BASKETBALL TEAM PREPARING TO MEET SYRACUSE, BUFFALO AND ROCHESTER

Personnel of Team to Meet Syracuse Here Wednesday is Made Up of Bianchi, Volk, Lane, Kahle and Kerr

After the hardest series of work-outs of the year, the basket ball situation here in the College may be said to be far better than at any time during the year. The team was unable to get together for practice during the vacation as had been planned, but when practice was resumed Tuesday for the first time after Christmas, the candidates for the places showed real Allegheny calibre basket ball for the first time. The first practice was limited to a rather light work-out with only a short scrimmage and the men then showed the effects of lack of their usual drills, but that was the last time that any such work was shown. The scrimmage periods became more spirited each day with the coach constantly shifting the men in an endeavor to find the combination that would produce the best results. Every man on the squad realized that his chances for a place on the 'varsity depended on the showing made in these last few practices before the first game. The spirit was transmitted to the veterans of the squad and the scrimmages came to resemble real Allegheny games in speed and team work. The last scrimmage of the week was held Thursday and it was there that the best combination seemed to be reached. Volk, '19, the 'varsity guard from last year, was shifted to center, the principal weak point so far, and seemed to be right at home in the new position. Lane, '18, took Volk's old place at guard and put up a fine game there. Kerr, '20, was at forward with Kahle, '17, who has held down the other forward place so far this year. Captain Bianchi was at his old guard position. With this combination, the so-called first team walked away from the best team that the remainder of the squad could supply. The team-work of the 'varsity was remarkable for a team which had never been together before in this way. The followers of the team who had been very much discouraged by the prospects so far saw a team that resembled old Allegheny teams in everything that name suggests.

Friday only light practice was in order, the new combination trying out the signals and in general perfecting its team work. Although no scrimmage was held, the team as named, Kahl and Kerr, forwards; Volk, center; Bianchi and Lane, guards; again showed such general good work that both Coach Hammett and Captain Bianchi declared that the team would start the game against Syracuse next Wednesday with that line-up. Whether it will work together in a real game as it did in practice only the actual test will show, but those who have followed the team closely ever since practice started, feel for the first time that we have a fighting chance for victory. The team has shown that it has ability in the Allegheny sense of that word and all that remains for it to do is to go into that game Wednesday determined to exert every effort within its means to bring the victory to the Blue and Gold.

The game with Syracuse University in the Gymnasium, Wednesday, January 10, marks the resumption of athletic connection between the two schools after a year in which no contests of any kind were scheduled. In previous encounters on the basket ball floor Allegheny has been on the losing side, but it is to be remembered that heretofore these games have been played on the over-size floor at Syracuse and that for the first time we will play this team on the home floor. Syracuse has always had a fast team, a team that plays big games with a large percentage of victories. Last year the team from that school defeated Yale, Princeton, Penn, and Colgate as well as a number of teams from smaller institutions with good basket ball reputations. Their schedule this year is of the same high calibre and in the games so far it has shown itself capable of filling the dates arranged for it. In an extra period game before the Christmas vacation they defeated Princetown 26-24 at Syracuse. They are to meet Yale, Pitt, Penn State, Colgate, and other big teams of the country and much will be taken from the result of the game here as to the ability of Allegheny's team.

On Friday, the team will journey to Buffalo and meet the University team from that place. It will be the first meeting of floor teams from the two institutions, but if the team shows up favorably in the game with Syracuse, we will have every reason to expect a victory. Buffalo was rather badly beaten by Yale on January 2. Yale made the trip into that section much as Allegheny will, playing Buffalo on the 2nd and Rochester on the day following. In the first game they were the victors by a 35-11 score and in the second also by a 43-25 result.

In our game with Rochester on Saturday, January 13, we will again see Allegheny pitted against a team which has often been victorious in previous

Member of the Board of Trustees Dies

COL. JOHN J. CARTER, OF TITUSVILLE, PASSED AWAY WEDNESDAY IN NEW YORK.

Col. John J. Carter, of Titusville, a member of the Board of Trustees and a widely known oil man, died last Wednesday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Hugh Herndon, at Pelham Manor, N. Y.

Col. Carter was a veteran of the Civil War and in his early life learned the trade of a tailor. Becoming interested in the oil business in Titusville, he amassed a fortune, and was regarded as one of the most prominent oil producers in the United States. He was formerly president of the Carter Oil Company in Sistersville, W. Va.

Col. Carter was a Republican, politically, and served as delegate to three National Conventions. The last was in June last, when he went to Chicago as delegate from the Erie-Crawford District and voted for the nomination of Hon. Charles E. Hughes for President.

Col. Carter has recently completed additional improvements on his country home, "Oakwood," near Titusville, one of the finest country estates in the State of Pennsylvania. He will be greatly missed in Titusville, where he had so long been prominent in all that pertained to the welfare of that city. His absence will also be keenly felt on the Board of Trustees of the College and the place left vacant by him will be a hard one to fill.

Interclass Basketball Schedule Announced

CLASS BASKET BALL ELECTIONS HELD AND PRACTICE STARTED FOR SPIRITED CONTESTS.

Arrangements are under way for the annual interclass basket ball series, and a schedule for the same has been formulated and announced by Coach Hammett. As in former years each class team will meet the team of every other class once, but the final rating will be made to a certain extent on the scores of the respective contests. The championship was won last year by the class of 1919 but no predictions can be made for this year.

The rules, which are the same in substance as those used last year, are as follows:

1. Each class shall play every other class.
2. The halves shall be fifteen minutes in length.
3. The points shall count the winner ten and the loser in the ratio of the score of the game.
4. The Registrar's rating determines a man's class which shall not change after he has played once.
5. Members of the 'varsity' squad who have played in games or been taken on trips shall be ineligible.
6. There shall be no postponements. Teams not willing to play on the date scheduled shall forfeit.

The schedule of games has also been given out which is as follows:

Feb. 10, at 3 p. m., 1917 vs. 1919.
Feb. 17, at 3 p. m., 1918 vs. 1920.
Feb. 24, at 3 p. m., 1917 vs. 1920.
Mar. 3, at 3 p. m., 1918 vs. 1919.
Mar. 10, at 3 p. m., 1917 vs. 1918.
Mar. 10, at 3 p. m., 1919 vs. 1920.

BIOLOGY CLUB.

The Tingley Biological Club held a very interesting meeting Tuesday evening, Dec. 12, in Alden Hall. Mr. Leonel Strong, '17, gave a paper on "Secretive Fluids," after which there was an informal discussion. Refreshments were served by the Messrs. James Neil, '17, and Dale Thomas, '17.

Celebration Planned for Allegheny's Soldiers

MANY ALLEGHENIANS WHO WENT TO MEXICO TO DEFEND THE FLAG RETURN THIS WEEK.

When the Sixteenth Regiment finally left the Border last Wednesday, definite preparations were at once started to give the local companies a big reception when they finally reached Meadville. All the Allegheny men who until recently were on the Border are in this regiment and so the college has determined to take a part in the reception and to honor our boys who served in the National Guard. The college part of the program will come soon after the townspeople have extended their welcome. The people of Meadville have planned to make the day of the soldiers' return a gala day. The business section of the town will be elaborately decorated for the occasion, a band will be at the station to lead the company to the Armory, where the Mayor will give the official speech of welcome. A series of entertainments to follow that have been arranged to culminate in a banquet in the Commons at Cochran Hall the day following. It is hoped that all the Allegheny men in the various companies of the regiment can return to school in time for that affair and with those who have already returned be given a real welcome by the college.

It is practically certain that all the men of the college who are members of this regiment and are undergraduates will take up their studies here as soon as they return.

The following Allegheny men are members of the Sixteenth:

Undergraduates—Howard C. Dickey, '18, Oil City; G. E. Engstrom, '18, Kane; Winfield McKay, '19, Meadville; Lewis F. Acker, '17, Meadville; Frederick C. Pond, '18, Meadville; Henry Hauch, '19, Meadville. Alumni—Lieutenant Evans McKay, '13, Meadville; Lieutenant-Colonel R. Bruce Gamble '93, Meadville.

It is to be remarked that all the Allegheny men in this regiment are at least non-commissioned officers. The under-graduates are either corporals or sergeants, while it is to be seen that the graduates have had considerable advancement from the ranks.

William Robinson, the other Allegheny man who saw service on the Border as a member of the Tenth Pennsylvania Infantry, returned early in the term and took his place at once with his class. The men who come in at this late date will be reinstated in their respective classes and will graduate with them in the regular way.

GERMAN CLUB.

The Tuesday evening preceding vacation the regular meeting of the Deutsche Gesellschaft was held in the club room in Bentley Hall. The meeting was in charge of Miss Agnes Robinson. After the opening exercises those present were conducted to one of the rooms on the second floor where a surprise awaited in the form of the projecting machine set up in the darkened room. As various pictures of scenes about the campus were flashed upon the screen, interesting descriptions and stories were read in German by several members. A pen drawing of Dr. Mullinger accompanied by his dog completed the list of illustrations.

The company then returned to the club room where delicate refreshments were served, and everyone entered into a social good time. A number of German Christmas songs were sung with real Christmas spirit and the closing meeting of 1916 was concluded.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Utley announce the birth of a son, Charles Cameron, on Dec. 28. Mrs. Utley was formerly Miss Bessie Dutton, '04.

Members of Faculty Active During Vacation

ALLEGHENY WELL REPRESENTED AT MEETINGS IN NEW YORK, HARRISBURG, WASHINGTON, BOSTON, COLUMBUS AND CLEVELAND.

Allegheny Faculty members were very active during the Christmas vacation period in representing the college at the various meetings of associations and societies in which this college holds membership. In carrying out their plans, members of the faculty traveled over a large part of the eastern section of the country.

President Crawford spent the greater part of the Christmas vacation in New York serving on a committee of eleven men appointed by the Carnegie Foundation to consider certain changes in the present pension system of college and university professors. This committee was composed of six members of the Carnegie Foundation, two representatives of the Association of American University Professors, and one representative from the Association of American Universities, the Association of State Universities, and the Association of American Colleges. This committee will report at the next meeting of the Foundation which will be held on Feb. 9 at Chicago.

Thursday the President left for Chicago to spend the week attending the annual meeting of three associations of American educators, the Association of Methodist College and University Presidents, the Association of American Universities, and the Association of American Colleges.

Dr. Lee and Dr. Darling attended the various meetings of the American Academy for the Advancement of Science, which was holding its biennial convention in New York City. At this meeting the changes in the scientific world are discussed and it is here that the scientific policies of many of our colleges and universities are determined.

Professor Ross was the official representative of the College at the regular meeting of the State Teachers' Association in Harrisburg and later attended a meeting of the Allegheny Alumni in Washington, D. C. Professor Ross reported a very enthusiastic meeting and said also that a number of men will probably come to the college from that place in the next year, possibly at the beginning of the second semester.

Dr. Snively was in Cleveland for several days as one of the representatives of the Allegheny chapter of Phi Gamma Delta at the general convention of that fraternity.

Professor Matthaei represented the college at the regular meeting of the Modern Language Association in Columbus and reports a very interesting and instructive session.

Dr. Cobern traveled to Boston to secure some material for one of his new books and also to deliver some addresses in that city.

QUILL CLUB.

A regular meeting of the Quill Club was held on the Tuesday preceding vacation, in the Quill Club room in the Library. The subject of the evening's program was "Modern Poets." Dr. Elder, who was the first speaker, had the general subject, "Imagist Poets." Papers dealing with several modern poets of interest were then presented. Miss Ernestine Sprong described the life and work of Gustaf Froeding; John C. Weaver, the character and poetry of Vachel Lyndsay; Miss Edith Rowley, the poems of Fannie Davis; and Homer Castle, the personality and works of Rabindranath Tagore.

'VARSITY TRY-OUTS PROGRESSING RAPIDLY AND RULES FOR WAKEFIELD CONTEST ANNOUNCED.

A victory for the Freshmen was the result of the annual Freshman-Sophomore debate, held Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock in Ford Memorial Chapel. The subject debated was the 'varsity question: Resolved, That the federal government should regulate the wages and hours of labor of employees of interstate railways. The affirmative was upheld by the Sophomore team which consisted of J. G. Megirt, G. A. Stetson, and C. J. Smith; the negative by the Freshman team, C. L. Jones, C. W. Skinner, and F. M. Parrish.

The affirmative side was introduced by C. J. Smith, who reviewed briefly the history of the question and presented the plan of argument which consisted of three points: first, that railroad conditions are unsatisfactory; second, that the government can correct the conditions; and third, that the government is the only logical agency to correct conditions. The first point was elaborated by C. J. Smith, the second by G. A. Stetson, and the third by J. G. Megirt. In opposition to these points the Freshmen urged that government regulation is illogical and un-American, and that it could not fail to be unsatisfactory to the parties concerned—namely, capital, labor, and the public. The first of these points was presented by F. M. Parrish, and the second was divided between C. W. Skinner and C. L. Jones.

The debate was an interesting one, and well presented from both sides. The Freshmen, however, presented a well constructed and convincing argument which the Sophomore rebuttal was unable to overthrow. The decision in favor of the Freshmen was given by a board of judges consisting of Dr. Snively, Dr. Elliott, and Dr. Elder.

The debate will count for the men engaged in it as a preliminary 'varsity try-out. The faculty committee on debating, consisting of Dr. Henke, Dr. Darling, and Professor Stemple, graded the men on the debate presented according to the standard of judgment used in the trials and will rank them by these grades among the men engaging in the preliminary 'varsity trials, which began Monday. The twelve highest men will be chosen by this competition to engage in the final 'varsity trials for the selection of the two regular 'varsity teams. These final trials will be held on Monday morning, Jan. 15.

The rules governing the Wakefield Oratorical Contest have been formulated by the Oratorical Association. They are as follows:

1. The contest shall be held in the chapel on the evening of Thursday, Feb. 15.

2. Three typewritten copies of each oration shall be handed to R. McCreary, Secretary of the Association.

3. Orations must be in by 12 o'clock on the night of Jan. 25.

4. Men from the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior Classes only are eligible.

5. Each oration must not take more than ten minutes to deliver.

6. If more orations are submitted than can be conveniently delivered, the committee reserves the right to have a board of judges choose from the written copies the more desirable orations. In such a case only those so chosen will be delivered.

STUDENT SENATE PLANS BEING COMPLETED.

At a class meeting held last Saturday by the Senior Class the plans for Student Senate were taken up in a very definite manner. The committee which drew up the plans had had copies of the tentative constitution printed and these were distributed among the members of the Senior Class with the understanding that there would be no discussion over changes at that meeting. In a short time, when all have had time to read these copies through and give the matter some serious thought, another meeting will be called when a general discussion will be asked for and the plan voted upon by the class. If everything goes as planned, there is a possibility that the plans may be put into effect at the beginning of the second semester.

The last regular meeting of the Philo-Franklin Forum before the Christmas vacation was held in the Philo-Franklin Hall the afternoon of Dec. 14. After a short preliminary meeting, in which it was decided to omit the meeting on the Thursday immediately following vacation, the debaters took their places and the further consideration of the 'Varsity question proceeded. J. B. Rusterholtz, '19, and H. Williams, '20, supported the affirmative; R. J. Nickerson, '20, and F. B. Parrish, '20, the negative. After a very interesting debate, in which several new points were brought out, the vote was taken and a decision rendered in favor of the negative. Informal discussion followed the announcing of the decision.

Due to the decision mentioned above there was no meeting of the Forum last Thursday.

BASKET BALL TEAM PREPARING.

contests. Rochester is one of the two teams which has defeated the Blue and Gold on its home floor and the team this year will be back for revenge. We cannot judge this contest from scores of last year's games for no game was scheduled, but last year Rochester made a fine showing against such teams as Lehigh, Yale, Colgate, Syracuse, and Penn. They were not the winners in all these games, but in all of them in which they were defeated the scores were very close.

With three hard games coming in so short a time, the team has a very heavy week ahead, one which will bring out every bit of endurance which the men have been acquiring through hard practice during the year. The men have done their share and more as have the coach and manager. It is now up to the student body to do its part and support the team wherever possible. Their chance will come in the Syracuse game, probably the hardest game of the three, and it is to be hoped that the rooting will be as worthy of the team as the team is worthy of, the College.

week-end at her home in Franklin.

Miss Helen Davison, '17, was the Sunday dinner guest of Miss Helen Easterwood, '17.

Miss Mary Arnold, '19, spent the week-end in Warren, O.

The Social Service Committee of the Y. W. C. A. gave a Christmas party and treat to the children of the Italian Mission, Dec. 21. The girls who took charge were Misses Agnes Van Hoesen, '17; Agnes Smith, '17; Adelaide Singley, '18; and Ruth Miller, '19.

Gamma Rho of Kappa Kappa Gamma held a dinner in their rooms Jan. 3.

Miss Carr entertained with a tea
Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. W. H. Hahn was the Sunday dinner guest of the Misses Hildur Johnson, '17, and Mildred Hazen, '17.

Miss Marion Cook, '20, was the dinner guest of Miss Doris Gamble, '20, Sunday.

The regular Sunday evening Y. W.
C. A. meeting was led by Miss Irene Wood, '18. As this was the first meeting of the New Year, the topic chosen was the "Psychology of Resolutions." A pleasing feature of the meeting was a vocal solo by Miss Helen Abrams, '19.
The leader dwelt upon the fact that if resolutions are once made they should be kept. Resolutions once made and kept become habits and so help to form our character. Each day serves as the beginning of a new year in helping to develop our character, for if we do not at first succeed we can always keep on trying and so bring about success.

Miss Marion Whipple, ex-'16, was the guest of Miss Ruth Ellis, '19, several days during the holidays.

bers of the Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity had dinner in their rooms.

Miss Mary McCloud, of Oil City, stopped off on her way to Columbia University, New York City, to spend a few hours with Miss Claire Gates, '19,
last Tuesday.

WHAT PITTSBURGH

SAYS ABOUT US.

The following article was printed in last Sunday's Pittsburgh Post, with the heading, "Pitt Is Censured by Alleghenians":

"Delayed negotiations with the University of Pitt regarding a foot ball game for the season of 1917, cost Allegheny College two big games and almost a third. The two games lost were with the Brown University eleven and with the Colgate team, both of which were to have been played on their home fields, thus providing two unusually fine trips for the Gold and Blue. The third game, which however, was secured, is with the Rutgers College team of New York City, and will furnish the longest trip that an Allegheny team has taken for many years.

"The Meadville college feels highly flattered by the excellent offers which have been made to her for the coming season, particularly inasmuch as in every case the suggestion for the games came from other colleges. Early last fall Manager Isherwood of foot ball secured a telegram from the athletic authorities at Brown offering Allegheny any one of four dates for a game and backing up the agreement with a substantial guarantee. As Isherwood had promised Pittsburgh to keep a date, not decided upon, for that team, he was forced to put Brown off with a promise of giving a definite answer as soon as the game with Pitt had been arranged for.

"Much to the satisfaction of many Alleghenians, Pitt at the last moment decided to give Allegheny's date to another Western Pennsylvania college, but the decision was reached so late that it was no longer possible to get the game with Brown, as the schedule for the Connecticut team had been filled.

"Colgate likewise put in an early bid for a game with Allegheny, but as in the case of the Brown's request, Isherwood was unable to sign up for the game as he was waiting final word from Pitt before accepting any offers. There is still some small chance that Allegheny may face Colgate, as one of the games which Colgate has scheduled may fall through, in which case the Allegheny team will receive the date.

"The Rutgers game came absolutely unsolicited by Allegheny and will give the Methodist school its first opportunity to measure up its brand of foot ball with that played by the Eastern colleges. Manager Isherwood is in communication with a number of other colleges, some of which have not appeared in recent years on Allegheny's schedule, and predicts that next season's card will be unusually strong in this sport."

Professor Fortier

Lectures on France

FRENCH STUDENTS HEARD INTER-ESTING TALKS ON FRENCH LITERATURE JUST BE-FORE VACATION.

At a combined meeting of L'Alliance
Francaise of Meadville and Le Petit Salon of the college, Wednesday preceding vacation, Professor Edward J.
Fortier, of Columbia University, delivered two very interesting lectures on subjects of great interest to all French students. The first of these lectures was given at 4 o'clock and was intended primarily for advanced French students, being given in the French language. Professor Fortier took for his subject in this talk, "Eugene Brieux," one of the greatest of French dramatists and a member of the French Academy. In his talk it was shown how this dramatist was the first to propose the theory that the stage
should be used as a means of preaching a sermon to bring before the people some great evil of the social life of his day. It was pointed out how in his greatest play, "La Robe Rouge," he even ridiculed the court system of the French Republic.

After discussing the nature of the plays of this great dramatist Professor Fortier told of the poor reception given these plays when translated into English and presented on the American stage. The reason given for this unpopularity was shown to be in the plays themselves,—that they lack action, without which few plays have ever succeeded in this country.

Professor Fortier is well qualified to lecture on this dramatist and his writings for when M. Brieux visited this country in 1898 as official delegate from the French Academy to the American Academy of Arts and Letters, Professor Fortier was appointed official representative of the Columbia faculty to entertain the distinguished visitor.
Later at the personal request of the great author, Professor Fortier translated his play, "Susette," into English.

The second lecture given at 5 o'clock in the same room and in English outlined the great periods of the French drama. Starting with Corneille and Racine, the history was traced through Voltaire and Hugo to Rostand.
Cyrano de Bergerac, the masterpiece of the last named writer, appeared in 1897 and is considered the greatest French play of the present generation.
Attention was called to the cause of failure of his latest play, "Chantecler."
The principal role of this play was written for the great French actress Coquelin who died shortly before the completion of this drama. He also showed how this play suffered at the hands of the American actress Maude
Adams who attempts the leading role.

Both Le Petit Salon and L'Alliance Francaise are to be congratulated for their success in bringing a man of the national reputation of Professor Fortier to the college and both the student body of the college and the French students of Meadville should feel deeply grateful to these two clubs for giving them the opportunity of hearing such a lecturer.

The next speaker in this series of lectures will be Dean M. P. Bush, of the College Department of Johns Hopkins, who will be in Meadville soon after the Christmas vacation.

visitor at the college.

The world's week of prayer is being fittingly observed here with special chapel services every morning.

Because of continued cases of infantile paralysis in Boston, the board of health of Wellesly College has decided to bar both faculty and students from attending any place of amusement in Boston and vicinity.

The Missouri School of Mines will be relieved of the final exam terror.
Beginning with next semester they will conduct no final examinations.

News Items

Dr. Cobern is booked to deliver the principal address before the Franklin District Sunday School Convention, to be held January 26 in the First Baptist Church of Franklin.

Phi Gamma Delta has announced the pledging of Charles Jones, '19, of Pittsburgh, Pa.

During the Christmas vacation, Charles A. Aey, Laboratory Assistant in Physics, was married to Miss Hazel Snyder, of Arch Street, Meadville.

Ethel Bayard, '13, and Charles S. Miller, also of the class of '13, were married December 28 at the home of the bride in McKeesport, Pa. Mr. Miller and his wife have been spending a few days at Cambridge Springs and were visitors at the college last Monday. They will live in Clairton, Pa., where Mr. Miller is principal of the High School.

Thursday, Dec. 14, the football "A's" were presented to the men who during the past season of 1916 were successful candidates for the honor. After the singing of a number of Allegheny songs by the student body, President Crawford, on behalf of the school, presented the letters to the following men: Captain Scannell, '18; Captain-elect Harbaugh, '19; W. E. McConnell, '17; Drake, '17; Miller, '17; Coulsan, '18; Baldwin, '19; Heckman, '19; Filer, '19; Scannell, '20; Cunningham, '20; M. Cook, '20; P. Cook, '20; and Manager Boyd, '17.

Sankey Sheets, '16; Orson Graham, '15; and William Ellis, '16; spent the week-end in Meadville.

The daily papers have recently noted the death of two of Allegheny's older alumnae. They are Dr. R. F. Randolph, '68, and J. R. Moore, '63. Dr. Randolph died in November in his seventieth year at Grove City, Pa. Up until the last session of the Erie M. E. Conference Dr. Randolph was in the active itinerancy and had filed many charges in this part of the state. His last church was located at Mercer where he put in three years of good work, organizing the "Bird Lovers' Club," the "Randolph Bible Class," and the Mercer Public Library to which he gave the greater part of his private library. Mr. Moore, who was a Civil War veteran, has ever since the time of his graduation in 1863 resided on his farm in West Venango Township. He is well known throughout that section of the state as a landscape painter as well as a first class farmer.

The marriage of Laura F. Strickland, '13, and C. V. Sparling, also of the class of '13, was announced on Dec. 28 at Cattaraugus, N. Y. Mr. Sparling and his wife have left for Boston where he is taking work in the Boston Theological School.

Miss Ida M. Tarbell, '80, one of Allegheny's most famous alumna, is being considered by President Wilson for appointment on the Federal Tariff Board. It is reported that the President has practically completed the selection of the members of the Commission but that one of those he wanted was "elusive" and it was not certain that her services could be obtained. If Miss Tarbell receives and accepts the appointment, it will be the highest civil office ever held by any woman in the United States.

With a large field of starters lined up at the time set for the annual cross country run, a violent snow storm made the running of the race as scheduled almost impossible, so Coach Hammett at that time postponed the event indefinitely. The cross country race has each Fall been of great interest to the college authorities as it has always enabled them to get a line on possible distance men for the spring track meets. To make the event worth while to the participants in some other way than as a training grind, it has been the custom for the Athletic Association to offer a gold, a silver and a bronze medal to those who finish respectively first, second and third. It is to be regretted that it could not be run as scheduled as it is extremely improbable that weather conditions will permit it to be run before spring.

O. A. Parmenter, '14, of Chicago, has recently been appointed District Superintendent of the newly formed Quincy District of the Anti-Saloon League of Illinois. He has opened his headquarters at Quincy, Ill., and will soon be joined by his family as he will doubtless make Quincy his home. Mr. Parmenter on leaving here studied two years at Northwestern University and afterwards specialized in sociology at the University of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller have announced the birth of a son, Tuesday, Jan. 2. Mr. Miller is an alumnus of the class of '98.

During the Christmas vacation two national fraternities having chapters here held their annual national conventions. The Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity Convention was held at the William Penn Hotel in Pittsburgh, and the Phi Gamma Delta Ekklesia was held at the Hotel Hollenden in Cleveland, O. Allegheny was well represented at both conventions as this year both these conventions were held comparatively close at hand. Both fraternities passed favorably upon new chapter petitions. Phi Gamma Delta granted charters to locals situated at the University of Pittsburgh and the University of Oklahoma. Sigma Alpha Epsilon granted charters to the University of Wyoming, University of Nevada, Colorado Agricultural College, University of Arizona and the University of New Hampshire.

Ray Hoffman, '15, was married December 15.
