

Senate Fosters Student Government Revision Plan

ATHLETIC COUNCIL PROPOSES CHANGES

PLAN REDUCING MANAGERSHIP COMPETITION TO ONE YEAR REJECTED.

The regular chapel service last Friday morning was given over to the Athletic Association, and several matters were brought before the men of the school. Stan Plumb proposed the following amendments to the Athletic Constitution: 1. That no student shall hold two athletic managerships during the same school year. This amendment was passed without any discussion. 2. That a student who has been elected assistant manager in any sport during his Sophomore year shall, without any further competition in his Junior year be assured of the said managership his Senior year. A heated discussion followed the announcement of this proposition and a motion for its adoption was defeated by a large majority.

The matter of granting the boxers their minor A's for participation in the bouts at Case was also put to a vote of the students. The motion was carried that the boxers who participated in the bouts at Case be awarded minor A's.

PHILO-FRANKLIN CONTEST TO BE HELD MAY 19

The orations for the Philo-Franklin Contest are due on Monday, May 2. All the speakers are requested to hand in to the Registrar's Office, their name and title of their oration inclosed in an envelope. This will do away with the signature on the oration itself, as the title will be the means of identification. The present date set for the contest is Thursday, May 19.

DR. SNAVELY IS PRESIDENT OF SOUTHERN COLLEGE

Was for Several Years a Member of the Faculty At Allegheny

Dr. Guy E. Snavely, who was connected with Allegheny for many years, has been elected President of Birmingham Southern College. According to word sent here Dr. Snavely has accepted the position and will enter the new work in the near future. In the past few years he has been Dean of the Faculty of Converse College at Spartansburg, S. C., and met with the greatest success. Birmingham Southern College is one of the best educational institutions of the South. It was established in 1856 and has a student body of 327 and 18 instructors.

Dr. Snavely came to Allegheny in 1906 and was here until 1917 when he went to Spartansburg. He was a graduate of Johns Hopkins and received his doctorate from there in 1908. He studied at Alliance Francaise, Paris, in 1905 and became an instructor in French here in 1906. In 1907, he became assistant professor and professor in 1909. He was on sabbatical leave in 1914-15 and then did research work at Columbia University, and was visiting Professor of

KLEE-O-KLEET PLAY SCHEDULED FOR MAY 3

CAREFULLY CHOSEN COSTUMES WILL LEND ATMOSPHERE TO PRODUCTION.

The finishing touches are now being given to the Klee-o-Kleet production, "Quality Street," and all arrangements have been made for its presentation on May 3. All the characters are well suited to their parts from Helen Bowman, as that bad little boy Thomas, to Elouise Pink, who plays the leading role of Phoebe.

Costumes are to be furnished by Arthur W. Tams, New York. These costumes will furnish a real atmosphere to the play and the audience will readily imagine itself in the little home of Phoebe and Susan Throssel in Quality Street, at the time of the Napoleonic Wars.

MISSIONARY REVEALS CONDITIONS IN CHINA

DR. SESCHLER, OF BAPTIST BOARD OF FOREIGN MISSIONS, SPEAKS HERE.

Presenting an appeal in behalf of China, Dr. Leschler, of the Baptist Board of Foreign Missions, spoke before the Chapel audience on Tuesday morning of last week. As a medical missionary to the Orient, he has had first hand experience with conditions in those lands.

To illustrate the adaptability of the people to disease, he told of the sanitary conditions existing in the particular city in which he had had his headquarters. In a city with an area of one-half that of Meadville, there is a population of nearly twenty times that here, or about two hundred and fifty thousand.

He enlightened the audience upon the physical strength and grit which the Chinamen possess. The tale of the two men who carried a bulk of two hundred and fifty pounds four miles in seventy minutes proved the former while the description of the operation of the intended suicide, without recourse to any anaesthesia or cocaine, substantiated the latter.

The missionary shattered the idea that service in the foreign field is monotonous by his anecdote of his experiences during the black plague outbreak. During this description, there were revealed some interesting customs among which was the habit of the women of never appearing in public unless heavily veiled. Some very pitiable conditions were emphasized in the narration of his trip back from the city, and of his inoculating some six hundred and forty odd people. He closed his talk with a statement that spirit is the only prerequisite needed by the intended missionary.

SEEK TO MAKE BODY MORE REPRESENTATIVE CLAIM AMENDMENTS NECESSARY

Representation to be on Basis of Fraternities Instead of Classes

Yielding to the need for reform which has been voiced many times during the past few years the Men's Senate at their meeting last week adopted amendments to the constitution proposed by the President. These amendments, if passed by the student body will completely change the basis of representation on the Senate as the fraternities will be represented rather than classes.

An open discussion will be held in chapel Friday morning at which the President of the Senate will preside. At this meeting the various amendments will be explained more fully to the men of the college and any questions that may come up will be answered.

On Saturday morning from 10:40 to 11:40 an election will be held by secret ballot at which the opinion of the men on the proposed changes will be voiced.

The articles which have been changed subject to adoption are: Articles II, IV, and V, which comprise the composition of the body, the nominations of members, and the election of members, including the sections of each.

Considerable unfavorable comment concerning the present system which has been in existence for several years was the cause which led the Senate to draw up new regulations. Under the new constitution the officers will be representative of the fraternity and non-fraternity organizations, every group having a voice in the body. This, it is stated, with each man a member of the Senior Class will provide an organization whose power will more favorably represent the students.

The draft, with comment and explanations, follow:

Article II—Composition.

Section 1—Membership. "The membership of the Senate shall include one Senior from each of the men's fraternities; one from each recognized non-fraternity organization of a similar character; and one representative for men not included in any of the above mentioned groups."

This differs from the original in that at present seven men compose the body: four Seniors, two Juniors, and one Sophomore. Members of the Senate state that the classes do not play an important part in the administration of the body, and all agree that the members, as far as possible, should be Seniors.

Section 2—"When a member of the Senate having been duly nominated and elected in accordance with the

J. E. Reynolds Speaks at Founders' Day Exercises

T. W. Fessenden, D.D., Delivers Sermon After Talk by Prof. Ross

With the chapel crowded to capacity the most successful commemoration of Founders' Day ever held was celebrated in Ford Memorial Chapel, on April 24. The history of the founding of the college, its benefactors and present challenge were discussed by the Hon. John E. Reynolds, Prof. C. F. Ross, and Rev. T. W. Fessenden, respectively. Special music was given by the regular choir, assisted by the Misses Josephine Perkins, Ruth McCafferty, and Messrs. Webster Melcher and Kenneth Hines. The chapel was decorated with banners and flowers.

Hon. John E. Reynolds, whose grandfather was a member of the first meeting of the founders of the college, discussed that meeting. In 1815 the Rev. Timothy Alden and his family came to Meadville with the hope of sometime establishing in the vicinity a collegiate institution. At that time Meadville was the county seat of Crawford County and the four surrounding counties. It possessed a public library, public meeting house, court house, and a jail; while it published the third weekly newspaper of the county. A society had been organized whose purpose was identical with that of the present Chamber of Commerce. The First Bank of Northwestern Pennsylvania had been organized. Thus Meadville had forged ahead of the surrounding towns because of broad vision, enterprise, public spirit and more than average intelligence of its citizens.

It was to this town that Timothy Alden, a lineal descendant of John Alden, came, a graduate of Harvard University, a missionary, author, instructor, and gentleman. He entered into the community life at once and on June 20, 1815, published a notice of a meeting in the court house to consider the expediency of founding a collegiate association. The room was crowded with the public spirited men of Meadville. Major Roger Alden was elected chairman. It was decided to found at Meadville a college with advantages for a classical education teaching the liberal arts and sciences in the region bounded by the Allegheny river and to be called from the river, Allegheny. Timothy Alden was appointed president and professor of Oriental Language and Ecclesiastical History, and authorized to visit in the east to solicit gifts for founding the

SOPHS DEFEAT FROSH IN ANNUAL DEBATE

JUDGES SETTLE COAL MINE QUESTION IN FAVOR OF AFFIRMATIVE.

The annual Freshman-Sophomore debate took place last Friday evening in the chapel. A spirited contest was anticipated and enjoyed. The Sophomores, who have won every contest with the Freshmen this year, were determined to win, while the Freshmen were equally determined that they should win at least one event this year. The decision of the judges was not a great surprise to the audience, as it was generally conceded that the Sophomores had won a decisive victory. This debate settles the supremacy of the two classes in this particular field.

The question for debate was: "Resolved, That the United States Should Own and Operate the Coal Mines." The Sophomores decisively expounded the affirmative and the Freshmen valiantly tried to win with the side. Clifford W. Skinner presided, while the judges were Prof. C. B. Coleman, Prof. C. F. Leitel and Prof. R. W. Thomas. The decision was unanimous.

For the affirmative side, W. L. Henry, J. E. Larson, C. A. Bollinger; alternate, L. C. Blodgett. And for the negative: G. R. Braun, J. R. Vinton, M. V. Wright; alternate, C. L. Friend. The opposing sides selected the three main points of their arguments, each debater taking one point. The following points were those given by the debaters.

Affirmative—1. That present evils make some change necessary. 2. That Government ownership and operation would remedy these evils. 3.

FAY CAMPBELL GIVES INTERESTING LECTURE BEFORE JOINT MEETING.

An address by Mr. Fay Campbell, representing the Student Volunteer Movement, constituted the greater part of the program of the joint meeting of the Young Men and Young Women's Christian Associations on Wednesday evening of last week in the Chapel. Speaking before a large audience, he brought out the need in the mission fields for men and women of all lines of work. In the discussion of the lack of progress which Student Volunteers the nation-over are exhibiting, the speaker assigned three reasons, of which the first was, the habit of allowing sin to keep one's aspirations and actions retrogressive. He stated that the recognition of the great need at home is blinding prospective missionaries in their view of the more acute conditions abroad. The third point was that the ordinary Christian is unwilling to share his faith with others.

Following this discussion, the joint meeting was adjourned, and the men's group held their annual election, held by J. O. Russell. Prior to the balloting, Mr. L. M. Miller, a State Y. M. C. A. Secretary, gave a short talk, emphasizing the necessity of impartiality in the choice of officers. Men should be selected who would further the ideals and purposes of the organization. The following was the successful ticket: President, C. H. Neely, '22; 1st Vice President, J. E. Larson, '23; 2nd Vice President, C. W. Boynton, '23; Secretary, C. W. Havice, '24; Treasurer, G. D. Braun, '24.

ALLEGHENY CLASHES WITH OHIO WESLEYAN FRIDAY

Schools Meet in Dual Debate on Government Ownership of Mines

Friday evening, April 29, at eight o'clock in Ford Memorial Chapel is the date, time and place set for the second inter-collegiate debate this year. The Ohio Wesleyan Negative Debate Team comes here well primed to debate Allegheny's Affirmative Team on the question: Resolved, that the Federal Government should own and operate the coal mines of the United States.

On the same night our Negative Team will journey to Delaware, Ohio, to meet Wesleyan's Affirmative Team on the same question.

The Ohio Wesleyan Team which comes here will be composed of John C. Hoyer and S. Garton Churchill, both of Bellefontaine, Ohio, and Andrew D. Rodgers, of Columbus, Ohio. From all reports these men are going to put up many stiff arguments and are determined to do all in their power to win. The team that will meet the above named men includes: M. E. Graham, '23; E. H. Hickman, '22; W. D. Melcher, '21, and J. E. Larson, '23, as alternate.

An exceptionally strong team is being sent to Ohio Wesleyan. J. E. Bozic, '23; J. O. Russell, '21, and W. J. Carney, '21, are the first three, while W. L. Henry, '23, is the alternate.

It is the opinion of Doctor Swartley that both the Allegheny teams will acquit themselves well as they have been thoroughly drilled on all points. The men are all experienced debaters.

INTER-FRATERNITY PARTY IS HELD ON HIGHLAND AVENUE

Seven Senior men held a very pleasant formal party last Thursday evening. Dinner was served at the Delta Tau Delta House at seven, Messrs. McCluer and Clark acting the part of host most graciously. After dinner the party adjourned to the Phi Delta Theta House where Gage's Collegians furnished excellent music and "Hank"

Neely served most excellent punch. The men who made the party possible were Stanley Plumb, Jimmy Russell, Fred McCluer, Earl Clark, Thomas Francis, Marlin Hartman, and Clifford Skinner. The guest included the Misses Gladys Tuck, Inez Brumbaugh, Marguerite Blass, Alys O'Neil, Dorothy Kerr, Ruth Lermann, and Josephine Perkins, together with Dr. and Mrs. Schultz, who acted as chaperons.

TWENTIETH CENTURY CLUB INITIATES

SEVENTEEN YOUNG WOMEN BECOME MEMBERS OF ORGANIZATION.

Seventeen new members were initiated into Twentieth Century Club Monday morning at 8:30 o'clock at the Library. The initiates served a breakfast which the members voted was almost as good as those served at Hulings. After the breakfast the neophytes were put through numberless tortures. At several times it was doubted whether all would pass the test of membership, but as the 10:30 bell rang for classes, it was moved and carried that all seventeen be henceforth considered as full-fledged members of the Twentieth Century Club.

The list of new members is as follows: the Misses Maria Avery, Helen Bowman, Mildred Brown, Varena Collins, Sara Coulter, Elouise Fink, Mary Henderson, Genevieve Hovis, Josephine Hovis, Catherine Johnson, Ethel Kerr, Dorothy Leeper, Helen Shaffer, Kathryn Simmons, Harriet Titus, Clara Weller, and Ruth Wood.

Tentative plans are made to establish a fisheries college at Harvard University. Boston is the largest Atlantic sea-coast fishing port and would be benefited considerably by the school.

ON THE PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION OF THE MEN'S SENATE.

In taking the step of bringing before the student body amendments to the constitution of the Men's Senate which will change the basis of representation, the present Senate has been actuated by the motive of bettering conditions for the school at large. A perusal of the changes suggested will show that by them abuses which have existed up to the present time will be done away with.

In making these changes the Senate has sought to accomplish three things. In the first place every fraternity will be represented. In the past such has not been the case, but as the fraternity is the organization to which the individual is most closely bound, action affecting the fraternity is that in which the individual is most interested. Therefore, it is evident that the new basis of representation is more sound.

In the second place, since the student body will be more truly represented by the new system, the Senate will have better support from the men and will thereby be able to function more adequately. At the same time it will become a more mature and responsible body by the fact that all the members will be Seniors except in rare and unusual cases.

Again, the proposed plan will make the Senate an inter-fraternity council on which each man will have power to act for his fraternity. Ever since the inter-fraternity council broke up several years ago the lack has been severely felt.

Nor will the non-fraternity men be without representation on the new Senate. Their voice may be heard in the conduct of school affairs and their part in the life of the school will be assured by the proposed plan.

The members of the present Senate have not proposed these amendments without due consideration. Throughout the year they have been in correspondence with other schools and in the changes proposed have sought to embody the best practice in the leading colleges throughout the country. In adopting these amendments, then, the men of this college will not be taking a chance on a theoretical scheme. In its essence the plan has worked successfully in other prominent institutions.

The Campus Staff meets every Friday at 1:15 o'clock in the Campus office in Bentley Hall.

ALLEGHENY GIRLS TO AID MADAME CURIE

WILL CONTRIBUTE TO FUND FOR PURCHASE OF ONE GRAM OF RADIUM.

At the Chapel service held by the women of the College in Alden Hall Saturday morning, the problem of how much money should be given by them for the fund being raised for Madame Curie was presented by Miss Spalding. It was unanimously approved by the girls that each one should be assessed twenty-five cents. The fund being raised for Madame Curie is for the purpose of buying her radium with which she may continue her scientific work. The money is to be presented to her upon her arrival in this country.

This was followed by the discussion of the attention given by the student body in the Chapel services. The following statement drawn up by Y. W. C. A. Cabinet was read to the girls by Miss Shuster and was readily approved by them:

"We, the women students of Allegheny College, wish to make known to the faculty and student body in general our attitude in regard to the Chapel exercises of our College. We seriously disapprove of the unnecessary noises, such as whistling, loud talking, singing out of season, shuffling of feet, etc., during the Chapel service. We consider such things in the first place, irreverent and unworthy of college students; and in the second place, as being extremely disrespectful to the faculty or outside leaders of the chapel exercises. Furthermore, we hereby express our ardent desire to have created the proper religious atmosphere in our chapel service, and promise our co-operation with any measure which may be taken to produce such an atmosphere.

"Copies of this statement shall be presented to President Hixson and shall be printed in the College paper."

A course in journalism and a course in farm engineering have been added at West Virginia University.

TENNIS FINALS TO BE PLAYED THIS WEEK

FIRST INTERCOLLEGIATE MATCH COMES SATURDAY, MAY 7, AT GROVE CITY.

The tennis preliminaries have been slow in getting under way due to the inclement weather which has been prevalent the last few weeks.

It has been announced that the final call has been issued for the men to report so that the trials may be held this week, if conditions permit. The tournament will be run off and the team will be picked by the end of the week. So far only two matches have been played off. The first was between H. H. Loomis, '23, and C. L. Friend, '24. The first set, which finally went to Loomis at 7-5, made it look as if it were going to be an interesting match, but in the second set Loomis came back strong and defeated Friend 6-1, taking the match. The other match was between Paul Jenkins, '22, and Leslie E. Peck, '24. Jenkins had little trouble in winning from Peck in two sets at 6-1 and 6-4.

Monday afternoon Jordan and Mel Jones clashed, the latter winning both matches, 7-5 and 6-4.

Saturday, May 7, is the date set for the first Collegiate match when Grove City will journey here to take on the clay court defenders of the Blue and Gold.

WHAT THE CAMPUS PRINTED 20 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

During the present reign the Campus has pursued the policy of stating facts and hewing down to the line of truth no matter where the chips might fall.

When may a man properly be said to be an herb? At seventy because long experience makes him sage.

When the Cochran and Utica baseball teams crossed bats last Monday at the home of the former club, the boys were disposed to kick on the appearance of a stranger in the box for the Uticas. Upon being assured that the twirler was "Murphy from Sugar Grove, an amateur," the game proceeded. A student of the college happened along to witness the game. Hearing of the game "set-up," he dispelled the illusion by saying that the supposed "amateur," was none other than the "phenomenal" W. R. Murphy, of our Gam brothers.

lated. Such nominations must be made public at least one week before the general election.

Section 5—"An organization will not be permitted to submit nominees unless the Senate dues of all the members of that organization are paid. No petition will be received unless all the signers have paid such dues."

In explanation, Article IV, Section 2, states that any organization which does not have at least three Juniors to run for office then Sophomores may fill the requirements. Section 4 incorporates the clause that any Junior not affiliated to any organization may secure the signature of ten other such men and present it to the Senate. Individually every such man could have a petition signed but only one of this so-called group would be elected. The other section is self-explanatory.

The article has been changed in its entirety, eliminating the sections which call for nominations to be made from the various classes, which call for the number of votes for each class nominee, and those which call for ex-officio nominees which were four members of the Junior Class who are elected to Editor-in-chief of the Campus; the Presidents of the Athletic Association and the Y. M. C. A., and the College Cheer Leader. Also the sections pertaining to the Sophomore and Freshman Class nominees.

Article V—Elections.

Section 1—"All elections shall be by secret ballot."

Section 2—"On the last Friday in May the general election shall be held in the Treasurer's office in Bentley Hall from 10:40 to 12:40 A. M., to choose from the list of nominees one member of each organization. Each voter shall cast his ballot for one nominee of each organization, and for one of the nominees by petition. A plurality shall elect."

Section 3a—"In case of vacancy, the organization losing representation shall immediately upon receipt of notice of such vacancy nominate three of its Seniors. If the membership of the organization does not include as many as three Seniors at the time the vacancy occurs Juniors shall be nominated to make up the required number of nominees. In such case all Seniors must appear as nominees."

Section 3b—"A special general election shall be held one week after such nominations have been made public. The time and manner of such general election shall be the same (with the exception of the date) as provided for in Section 2 of this article."

Section 4—"The eligible voters at the general elections shall be the undergraduate students of the college as listed in the college catalogue last published before the election."

Article V, Sections 1, 2, and 4, are virtually the same as the original constitution and bear only the differences needed to comply with the above regulations.

Section 3, covers any case of vacancy that may occur in membership of the body.

The proposed changes in the Constitution of the Men's Senate are said to be desirable for the reason that under the new system the body will be absolutely representative of every group and organization of men in the college, and in addition will function as an Inter-Fraternity Council. It has been further stated that the type of men nominated by each group are more apt to be strong men and leaders in the student affairs and not men nominated for the prestige of the membership.

A member of the faculty remarked that the great fallacy in the Constitution of the Men's Senate was the fact that some groups were by chance represented with more than one man whereas other groups were not represented at all. "The equality and fairness of the proposed amendments," he continued, "would dispense with any unfortunate situation which could be brought about by the so-called 'ring' politics which have always been more or less a detriment to the welfare of every organization."

Team to Compete at Penn Relays Is Chosen

FIVE MEN ARE CHOSEN WHO WILL MAKE TRIP

FIRST ALLEGHENY TEAM TO COMPETE IN PENN MEETS LEAVES FRIDAY.

With the Penn Relays looming up for Friday and Saturday, there also opens another epoch in Allegheny's history when a relay team representing this college will compete with other schools for supremacy in the event of the collegiate track year. The only well known rival with which the local runners will have to compete is Geneva, who first was represented last year and whose time in the dual meet between Allegheny was as good as that of the team which won out in that class in the Relays.

Allegheny's team was picked this week after try-outs for the eliminations with the result that the following men will represent us in the meet: Wimmer, '23, Bittner, '22, Kinney, '21, Croasmun, '23, and McCreary, '22. This makes the team, as a whole, a strong aggregation of sprinters who should bring Allegheny to the front in the East with their work as in previous seasons the other branches of athletics have done. The team will leave the latter part of the week accompanied by Coach Hammett and Manager Lawhead.

HIGH SCHOOLS WILL COMPETE HERE MAY 14

ARRANGEMENTS FOR INTER-SCHOLASTIC MEET NEAR-ING COMPLETION.

On May 14 the annual Allegheny Interscholastic track meet will be held on Montgomery Field with the prospects at present pointing to the biggest ever held on the local field. To nearly all his invitations Coach Hammett has received replies with favorable reports for the number of entries and he expects at least 15 schools here on that date. For the winners of the events there will be gold, silver and bronze medals, and a cup for the team having the highest number of points.

The men participating in the meet will be taken care of in about the same way as those here during the basketball meet held this spring. In a few days Coach Hammett will have on display in his office the badges for the officials of the meet. They are very attractively designed and will be distributed among the athletes in the different branches of track athletics who will serve in official capacities on that day.

The usual events will be run, together with the mile relay. This project will demand the undivided support of the student body in order that it may prove as great a credit to Allegheny as other events of its kind have been in the past.

SOPHS DEFEAT FROH

That Government ownership and operation is practicable.

Negative—1. Government ownership and control is unwarranted. 2. It is unjust and unfair to all concerned. 3. It will endanger the political institutions and economic structures of the United States.

The usual time was given to each debater for his speech and rebuttal. The presence of many Sophomores and Freshmen who applauded in turn as their champions appeared, lent a great deal of interest to the debate. The judges, however, were not swayed by these influences.

Y. M. C. A. DRIVE NETS ONLY FIFTY DOLLARS

PRESIDENT NEELY'S CAMPAIGN FOR MORE FUNDS FALLS SHORT OF QUOTA.

In a separate Chapel service held for the purpose of launching a campaign for additional funds with which to carry out its programme for 1921-22, the new President, Mr. Neely, appealed to the men of the college for their worthy support in the reconstruction plans of the organization, last Saturday morning.

Stating that the treasury was depleted and that funds were absolutely necessary at once to meet the needs of the institution, President Neely urged that every man should subscribe to the cause. The response to this action gave the Y. M. C. A. pledges to the amount of fifty dollars which will be expended for Americanization supplies, books, and the expenses of delegates to the National conferences for the training of officers in the organization. Since this subscribed amount will only cover one-fourth of the requirements, another drive will be forthcoming in order to complete the quota of two hundred dollars.

Among the new features of the enlarged program for a bigger and better organization, will be the endeavor to secure the services of a paid secretary similar to last year when Rev. Samuel Maxwell supervised the work. A paid secretary, it is stated, would revive the Y. M. C. A. as a functioning body in the college and create greater interest in student attendance to the meetings.

college. Thus Allegheny was launched on its career, 106 years ago.

Prof. C. F. Ross said if he were to give a complete list of Allegheny's later benefactors, he would have to give a complete history of the college. Many of Allegheny's benefactors are men who have given their lives, service and money without immediate return.

In the first period of the college's growth up to 1865, no single individual gave over $500. Dr. Timothy Alden's Eastern trip netted only $461. Subscriptions were often in books, sometimes in brick, lumber, hardware or even the use of a team, but these were the foundations of the college. A library was given by Mr. Bentley, for whom Bentley Hall is named. Martin Ruter gave a good bit of his life, living a hand to mouth existence for over 50 years. Salaries could not be paid and the sheriff was always in sight.

From 1865 to 1900 more sizeable gifts were received, starting with Mr. Culver, who built the dormitory Culver Hall, at a cost of $35,000. Marcus Hulings, of Oil City, started the movement which resulted in Hulings Hall. A movement for the endowment of professorships was started by Alexander Bradley. In 1891, Miss Lucy Lindley left $15,000, the interest of which provides loans for students. Robertson Wilcox, of Girard, started the movement which culminated in Wilcox Hall.

By 1900, the college had four buildings, an endowment of $150,000, the main campus between Main Street and Park Avenue, and a small piece of land on the east side of Main Street. In 1901, Frank A. Arter, of Cleveland, started an avalanche of giving. His first gift was $5,000; his next one, $60,000 towards an endowment fund of $200,000. Mrs. Mary M. Newton built the observatory. Captain John O. Ford built the chapel and his grandchildren donated the organ. Mrs. Bayentyne also established a scholarship fund of $30,000. Mr. Wm. E. Ries, now of Los Angeles, built the library. The City of Meadville gave over $30,000 to the endowment fund. Other prominent names among the donors to the college are: Col. Samuel B. Dick, Dr. C. E. Welch, John B. Ford, T. B. Collins, Mr. Chambers, of Oil City, Mr. Eberhart, of Chicago. Andrew Carnegie gave a liberal endowment for the library, a fund for the preparatory school and a large fund for the new chemistry building. The Rockefeller endowment has also given liberally to the college and has promised $125,000 to the Twentieth Century Endowment. Mrs. Cochran also gave $60,000 for Cochran Hall and continually makes needed improvements on the campus; as she built the wall on the south side of the campus, and the first rustic bridge.

At present no professor's salary is paid by any student. The student pays only 37.7 of the expenses for his education; the rest is paid by the founders.

Dr. T. W. Fessenden, of Pittsburgh, Pa., spoke from the text from John 14:12, "Greater works than these shall he do." This is another of Jesus' astounding statements which are simple enough only when He is Rain during the past week interfered somewhat with the baseball schedule. The field was rather soggy which accounts for some of the high scores and numerous errors.

The Chi Rho's and B. U.'s locked horns in the first game of the week and a close game was indicated from the start. The B. U. men were first to score but the Chi Rho's came right back and evened matters up. The game developed into a slugging match in which the new fraternity men managed to outslug their opponents.

DEAN STAUFFER TO LEAVE HIRAM COLLEGE

Dean Vernon Stauffer, who has been connected with Hiram College since 1913, as dean for men, and in charge of the Chair of Christian Doctrine, has given notice to the college trustees, that he will conclude his services with that educational institution at the end of the present school year. He will go to the School of Christianity of Southern California, as its executive head.

present in men's lives with a religion whose heart and foundation in faith in Him. Christ produced an atmosphere where things could be done, where the most delicate flower of man's soul could bloom; and the founders of this college have produced an atmosphere where man may develop the best in them. As Christ liberated energy; so, education in an institution like Allegheny is liberating energy, which might not be available otherwise, and putting it to bear in all paths of life. College provides a high sort of fellowship found in no other place. Both Christianity and education bring men to the great finalities of life which after all, are the things for which men are striving. It is thus that men obtain their great fundamental beliefs. The philosophy that it does not matter what a man believes is based upon a fallacy for life grows out of beliefs. Jesus gave practical beliefs for every day life as the founders of the college have.
