My dear Miss Tarbell:

When you inscribed my copy of "All in the Day's Work," of course, you would not remember me and the days you spent in the Library of the National Safety Council where I was librarian many years ago.

Your kindness and friendliness at that time has always meant much to me through the years and I want to tell you how much I know I am going to enjoy your book which came this morning.

With kindest regard, I remain

Very truly yours,

Wm. B. Day
Librarian
