MEADVILLE RESPONDS WITH OVER $135,000

Local Campaign is Whirlwind Success—High Team Wins Loving Cup

Success enters into the Second Century Endowment Movement from all sides. The student subscriptions netted $9,327.00 and the pledges of the faculty amounted to $17,795.00, making a grand total of $27,122.00 for the college proper.

The faculty was exceedingly well pleased at the outcome of the student pledges. Inasmuch as it is wholly a case of follow the leader in a project of this kind, it was necessary that the college itself should make a good showing; this it did and very creditably.

The teams canvassing the city of Meadville were especially successful and put Meadville over the top in that the total as announced on last Friday was $135,288.00—over two and a half times the amount of the original goal.

Edgar Huidekoper, of Meadville, and Mrs. Henry Kidder have given the sum of $5,000 for the establishment of a lecture course, to be known as the Edgar Huidekoper and Elizabeth Huidekoper Kidder Lectureship.

Mr. Frank A. Arter, of Cleveland, Ohio, long-time friend of the College, a former President of the Board of Trustees and at present one of the General Trustees, notified the committee in charge here that he had changed the amount of his original gift of $50,000 to $60,000. The additional $10,000 was given as a result of the success of the Meadville Campaign.

Exceptionally good spirit and enthusiasm prevailed at all times among the teams that canvassed Meadville. This good will combined with plenty of hard work made possible the grand success. The totals made public Friday gave the supremacy to Division No. 1, which was led by Fred McArthur, and, according to the provisions of the agreement the loving cup was presented to this division. In order to determine which team should have possession of the trophy, lots were drawn; the choice fell to Team No. 1,

DR. DARLING TALKS BEFORE Y.M.-Y.W.

"COLLEGE TRAINING TENDS TO PROMOTE IDEA OF SERVICE" IS SUBJECT.

That the greatest thing a college can do for a student is to teach the spirit of service was the theme discussed by Dr. C. A. Darling in a lecture given before the joint meeting of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. Wednesday evening in the Chapel.

Drawing a vivid word picture concerning the portrait of Napoleon which is significant of a reflective attitude of mind, Dr. Darling compared the reflection of a great man to that of the student, who now approaches a time for retrospection.

"There are three things that a college does for a student," he continued, "First, it developes the talents with which we enter college as in the case of music and voice. Secondly, it developes the talents a student may be unaware of, such as, the art of speaking or writing or of devotion, etc, and, lastly, it developes the knowledge and the spirit of service from study, from observation, from association from athletics and other sources of activity, all of which tend toward leadership of some form or other."

In concluding the program, Mr. Neeley called on the Highland Male Quartet, composed of Messrs. Stevens, Woodard, McKinney, and Miller, who sang several selections and were well received.

Y. W. C. A.

The Sunday evening Y. W. service was led by Miss Frieda Schnell. The topic was "Service." Miss Grace Dodge was the example taken of one who gave her life in service for others. Miss Marcia Mae Horton told about the life and work of Miss Dodge. A piano solo was rendered by Miss Ruth McCafferty.

W. J. CARNEY WINS ORATORICAL CONTEST

CHARLES TEFFT IS AWARDED SECOND PRIZE. ONLY THREE PARTICIPANTS COMPETE.

In competition with three contestants for the Phio-Franklin Prize, William J. Carney easily won first honors in the oratorical contest held last Thursday evening in the College Chapel. The title of Mr. Carney's oration was "America and Ireland." Mr. Charles Tefft won the second prize, speaking on "Education versus Bolshevism."

In part, Mr. Carney said:

"There is an old adage which says, 'To forget is human, to forgive Divine.' But although many of us as human and divine as possible, we only succeed in remembering. . . . And as there is to each and every one of us a memory, so there is in the heart of every nation, every people, a deed, a sacrifice, and a memory. . . .

"Today in whatever land there beats a Celtic heart you will find a memory that binds him to the cause of a little Isle slumbering on the heaving bosom of the deep; to a land of ruined shrines and crumpling abbeys; to a speck of green on a waste of waters; to an Isle of sorrow in an ocean of tears; to a land that is a jewel set in the crown of the Creator; to a land where martyrs sleep in a million graves, where the spirit of your father's lives and the ashes of your father's rest. . . .

"Let Ireland go with God's blessing and a shake of the hand, and the hate and evil of a thousand years will be drowned and out of the sea will rise a new nation that England will be proud to acknowledge as a neighbor."

In conclusion, Mr. Carney appealed for the sympathy and support of America for Ireland in her struggle for freedom.

"Education Versus Bolshevism" was the subject of Mr. Teft's oration, which was given second place. He stated that when it became necessary to establish a government for America, the principles upon which the government was based were included in the constitution and Declaration of Independence. The creators intended them to be preserved for future generations through education. We of the present generation have opportunities far greater than those of our ancestors, even to those of our fathers. Accordingly our responsibilities are greater.

"Bolshevism is now a menace to the world. American institutions are threatened. Radicals have been fined, imprisoned and deported, yet radicalism remains and even grows.

"Through the schools, the press, civic gatherings and especially through our social intercourse with them the masses of radicals can be enlightened as to our customs and institutions. When the masses of radicals are converted, then their leaders will be left alone and helpless. Education shall have freed the United States from Bolshevism."

The third speaker was Julian Ross, whose oration was on the "Conservation of Our Forests." Mr. Ross delivered an able oration and made the contest very hot for the other speakers. Little and Burdic, who were to have delivered their orations, dropped out shortly before the contest was held.

BUGS CLUB.

At a meeting of the Biology Club held at the Country Club yesterday, election of officers for the coming year was held, resulting in the election of W. E. Severn, President; Sarah Peabody, Vice-President, and Sarah Coulter, Secretary-Treasurer. This was the last meeting of the year, and true to the custom of the Biologists, was in the nature of an outing, where every member of the club could indulge in his favorite sport.

Monday morning, the club will make its annual trip to Pymatuning Swamp, and collect specimens for the Biological Museum.

ELABORATE PROGRAM SCHEDULED WEDNESDAY

FLOATS, SPEAKERS, IMPERSONATIONS AND FIELD MEET WILL FEATURE THE DAY.

That Moving-Up Day for this year will far surpass any previous effort along this line is assured by the committees which are working over-time to be able to prove their statement. While only very general plans are made as yet, it is quite evident that June first will mark more than the beginninng of a new calendar month in the history of Allegheny. Of course there will be the annual chapel exercise, in the morning, and the big parade and inter-fraternity track meet in the afternoon, but there will be much more—so much more that those in charge are having trouble in finding time for all the programme. The parade alone will be worth coming miles to see. Big floats, all kind of costumes, pretty girls, decorated automobiles, impersonations, music, noise, and everything else which characterizes a big circus parade. An advance warning is sounded to the effect that if you see your double walking along the street, don't be surprised, but just consider it as one of the numberless features of the big day. A committeeman has offered this suggestion to those who do not know what Moving-Up Day is like, and want to know what to expect this year: Ask a Senior what happened on the Moving-Up Days during his career at Allegheny. After you have found out all that this person can remember, just multiply the number of events by two; this will make allowance for the many things which have been forgotten. Then, to get an inkling of what will take place this June, multiply the whole thing by ten; this will give a small conception of how much bigger, better, and more important the day will be this year in comparison to what has been featured in the past. The committee which will have entire charge is: Senior President Plumb; Junior President Booth; McCluer, Hartman, Russell, Skinner, Carney, Francis, Clark, Bingaman, and Clough; Sophomore President Graham Freshmen President Cameron, Bacon, Sterling, Klingensmith, DeVore, Dykes, and Nunn.

Death of Dr. M. Blanche Best

Dr. M. Blanche Best, youngest child of Dr. David and Mrs. Elizabeth Best, was born at the home on Center Street where she always resided, until her death at the City Hospital, May 26, the day after the anniversary of her birth.

She studied in the public schools and graduated from the High School of this City. She spent one year at Lasalle College, near Boston. She was instructor of Elocution and Physical Culture in Allegheny College, and later graduated from this institution. She took her medical course at the Toronto, Canada, University. After passing the State Board examination she became physician in charge of Settlement work in Pittsburgh. Later she became assistant physician in charge of women in the State Hospital at Warren, Pa. Returning to Meadville in the Fall of 1904, she began the practice of medicine in her home town.

She was active in the work of the Red Cross, Child Welfare, Home Nursing, organizer of the Civic League, read the first paper before the Woman's Literary Club. For many years she was intensely active as a member of the Board of Health. She was for years physician in charge of the girl's department of the Odd Fellows' Home.

Dr. Best was profoundly and personally interested and active in every plan, organization and activity for the physical, intellectual and spiritual betterment of her native town, giving her time, money and strength in utter self-abandonment to these causes.

She realized in herself the fine ideal expressed by the Apostle: "No man liveth unto himself." In early childhood she accepted the Christian faith and united with the First Methodist Episcopal Church and continued a devout and consistent member throughout life.

She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. L. V. Graham, of Meadville; Dr. Mary B. Newell, of Pittsburgh, and a brother, Capt. Wesley B. Best, of this City; Her parents and two sisters, Mrs. Flora Best Harris and Mrs. Emilie B. Miles, preceded her to the home above.

"After life's fitful fever,
She sleeps well."

HERBERT McCRACKEN WINS HOLBROOK PRIZE

NEW COACH IS HONORED FOR ACHIEVEMENTS BY ALUMNUS OF FRATERNITY.

The D. O. Holbrook all-around achievement prize, awarded this year for the first time by the alumni of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity at the University of Pittsburgh, has just been presented to George Herbert McCracken, of Sewickley, who, according to the committee of award, 'has done more for Pitt in his four years on the campus than any other member of the chapter."

The prize is in the form of a handsome clock, which will be placed on the Delta Tau Delta House. On it will be placed each year a silver plate engraved with the name of the winner. McCracken's name has already been engraved upon the clock.

The award was made on the basis of McCracken's scholastic standing, his achievements in football, basketball and track, including his captaincy of the floor team, and his executive capacity demonstrated in handling the Junior Prom and as President of the Senior Class, and his "constant attitude of loyalty to the best interest of the university, and his personification of the highest type of Pitt spirit."

McCracken, who will be graduated next month, comes to Allegheny in the fall as head football coach. That he is a popuar student and an athlete of no mean ability is easily significant from the achievements Mr. McCracken has made during his college career.

THE REV. W. K. ANDERSON DELIVERS SUNDAY SERMON

PITTSBURGH M. E. PASTOR DISCUSSES THE CHURCH OF TODAY.

The Reverend William K. Anderson, of Pittsburgh, preached in the Chapel Sunday morning. Miss Josephine Perkins sang a solo, "Lift Up Your Heads, O Ye Gates."

"Crowns and thrones may perish,
kingdoms rise and wane,
But the Church of Christ constant shall remain."

Though many earthly kingdoms, once powerful, have been overthrown, the Church has always stood firm. It is, however, a most fallible and inefficient institution, criticized alike by friend and foe. The friendly criticism it has used as stones with which to build stairways to higher things, but the persistence of the Church has been due, in truth, to the priceless possession, the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

This Gospel of Jesus Christ must first be applied to itself. The different churches have allowed themselves to become divided because of petty details, forgetful of the one big purpose, the Christianizing of the world, which purpose they can not hope to accomplish until they have united in unselfish service.

Second, this same Gospel must be applied to the community. Some one has said that the teaching of Jesus is the solution of all economic and political problems. As it is the business of a Christian college to develop Christian character, so it is the business of an industrial institution to develop personality, to promote civilization.

Lastly, this Gospel must be used in the settlement of disputes among nations. The American soldiers saved civilization, but it is a crime that Christian nations should settle their problems in that way. Causes are always working for peace or war, but war makes more problems than it can ever solve. It is the responsibility of America to show by its fruits that it is the most peaceful nation. The Church can not stand back unconcerned, and say that in time everything will be all right.

It is for the youth of the world with courage and vision, to apply the great Christian ideas to all problems; to make God's will real in the world.

Mrs. W. C. Bossard, of Meadville, entertained on Saturday evening at a dinner the Misses Helen Shaffer, '23, Ruth Lane, '23, and Edna Mumford, '23, in honor of the latter's birthday.

WINNING TENNIS TEAM LOSES TO CARNEGIE TECH

Plaids Are Too Much for Blue and Gold in Fast Tournament

With two decisive victories to their credit, the Allegheny College racqueters journeyed to Greenville last Thursday afternoon and defeated the Thiel College netmen 6-0, for their third victory of the season.

Flint experienced a setback in his first set with Gunton, who won 6-2. The former, however, came back strong in the succeeding sets and won 6-3, 6-4. The doubles also brought out some fine tennis, and Flint and Cochran were forced to extend themselves in their match with Gunton and Smith. Coale, a new member of the Blue and Gold team, made a very creditable showing. He, however, has been replaced by Clark, who defeated him in the final elimination Saturday afternoon on the Phi Gamma Delta court.

Summary:

Singles.

Bittner, Allegheny, defeated Miller, of Thiel, 6-2, 6-0.

Cochran, Allegheny, defeated Smith, of Thiel, 6-0, 6-2.

Flint, Allegheny, defeated Gunton, of Thiel, 2-6, 6-3, 6-4.

Coale, Allegheny, defeated Weiskotten, of Thiel, 6-3, 7-5.

Doubles:

Flint and Cochran, Allegheny, defeated Gunton and Smith, Thiel, 8-6, 6-3.

Bittner and Coale, Allegheny, defeated Miller and Weiskotten, Thiel, 6-2, 6-4.

Carnegie Tech, Pitt and W. & J. will be the next opponents of the Blue and Gold tennis team, when these teams will be met on their home courts May 26, 27, 28. Grove City will be the scene of the final match of the trip on the following Tuesday, May 31.

It is rumored that Tech is just as strong as she was last year, while Pitt, it is said, will offer some stubborn opposition on her home courts. W. & J. is an unknown quantity, but cannot be taken too lightly, as the Presidents, according to Manager Cochran, usually have a strong representative tennis team.

Miss Gretchen Wood, '21, of Oil City, spent the week-end with Miss Marguerite McCune, '21.

PRESIDENT AND MRS. HIXSON ENTERTAIN FACULTY AND SENIORS.

Saturday evening, at eight o'clock, President and Mrs. Fred W. Hixson received in honor of the Senior Class and the Faculty at their home on North Park Avenue. Everywhere there was evidence of that true Southern hospitality and cordiality which have so endeared the new President of Allegheny College in the hearts of the Faculty and the student body.

Floral decorations were both beautiful and appropriate. The dining room was decorated with clusters of roses and smilax which set off the furnishings most delightfully. In the library were vases of marguerite, while the parlor was the scene of a veritable fairy-land, with the pale colors and delicate odor of sweet peas lending an atmosphere of dignity and beauty to the rooms where the guests circulated, chatted and exchanged greetings. During the evening Miss Lucile Drake, accompanied on the piano by Miss Ruth McCafferty, gave several violin selections of unusual beauty, which she executed with feeling and technique.

The entire faculty, and most of the Senior Class attended. Dr. and Mrs. T. A. Canady, parents of Mrs. Hixson, and Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Hough were present

Miss Alice Spalding and Mrs. C. F. Ross directed the guests to the dining room, where refreshments consisting of lemon ice, cake, and coffee were served.

This was the first time that President and Mrs. Hixson have received in honor of a Senior class in Allegheny College. Every detail was arranged with the minutest care with regard to the pleasure and comfort of the guests, who were profuse in their expression of pleasure.

Don't think you can hold down a job by sitting on it.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION HOLDS LARGE MEETING

MANY PROMINENT GRADUATES WERE PRESENT AT DINNER IN CHICAGO.

Through the enthusiastic efforts of Clyde P. Warner, '92, President of the Chicago Association, and Harry M. Weeter, '11, Chairman of the Dinner Committee, the annual dinner of the Chicago Alumni Association was a pronounced success. Among those present were: Jasper N. Hunt, '72, father of Frazier Hunt, the noted war correspondent of the Chicago Tribune, down through the years to the youthful and eager representatives of the Class of 1921. Few college alumni dinners could boast a better representation or a more congenial and loyal one.

Fortified with song sheets from the campus, Mrs. Dotterer, '13, at the piano, and Mrs. Earnest Ashton Smith, '10, as song leader, led the old college songs with a fervor such as only loyal alumni evidence.

EDITORIAL

The delay in the issue of the paper this week is due to the printers, who obsessed with a tremendous volume of work on the several publications were unable to get The Campus out on schedule.

ALUMNI, ATTENTION!

The Campus extends a hearty welcome to every alumnus of Allegheny with the hope that as many as possible will again bend their ways toward the Hill and renew the old-time college days and friendships, those which are never forgotten even though one may be in Meadville or—antipodes.

Once a year the President and Mrs. Hixson receive in honor of the Faculty and the members of the Senior Class. Once in his college life, each student is invited to enjoy the splendid hospitality of the President in his home.

It is regrettable that the courtesy due the host and hostess on the occasion of the annual reception was omitted in the case of a number of the men, who not only did not attend, but failed to remember the courtesy due an invitation by sending regrets. College men should not neglect social obligations. If for unavoidable reasons they are unable to attend a function, such as the President's reception, they at least should observe the courtesy due a hostess. In the case of the Allegheny College men who did neither, they should be courteous enough to acknowledge their fault in person.

AS A GRADUATE.

There seems to be an idea prevalent among a certain type of college graduates that simply because they have had the benefits of a university education, they are superior to the average man, to whom such an opportunity has not been afforded.

This is, on its face, a fallacy, and one that should be contradicted by the combined action of all college men. While the number of college men to whom this applies is undoubtedly small, it would be to their own advantage to rid themselves of this trace of egotism. Pride is an admirable quality and one that should be encouraged in all; vanity is one of man's worst qualities, especially in a college man.

It is true that a man who has been graduated from any institution of higher learning is better fitted to enter into the struggle for existence if he has made the most of his opportunities, than the non-college man, but this should give him a feeling of appreciation and responsibility, not superiority, toward the man who is forced to compete against the trained man. Co-operation between the college and the non-college man will bring far greater results than competition.

Then there is a second type of college man. After graduation this man enters into the world to earn his living, considering himself on an equal basis with his fellow-men. He tells no one that he is a college graduate, but attempts to show by his work that he has been trained, and that he is fitted to do a big man's work. It is this type of man who advances and makes a name for himself in his chosen line of work.—Ohio Lantern.

The next issue of the Campus will be published Commencement Day and will be the big issue of the year.

The Campus Staff meets every Friday at 1:15 o'clock in the Campus office in Bentley Hall.

HISTORY AND POLITICAL SCIENCE CLUB.

On Tuesday evening, May 17, at the regular meeting of the History and Political Science Club in the Quill Club rooms, it was decided to hold a picnic on May 28, somewhere along Cussewago.

That a picnic, preceeded by a canoe trip, would be a splendid way to inaugurate the first of their annual outings, was decided by the Club at its last meeting in the Quill Club rooms. The decision was reached only after many plans had been presented and discussed. The Club intends to start early next Saturday afternoon. Canoes will be engaged and the Club will embark from the canoe livery of Mr. Whiting. From there they will go to the picnic grounds, which shall be wherever lunch-time finds them. Given a pleasant day and no accidents, the Club should enjoy one of the most pleasant outings ever had by an Allegheny organization.

Discussion of Thomas A. Edison's plans and questions for choosing factory foremen took place. The questions are aimed to test a man's general knowledge rather than his technical training. Mr. Edison claims that every man chosen by the tests up to date has proven a success.

At the meeting, three new members were elected: Emro Gergley, '23, Donnell Marsh, '23, and J. Edwin Larson, '23.

Prof. and Mrs. Littell and Prof. and Mrs. McClean will conduct the Club on its canoe trip.

The officers for the next year are as follows: President, Irvin M. Henley; Vice-President, Dorothy Leeper; Secretary, Harriet Titus; Treasurer, Russell Doing.

NEWS NOTES.

Mr. J. A. M. Stewart has been called to his home in Beaver, Pa., owing to the serious illness of his father, who recently suffered a stroke of paralysis which, it is thought, might prove fatal. During the absence of Mr. Stewart, the classes in Hygiene and Sanitation, Bacteriology, have been conducted by Mr. Mulfinger, while Mr. Skinner has had charge of Geology and Entomology. Word from Mr. Stewart Tuesday revealed no change in his fathers' condition.

WHAT OUR CRITICS SAY.

Some few days ago the old reliable and sturdy going publication of Allegheny College, Meadville, Pa., "The Campus," lumbered into our office. We are grieved to note a product, midst ruch surroundings and colorful traditions devoted to the interests of the college and its community, such as The Campus is, should completely exclude the faintest effort pertaining to literature. Dr. Frank Crane said yesterday, "Love is the wine of life and marriage is its God-made goblet." We don't know so much about the latter, but with a sprinkle of the former amid rich traditions, historic interest and picturesque surroundings of Allegheny any loyal son should be inspired unto "lore love, poetry, song and prose——."

—Illinois College Rambler.

Messrs. Neeley and Larson returned Monday evening from Penn State where they represented the Allegheny Y. M. C. A. in the annual school for the training of student officers of the organization.

Unless you happen to be OPPORTUNITY for goodness sake don't KNOCK.

WILLIAM DANA ARCHBOLD.

Belated notice of the death of William Dana Archbold, of 1421 Fillmore Street, Denver, Colorado, has been received. Mr. Archbold died September 1, 1920, at the age of eighty-five years and one day. He was graduated with the Class of 1856, the one other surviving member of which is James W. H. Reisinger, of Meadville, a retired editor. Mr. Archbold was one of the first of the Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity in Meadville, the valedictorian of his class and a man who remembered to the very end of his life with affection his student days. During the last weeks of his life he often quoted from the Greek and Latin authors studied in his youth and kept the college in remembrance. His business interests were with the Continental Oil Company. Mrs. J. P. Colter, wife of a former member of the Board of Trustees of the College, is a sister of Mr. Archbold.

Owing to the misplacement of the notice, The Campus was unable to print the above information, which should have appeared early in the school year.

INTER-FRATERNITY MEET RULES ADOPTED.

At a recent meeting of the Block A Club the rules for governing the Inter-Fraternity Track meet to be held Moving-Up Day, June 1, were drawn up.

The rules, as approved, are:

1. Any man in college is eligible.
2. No man is allowed to enter more than three events.
3. The regular track events will be run.
4. Points will count 5, 3, 2, 1.
5. All entries are to be handed in to H. Jones, President of the Block A Club, in writing by 6 P. M., Saturday, May 28.

Any man may enter three events but no more. He may choose three runs or three field events or two of each; this allows that a man may enter four events if two are running and two field.

The events to be run are the usual track events, namely: 100, 220, 440, 880, mile, two mile, relay (each man to run half a lap), both hurdles, pole vault, high jump shot discus and hommer.

First pace will count five points; second three; third, two; a fourth place is being given which will count one point.

It has been decided that once the entries are sent in no changes will be allowed; thus no man will be allowed to compete uness he has been entered in advance.

Henderson had been chosen to present the loving cup to the winner. It might be noted that Team No. 4, Division No. 1, led by F. M. Walrath, was high scorer for the final drive on Friday and also for the week, having received pledges amounting to $22,940.70.

In order to give the people of Meadville who did not have an opportunity to subscribe, what was known as "Gleaning Day" was instituted Sunday in all the churches of Meadville. This plan worked out exceptionally well and netted a considerable sum.

Allegheny Defeats Geneva in Meet 85-46

BITTNER AND MAC GOWAN WERE CHIEF POINT-GETTERS

FIELD AND HURDLES WERE BEST EVENTS FOR BLUE AND GOLD.

By nearly doubling the score, the Blue and Gold, on last Saturday at Montgomery Field, won from Geneva. At the end of the mile relay the score stood 85-46. Capturing firsts in all events but the three distance runs, Allegheny clearly showed its superiority over the Beaver Falls squad. Bittner, of Allegheny, was quite the high scorer of the meet with three firsts, a tie for first and second, and a third to his credit, making a total of twenty points, while Miller, of Allegheny, and Miller, of Geneva, tied for second place, each with two first to his credit.

One of the greatest surprises of the day, was when Bittner finished first in the century at 10.1. Although he was expected to take the hurdles, no such speed was thought of in the dash. The 120 high hurdles race witnessed the closest finish, when, although beaten over the last hurdle by Phillips, of Geneva, Bittner was the first to stretch the tape. The low hurdles did not constitute so hard a race, although Phillips again took second.

McCreary had the 220 yard dash all his own, finishing in 23.2. The quarter was as easy a race, with Wimmer and Kinney finishing in the order named, in 53 seconds flat. Geneva won all places in the half-mile, a slow race, 2:14.2. Carroll, Allegheny's best entry, was mistaken with the finish mark, and spent his strength in a premature and unnecessary sprint.

Miller, of Geneva, took care of both the mile and the two mile, winning the first in 4:40.3, and finishing the latter in 11:14.1. He was pushed hard in both of these events, Kirschner, of Allegheny, coming in for a close second in the mile, and Axel, of Geneva, and Bacon, of Allegheny, finishing in the order named after a fast sprint at the end of the two mile.

The weight events were largely for Allegheny, she taking twenty out of a possible twenty-seven points. MacGowan threw the shot nearly thirty-eight feet, which was sufficient for the five-point tally. With his best throw at one hundred and ten feet, Potter was given first place in the discus, while Cunningham lived up to his reputation by sending the hammer through the air for over one hundred and twelve feet. MacGowan was a close second in this event, and won a third place from the discuss, while Potter was responsible fo ra third out of the shot event.

The field events were easily Allegheny's with twenty-two points out of a possible twenty-seven. Miller was responsible for two firsts, one by vaulting ten feet six, and the other by beating Crumrine's broad jump by one inch, twenty feet, six and a half inches. Besides qualifying for third with one jump, Bittner tied Crumrine's five feet seven inches in the high jump. Although a later attempt was made to break Allegheny's record by putting the bar to five-nine, neither were able to clear it.

The last even of the day, the mile relay, was possibly the cleanest cut race that was run. What bid fair to be a close race, was, after the first half mile, granted to the Gold and Blue quartette. Although Windram, of Geneva, had the pole, Kinney was able to gather a lead of a few yards, which McCreary immediately widened to nearly ten. When he nearly doubled his pace for the second two-twenty, he obtained a still greater lead. Fry maintained and increased the advantage against Miller, and Wimmer finished ahead of Pollens some fifteen yards. The time was 3:19.1. The following were the results:

100 Yard Dash—Bittner, (A), first; McCreary, (A), second; Windram, (G), third. Time, 10.1.

220 Yard Dash—McCreary, (A), first; Windram, (G), second; Croasman, (A), third. Time, 23.2.

220 Low Hurdles—Bittner, (A), first; Phillips, (G), second; Windram, (G), third. Time, 27.1.

Phi Kappa Psi, 8; Alpha Chi Rho, 7.
Phi Delta Theta, 27; Beta Upsilon, 0.

Defeating the Sigs 5-4 in a hard fought game, last Tuesday afternoon, the Allegheny Club provided the feature game of the week and advanced a notch in the league standing. The Chi Rho's also threw a scare into the Phi Psi ranks, but were defeated in a last inning rally, 8-7. To the Phi Delts goes the prize for high scoring during a single game. They managed to run up a total of 27 runs in their game with the B. U.'s, last Thursday afternoon.

With Bender in good form the Delts had little difficulty in defeating the B. U.'s last Tuesday afternoon, 10-4. Numerous errors by the latter were responsible for the overwhelming score.

Last Tuesday afternoon the Chi Rho's surprised their followers and defeated the Delts in a free-hitting contest, 7-4.

In an exciting contest last Monday afternoon the Phi Delts managed to win their game with the Sigs by a 1 to 0 score.

ALLEGHENY IS CONFIDENT OF GOOD SHOWING AT W. & J.

BLUE AND GOLD HOPES TO CARRY AWAY HURDLES AND FIELD EVENTS.

What the W. & J. Intercollegiate Meet of next Saturday will be, is not definitely known by the Allegheny authorities. Although there have been rumors of entries from Yale, Penn State, and other of the big eastern schools, nothing definite was learned of such action up to last night. It is, however, certain that Tech, University of W. Va., Geneva, W. & J. and Allegheny will be represented there.

Having met up against Tech and Geneva, some comparison can be made. The strength of the team appears to lie especially in the hurdles, weights and broad jump. Although considerable improvement has been shown in the other events since the Tech meet, our best times are still inferior to those made by the Plaid men two weeks ago. The West Virginia institution showed up poorly against Tech a week ago, worse than the local team did, and little should be feared from its squad.

From this, it would appear that the contest will be sharply drawn between W. & J., Tech, Geneva and Allegheny. What the first named school is worth is undetermined, but, when the other three colleges conflict in the running events, the Blue and Gold should take off the majority of the field events and the hurdles. With these as a beginning, the Meadville men can be expected to bring back a good tally from Washington.

I'm the Guy.

The Yale University swimming team lowered the world's record for the 800-foot relay nearly seven seconds when they paddled the distance in 2 minutes and 22 seconds against the Pennsylvania quartet. The previous record, which was held by the same team, was 2:28 4-5.

* * * * *

The Penn State grapplers took all seven matches from the University of Pennsylvania wrestling team last Saturday night. Six victories were the result of falls and the other was won on the judges' decision.
