My dear Miss Tarbell.

I have just finished your splendid article in Colliers. I enjoy your broad & kindly justice your spirit - your conciseness of all the facts and the fairness of your views generally.

I could not help sitting a moment after finishing your article and dreaming of the few times when it had been my great pleasure to introduce you in Chautauque.
You are the one outstanding speaker among all the women I have ever heard. The sustained & coherent narrative of the League of Nations with its wealth of detail, its orderly presentation, its mounting interest were always to me a spellbinding experience. And I say that, to me, the lecture of yours in the League of Nations was the most highly cultured speaking I have ever heard in America. The voice, with its clear & beautiful enunciation, its tone quality, the diction, the earnest spirit - the greatness of the personality are not easy to forget.

My thought travels to you tonight in the spirit of friendship & kindness. Mrs.
Hunter was with us in Corvallis & we all are much together which we will never forget.

My work prospers splendidly & I am making a good income. I hope you are well & very happy.
Yours very sincerely Edward W. Hunter just a word of greeting from you who I have enjoyed & appreciated. If you are not too busy, if every year come the Roundup our home is open - you could not stay too long - I hope Cobb was with us two years ago.
