the 1953-54 academic year and has been reappointed as CU director for next year. He will also continue graduate work towards a master of education degree, on which he has been working this year.

College Union plans for next year tentatively call for the housing of at least a few student government and activities offices, provided Baldwin Hall, the new dormitory, is completed. In any case it will still be necessary to house some freshman men in Cochran.

The social and cultural activities begun by the union this year will be continued, and the scope of the program expanded "to make the CU the true center of campus activity," according to Ballish.

CAN YOU "take it" 6 days a week? For 52 weeks? Can you meet the high standards required to be an Aviation Cadet? If you can—then here's a man-size opportunity! An opportunity to serve your country and build a personal career that will fit you for responsible positions both in military and commercial aviation.

It won't be easy! Training discipline for Aviation Cadets is rigid. You'll work hard, study hard, play hard—especially for the first few weeks. But when it's over, you'll be a pro—with a career ahead of you that will take you as far as you want to go. You graduate as a 2nd Lieutenant in the Air Force, with pay of $5,300.00 a year. And this is only the beginning—your opportunities for advancement are unlimited.

ARE YOU ELIGIBLE?

To qualify as an Aviation Cadet, you must have completed at least two years of college. This is a minimum requirement—it's best if you stay in school and graduate. In addition, you must be between 19 and 26½ years, unmarried, and in good physical condition.

YOU CAN CHOOSE BETWEEN PILOT OR AIRCRAFT OBSERVER

If you choose to be an Aircraft Observer, your training will be in Navigation, Bombardment, Radar Operation or Aircraft Performance Engineering.

New Aviation Cadet Training Classes Begin Every Few Weeks!

HERE'S WHAT TO DO:

1. Take a transcript of your college credits and a copy of your birth certificate to your nearest Air Force Base or Recruiting Station. Fill out the application they give you.
2. If application is accepted, the Air Force will arrange for you to take a physical examination.
3. Next, you will be given a written and manual aptitude test.
4. If you pass your physical and other tests, you will be scheduled for an Aviation Cadet Training Class. The Selective Service Act allows you a four-month deferment while waiting class assignment.

Where to get more details: Visit your nearest Air Force Base or Air Force Recruiting Officer.

Creative Play And How It Backfires

by C. F. E.

It is Saturday afternoon. The Brooks gals are crowded into their little yellow bus on their way out to Bethesda for a day of jolly gaming. To get into the spirit of the thing they amuse themselves by throwing spit balls at the bus driver and singing songs learned at the last international Girl Scout Jamboree.

Finally, they reach their destination, and quick like bunnies hurry off to play games with all the sweet little childrens.

Brooks gal (giving vent to all her frustrated desires for motherhood): All right, kiddies. Let's all form a circle for a merry game of ring-around-a-rosie, a pocket full of posie.

First Kid: You know, she gets a bigger kick out of this than we do.

Second Kid: That's true, but let's humor her along, shall we? These poor girls have to study hard all week and they certainly need the recreation.

First Kid: I know that, but what I can't figure out is where she gets all the energy. Every time you look around it's ashes, ashes, all fall down. My knee is beginning to hurt.

Second Kid: Well, try and stick it out a while longer. I think she's getting bored with this. As a matter of fact, I think she's about ready to start a community sing.

First Kid: Oh no, not that again. You know, these girls' knowledge of American folk-songs is painfully limited. You would think that they might give up "In the Evening by the Moonlight" and devote themselves to something a bit more mature.

Second Kid: My God, are you still expecting maturity from college students?

Brooks Gal (Full of pep and just beginning to come into her own): All right, kiddies. Now how about a quick game of steal the bacon.

First Kid (Under his breath, which is now coming in short gasps): Oooooh. I simply haven't the energy for steal the bacon.

Second Kid: I sympathize with you, but it certainly isn't as bad as those insane boys that were here at Christmas with those ridiculous model airplanes. Did they get a kick out of those!

First Kid: I suppose so.

A bell rings. It is time for the girls to return to the college. Another afternoon of making little children happy comes to a close.
