Gardner Heads Campus Staff Next Year

Former News Editor Takes Over
Brossman's Old Job

Henry Gardner was appointed editor of the Campus at a meeting held last Tuesday by retiring editor Robert Brossman, '42, and faculty adviser Frederick F. Seely.

Gardner, a junior, is a veteran of three years' experience on the paper, serving in the circulation, sports, and news departments. He filled the post of news editor this year. He is a member of Phi Gamma Delta, manager of the swimming team, editor of the Allegheny Athletic news, and a member of the History and Political Science club and Outing club.

Other appointments are:

Warren Winkler, '43, and Peggy Williams, '43, assistant editors. Winkler has served on the news staff for the past two years and was recently appointed defense editor. Miss Williams was in charge of women's news this past year and previously served in the news department.

Bernard Dusenberry, '43, remains as sports editor, a position which he has capably filled for over a year.

George Robinette, '43, will fill the newly-created position of feature editor. He has served in the sports and news departments in the past year.

Peggy Laley, '43, will continue in the position of society editor, which task she has been handling in an efficient manner this past year.

Haskel Hoffenberg, '44, will assume the duties of technical editor, another new position. Assisting him will be Burton Neiner, '43.

Jeanette Pyle, '45, will fill the position of typing editor.

James Aiken, '42, will continue as business manager until the end of the school year. Osborn Belt, '43, is assistant business manager.

Robert Nichols, '42, will also continue in his position as circulation manager until the close of the school year.

Leap Week Begins Morning of April 6

6, Leap week begins on the Allegheny campus. In order that the girls will do their dating according to rules, a list of "Do's and Don't's" will be distributed Tuesday after chapel.

Patricia Armitage, '44, general chairman, has appointed the following members to her committee: Dee Jay Konstanzer, '42; Jane Heibel, Libbie Hart, and Anne Rinehart, all of '44; and Florence von Wahl, Martha Gosser, and Pat Pittenger, all of '45.

In the event that the junior prom is slated for the week-end of the 18th of April, leap week will be closed with a Sadie Hawkins dance Saturday night.

Pre-Registration Deadline April 3

Pre-registration for all pre-summer, summer school, and fall term courses must be completed by Easter vacation, beginning Friday, April 3. Students should arrange to see their advisers before the end of this period.

Courses offered during the included terms are listed in the college catalogue and summer school bulletin, with the exception of those offered in the three-week session preceding summer school, which were listed in last week's issue of the Campus.

Registration for both incoming freshmen and upperclassmen will be held at the registrar's office on June 8 for the first term or the entire summer session. Incoming students may register for the second term on July 20.

Chester Heads Athletic Group

Virginia Chester, '44, was chosen as president of the Women's Athletic association, it was announced by Bettymae McComb, '43, retiring president, after the election last Monday.

Jean Merrill, '44, will succeed Paula Prang, '43, as vice-president, and Alice Schulmeister, '45, will take over Jean Merrill's duties as secretary.

Services Sunday Feature Concert, Gettemy Speech

Special Palm Sunday services with James Gettemy, '41, speaking on "Easter Message," will be sponsored by the Allegheny Christian Council at 10:30 a. m. next Sunday. The Singers, under the direction of Morten J. Luvaas, will present two anthems as their part in the services. The speaker, James Gettemy, graduated last June from Allegheny and is at present a student in the Union Theological Seminary.

The Sunday morning discussions will be resumed on April 12 with Mr. Philip M. Benjamin leading the group.

Another future activity of the A. C. C. will be a piano recital by Mr. William R. Tongue on Sunday, April 19, at 7:00 p. m. His selections will include numbers from a group of old masters, Bach, Handel, Beethoven, Schubert, Mendelssohn, and Debussy. The admission proceeds will go for the benefit of the World Student Service Fund.

Registrar Offering Downtown Jobs

All students wanting part-time work through the summer and fall sessions, or starting now, should apply immediately to Registrar Anderson's secretary in Bentley hall. Several positions are open now.

This is an attempt by the registrar to establish an employment service to fit students to jobs downtown. Cards were sent out to many local merchants, asking them to list all present or future vacancies which could profitably be filled by students working part-time. Many of these cards have been returned and many opportunities have been placed before students to aid in making expenses. The registrar's office will select students to fill each position.

Rumpelstiltskin Shown Tomorrow

Rumpelstiltskin, comedy play, the last new production of the year, will be shown tomorrow and Saturday.

College students will be admitted on Friday night only at 7:00 p. m. while the Saturday afternoon program at 2:00 is for children only. The entire play is one and one-half hours long and tickets are 28c, with no reserved seats.

Singers Plan Benefit Performance

The Allegheny Singers charity concert will be presented tonight at 8:15 in the high school auditorium. Full proceeds from the Allegheny ticket sales will go toward equipping the children's ward in the new addition to City hospital. Tickets are $.55.

Headed by John Van Strien, '43, the following group is in charge of selling tickets: Sally Emerson, '42, to the women students; John Petre, '43, to fraternities; Andrew Kapusta, '45, to the students in Caffisch; and Henry Gardner '43, to faculty members.

Through the cooperation of the Allegheny Undergraduate Council and the hospital's junior auxiliary, the concert has been planned to help furnish the children's ward in the new addition to City hospital.

The concert program is as follows:

Part I
O Savior, Throw the Heavens
Wide ----- Brahms
Behold a Rose of Beauty ----- Reissiger
As Mary Walked through
Thorny Woods -----
From Pederborn's Geistliche
Volkslieder
Comest Thou Light of Gladness ----- Herzogenberg
There Many Shall Come ----- Christiansen

Part II
Restoration ----- Edwards
As a Flower of the Field ----- Christiansen
O Sing Unto Him ----- Luvaas
Regeneration ----- Christiansen
Lord Hosanna ----- Schreck

Part III
Spring Longing ----- Luvaas
Mountains ----- Czech Folk Song
Boating Song-Bohemian Folk Tune
The Singers will present a group of songs on Palm Sunday morning at 10:00 in the Chapel and will also be heard at 5:00 that afternoon in the Methodist church in Franklin, Pennsylvania.
The remainder of their spring schedule will be:
April 1—Titusville Presbyterian Church—8:15 p. m.
April 19—Indiana, Pennsylvania, Methodist church—11 a. m.
April 19—Greensburg, Pennsylvania—4 p. m.
Emory Church, Pittsburgh—8 p. m.
April 26—Erie, Pennsylvania, First Methodist Church—5 p. m.

A. W. S. MEETING

Tomorrow afternoon at 4 p. m., A.W.S. meet in chapel, Sally Emerson announced today. All women students are required to attend unless special permission obtained from A.W.S. president. $1 fine assessed girls who fail to attend without excuse.

Faculty Wives Send Greetings

Allegheny graduates and ex-students now in the service will have something to look forward to on Easter morning. For to each one whose name and address is available will be sent a special Easter greeting from the faculty wives. This greeting will be in the form of a box of Easter candies in varied assortment. Mrs. John R. Schultz, spokesman for the group, has stated that the boxes will be in the mail by the middle or last of this week, and will thus reach their destinations in ample time to face Easter morning on wartime footing.

Booklet To Offer Freshman Hints

Designed especially to help freshman women coming to Allegheny next fall is the woman students' booklet—a new project here—now being planned.

Jane Burwell, '43, who is in charge of the publication, stresses the fact that everyone is invited to help. She asks for suggestions concerning hints, customs, etc., to be included in the booklet. Artists, too, are needed, according to Miss Burwell. A box has been placed on the reception desk in Brooks for suggestions.

Bishop Holt Will Speak at Commencement

Benjamin Named Chairman
of Commencement Program;
Activities Start May 16

Bishop Ivan Lee Holt, prominent Methodist churchman, will speak at the 1942 commencement exercises to be held Sunday, May 17, in Montgomery gymnasium, according to an announcement Tuesday by Philip M. Benjamin, general chairman of the event.

Bishop Holt, president of the Federal Council of Churches in America, is also a member of the board of trustees of Southern Methodist university. He was a representative of Protestant American churches at a special meeting of the World Council of Churches at Geneva, Switzerland, in the summer of 1939.

Jan Pearce, Opera Singer, Here on Tuesday, April 7

Jan Pearce, leading American tenor, who has appeared in concert and opera from coast to coast, will be heard here in the high school auditorium on Tuesday, April 7, under the sponsorship of the Meadville Civic Music association.

This brilliant young singer reached fame by bridging the nation via the leading radio networks, and has in the last six years made personal appearances in all the great concert emporia from Carnegie Hall to the Hollywood Bowl.

Twice Toscanini's choice for the Carnegie Hall performance of Beethoven's Ninth Symphony, Mr. Pearce was also soloist in Rachmaninoff's "The Bells," which the composer himself conducted in New York and Philadelphia. The tenor repeated this rendition with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra the following fall.

At his first Town Hall concert in New York November, 1939, Pearce's audience thronged the auditorium and shouted, "Bravo!" The following day the critics unanimously proclaimed him "the artistic triumph of the season."

Last March the singer was heard in his first solo recital in Carnegie Hall where, as the New York Times reported, "he was greeted by a large audience which insisted on encores at the end of each group and five at the end of the program."

The recital by America's leading tenor on April 7 will mark Pearce's first visit to Meadville.

Students Attend Mock Peace Parley

A group of delegates from Allegheny headed by Clarence Yarrow of the history and political science department will leave for Harrisburg tomorrow to attend a two-day Intercollegiate Conference on government. Student delegates will be Arthur Diskin, '42; Barney Radov, '45; Joan Hexter, '45; Louise Hartzfield, '45.

The convention will take the form of a mock peace conference, in which the delegates will try to place themselves in the position of statesmen from the various nations. Terms of the treaty will be drawn up, according to the Atlantic Charter, and the delegates will have an opportunity to weigh the problems of each nation and class. Other problems likely to arise in making a just peace will be given consideration.

Cwen Tapping Next Wednesday

Cwen tapping has been postponed from Saturday, March 28, to Wednesday, April 8, at 7:00 p. m. in the ravine.

All freshman women are expected to attend.

Announcements

Easter vacation begins Friday morning, April 3. Classes will be held through Thursday afternoon.

Postage stamps are no longer sold at the treasurer's office. They may be purchased at the Grill.

Benjamin was chosen general chairman of the commencement program; Chester A. Darling, of the biology department, chief marshal; and Julian Ross and Guy Buckingham, of the faculty, assistant marshals at a faculty meeting held last Tuesday afternoon.

A tentative program for the two days' ceremonies, Saturday and Sunday, May 16, 17, was also decided on at this meeting.

Alumni Day, to be held Saturday, will include many events of interest to the alumni, featuring an alumni college, a luncheon, dedication of the Lord gate, a Singers concert, and fraternity, sorority, and independent dinners. In the evening, a choice may be made between the senior promenade and a Playshop performance.

A baccalaureate service Sunday morning in the Stone church and commencement exercises in the gymnasium that afternoon will feature the next day's program. A faculty reception and buffet supper will be held following the commencement in the alumni gardens if weather permits.

The tentative program is as follows:

Saturday, May 16—Alumni Day
11:00 a. m. Alumni college, discussions by faculty members on various topics of current interest.
12:30 p. m. Alumni luncheon, Brooks hall
2:30 p. m. Phi Beta Kappa meeting
3:00 p. m. Dedication of Lord gate
3:30 p. m. Singers concert
6:00 p. m. Fraternity, sorority, and independent dinners
9:00 p. m. Senior promenade, sponsored by A. U. C.
9:00 p. m. Playshop performance
Sunday, May 17—Commencement
10:45 a. m. Baccalaureate service, Stone church
3:00 p. m. Commencement, Bishop Ivan Lee Holt, speaker, Montgomery gym
Plans are also underway for Founder's day on April 24 and for Moving-up day in May.

Corliss Resigns Secretarial Job

Miss Ruth Corliss recently resigned her position as secretary to President William P. Tolley and is now employed by the Fraser-Brace company, the government munitions plant being built at Geneva.

Senior Secretarial Student Charlotte Miller is temporarily taking over the work of president's secretary.

Future Policy

TODAY'S is the first issue of the Campus under the new editorship and it is appropriate that we state our policy and general plans for the next year.

In the belief that the Campus is a student newspaper primarily, we shall endeavor to present all news of interest to the student body that is obtainable.

We believe that no newspaper, no matter how well prepared, can be of value unless read and so we will attempt to meet the desires of the student body as to content. We will continue to make such changes as have been made in the last three weeks and retain them or drop them according to student response.

We invite those who opinions may be contrary to ours to present these opinions in the Letters column. We invite suggestions as to editorials.

We feel that a publication such as the Gadfly should not be necessary in a college that already has a student newspaper and we invite its contributors to make use of this paper instead.

We shall try to include as many pictures as possible in the Campus, with necessary deference to our budget, in the belief that pictures add interest to the paper and brighten up its pages.

We shall attempt to keep students informed of the latest developments in Washington through syndicated dispatches on measures affecting college students.

We shall do our best to keep in touch with students in the armed forces and shall publish letters received from them from time to time.

We ask only cooperation from the student body. In our attempts to represent them at all times, we shall occasionally need their strong support.

Together, the Campus and the students can accomplish much. Without student help, the Campus is merely a bulletin containing announcements.

Sunday Open-Houses

IN THE first week of December, the Men's Undergraduate council drew up a petition asking for the privilege of inviting guests to fraternity houses between the hours of 12:30 and 10:30 p. m., Sunday.

Petitions asking for this grant were circulated among the various fraternities and submitted to the faculty during that week.

Faculty action was delayed until after the Christmas vacation. The subject was then brought up at the next regular faculty meeting and a vote was taken.

The vote was decidedly opposed to such a step. A committee of the faculty was appointed to meet with delegates of the Men's Undergraduate council and explain the reason for rejection of the plan.

Two months have passed since the faculty meeting. Faculty representatives and MUC members have not met.

They realize that the proposal has been turned down. Yet, they have received no explanation for the rejection.

We realize that the faculty have a great deal more to do now than they have in the past. We appreciate that their extra efforts are, for the most part, on behalf of the students.

Yet, a measure such as this, sponsored by nine-tenths of the men students at Allegheny, and backed by the majority of student opinion, deserves special recognition by the administration and its rejection should not occur without sufficient explanation to the student body.

Vaguely Speaking

"Hey, George, are you going to the Phi Psi smoker? Yes, the Sigs have been invited. Free cigarettes! O. K. See you there!" Yes, the Phi Psis had a smoker and invited the Sigs. The fellows arrived. Came 8 o'clock, no cigarettes; 9 o'clock and still the Phi Psis hadn't passed out any cigarettes. By 10 the fellows were DROOLING for a smoke. A fine smoker, with no cigarettes! Then MA arrived. The smoker was saved. She handed them the keys and the fellows scrambled to get to the cigarettes. She had locked them up so no one would smoke them until the allotted time. Another peculiar side of this is that the next day a majority of the Sigs got sick. Maybe MA should have stayed away.

Did you ever hear a person say, "I'd like to be a little mouse and hide in corners and spy on people"? The Cochran girls are fully aware of that fact. This past week there was one "spying" at 4:30 A. M. and another at 7:30 A. M. KAY TAYLOR and MARGIE STERETT came to the rescue the first time. They picked up the waste paper basket where a little mouse was having a lot of fun, and promptly dumped him out of the front window. I might add, along with everything in the basket. Check off one! The 7:30 A. M. episode occurred the same way. ANNA MAE THOMPSON and MILLIE SHURTLEFF watched the little fellow-mouse going around in circles in the basket. It took the cleaning lady to put a stop to the circus. So beware, little mice. Cochran is setting a trap for you.

If you heard "Truth or Consequences" on Sunday evening you would have heard men singing "out" of the shower and also "in" the shower. The idea being to find out whether a man is at his vocal best in or out of a shower. They finally decided that "in" was better. It's too bad that PAT MURPHY didn't hear that program. He could then have told the proctor of this discovery when he was kicked out of the shower because he was singing.

GIRLS: At this point you have two alternatives:

1. Get a date in the evening.
2. Be in the dorm by 9 o'clock.

That is the way rumor had it at the beginning of this week. They say that the faculty wants to put a 9 o'clock curfew into effect for those girls who do not have dates. Get them off of the nice Meadville streets. Of course, girls, you don't have to worry about this just yet. It is merely food for thought.

The B. K.'s went to the trouble of getting authentic decorations for their "Bowery Brawl" on Saturday evening. They searched Meadville for some beer barrels. (As if that would be difficult.) They obtained some and took the barrels into the kitchen. The funny part was that when they placed them on the table, BEER started to trickle out of the barrels.

You have all seen the TOM K. WILLIAMS shop that is under construction downtown on the corner of Chestnut and Park with the special peep holes for men and women. That's one way to see things. Another method is the one employed by the Cochran girls. They use an entire Cafisch window. I further understand the boys were very much disturbed when this was discovered.

We are all conscious of "of the months" that our present society uses. There are "books of the month," "movies of the month" and even "dresses of the month." BOB LEECH, the inner-state playboy, has a super idea. That is, "girl of the month." Maybe DEL CRAWFORD will use this method, instead of his, shall we say, new modern SUIT. At least we can dream, can't we?

Air Training Course Enlarged

Ten more students may be added to the secondary flying course, according to Civilian Pilot Training Coordinator Dale Thomas. These, in addition to those already enrolled, will make a total of 20 students taking the secondary course.

The reason for this large enrollment is that Allegheny is the only school in the district which offers the secondary course. The new students will begin the ground instruction March 24 and will complete their training June 15, whereas those already enrolled will complete their training May 7.

For the summer session, Allegheny has been requested to enroll 30 students in the elementary course and 20 for the secondary course.

Trainees enrolling in the course, which is sponsored by the government, must submit an affidavit that upon completion of the secondary course they will enter the Army or Navy air service or will act as a primary instructor for the Army or C. P. T.

Stepping Out with Peggy Laley

Open house . . . music and refreshments with Miss Skinner as hostess in her apartment . . . all upperclass women are invited to the second of Miss Skinner's monthly coffee hours this Sunday, 3-5:30.

To honor their pledges, Cecilia Ballinger, Nancy Filer, and Dorothy Walker, the Alpha Chi Omega seniors will serve dinner for the chapter Monday evening in the rooms.

A corny atmosphere will greet the guests of Phi Kappa Psi Saturday night—corny in the true western style. In fact, the house will be turned into a barn for the occasion of the Phi Psi chapter party. Dinner will be served at 5:30; after that, the group will see a western thriller at the Meade theater. Dancing—square and otherwise—to Paul Loesch's orchestra will finish off the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Glover, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Werner, and Miss Ann Pomeroy and Mr. Van Hartman have been asked to chaperon.

A torpedoed ship found off the coast of the Fiji Islands. . . Survivors who are trying to make the best of the situation, have planned to hold a party on their island Saturday night, with Benny Jones' orchestra making the music. Blackouts, appropriate costumes, and inside and outside decorations will all help to set the stage for the Phi Gamma Delta shipwreck party, to be chaperoned by Miss Mildred Ludwig and Mr. Albert Ogilvie and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Younger. Constant war reminders, such as the blackouts, will bring in a timely element to the Phi Gams' annual South Sea island party.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Yarrow and Mr. Edward Johe were Phi Gam dinner guests last Tuesday. Calvin Stoddard, field secretary of the national fraternity, was guest of the house the first part of this week.

The Rainbow guild, an auxiliary of Delta Tau Delta, will serve a tureen supper to the actives and the town alumni at the Delt house Friday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Werner were chaperons for the Delt radio party last Saturday evening.

Mr. William Sands, ex-'44, and his wife were guests at the Phi Delt house Tuesday evening.

Getting their inspiration from Li'l Abner and the backwoods Kentuckians, Sigma Alpha Epsilon is planning its Dogpatch chapter party for Saturday night. Guests will dress as Dogpatch characters—Daisy Mae, Pansy, Li'l Abner, the Scraggs, etc. Square dancing is on the program for the evening. Mr. and Mrs. John Cavelti are to be the chaperons.

A prize will be awarded to the best-costumed guests at the Alpha Chi Rho chapter party tomorrow night. The idea is that the costumes should represent a book. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cares, chaperons, will be the judges.

Gambling, drinking, and murder ran rampant at the Beta Kappa house last Saturday night. Miss Ruth Gilchrist and Mr. Howard Koppel were there as chaperons, but instead of quelling the vices, they were among the main instigators. But it was all part of the Bowery Brawl, the B. K.'s chapter party. Guests frequented the impromptu bar where everything from whiskey sours to zombies (various soft-drink concoctions) was served. Top gambler of the evening proved to be Jack Mason who increased his original paper money holdings by $20,000 through the crap games, roulette wheels, and the various other wicked devices found in the waterfront joint.

Recently, Donald Forbeck, '45, was elected secretary of the organization. John Hampson, '43, and David Bloomquist, '44, also received chapter offices.

James Olds, ex-'43, and Paul Bloomquist were week-end guests.

Letter to the Editor:

Editor of the Campus:

Mr. Cavelti, Mr. Giddens, and Mr. Tolley—your very much needed round table on current events in Tuesday's chapel was well done. But strangely enough, few of your listeners were interested. Naturally, the faculty paid attention, but for the most part the student body didn't care to hear a discussion of England's imperialistic set-backs.

Was this lack of interest our own fault, or was it the result of the indifferent attitude that has been fostered on our campus since the outbreak of hostilities?

With the exception of the fellows who had to register for the draft, the Allegheny student body doesn't know their country is in a death struggle, and what's more, they don't care. They don't want to know whether or not England is losing her colonies. They don't want to hear of the possibility that Hitler may rout the Russian army this spring. They're not interested in developments on the European war fronts, for, you see, they don't realize that those battlefields are now our frontiers.

A lack of interest in the war has been cultivated here. Until we receive some stimulus from above to awaken our regard for our country's affairs, discussions of this type will meet with the same sort of indifference.

Haskel Hoffenberg, '44.

Ex-Secretary to Chiang Kai-shek Will Speak Here

Colonel M. Thomas Tchou (pronounced Chew), Chinese authority on Asiatic affairs, will speak in chapel on April 8. His talk is sponsored by the Philo-Franklin union.

Col. Tchou, who was former private secretary to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, has proven extremely popular for his intelligent interpretation of world affairs during his coast-to-coast lecture tours in past seasons.

Having been a student in Europe for nine years, receiving his degree from the University of Glasgow, Scotland, in mechanical, civil, and naval engineering, Col. Tchou is an authority on European as well as Asiatic affairs. He is author of many publications, organized the New Life Movement in China, drafted China's housing plans, factory laws and labor relations laws, and launched the World Citizens Movement in September, 1940.

The greatest amount of praise paid Col. Tchou bears on "his quick and incisive thought, his keen sense of humor, his eloquent use of the English language, and his ability to go to the heart of every question."

John Petre, '43, has taken over the head-waiter position at Cochran, succeeding Henry Leitzel, '42. Petre will assume duties this week.

Just to keep basketball out of the mothballs one week longer, it struck our fancy to pick an intramural all-star team.

Each contestant was judged mainly on points scored, for that is what they pay off on in this league, and also team play, a prime essential for any competitor in any league.

First Team

C. Spears—A. X. P.
G. Minnick—B. K.
G. Weller—P. K. P.

Intramural Point Standings

The Phi Deltas still hold a comfortable margin over the field in their drive toward the intramural cup. At present they are 43 points in front of their nearest competitor, the Phi Psis. This tabulation includes varsity and freshman basketball, intramural basketball, varsity swimming and intramural swimming.

The standings:

Phi Delta Theta	505
Phi Kappa Psi	462
Sigma Alpha Epsilon	425
Phi Gamma Delta	421
Alden Men	316
Alpha Chi Rho	253
Beta Kappa	181
Delta Tau Delta	176

DID YOU KNOW—

That Karl J. Lawrence, erstwhile basketball mentor at Allegheny, was one of the college coaches selected by "Pic" magazine to name an all-American basketball team for that publication? "Cagey," who recently completed his first year as head basketball coach at Colgate, took his team to Madison Square Garden for an engagement with N. Y. C., midway through the season.

Intramural Bowling

Sigma Alpha Epsilon began the bowling season in a big way by upsetting the vaunted Phi Psis in two out of three games. Mong was the big gun for the Sigs with 184 pins to his credit in the deciding game.

Joe Nasta, bowling in the anchor spot, finished his second game with four consecutive strikes, to clinch his team's victory over the Beta Kappas. Russ Minnick was high for the B. K.'s with 170.

Women Students Planning Library

A reading room for women students will be completed on the second floor of Brooks hall by the latter part of April, according to latest reports. This new library is being established and maintained by the Sabra Vought fund.

About 30 volumes have already been ordered by the library committee, composed of Jane Burwell, Nancy Colwell, Jean Sahli, Barbara Lee Steele, and Nancy Sutton. The books were selected from lists which were posted in women's dormitories.

Similar to the Craig room, bookshelves will line the walls of the library. Luxurious leather furniture will be an added feature.

Frosh Team Win In Open Tournament

Spill Sharon All-Stars In
First Round

Riding on the crest of two decisive post-season wins over a hapless Gator varsity basketball five, Coach Werner's rampant freshman cagers this week strayed off the campus in search of new opponents. With team member Emmett Corrigan acting as business agent, the frosh entered an open basketball tournament in Sharon, Pennsylvania, christened themselves the "Meadville Celtics," and won their first-round game last Tuesday night over the Sharon All-Stars, 27-13.

The frosh cagers were without the services of "Jap" Conroy, regular forward, and Coach Werner, who was suddenly called away from the campus due to a death in the family.

The tournament, sponsored by the Sharon Amateur association, has drawn about 30 crack aggregates, among them such noted college teams as Westminster, Slippery Rock, Edinboro, and Youngstown. A number of trophies and other rewards are on the block.

The squad itself, composed of the twin stars, Bob Todd and Bill Present, and stalwarts "Pat" Murphy, Bob Frey, Stan Chellgren, "Bud" May, and Manager "Wrongway" Corrigan was bolstered by the addition of Van Hartman, recent addition to the athletic department and former Penn State athlete.

U. of Mexico On Fall Hoop List

Allegheny's 1942-43 season basketball schedule will include a game with a team from the University of Mexico, according to Athletic Director H. P. Way, who announced the schedule recently.

The University of Mexico squad, which travels throughout the country during January, February, and March, will stop at Meadville on February 15. The Mexicans boast of an impressive record against American opponents during the past two years. Other newcomers to the Gator chart are Westminster college, Buffalo State Teachers, and Slippery Rock.

Westminster is a basketball power in the greater Pittsburgh district, having been one of the eight teams chosen to compete in the Madison Square Garden tournament last year. Buffalo State is one of the few Eastern teams to have taken the court with West Texas State Teachers. It must be added that the Buffalo boys came out on the short end of that one.

Three overnight trips are scheduled and there is a possibility that other trips may be extended to that length. The Gators will play Fenn and Oberlin on December 11 and 12. Their next long trip will carry them to Rochester and Buffalo State on successive evenings. The Gators will make another long trip to Alfred college on February 6, spending the night at Howell, New York.

The Woman's Side

By Jean Risser

Now that spring is on its way, once more we turn our thoughts to May Day. Spring at Allegheny would not be quite complete without this special day, so cease your worries—a shortened semester has not eliminated this from our social calendar. Our May Day will be May 2, the program still including the crowning of the May Queen, the interfraternity and intersorority sing and a dance. The crowning and sing, as well as the dance, will take place in the Brooks hall ballroom. The May Queen will be crowned at a ceremony starting at 7:30 with the sing to follow immediately. The sing is to be formal for the sororities, thus making the dance at 9 o'clock formal also.

Are you standing erect? Are you walking gracefully? Now is the time to check up on such things as that, for Posture Week is coming soon. Start now to improve your posture.

Highlighting a year of active study, the Modern Dance classes of Miss Elfrid Ide will present a Modern Dance program next Monday evening, March 30, at 8:30 in the Brooks hall gym. At this time there will be demonstrations of technique and color films of professional dancers. All women students are cordially invited to attend.

Many spectators were on hand in Brooks hall Tuesday evening to watch the final match of the ping-pong tournament. Both Virginia Chester and June Patterson played very good ping-pong, but Virginia Chester succeeded in winning her second straight ping-pong championship here at Allegheny.

The shuffleboard tournament has been narrowed down to three participants—Virginia Bennett, Dorothy Devlin, and Betty Jane Keys. This tournament should be completed as soon as possible.

The basketball tournament is a thing of the past now. The final game between the Thetas and the Independents was played Tuesday afternoon. The Independents came through as the victors, but not until after a hard-fought battle with overtime playing necessary to break a tie at the end of four quarters. The final score was Independents, 22; Thetas, 18.

The schedule for 1942-43:

Dec. 11—Fenn college at Cleveland	12—Oberlin college at Oberlin	15—Westminster at Meadville
Jan. 8—Thiel college at Meadville	12—Grove City at Grove City	15—Rochester at Rochester, N. Y.
16—Buffalo State at Buffalo, N. Y.	Feb. 2—Slippery Rock at Meadville	6—Alfred college at Alfred
9—Carnegie Tech at Pittsburgh	15—University of Mexico at Meadville	17—Thiel at Greenville
23—Hiram at Meadville	25—Westminster at New Wilmington	Mar. 2—University of Buffalo at Meadville

Cinder Men Start Season

Werner Schedules First Practice
Sessions In Gym

The track squad will hold its first practice of the year next Monday afternoon in the gymnasium, Alfred Werner, head coach, announced this week. The first meeting of candidates for the squad was held yesterday afternoon in the gym, at which time the announcement of the practice schedule was made.

The initial rehearsals of the squad will be held indoors in the gym and will be devoted almost entirely to conditioning exercises for the first few days.

Coach Werner emphasized the importance that these early drills have on the team's performance later in the year when he said: "One of the most common errors of the ill-advised and untrained athlete is that of overdoing things in initial workouts. A good midseason performance is based upon proper conditioning in the early stages and a gradual development as the season progresses rather than upon strenuous and excessive practices from the beginning. The team's practice schedule is designed to meet this requirement."

However, with the weather permitting, the squad will start holding outside drills in about a week or two and swing into more intensive work in preparation for their opening meet on April 28 with Carnegie Tech at Pittsburgh.

Heading the list of veterans returning from last year's squad is Ed Gasteiger, captain of the squad, and Bill Pierce, holder of the college record for the pole vault at 11 feet, 7 inches. In addition to Gasteiger and Pierce, such veterans as Caruthers, Riegger, and Leitzel in the distances, and MacPherson, Craig, Larson, Strong, Cramer, and Anger in the sprints and hurdles, will be returning.

The field events will see Cramer, August, MacPherson, Craig, and Pierce back again.

In addition to these men the team should be able to glean a wealth of supporting material from the sophomore and junior classes.

The season's schedule is as follows:

April 28—Carnegie Tech at Pittsburgh
May 2—Kenyon at Meadville
May 6—Alliance at Meadville
May 9—Mt. Union at Meadville

Gilchrist Holds Tennis Clinic For Women

A tennis clinic for girls will be held in the Brooks hall gymnasium next Wednesday at 4:00 p. m., it was announced Tuesday by Miss Gilchrist.

The primary purpose of the clinic is to aid those girls who expect to take tennis in the spring quarter of the physical education program. In order to telescope some of the preliminary instruction required in the course, the clinic will be largely devoted to instruction in the proper procedure for practices and fundamentals of the game.

Mr. H. P. Way, coach of the varsity tennis team, will be on hand to give a demonstration of the mechanics of the game and advice and instruction on practice.

Time Staggerers On!

By GEORGE ROBINETTE

In the Campus—March 23, 1932. —The exact opposite of what happened last Monday (which oddly enough was March 23, 1942) occurred when the Phi Psis defeated the Sigs in an intramural bowling match. Rolling 691 in one game, the winners drew the Campus comment (ironically enough) that their score "was exceptionally high for such ill-conditioned alleys."

—Donald Murray, who now holds forth in Bentley as chief of college publicity, was then listed as sports editor of the "rag."

—A mock presidential election was being promoted with much publicity by the Campus. Ballots were printed in the issue listing the following possibilities for the "top job": Republican—Herbert Hoover; Democratic—F. D. R.; Socialist—Norman Thomas. A referendum question on the alcohol problem offered these voting possibilities on the ballot: DRY—strict prohibition enforcement; TEMPERANT—light wines and beer; WET—absolutely no restrictions.

—Believe it or not—there was printed a balance sheet, and profit and loss statement for the college bookstore for the year ended June 6, 1931, as presented by professional auditors.

A net profit of $123.12 was shown.

—An Allegheny alumnus, R. F. Wilson, was being hailed as co-author of the great, then-current Broadway comedy hit, "Blessed Event."

—Reminiscently, there were printed "moans" about campus elections and a plan was being considered to "remove the stigma of unfair election from men chosen in the future to lead their respective classes."

—The Campus timidly published this in one corner:—"At the University of Denver, members of the student paper go on a house party at the end of each term. The reason is to formulate plans for future issues."

—One Dr. Meno Spann, a University of North Carolina German instructor, had just delivered a chapel talk on the poet, Goethe. (We imagine Mrs. (now) Woodworth must have been one of the most interested listeners.)

—The issue reported the results of a great "intramural night" boxing and wrestling extravaganza. The whole school and "a number of town enthusiasts gathered at Allegheny's Madison Square Garden" to watch with glee four technical K.O.'s out of seven boxing matches, and a number of apparently terrific, violently fought mat encounters.
