My dear Mr. O'Connell;

Pardon my delay in not having acknowledged more promptly your letter of May 26th - I have been out of town.

The information you give me about yourself is just what I want - not that I can use much of it in the little article I now have on hand but it gives me the background I wanted for the few words that I have space for. And later it may all come in.

I have been much interested in your work since I heard you read your paper on the Hauxkang experiment before the Taylor Society in April of 1930. If I am up Salem way one of these days, as I may be, I hope you will let me come in and have a talk with you.

Very truly yours

Mr. John P. O'Connell
