ALLEGHENY FLOOR SQUAD COMPLETES THREE GAME JAUNT

Waynesburg is Defeated 30-24—Games Lost to Pitt and W. Virginia by Close Scores

Allegheny's first invasion of tri-state territory resulted in a victory over Waynesburg, 35 to 28, and two marginal defeats at the hands of Pitt and West Virginia by 38-34 and 30-24 scores respectively. This is a very favorable showing, inasmuch as Pitt has practically its same championship lineup from last year and West Virginia is always represented by a strong floor team. These crucial games came too early on the schedule to form the basis of an accurate estimate of the strength of the Blue and Gold indoor squad. Three games of this calibre in as many nights on foreign courts is just about as difficult a series as any team could possibly face. The engagement in Morgantown marked the resumption of athletic relations with the Mountaineer institution after a three year lapse.

Last Thursday night, at Waynesburg, the Allegheny cagers defeated Waynesburg College in the first game of their three-game jaunt over the tri-state district. It was the second straight victory of the season and, incidentally, the second over Waynesburg. The score, 35-28, indicates an exciting, well-played game, but also shows the distinct superiority of the Blue and Gold over the downstaters.

Every man on both teams was in top form and Allegheny's victory was due, not to the particular showing of any individual, but rather to the superior team-work which they manifested. Both on offense and defense Allegheny had the edge.

Captain "Hoppy" Miller found the basket for six neat goals during the evening. Braun and Brownell both kept their men well in hand and managed to slip in a few two-pointers. Wise constantly got the jump on his opponent and played a good floor game while Leo Ross caused his guard considerable trouble throughout the game. For Waynesburg, McHenry and Clark showed up well.

"In the Allegheny College basketball team, the University of Pittsburgh five found a foe who was more than anxious to match his steel, thrust for thrust and parry for parry." Thus does the Pittsburgh press acknowledge Allegheny's superiority to the mediocre. More able masters of floor technique have displayed their wares on the Motor Square Garden floor, but Smoky City fans never witnessed a more willing pair of fighting teams. The Panthers, thanks to lucky breaks of the game, were able to gain the slight advantage of a 38-34 score.

The long-distance gunners of the "Hurricane" clan flung baskets from all angles. Captain Miller and Wise caused Pitt the most trouble, the former caging a quartet of sensational shots, the latter because he was "in there" fighting from the first to the last blast of the whistle. Jordan and Reising, who were injected into the Pitt line-up, saved the game for the home aggregation.

The speed of the fray grew as time lessened. With the opening of the second half the going became torrid, and fans developed hysterics from the whirling gallop down the home stretch. Ross immediately tied the 17-15 score in Pittsburgh's favor. The battle waxed furious Allegheny, by reason of many long shots, kept the ball in the enemy's territory most of the time. Pitt, thanks to Jordan's five goals, managed to come out on the long end of the score, although they displayed no superior brand of basketball.

On Saturday night the West Virginia tossers defeated Allegheny in Morgantown by a score of 30 to 24. The Mountaineers played a better brand of basketball than they had at any previous time during the season, and it was through a fighting rally in the second half of the game that they won the victory over the Blue and Gold. It can scarcely be said that West Virginia outplayed the local quintet inasmuch as both teams scored the same number of field goals.

For the first part of the contest it was any man's game, the score at the end of the first half being 11-11. In the next two periods, however, the Morgantown aggregation took a new lease on life and managed to get a lead which the Blue and Gold could not overcome.

DR. R. E. LEE SPEAKS ON THE "RIGHT TO BELIEVE"

DEMONSTRATES DANGERS OF INDIVIDUAL THINKING

Quoting from a recent book written by a professor of Philosophy at an eastern university, Dr. R. E. Lee gave a challenging and convincing argument in Chapel last Wednesday morning on the "Right to Believe."

In introducing his discussion Dr. Lee stated that, since there is a great deal of talk about abridgement of personal rights, liberties, and freedom in civil, social, and spiritual life today, he thought that there is an urgent need for a definite understanding of the significance and limitations of these terms.

Dr. Lee pointed out that, although men in their civil and social lives might be allowed freedom as to opinions and beliefs, in their conduct they must be compelled to play the game within the rules and laws established by society. This was illustrated by the need for traffic rules which must be obeyed, even if they seem to abridge personal liberty.

"I believe," he said, "that many of the offenses against laws in our city and other cities are due to the effects of this constant clamor about individual freedom, which has led, in many instances on the part of the private citizens as well as on the part of administrators of law, to deliberate and voluntary disregard of law, with attendant casualties."

The discussion he then carried to the subject of religious belief and

POPULARITY CONTEST TO BE FEATURED IN KALDRON

Unusual enthusiasm will probably be evinced in the popularity contest to be held in the near future, which, with the other novel and pleasing innovations planned by the editor, will put this year's Kaldron in the front rank of college annuals.

A full page photograph of each of the four most popular girls, to be chosen—one from each class—by popular vote of the students, will be printed on a prominent place in the Kaldron. This contest will be held in the near future so it behooves the ambitious to get into action quickly.

Since the Kaldron is essentially a student's book, it will require the fullest cooperation of every one to give local color to the fifty pages or more of features in the "college life" section. The details of a number of these features cannot be discussed at present, but they are of a nature that will make the finished book characteristically Alleghenian.

In general the whole tone and appearance of this Kaldron will be superior. Better paper will be used; and, since a different engraving company has been employed, the pictures will be of the very best.

Although most of the work has been progressing rapidly, the staff is somewhat hindered by the delay of a few seniors who have not yet had their photographs made nor reported to the editors for write-ups.

Upperclassmen can help along the work by having their pictures taken for their several fraternity groups at one of the following photographers: Pratt, Wetherby, Skillen, or Muntz.

LETZ STRING QUARTET PLAYS HERE THURSDAY

CHAMBER OF MUSIC WILL BE INCLUDED IN THIRD OF CONCERT SERIES

On Thursday evening, January 18, the Letz String Quartet will give the third number of the Allegheny College concert series in Ford Memorial Chapel. The Letz String Quartet is said to be one of the finest ensemble organizations in America.

The Quartet is composed of Hans Letz who plays first violin, Edwin Bachmann, second violin, Edward Kreiner player of the viola, and Horace Britt the 'cello. This is the sixth season for the Letz String Quartet and it now finds itself firmly established in a foremost place among American chamber music organizations.

All the members of the quartet are well known to the musical world. Mr. Letz is widely known throughout the country, both on account of his former connection as concertmaster of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra and also because of his solo appearances with the leading orchestras in the large cities of the east and middle west.

As his associates, Mr. Letz has a trio of young men, all of whom have won unusual recognition in their respective branches in Europe and America.

The repertoire of the Letz Quartet not only includes the great masterpieces of the classic and romantic school, but also the most worthy contributions to the literature of chamber music by leading modern composers.

ALLEGHENIANS ATTEND PADEREWSKI CONCERT

STUDENTS ARE DELIGHTED WITH ARTIST'S ABILITY

About sixty Alleghenians attended the Paderewski recital held in the Erie Arena at Erie last Saturday evening. The programme was most enjoyably received by the audience who ally received by the audience, who were especially well pleased with the playing of "Mazurka B flat minor" by Chopin and "Hungarian Rhapsody" by Liszt.

Mr. Paderewski displayed his usual brilliant talent in the recital, and his marvelous interpretation of the numbers captured the attention of his listeners at the start and held it to the final note of the programme. The appreciation of the audience encouraged the artist, and the performance was one that has never been excelled in that city. Those from Allegheny went to Erie on the regular interurban cars during the day, but after the concert a special car carried most of them back.

BLUE AND GOLD FIVE WINS FROM ALFRED LAST NITE 31-20

Outclassing their opponents at every stage of the game, Allegheny had little difficulty in defeating the Alfred University five here last night by a 31-20 score. This margin of eleven points does not accurately indicate the superiority of the Blue and Gold as many easy tries under the basket were missed. The Empire State representatives presented a very green combination. Their offense was unorganized and weak; five field goals, three of which came in the second half, constituted the sum of their efforts to penetrate the local defense. Unable to make any appreciable gains, the visiting squad seemed to realize the hopelessness of such a task and contented themselves with holding the Allegheny total within reasonable bounds. In spite of their combined efforts Captain Miller ran wild in the late period and scored six goals from the floor.

Fast passing and good all around floorwork featured the Blue and Gold play during the initial quarters and 22 points were registered in comparison with 8 for Alfred. As usual the

DR. R. E. BROWN WILL BE VESPER SPEAKER

PROMINENT BUFFALO PASTOR WILL RETURN FOR SUNDAY SERVICE

The Reverend Robert E. Brown, D. D., class of '01, of Buffalo, N. Y., will speak at the regular monthly vesper service in the Chapel next Sunday afternoon, January 21, at 3:30 P. M.

Dr. Brown came to Allegheny from Albion College and during his career as a student was pastor of the Grace M. E. church. Since that time he has held a number of important charges including the First M. E. church of Fredonia, N. Y., the First M. E. church of Franklin, Pa., Asbury M. E. church of Rochester, N. Y., and is at present pastor of the Richmond Avenue M. E. church in Buffalo.

Five years ago Dr. Brown toured the world on a missionary enterprise. Some of the older students will remember him as having given a series of lectures here two years ago.

His forceful appeal and brilliant oratory have earned for him a special place on the church platform, and Alleghenians will anticipate his coming with much pleasure and interest.

JOHN A. LOMAX WILL APPEAR HERE IN APRIL

John A. Lomax, the greatest authority on American ballads and cowboy songs, will give an interesting and entertaining lecture at Allegheny in the first or second week of April.

In collecting the songs of the cowboys he has performed a genuine service to American literature, for no verse more truly interprets and expresses a part of our national life. To fully understand and appreciate these lyrics it is necessary to hear Mr. Lomax talk about them and sing them. They were made to be heard rather than read in the silence of the library, and, even though his voice does not have extraordinary culture, he sings with a romantic realism which has an appeal to the imagination. When one has the pleasure of listening to Mr. Lomax—who loves these verses and the men who first composed them—one can easily reconstruct in the imagination the appropriate figures and romantic setting.

The collection of these poems is an addition to American scholarship as well as American literature. The faculty of Harvard University has granted Mr. Lomax a traveling fellowship, that he may have the necessary leisure to collect these verses. He is a graduate of Harvard and for three years was a professor in the University of Texas. He has lectured in nearly all the important colleges and universities in the country, and his visit to Allegheny is anticipated with great enthusiasm.

SCHUMANN-HEINK RENDERS DELIGHTFUL PROGRAMME

Noted Artist Sings With Beauty of Younger Days—Given Great Ovation

Madame Ernestine Schumann-Heink, known as the world's most popular concert singer, appeared last Monday evening at the Stone church before a super audience, assisted by Mr. Charles Carver, basso, and Mrs. Katherine Hoffman, accompanist. Her program consisted of five sections, two of which were made up of selections by Mr. Carver. The audience was admittedly captivated by the pleasant and familiar personality of the great contralto.

The first number of the program was rendered by Madame Schumann-Heink and consisted of two selections, "Ah Rendimi—Mitrane" (in Italian) by Rossi and "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice" from "Samson and Delila" by Saint-Saens. She responded to the continued applause with a short encore. Mr. Carver gave the second number, three selections from various composers and graciously answered the appreciative applause of the audience with a very pleasing little encore. Made up of five selections, all in the German tongue, the contralto added to her second number, by request, "Stille Nacht" by Heiden and also offered as an encore, "By the Waters of Minnetonka."

All the selections sung by Madame Schumann-Heink were bits from masterpieces with which all are acquainted and which the audience was delighted to hear from the lips of a singer so capable of rendering each piece at its best. The acclamation given to Mr. Carver was almost equal to that given Madame Schumann-Heink, and the two parts of the program that Mr. Carver gave were excellent both as to rendition and as to choice of material.

Originally scheduled to appear here November 24 Madame Schumann-Heink was forced to postpone this appearance, as well as a number of others, because of an illness which came upon her quite suddenly at Garden City, New York last November. She is now continuing her western tour including engagements in Pennsylvania, Ohio, and Michigan. Her appearance at Stone church last night was her first since her illness, and Meadville patrons of the Allegheny College Concert Course feel both pleased and complimented.

Following is the program, as given: Ah Rendimi—Mitrane (in Italian), Rossi; My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice—Samson and Delila, Saint-Saens; encore; Madame Schumann-Heink.

II. (a) Hear Me Ye Winds and Waves, Handel; (b) In the Silence of Night, Rachmaninoff; (c) Thy Warning is Good, Grieg; encore; Mr. Carver.

III. (a) Ich liebe Dich, Beethoven; (b) Erikonig, Schubert; (c) Heideroslein, Schubert; (d) Weigenlied, Brahms; (e) Spinnerliedchen, Roman collection 16th century; by request, "Stille Nacht," and an encore. Madame Schumann-Heink.

IV. (a) Sanctuary, LaForge; (b) A Heart Misled, LaForge; (c) Pale Moon, Logan; (d) Clavelitos, Valverde; and encore. Mr. Carver.

V. (a) Cry of Rachel, Mary S. Turner; (b) Lullaby, Hueter; (c) Danza, G. W. Chadwick; (d) Rosary, by request, Madame Schumann-Heink.

Before Madame Schumann-Heink appeared on the platform announcement was made by Dr. Church of the local management concerning the organ recital to be given by Charles M. Courboin at Ford Chapel Tuesday, January 30. Mr. Courboin is the noted Belgian organist who has attracted so much favorable notice since the war. This additional number has been placed on the concert course for the purpose of giving a fitting dedication to the repaired organ, and to give students and residents a chance to realize the possibilities of the same.

GLEE CLUB PREPARES FOR CONCERT SEASON

MUSICAL FORECAST FEATURES ALLEGHENY'S TALENT

Allegheny College Glee Club has been given a prominent place in the "Musical Forecast," which has aroused the interest of many Pittsburghers in the club. An Erie engagement will be the first on the itinerary, although a special home concert has been arranged for late February. A three day trip the second week of next month will include concerts at Corry, Pa., Jamestown, N. Y., and Silver Creek, N. Y.

The engagement at Erie has been definitely set for the 23rd of this month and is being held under the auspices of the Erie Y. M. C. A. Manager K. A. Hines says that the whole club composed of twenty men will take this trip. The program will be composed of numbers by the complete group, light orchestra, piano monologues, quartet singing, solos and instrumental pieces.

Through the assistance of Professor Barnes, the director of the club, the "Musical Forecast" devoted a full page of their December issue to cuts of the Men's and Girl's Glee Clubs, and the Ford Memorial Chapel. This gives a good idea of the importance of this college organization in other communities.

Professor Barnes is most enthusiastic over the rapid progress which the club is making and is looking forward to a very successful year. On last Friday afternoon all the members of the club assembled at Cochran Hall to have the group picture taken.

February 27 is the tentative date which has been set for the special home concert the club is going to give in the chapel, and a special program is being made up which promises to be very entertaining.

MANY ATTEND ANNUAL JUNIOR PROMENADE

GOOD MUSIC AND ARTISTIC DECORATIONS ADD TO ENJOYMENT

According to the sighs and pleadings for more at the end of the final dance of the Junior Prom held last Thursday in the Armory, the sentiment of the 90 odd couples who attended expressed it as a huge success in every way.

The decorating committee deserves great credit for the admirable way in which they decorated the Armory. Pennants of all the college fraternities and sororities adorned the three walls and front of the balcony, removing for the most part the usual bareness of the ball room. Drop lights from the ceiling were made into artistic lanterns with the addition of white crepe paper over which were placed several strips of the same material.

The triangular lattice work booth was placed in the left hand corner of the floor opposite the balcony served as the rostrum for the orchestra. The platform was several feet above the ballroom floor and had the Juniors' numerals 1924 across the front part. Alternate strips of twined black and white crepe paper formed the lattice work of the booth and gave it a pleasing artistic effect. The general color scheme of the ballroom was kept strictly in black and white to be in harmony with the noted orchestra which played for the event.

It was Johnny Jones' Black and White Melody Boys of York, Pa. They are all college men. The group has gained prominence throughout the east and is very popular. The reason for the popularity was quickly understood by all who attended after the first dance was over. For the prom there were nine pieces in use at all

During the past few days Meadville and vicinity has had the opportunity of hearing some of the best talent in the musical world. At Erie last Saturday evening Mr. Paderewski appeared before a large audience, on his first tour of America since 1915. Many Allegheny students took advantage of this opportunity of hearing this renowned artist. On last Monday evening Mme. Ernestine Schumann-Heink, the world's greatest contralto, appeared in our own community in the second number of the Allegheny Concert Series. The way in which this famous artist was received by students and townspeople alike demonstrates the appreciation of the College of such high class talent. The Letz String Quartette will appear in the Chapel on Thursday evening in the third number of this series. It is a step toward progression in the development of a liberal education. A concert season during the College year, composed of numbers by the world's best artists should become a permanent part of the College calendar and should be supported by the entire student body.

The 1923 basketball season is well under way and already the Allegheny team has played five intercollegiate contests. At present the team stands with a record of three contests won and two marked on the lost column. The team has just completed a difficult three game trip, during which they were merely edged out in two contests by a small margin of points, greatly due to the breaks of the game. A difficult schedule is facing the team this year and the support of the student body is essential to the completion of a successful season. The football record of the past season is of a high calibre and the basketball team must uphold this new athletic reputation. Every student at the home games and a "pat on the back" to the team when a game is lost, instead of a criticism, will certainly help to bring the desired results.

Governor Gifford Pinchot was inaugurated Governor of Pennsylvania at Harrisburg yesterday at high noon with very simple ceremonies. The new executive has a gigantic task before him, and it is hoped that he will carry the new measures to completion.

times and produced such good harmony that those who had any awkward tendencies soon forgot them and were gliding smoothly over the floor.

The program folders were soft dark blue leather card cases which were given as favors. Many will probably find resting places in someone's coveted "A" book to be tenderly remembered as a symbol of the all around good time enjoyed at the Junior Prom of the class of 1924.

The girls were dressed in evening gowns of various colors giving the ordinarily dreary Armory ballroom a very gay social atmosphere. The present style of different colored head bands was quite popular. The girls as judged from the numerous dancers on the floor who were wearing them. The men all wore either full dress suits or tuxedos. The girls wore no corsages of any kind as the prom committee had made special request that there be no flowers. This has been the custom at Allegheny for the past several years and will probably continue to be such.

Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Lee were the chaperones of the evening.

The general committee in charge which was in a great degree responsible for the success of the prom was composed of the following: Donald H. Coale, chairman; Theodore A. Seidie, M. Victor Wright, W. L. Letting, well, H. W. Smith, M. W. Doolittle, Charles B. Weigle, and Samuel Alter, president.

SOPHS INAUGURATE NEW FORM OF HAZING

On Saturday night, January 13th, the sophomore class established a precedent in freshman hazing. Fourteen of the most verdant freshmen were given notice to appear at the corner of Chestnut and Park avenue Saturday night, at eight o'clock. After the roll call was taken, the sophomores had the freshmen entertain the populace with songs and speeches. A traffic cop was appointed to control the traffic, and the remainder of the fourteen were kept busy with "civic dignitary" Army ballroom a improvement."

An attempt was made to enter the present style of different colored head bands was quite popular. The girls as judged from the numerous dancers on the floor who were wearing them. The men all wore either full dress suits or tuxedos. The girls wore no corsages of any kind as the prom committee had made special request that there be no flowers. This has been the custom at Allegheny for the past several years and will probably continue to be such.

This form of hazing is intended to take the place of the former custom composed of the following: Donald H. Coale, chairman; Theodore A. Seidie, M. Victor Wright, W. L. Letting, well, H. W. Smith, M. W. Doolittle, Charles B. Weigle, and Samuel Alter, president.

FLOOR SQUAD PLAYS TWO GAMES THIS WEEK

BALDWIN-WALLACE AND GENEVA
WILL BE OPPONENTS

Two games in three days is the strenuous assignment which the Blue and Gold floor squad will be called upon to face this week end. Baldwin-Wallace and Geneva are scheduled to appear here on January 19 and 22 respectively. With the finish of the last named contest Coach Baker's tossers will have played a total of six games in less than two weeks. Included in this itinerary was the crucial three day jaunt on which Waynesburg, Pitt and West Virginia were met in the order named. This hard trip is sufficient justification for a much needed rest but "as practice makes perfect," another busy week is in store for the recently returned team.

Baldwin Wallace College again appears on the local schedule after an absence of several years. Thiel will oppose the Ohio Conference members in their first game on Pennsylvania soil Thursday night. Thus far the Buckeye quintet has played two games, winning one and losing one. Kent Normal fell before the Bereans by a 33-15 score while Miami University scored a 19-18 victory over the B. W. floormen.

Two veterans, Robinson, forward and Fubessing, forward and center, form the nucleus around which the visiting team is built. Seven of the ten members of the squad are football lettermen although it is said that the invaders have a very light and aggressive combination.

January 22 will see the fast Geneva rivals in action on the local court. Coach McCarter has developed an exceptionally strong five from the green material at hand. Last week the Beaver Falls collegians gave the highly touted Pitt passers a battle royal at the Motor Square Garden in which they were only nosed out in the last few minutes by a nine point margin. Duquesne University, conquerors of the Navy, were forced to exert every energy to defeat the Genevans 37 to 25 Saturday night. With Boren again in condition the Covenanters can be relied upon to display championship form and the locals will have to be in the best form to turn back the Tri-State contenders for premier honors.

Several football luminaries are numbered among the visiting cage squad. The sensational Hamilton will be seen at a guard position opposite McGrew, and White will oppose at the tip-off. Hudson may also get into the fray before the final whistle blows.

DR. HENKE CONTRIBUTES TO EDUCATIONAL REVIEW

DISCUSSES PROBLEMS CONFRONTING
EDUCATIONAL SYSTEM OF TODAY

In the January number of the Educational Review, in his article entitled "Some Reflections on Educational Theory and Practice," Dr. Frederick G. Henke states that education is the greatest experiment in which the human race has ever engaged. Education based on immediate need is one thing and education motivated by larger social perspectives is another.

To make the education process fully conscious means that we must have teachers that are adequately prepared. The two great outstanding problems of the school system are the shortage of adequately prepared teachers and the lack of serious cooperation on the part of the large part of our public school scholars. It is alleged that we have between six and seven hundred thousand public school teachers in the United States. Large numbers of them lack proficiency in the content of the subjects they are teaching, especially in the rural districts. This in itself is a serious matter.

In closing, Dr. Henke states that the new outline for education in Germany states four years as being all the time required for vocational work, while the program in the United States requires six years. If a German lad can attain proficiency of tools in four years, why should it take an American lad six years?

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB IS PREPARING FOR PUBLIC CONCERT

The Girls' Glee Club is practicing regularly and according to reports from Miss Dorothy Mussler, the leader, the organization will have a varied and entertaining program to present in their concert which is to be given the second or third week in March.

In addition to this concert, the exact date of which has not been definitely fixed, the girls will give a joint recital with the men's club sometime in April.

The girls' organization has been given considerable prominence along with the men's club in a current issue of Musical Forecast which devoted a full page to pictures of Allegheny's popular singers.

ALUMNI NOTES

The Cleveland Alumni of Allegheny College held a luncheon and business meeting Dec. 28, at the Athletic Club. "Buck" Wolz was present and responded very ably to a call for a speech with some first hand information regarding last season's famous football squad. Miss Ida Preston, '11 vice president, read a long and interesting letter from Mr. A. W. Thompson. A lively discussion of the old and new policies of the college followed, and timely suggestions were made to be embodied in a letter to be sent to Mr. Thompson.

SPORT COMMENTS
During the past week came the official announcement that Carnegie Tech had withdrawn from the Tri-
State Inter-collegiate Basketball League. However this statement has since been proven to be erroneous inasmuch as Tech never really belonged to the new loop. What the Athletic Council did was simply to declare that it did not wish to join.

SPORT COMMENTS BY BUCK WEET

Through the columns of the Pittsburgh papers we notice that the West Virginia University basketball team completed its series of "test" games with the finish of the Allegheny game last Saturday night. According to the Mountaineer press bureau, these contests were scheduled in order to give Coach Stadsfold ample opportunity to get his green outfit in the best possible shape for the more important clashes with leading tri-state quints.

Some of these so-called "test" games however, proved to be very anxious moments for Coach Stadsfold, inasmuch as Waynesburg was just nosed out in the final seconds of play by a 24-22 count. Last Saturday night the Morgantown squad managed to score a 30-24 victory over the Baker clan in the third game of a long trip which included Pitt and Waynesburg.

The point of this discourse is simply this, since when and how has West Virginia attained such a lofty position in the basketball world that she considers an engagement with Allegheny one of the "test" variety. Somewhere within the sphere of the writer's subconscious memory comes the recollection that it was just three years ago, in the winter of 1919-1920, that the Blue and Gold trimmed the Mountaineers in that disgraceful Library Hall battle which resulted in a severance of athletic relations until this year.

In the face of this renewal of athletic relations it hardly seems possible that the University officials would be so devoid of tact as to liberate such publicity. Perhaps the recent football success gives them some "athletic license" to place their floor team on the same high plane but this has not been proved as yet and until it is these over-confident master minds have no right to deceive the sporting public with such a distortion of the reality.

Katy Easterday's Bethany Collegians showed real form last Friday night and defeated the Thiel College floor squad at Bethany 39-19.
