ALLEGHENY VS. WESTERN RESERVE UNIVERSITY—IN FACT, A GREAT VICTORY FOR ALLEGHENY.

What perhaps amounts to the greatest victory in the athletic history of "Alleghe" was won on Saturday at Cleveland by our foot ball team. We call it a victory not alone because our team played all around Western Reserve , but because we succeeded in playing a tie game with a team which was very confident of winning by a large score. To say that our team is elated is putting it too mildly. The truth of the matter is, our team found itself on Saturday. The odds were greatly in favor of W. R. U. In the first place they were on their home grounds, a great advantage to any team. To this may be added the fact that their team greatly outweighed our team, and finally W. R. U. has a fine reputation back of her, a thing which means a great deal to any team. Only the Saturday before they decidedly defeated Buffalo University, and they entered Saturday's game feeling that they had a good practice game on hand, intending to run up a decided score in the first half and allow the scrubs to put the finishing touches on in the second half.

On the other hand, Capt. Taylor had much difficulty in getting our team to feel that they not only had a good chance of keeping the score down, but a possible chance of winning. However, a most commendable spirit was manifest in every member of the team, and that was that they would fight to the very last, and if Reserve should defeat us, she would find in us a competitor worthy of her best efforts.

Our team went to Cleveland on Friday evening, so that the effects of a tiresome ride would not figure in the game. Two o'clock Saturday found our team at their quarters in the gymnasium of the university, every man in prime condition and ready to put up the game of his life. Coach Isenberg had little to say to the team before the game. In substance he said: You are going into a game which I deem the most important of your schedule. Your opponents have a reputation back of them; they are much heavier but less speedy than you. I know you have the ability to play them to a finish, and somehow I feel that to-day you are going to find yourselves. Let every man remember that the interest of his college is at stake, and by his success or failure will materially advance or retard her progress. Now go into the game and fight to the very last.

As the team came upon the field it was heartily cheered by a dozen right loyal alumni of "Old Alleghe," and much credit is due them for their splendid support throughout the game. Never did so few rooters do so much good. Their loyalty was so marked that they were heartily cheered by the entire student body of the university.

The day was not an ideal foot ball day, as there were about three inches of snow on the ground. It was dry, however, and was not an unpleasant cushion to fall on. The teams quickly got to work for their preliminary practice. It was easily seen that W. R. U. had much advantage in weight, but that Allegheny was speedier. It was noticed and commented upon that our team was working as a unit; Mook at quarter was handling the snowy ball with great accuracy, and every man on the team seemed to fit into his place and work in harmony with the team. A high wind was blowing from the northwest and added to this a driving snow gave a great advantage to the captain who should win the toss. Capt. Yeagle won the toss and choose to defend the north goal, with the wind on his back.

At 2:15 Mook kicked off for Allegheny, and the game was on. Reserve was somewhat surprised to be downed after gaining but a few yards, and lined up with the ball on their 30-yard line. An end run was attempted, but our men dashed through their heavier opponents and tackled the runner for a loss of five yards. A second attempt was no more successful and they were forced to punt. Williams carried the ball back 10 yards and in a short time Mook dropped back and punted to Western Reserve's 20-yard line. Reserve could gain but little ground, and was again forced to punt. Allegheny now tore things up and placed the pigskin on W. R. U.'s 9-yard line. Here W. R. U. braced up and held for downs, Allegheny acckling a scant six inches of first down. W. R. U. now steadily worked the ball to our 20-yard line, and here occurred a play which is seldom seen on the gridiron. One of W. R. U.'s backs broke through our line and was making for the coveted goal, when Taylor tackled him fiercely. In falling Young threw the ball far ahead of him and it rolled and bounded until it lay in the snow on the wrong side of our goal line. Quick as a flash a W. R. U. man was on it, and the score was 5-0. After the next kickoff Allegheny slumped a little, but had braced up and had possession of the ball at the center of field when time was called for the end of the first half.

The team went to their quarters between halves, and Coach Isenberg commended the boys for their fine work, pointed out their weak places, and sent them back to the gridiron confident of tying the score during this half. The ball was never in Allegheny's territory except from the kickoff. W. R. U. was kept on the defense almost the entire time and never once succeeded in making first down, but would no sooner get the ball until they were forced to punt. They fought stubbornly and held us for downs three times within their 10-yard line. But our boys were determined to have a touchdown, and Williams was finally forced over the line, and now came the very finest work of the game. Mook was called upon to kick goal. The ball was placed on the 20-yard line, 15 yards from the side line. At any time it would have been a difficult goal to kick, but with a snowy ball it was a task requiring a cool head and sure feet. The spectators literally held their breath; even many of the W. R. U. supporters said, "they deserve to tie the score." Williams carefully bruched away the snow and held the ball just as Mook wished it. Mook now carefully put his foot into the ball and it soared high and straight between the goal posts, and the score was tied. For a few minutes pandemonium reigned. The handful of Allegheny supporters rushed on the field, throwing hats, umbrellas, canes and horns, and such a scene! Nor was Reserve unwilling to join in the applause, and "Alleghe" was cheered to the echo. After the next kickoff there was but a minute to play, and the way Allegheny was tearing things up was something to gladden the hearts of our handful of rooters. W. R. U. kicked off and like a flash Beyer was on the ball. In two downs Willianms and Taylor dashed through their line for 15 yards, when time was called with the ball in the center of the field.

It would be hard to pick out any one man of our team and say that he was the star performer, for every man on the team played the game of his life. Mook deserves much credit for his splendid—in fact, gilt-edged—work in handling the ball. His tackling was also fierce, and he ran interference as a quarter should. Williams was perhaps our best ground gainer, and the way he tore through the lines repeatedly, brought forth geat applause from the spectators. His tackling was superb. Leffingwell at end played an exceptionally strong game, tackling repeatedly back of the line, never allowing W. R. U. to circle his end for a gain. McQuiston and Campbell did noble work on the line, not only breaking up interference but getting out and tackling fiercely. On three occasions when the ball was rambled McQuiston was on it like a flash. Campbell did great work in helping the man with the ball, repeatedly dragging the backs along for good gains after they had been tackled. Lampe and McCartney at guard more than held their massive opponents, and never failed to respond with a gain when called upon to carry the ball. It would be hard to find two men of their weight who could play their positions as they did on Saturday. Turner played a strong game at half, being especially strong in breaking up interference. Beyer at center had to oppose a very much heavier man, and he played all around him. The opposing center said after the game that he had been playing four years and had not met a fiercer center. Beyer passed the ball with great speed and accuracy, and never allowed the opposing team to interfere with our quarter. Fletcher at

DELIVERED AN INTERESTING LECTURE ON ANIMAL INTELLIGENCE, ON TUESDAY EVENING OF LAST WEEK.

The first of a winter series of talks on various topics of interest was delivered in the Sunday school room of the State Street M. E. church on Tuesday evening by Prof. Reese, of Allegheny college, on "Animal Intelligence." There was a very good sized audience present and the lecture, which was illustrated by means of charts, was full of instruction and very interesting.

Introductory to the lecture, Miss Moyer and Mrs. Olmstead sang a duet, Miss McKinney presiding at the piano, and at the close of the talk a selection was sung by Mrs. Hathaway and Mrs. Olmstead, Miss Hewitt playing the accompaniment.

Prof. Reese opened by saying that the only way to study the intelligence of animals is to study their actions, of which there are three kinds—reflex, intuitive and reasoning. He followed with a description of some of the habits of the crab, how it lives in its shell, and will sometimes take possession of an empty shell. Hatch out a lot of crab eggs, throw into the water a handful of small shells, and the little crab will take possession of them.

Hatch out a lot of wild duck eggs under a tame duck, and the fowl, when large enough, will follow their natural instict and fly away.

Under the head of intelligent or reasonable actions, he said it was not necessary to speak as everybody knows what they are. He, however, gave a number of illustrations of intelligence in the lower animals, such as leeches, ants, bees and wasps. Fish, the lowest order of vertebrates, were spoken of at some length and various instances related of their showing intelligence.

The next higher group is alligators and reptiles. Alligators have been tamed, and have been known to become quite familiar wth cats and dogs. Alligators build their nests on the ground, in the grass and bury their 30 or so eggs under about two feet of dirt. The young 'gators are dug out by the mother on being born, and carefully guaded for a time.

Concerning snakes, Prof. Reese said we have in this country only four poisonous species—the coral and moccasin, found in the South, and the rattler and copperhead, and he gave a very interesting instruction on how to tell a poisonous reptile. All poisonous snakes have on either side of the head, between the nostril and the eye, a small pit, or depression. In a good sized snake it is an eighth of an inch or more deep, and about the size of the end of a lead pencil. Snakes that have not this pit, or hole, are not poisonous.

The speaker exhibited a large rattler, in alcohol, and handled with friendly familiarity a small brown snake of the species so common in this section. He told of the taming and training of snakes, and how, in India, the deadly cobras are sometimes kept to guard against thieves. They know the members of the family and will not harm them, but will attack strangers.

Taking up the subject of bird intelligence, Prof. Reese related numerous interesting incidents to show a high degree of reasoning power.

Rats are more intelligent than most people imagine. They have been known to steal oil from bottles by dipping their tails in the oil and licking it off, and other equally interesting verified happenings in rat life were noted.

Dr. Reese closed with the relation of some quite remarkable instances of intelligence in the ape family, and stated that his talk was intended as introductory to the reading of the writings of Seton Thompson, who advocates hunting with the camera instead of the gun.

Following the lecture the speaker's specimens came in for a general examination, and the little brown snake became quite a favorite, several young ladies handling the little reptile with pleasant familiarity.

It has recently been suggested that the scientific club be resurrected and reorganized. The Campus is glad to encourage the suggestion. Our recent additions to the scientific department should awaken renewed interest in scientific questions. As a school, we are prepared to take a forward step in scientific research, and now is an opportune time to revive the scientific club.

The original scientific club did some good work, but lack of apparatus and room naturally made it difficult to keep up the required interest, and three years ago the work of the club was dropped. With our new observatory and newly mounted telescope, and other up-to-date equipment, which have come to us during the last year, we feel that much interest will be felt along scientific lines.

Nowhere can those interested in scientific research and mechanical advancement so well keep abreast of the times as they can in a science club.

We understand that Prof. Snook is quite anxious that some such club be organized. We feel that with his help some very good work could be done along scientific lines. Mr. Snook's idea of a scientific club is a club in which persons who are interested enough in scientific lines to have done some independent thinking may be free to give expression to the result of their research, a club in which the latest results of inventive genius may be discussed, and the latest theories of physicists may be carefully considered.

We feel that there are many students in school who would gladly avail themselves of the benefits of such an organization. Let us not think about the matter, but act and act at once.

We gladly welcome the first issue of the "Allegheny Literary Monthly," and extend our congratulations to the editor in chief and his board of editors, in bringing out a number containing so much of literary worth. The articles of this number without exception possess much to be commended from a literary standpoint.

The article of the number, "In Quest of the Doons," by H. K. Munroe, A. M., is especially noteworthy. While reading it we found ourselves influenced as Dana influences us by his subtile descriptions of travel. We feel that we can re-read Lorna Doon with a keener and more intelligent pleasure, since we have read Mr. Munroe's description of the section of country in which the scene of the story is laid.

The article by R. C. Smith has much of worth in it and is plainly evident that Mr. Smith understands human nature.

We congratulate Mr. J. G. Nelson on the success of his recent poems, and feel sure that his "Song of Creation" will meet with like success. His a la Kipling style seems to have caught the ear of the people.

R. G. Freeman's article, "A Gentleman," is but a reflection of the man himself. The style of the article is clear, logical, forceful. If it never occurred to some of us what a gentleman should be, we need but read the article to have a very vivid picture of the same.

We feel that the present number of the "Lit" is a credit to our college, and as a college literary monthly it is second to none.

Our Next Game.

ON SATURDAY WE PLAY W. U. P. FOR THE SECOND TIME—ORGANIZED ROOTING NEEDED.

On Saturday we meet Western University of Pennsylvania for the second time. You all know the result of the first game. We did very well under the circumstances then, but we want to win this game. To give the team the proper support we should have some organized rooting. Before the Geneva game we appointed leaders and the work done by the rooters at that game was very commendable. The one great objection was that the fellows were not concentrated. They were scattered over the entire field and the yells did not go together as well as they ought. Now w emust get up some spirit this week and do some organized rooting. W. U. P. beat Geneva a week ago Saturday and that makes it doubly important that we shall come out victorious in the contest. Won't those appointed leaders get together and arrange for several meetings after chapel and have a rousing mass meeting. Let everyone join and have the enthusiasm running at the highest pitch. Do this for the team's sake. Do it for your own sake. Do it for Alleghe's sake. We must not let our team lo se for want of enthusiasm on our part.

Oratorical Interest

TO BE REVIVED—MANY HANDSOME PRIZES TO BE AWARDED TO SUCCESSFUL CONTESTANTS.

On Friday a meeting of the student body was called after chapel. The object of the meeting was to revive interest in oratory. Prof. Smith addressed the meeting. He pointed out the fact that oratory is not a thing of the past, but occupies a very important place in the political world today. He also mentioned the fact that several handsome prizes would be awarded this year to successful competitors.

Mr. Bird, who had charge of the meeting, stated that the sum of 25c per year was assessed those who were members of the association and asked for a large number to remain after chapel for the business meeting of the association. Not as many students remained as should have, but those remaining were enthusiastic. Mr. H. L. Smith was elected president of the association, to fill the unexpired term of Mr. Travis.

The meeting was an enthusiastic one and points to better things in oratory than we have had. The sentiment of the meeting seemed to be that Allegheny should hold a higher place in oratory and debate than she does, and that an earnest effort should be made to arouse interest along these lines.

The week of prayer is now past. It was observed in Allegheny by a special meeting Wednesday evening, led by Prof. Morey, and a well attended Saturday evening service, led by the Rev. Mr. Bugbee. We shall not soon forget this meeting or the subject so ably and earnestly treated. "What the world wants to find is a man who is also a Christian." We count it a privilege to have our Meadville pastors with us.

The joint meeting Sunday afternoon was a good one. The leader was Miss Mary Jones. Many helpful things were said by the leader and by those who took part. We had hoped for a much larger attendance, and we must sound a note of warning against indifference.

A very helpful week of prayer was observed by the Y. W. C. A. Meetings were held each night in different rooms and the greatest effort was made to have prayer meetings. Rev. Mr. Brown, of the State Street M. E. church, addressed the association Thursday afternoon. The series was closed on Sunday afternoon by a union meeting, held in the chapel.

BOARDING CLUB GAME.

On the college athletic grounds, last Monday afternoon, the third contest between the boarding clubs was played between Braymer and Hall clubs, resulting in Hall's favor, 5 to 0.

The game was quite an exciting one, and was attended by quite a number of the students. Hall club played in their usual good form, but were unable to do much with the Braymer club's strong line. Both teams are to be commended for the good game they played, especially the Braymer boys, many of whose players were in the game for the first time. Line-up as follows:

end played a magnificent game; his tackling was spectacular, and he made the longest run of the game when we had a third down and nine yards to gain. On a fake plunge into the line he took the ball around the end for 20 yards. The truth of the matter is, that every one of our boys were in the game from start to finish. Never has our foot ball team received better treatment than it did at the hands of the W. R. U. student body; and the gentlemanly conduct of their team is much to be commended. While the student body was right loyal in supporting its team, it was always ready to applaud good work done by our team. After the game, Dr. Thwing, president of the University, came to the gymnasium and congratulated Capt. Taylor on the splendid game our team put up. The good feeling thus displayed on the part of W. R. U. is highly appreciated by the members of our team. The work of the officials was above reproach. Their task was a difficult one, as it was impossible to mark out any lines on account of the snow, and they were compelled to work almost as hard as any member of the contesting teams.

First Half.

The detailed account of the game is as follows: Mook kicked to Newcomb on the 20-yard line who advanced the ball 5 yards before being downed. Young tried our left end without gain; Hadley tried our right end with no better success, and Fairfax punted 30 yards; Williams got the ball but was able to advance but a few yards. Lampe hit the line for 3 yards; a double pass was tried and Taylor made 3 more. Reserve now braced up and held for downs; Mook punted 30 yards to Newcomb and Taylor tackled him in his tracks. Hadley now tried our right end for no gain; Fairfax tried our right tackle with like result. Reserve now tried a double pass and lost 6 yards. Fairfax punted 25 yards; Mook returned the punt 10 yards. Allegheny was now given 10 yards for offside play, and Lampe hit the line for 4 yards. Williams made it first down. Williams hit tackle again for 3 yards, and Lampe made it first down. McCartney was sent straight through the line for 4 yards; Williams made 1 through tackle. Taylor made 3 yards around the end, and Turner added 4 around the other side. Taylor made it first down and Williams made 3 more through tackle. Turner made 1 yard by tackle buck and Lampe made 3 through the line. The ball was now on Reserve's 9-yard line, and she now took a determined stand. Williams made a scant yard; Lampe misunderstood the signal and failed to gain. It was now third down, and 5 yards to gain. Capt. Taylor took the ball and plunged off-tackle for almost 5 yards, but Reserve got the ball by the small margin of two inches. They now began to play like fiends, and their right half back was hurled through our line for 5 yards; Hadley added 4 more and followed suit with 3. Fairfax made 1½ yards; Hadley got 3 through the right side of our line, and Young made it a scant first down through our left tackle. Hadley made 1 yard around our right end and Fairfax made it first down through the line. By short plunges, mostly through the right side of our line or just outside of tackle, Reserve carried the ball to our 20-yard line. Here occurred a most peculiar play; Young took the ball through our left tackle and was clear of the line; Capt. Taylor tackled him and, while falling, Young apparently threw the ball ahead of him and it did not stop rolling until it was across our goal line, and like a flash Dugan was on it for a touchdown. Newcomb kicked goal. Score 6-0.

Mook kicked off to Fairfax who succeeded in making 20 yards before being downed. Young made 1 yard and Hadley made 4 through our right wing. Hadley made 3 more and Fairfax made 10; Hadley 3 and Fairfax 2 and Young added another yard. Hadley plunged through for 3 yards and Young made it first down. Allegheny now braced up and got the bal on downs just as time was called.

Second Half.

Fairfax kicked off to McCartney who advanced 5 yards with the pigskin. Williams hit the line for 5 yards; Lampe, with guards right, added 3 more; Williams made 6 through the right side of the line. It was now seen that Reserve's right side of the line was unable to stand our bucks and it was pounded unmercifully. Taylor made 4 yards, and Lampe 4 more; Fletcher with guards in the line and halves over, made 8 yards; Turner made 3 yards, and Taylor another 3. The ball was carried steadily toward Reserve's goal and on their 4-yard line was fumbled, Reserve getting the ball. Capt. Taylor claimed that the opposing center had interfered with the ball, but his protest was not allowed. Reserve made a desperate attempt to tear up our line, but could make no impression; after two trials, with a gain of but 3 yards, Fairfax punted 30 yards and Mook was downed on the 20-yard line. Fletcher made 5 yards around e McCartney made a yard through guard, and Taylor added 4 more around the end; Williams gained 5 through tackle, bpt Reserve held and got the ball on downs. They were unable to make the required 5 yards, and Fairfax punted 25 yards out of bounds. The ball was brought in 15 yards, and Lampe gained 5 yards; Turner made 3 and Williams, with guards and backs in the line, made 7 yards; McCartney made 3 more, and Taylor was dragged through the line for 3. Lampe made 2 yards and Taylor 2. Lampe made 4 yards and Leffingwell lost 5. It was now third down and 6 yards to gain. It was a chance but Fletcher was given the ball on a fake pass, and circled the end for 20 yards, the best run of the game. Taylor made 3 yards, and Lampe had his knee hurt and retired in favor of Yard. Williams plunged through the line for 5 yards and was out of bounds; Turner made 4 yards, and McCartney placed the ball thre inches from the goal line; on the next play, Williams was hurled through the line for a touchdown. Mook kicked a fine goal. Score 6-6.

Fairfax kicked off to Beyer who fell on the ball like a flash. Williams made 8 yards and Taylor 7. Time was up with the ball in Allegheny's possession on Reserve's 50-yard line.

Line up:

Reserve 6.		Allegheny 6.

Young	r.h.	Taylor
Fairfax	f.b.	Williams

Touchdowns—First half, Dugan; second half, Williams. Time of touchdowns, 16:00, 19:00. Kicked goal—Newcomb, Mook. Time of halves—20:00. Officials—Referee and umpire alternately, E. B. Merrell and William Pat. Timekeeper, George Collister.

NOTES OF THE GAME.

If we had more rooters like the men who supported us on Saturday at Cleveland, it would be more like the thing.

During the second half of the game, Williams had bucked through the line for a good gain, but had been tackled low, and he had attempted to fall his length toward the goal, but he didn't succeed in reaching the ground as four or five of our men grabbed him and dragged him and his tackler five or six yards before the Reserve boys could stop the rush.

Mook outpunted Fairfax on an average of ten yards.

Allegheny was enthused on Saturday by the splendid rooting of a few old Allegheny students. Among the number were Plannette, Soult, Bordwell, Cutler, Masters and C. P. Warner. These men were ably assisted by Mr. McCartney, M. D., of Cleveland, a few others who were friends of Alleghe.

Perhaps the most enthusiastic alumnus at the game on Saturday was Clyde P. Warner, ex-'93, of Chicago. For two years he has ben secretary of the Alumni Association of that city. He was greatly pleased with our showing on Saturday. He called on the team at heir hotel on Saturday evening and said, "Boys, I am proud of your work to-day. Were you in Chicago to-night the Alumni Association would banquet you. Your work today is an advertisement for your college such as she could get in no other way. If you can arrange a game in Chicago next Fall, we will give you a rousing reception when you come, and banquet you before you leave.

McQuiston is developing into quite a sure tackler.

Mook has developed into a fine quarter.

Well, Reserve didn't put in her crubs quite as soon as she expected. At the beginning of the second half the line-up of each team was unchanged.

While on their way to Cleveland on Friday our boys were joined at Youngstown by the Lalus A. C. on their way to Detroit.

At Cleveland they cheered Alleghe ny with right good-will and our boys were not slow to respond to the courtesy.

After our touchdown on Saturday it is said that Coach Eisenberg, in the excitement took off his rain coat and put it on wrong side out.

GYM. EXHIBITION.

The announcement of the coming exhibition of the Gym. classes, in last week's edition, which is to be given Thursday, Dec. 12, has already aroused great interest among those who were present at the splendid exhibition given last year by the classes under the direction of Professor Born. The program this year will consist of drills by the classes, and work on the apparatus by the trick team. Professor Born has selected the following men for the trick team this year: Clark, L. F. Crawford, Allen, McConnell, Harris, Critchlow, Gregg and McCune. The members of the trick time have been hard at work for some time, on many difficult tricks, and there is no doubt but that the coming exhibition will be the best ever given in this city.

McCune was elected captain of the team, at a meeting held Saturday evening.

MEETING OF QUILL CLUB.

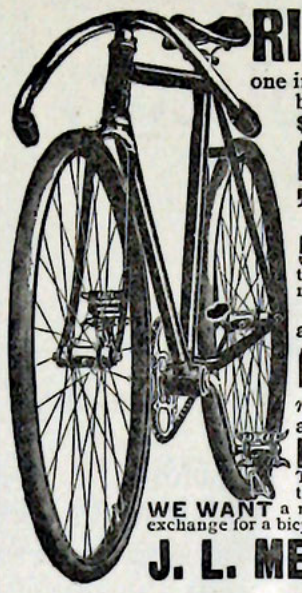

The Quill club held its semi-annual meeting on Tuesday evening, Nov. 12, at the home of Prof. Munroe. The following were elected to membership: E. F. Craig, H. B. Burton, R. W. Hazen, Miss Catherine Dewey, H. L. Smith, Miss Jones, B. F. Williamson, Miss Jessie Williams, Miss Carrie Beyer, Fred E. Smith, H. G. Gregg, Miss Peck, V. M. McConnell, Miss Fitzgerald, H. G. Harris, Geo. S. Davenport, J. J. Squier. Exchange editor, Charles L. Smith, Willis H. Franklin.

An amendment to the constitution was made making members of the "Kaldron" board eligible to membership.

The following officers were elected: President, Robt. Freeman; vice president, Miss Rena Bard; secretary, Harry Harris. Members of executive committee, Miss Peck, Prof. H. K. Munroe.

After the routine business of the meeting the question of "College sings" and "Rooting" was discussed. Committees were appointed to confer with the faculty with the object of improving the two sides of college life.

After the busness meeting a very enjoyable social evening was spent, in which the singing of college songs was a very enjoyable feature.

Mc Cune and McConnell took tea and spent a very enjoyable evening with Professor Borne, at his home on Sherman street, Thursday.

The snow has stopped the work on the library and chapel buildings, but it is hoped that the weather will permit the completion of the exterior before real winter sets in.

Dr. Smith's talk in chapel last Friday on the oratorical association was right to the point. We must pay the same attention to our debates and oratorical contests as we do to athletics.

Dumvill and Loomis left last Thursday on their first trips as entertainers. They were billed to appear at Darlington Thursday night, Chippana, Friday and at Enon Saturday, small towns on Mr Loomis' circuit, a short distance from Beaver, Pa.

The standing of the teams in the Club foot ball league is as follows:

	Won.	Lost
Hall Club	2	0
Kelly Club..	1	0
Braymer Club	0	1

The men who braved the storms last week and came out to football practice deserve a great deal of credit. Our two hardest games are before us and we hope that there may be a good turnout every night this week. Don't let the weather keep anyone away.

The Founder's Medal for oratory at Vanderbilt University was won by a Chinaman. His subject was: "The Miracle of the Twentieth Century—the Regeneration of China."

According to Bucknell's college weekly W. & J's. foot ball team is made up largely of professionals. The question naturally arises, can it be proved?

In 1902—the seventy-sixth year of its publication—The Youth's Companion promises more varied attractions for its readers than ever before, and The Companion always gives more than it promises. The government of Great Britain will be represented by contributions from the Duke of Argyll, the Marquis of Dufferin and Ava and Rt. Hon. James Bryce, T. P. O'Connor and Winston S. Churchill, members of the House of Commons.

Other noteworthy contributors will be Wu Tingfang, Chinese minister at Washington, Booker T. Washington, president of Tuskegee Institute, Justice Brewer of the United States Supreme Court, Gen. Charles King and Rear-Admiral Hitchborn, while more than two hundred of the most popular of living story-writers will contribute from four to six fascinating stories to each of the fifty-two issues of The Companion for 1902.

To all new subscribers for 1902 and to those renewing their subscriptions The Companion will send its beautiful 1902 Calendar, lithographed in twelve colors and gold.
