

My Dear "Life": -

I am very much interested in the social outcome of the Trust. It seems to me offer a large possibility - Is it not through it that America is yet to have the one which she lacks to make her distinguished an aristocracy. My blood leaps up in exultation as I consider how through this new commercial development society may reach its crown. ~~Then~~ As I look ahead I see all the commodities of life centered in trusts - not oil - cotton - sugar alone but books - eyeglasses, shrimp salad and patés de foie gras. Each trust - will be in the hands of say five persons, thus there will come to exist a set of families with common interest ~~to which~~ This will let me call it ~~the~~ an order which will have the Order of the Eagle, the Order of the Olive, the Order of the Poultry or ~~or~~ we have now the Standard Oil Order, the Sugar Order etc. ~~Here~~ the Malthus policy and privileges of the order will descend from father to son. We will have at last, a heredity - worthy the nation of everlasting accumulation. In the Standard Order of Olive for instance, we shall divide II, Smith - II, Smith III, and so on from generation to generation.

according to the article which I wrote

^{possible}
The outcome of the trial is a matter of serious