

Monday.

Dear Mr Phillips:-

Mr Bayden has sent me a copy of Mr McClure's cablegram from Zermatt.
It sometimes seems as if Mr Jot in the way of Providence when Mr. Roosevelt's pretty scheme for a cottage in Cornwall.
Don't let it worry or hurt you. After all the only real things he suggests you are overruling. The situation is very well dealt with and as for me going into a presidential making campaign, I'm afraid if we can get word of the real things & put them straight. We'll do our duty - and it don't matter whose elected. I'm afraid Roosevelt that we want to elect him is to limit our future power. The magazine can't afford to have candidates. I'm going to write Mr M.C. that - as in word it to him a hundred times. The only thing I mind about the cable is you.
I can't bear to have you worried and pounded anywhere where is lawfully in the cross crooked course of things and you have been getting a great deal more. Try to camp at it - and go sailing.

I am so glad you want to see me soon. I felt pretty mean when I suggested it - but I know it will be a great help. I hope the trip was easy and you got back to Duxbury feeling better. If there is any way I can help in anything I'll be only too glad to come out of my shell.

With love to Mrs Phillips and the family.

Faithfully yours

T. Lee W. Duxbury
