Dear Miss Tarbell:

I find it very difficult to reply to your note telling me that I am the choice of the jury of the American Women's Association for the award of their annual medal.

I am overcome by this honor and frankly feel that I have done nothing to deserve it because without the assistance and loyalty of hundreds of thousands of women throughout the United States, I could have achieved nothing.

Your personal word means much to me as I remember that you were one of the first women in the country willing to enlist under our banner.

I note that you ask me to keep this confidential which, of course, I shall do, not only because you ask it of me but also because I am far too embarrassed to tell any one about it.

With deep appreciation, I am

Sincerely yours
