AMERICAN WOMAN'S CLUB • 353 W. 57th ST. • NEW YORK CITY • COL

November 17, 1936

Dear Miss Tarbell:

We are having at The American Woman's Club on Thursday night, Countess Waldeck, an European writer and journalist. She is going to discuss "Women Under Dictatorship" and we are hoping that she will bring out some of the points about women's participation in present problems, which we discussed with you briefly the other afternoon.

I know that you have to limit your outside activities in order to save your strength for your work, but I do want to tell you about this meeting and to let you know, that we hope very much that you will be able to come and listen to her. You see, we are still banking on your participation in one of our discussions and we think Countess Waldeck may give us a good deal to shoot at; at least, she will be able to give us an intimate picture of the part that European women are playing in the world of public affairs. It may or may not be indicative of what is going to happen in this country.

The meeting will be short and it will not be necessary for you to be here until about 8:20. Countess Waldeck has been asked to speak for one hour.

Miss Morgan says to tell you, that if your secretary will let her secretary know that you are coming, she will send for you or pick you up and take you home again.

Very sincerely yours,

Director
