

278

January 6, 1906

My dear Mr. Todd:-

It was very good of you to welcome me so cordially to the Colony at Redding. I am sorry that I am not quite free to accept your welcome. In buying my little farm I seem to have purchased principally a group of old mortgages, and until they are harvested, I may not call the property my own. I hope that my lawyer is going to be successful in his task and that by summer at least I shall be a property owner in your neighborhood and then I shall be honored to be included in the chapter of "Our Literary Tellers", and if you want it, you shall have a picture of myself and mine for the book.

Thanking you again, I am,

Very sincerely yours,

Edith M. Peabody

Charles Burr Todd, Esq.,

Redding, Conn.

A place where the

a spot on earth

the crying people acquire the picture

the

the

Jan 6 1906

My dear Mr. Todd:-

It was very good of you to welcome me so cordially to the Colony at Redding. I am sorry that I am not quite free to accept your welcome. In buying my little farm I seem to have purchasd principally a group of old mortgages, and untiled they are harvested, I may not call the property my own. I hope that my lawyer is going to be successful in his task and that by summer at least I shall be a property owner in your neighborhood and then I shall be honored to be included in some chapter of "Us Literary Fellers", and of course if you want it, you shall have a picture of myself and house for the book.

Thanking you again, I am

Very sincerely yours,

(signed Ida M. Tarbell)

Charles Burr Todd, Esq.
Redding, Conn.