

May 10, 1929

Dr. William E. Barton
Lake Placid Club
Lake Placid, N.Y.

Dear Dr. Barton:

What a nice letter you wrote me on April 27!
I have been away or I should have answered it before.

And thank you for repeating the invitation you gave me so cordially a long time ago to visit Foxboro. I should love to do so - to see your Lincoln Room as well as the whole setting there which must be unusually beautiful. You say it is the centre of the universe, and where could that be except where the Rev. William E. Barton is?

I shall look with great interest for your genealogical swan song, and get it as soon as it comes out.

Success to your new address, "The Lincoln of the Biographers."

Faithfully yours

Miss Tarbell was obliged to leave town so I am sending this letter without her reading or signing it.