COLLEGE PUBLICATION NEAR DISSOLUTION

Literary Monthly in Financial Difficulty—Manager Unable to Solicit Advertisements

MORE STUDENT SUBSCRIPTIONS NEEDED

Since Manager Earl Clark has been unable to secure the support of the business men of Meadville in the way of advertising he has had to rely on student subscriptions to finance the Literary Monthly. Although a few advertisements might be secured without a permit from the Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, since the action of the Secretary in refusing to grant the permit is a result of a decision of the business men not to support the Lit, it is not advisable to try to secure any while this attitude is maintained. It seems that Meadville merchants have been very uncompromising in their stand.

Nor have the students shown any great desire to support this publication. In fact unless more subscriptions are secured at an early date it will be impossible to publish the Lit Monthly. A thorough canvass has been made of the men's dormitories, Hulings Hall, and the fraternity houses with the result that from 500 students only 200 subscriptions have been secured. This is a very low percentage and it is thought that when the whole student body becomes acquainted with the situation more will be forthcoming. Unless more subscribe, and that quickly, we may bid goodbye to one of the most valued of the institutions of this College.

In spite of the fact that it is uncertain whether publication can be continued or not the Literary Monthly staff has the first issue well under way. This issue, which will appear on November 21, will contain several new and novel features. There will be the Friction department in which letters from students will be published suggesting improvements in various departments of college life. The letter for the first issue is on the subject of "Tradition vs. Progress," which discusses the matter of dancing in a straight from the shoulder fashion. Another department which should arouse considerable interest is the Arena in which short comments by student philosophers will be published. A very interesting article has been contributed by Dr. Church, entitled "Impressions of a Poilu." In his contribution Dr. Church gives an intimate picture of the French soldier.

Christian Associations Hold Union Meeting

PROFESSOR HASKINS SPEAKS ON "IMAGINATION, THE SECRET OF MORALE."

The first union meeting of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. was held in the Chapel last Wednesday evening at 6:45. Special music had been provided and that the idea is a popular one was evinced by the large attendance. These meetings will be held regularly once a month in the future.

Prof. R. J. Haskins, of the Meadville Theological School, spoke to the students on "Imagination, the Secret of Morale." His text was taken from Shelley. He told how it was our perceptions which held us down and it was in the power of our imaginations that we would be set free. "Memory is merely reproductive imagination. In our imaginations we may attain an ideal world. And without that free play of the imagination we can not be good human beings."

Prof. Haskins went on to show how the miners in the present strike were not using their imaginations, or they would not willingly lay down their picks and shovels and thus endanger the peace and prosperity of the whole country. He also pointed out that the war lords of Germany who started this war lacked imagination, or they would not have precipitated a move which cost millions of lives. "Imagination is the secret of morals in that it allows us to follow ideally the consequence of our acts and allows us to put ourselves in the place of another. We can not so our duty to our country and to our fellowmen until our imagination becomes a living thing."

Prof. Haskins chose quite a novel subject when he decided to lay this one before the student body, and was enjoyed very much by every one present.

Y. M. C. A. MOVIES TO BE PERMANENT FIXTURE

"The Hoosier Schoolmaster" Enjoyed by All.

The whole student body will be pleased to learn that the Y. M. C. A. organization has decided that it will put on movies every Saturday night at 6:45 P. M. and if they are all as good as the first of the series it will be one of the best things that they ever did. It will be remembered by the upperclassmen that there were movies under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. organization during the last part of last year. At first the machine did not work very well, but later it was fixed and the movies were the equal of any movie in town. The movies of Saturday night, from this standpoint, were very good.

The story of the "Hoosier Schoolmaster" was played in a very effective manner. There was a large turnout—especially from Hulings. The firm of Carney and McClure, agents for Miss Adams' Chocolates, furnished the amusement for the crowd between reels. H. C. Eaton, '23, who ran the machine last year, operated the machine very successfully.

Freshman Caps Finally Appear

THE CUTEST CAP AND MEGAPHONE YOU EVER SAW—ALL FOR TWO DOLLARS.

Student Senate Under Suspicion.

Freshmen caps have come again and with them the cutest little megaphones. And both for the small sum of two dollars. Great shades of Joe Baldwin, where do some members of the Student Senate keep their conscience when such a fleecing is going on. But they say we live and learn. Someone is getting his tuition besides the customary new suit of clothes this year.

The knit caps supplied to the Freshmen this year are, however, quite an improvement over the undersize juvenile league pate protectors worn by '22. Bearing both the school and the Freshmen colors, they leave little doubt as to what it is that is beneath them. The megaphones also add much to the appearance of the crew when out on parade and aid greatly in the cheering as seen by the results of Saturday's game.

In fact the Freshmen are to be complimented on the fine piece of goods which has been wished on them. By recent reports it seems that the upperclassmen have discovered the exceptional quality of these goods. It has always been one of our esteemed traditions for the upperclassmen to collect Freshmen lids for their A books, but with the price of two dollars, the deed now enters into the field of crime and police courts. Columbus took a chance but thirty-five dollars and costs were not a state, so cover well your tracks.

FORUM HOLDS WEEKLY MEETING

Officers Elected for Ensuing Month.

At the regular weekly meeting of the Philo-Franklin Forum held in Bentley Hall on Friday, November 7, the outgoing officers were reelected. They are: Speaker, Parrish; Vice-Speaker, Neely; Secretary, Greenlund; Sergeant-at-Arms, Prather.

After the election of officers the debate of the afternoon was held. The question was, Resolved that the United States should ratify the Shantung clause in the peace treaty. After the reading of the clause the debate ensued. Bushyager and Humes supported the affirmative while Isherwood and Prather upheld the negative. The Forum decided in favor of the affirmative.

The subject for next time is, Resolved that immigration into the United States should be prohibited for a period of five years. Fleming and Greenlund will uphold the affirmative side of the question while Quinn and Neely will support the negative. Come out and enjoy yourself.

ARMISTICE DAY FITTINGLY OBSERVED BY STUDENTS

Coach Hammett Gives Interesting Talk in Chapel on His Experiences in France

THE TINGLEY BIOLOGY CLUB PLANTS TREE IN HONOR OF LIEUTENANT GRAHAM

The Chapel service Tuesday morning, was given over to the celebration of Armistice Day. After President Crawford read President Wilson's proclamation, he asked Coach Hammett to speak on the way that the boys in France received the news of the signing of the Armistice. It will be remembered that the Coach was in France with the Y. M. C. A. at that time.

Coach Hammett said that at the time of the signing of the Armistice he was in a camp about 100 miles south of Paris in which there were from 30,000 to 50,000 soldiers.

Affairs at this place were in such a state that he was unable to get the support of the officers for athletics. They said that they were favorable enough, but that they did not see how they could spare the men. There were certain duties that

Governor Sprout To Lay Cornerstone

TOTAL SUBSCRIPTION MONEY TO BE RAISED BY END OF NOVEMBER.

In Chapel, on Saturday, the students were told by President Crawford how the money for the new gym was coming. He stated that the citizens of Meadville had agreed to raise $10,000; the alumni of Pittsburgh $5000; the alumni of New York $5000; a large sum from the alumni at Cleveland, and he stated that soon he expected to announce that the alumni at Philadelphia and other places had agreed to raise large sums of money. All the money is expected to be raised by the end of the month.

According to Dr. Crawford, the plans are to have the cornerstone laid about the twenty-sixth of this month. It is hoped that Governor Sprout will be able to be here at this time and lay the cornerstone for us. If it is impossible to arrange with the Governor for this date the cornerstone will be laid on the 24th or the 25th.

Extemporaneous Speaking Contest This Week

ALL CLASSES WILL BE REPRESENTED. DECLAMATION CONTEST BETWEEN FRESHMEN AND SOPHOMORES.

Let no one forget the contest that is to be held in the Chapel on Friday evening. It will probably be one of the spiciest and most interesting events of the oratorical year. In reality there are to be two contests, one for the Freshmen and Sophomores, and one for the Juniors and Seniors. The Freshman-Sophomore contest will be a declamation contest—each class being represented by three men selected by it. A prize of five dollars will be awarded to the winner of this contest.

The extemporaneous contest is open to any man of Junior or Senior rating and its general subject will be the relation between capital and labor. One hour before the commencement of the contest a special phase of this subject will be chosen and the sides will be selected by lot. No speaker is allowed to use notes in this hour which he has taken before nor is he allowed to use notes during his speech. A five dollar prize will be awarded the winner.

QUILL CLUB.

On account of the French Club initiation which was held last Tuesday evening, it was necessary to postpone the Quill Club initiation until a later date.

DROP KICK FROM 30-YARD LINE GIVES GENEVA 3-0 VICTORY

Stubborn Play of Contesting Teams Holds Score to Minimum

EXCESSIVE PENALTIES AND POOR INTERFERENCE CAUSE INABILITY OF ALLEGHENY TO SCORE

Fighting to its utmost up to the very last second of play, the Allegheny football machine succumbed to the Geneva College gridders last Saturday on Montgomery Field by the measly little score of 3 to 0. Under ideal weather conditions, a large crowd attended the last home contest of the season. The game was marked throughout by clean-cut play, the teams being rather evenly matched. The caliber and punch of the opposing elevens was so nearly alike that punting was resorted to very frequently. The only score of the game was brought about in the third quarter when Thomas, the Geneva quarterback, placed a field goal between the posts from the 30-yard line. The only spectacular events of the game were the numerous attempts at forward passing. Only a few were complete. On the next to the last play in the last quarter a Geneva player warded off a 25-yard pass to Baldwin, of Allegheny, who was crossing Geneva's goal line at the moment. An unsurmountable difficulty which the Gold and Blue had to face was the seemingly excessive penalizing they had to undergo. Allegheny was penalized much more than in any other game of the season, and several times when Coach Hammett's warriors had the ball on the run almost in the shadow of the goal posts, penalties for holding and offside retarded them to the extent that the ball had to be given to the other side on punts. Another, but minor, difficulty presented itself in the form of inferior interference for the Allegheny backs.

Kerr demonstrated once again his old forward-passing ability, much to the delight of the spectators. Left halfback Plumb, of Allegheny, was a consistent ground gainer. Captain Harbaugh, Scannell, Kerr, Preston, Kinnear, Coulsan, and Trace played their last football contests on Montgomery Field. Miller and Ransom, of Geneva, excelled for the visitors. The game by plays:

First Quarter.

Geneva kicked to Plumb on Allegheny's 29-yard line. Trace went through left guard for three yards; Kinnear was thrown for a yard loss around right end. Kerr made 5 yards at right end. Plumb went through center for a little more than a yard, but Allegheny lost the ball on the down. Miller, of Geneva, made 5 yards through the line, but on the next play he could not advance the ball. Thomas made 2 yards around right end. Miller made a yard through the line, losing the ball on downs on the play. Plumb tore off five yards at right end, and 3 yards through the line. Kerr went through tackle for a 15-yard gain. Kinnear made 2 yards through the line. A pass, Kerr to Baldwin, was incomplete, but on another trial, Baldwin caught a pass for a 25-yard gain. Plumb could make no gain. Kinnear made a yard through tackle. Another attempt at a pass to Baldwin was incomplete. Kerr was forced to kick to Geneva. Curry could make no gain through the line. Thomas gained 2 yards on a plunge. Miller made 3 yards more. Geneva kicked to Kinnear, who was downed by Harr on the 50-yard line. McCracken was substituted by Geneva for Armstrong. On the next play Allegheny was penalized for being off-side. Plumb lost a yard through tackle, but made 4 yards right after around right end. Kinnear was thrown for a 5-yard loss. Kerr, being forced to punt, kicked the ball out of bounds.

Geneva's ball on their 35-yard line. Baldwin intercepted a pass attempted by Thomas. Kerr made 6 yards and Plumb 5 more, both around left end. Tipten was substituted for Atwell. Trace attempted to gain through the line, but Allegheny was given an off-side penalty. An attempted pass, Kerr to Kinnear, was incomplete. Kerr kicked to Thomas who was downed by Kinnear and Jones on the 20-yard line. Miller made a yard at left end. Curry could make no gain. End of the quarter.

Second Quarter.

Curry was thrown for a 1-yard loss around right end. Geneva punted to Kerr, who was tackled on the 35-yard line. On a fake play Plumb made little gain. He was hurt in the scrimmage. Kerr made 2 yards at right end. Kinnear lost 2 yards at left end. Kerr made 3 yards around end, but forfeited the ball on downs. Baldwin downed a Geneva runner on their 6-yard line. Thomas could make no gain around right end. Geneva kicked out of bounds. Allegheny's ball on the 12-yard line. Kinnear failed to gain at right end. Allegheny was penalized 15 yards for holding. Miller intercepted a pass tried by Kerr, and was tackled on the 22-yard line. Stolowitz made a yard at left end, Miller 3 through the line on two downs, and Harr was called back to kick for Geneva. Trace received the punt on the 40-yard line. Trace made 2 yards through the line. Allegheny was given a 5-yard offside penalty. Kerr made 7 yards at right end, and Plumb 2 through the line. On a trick punt formation play Allegheny advanced the ball only 2 yards. Kerr kicked to Geneva. Trace intercepted an attempted forward pass. Allegheny's ball on Geneva's 45-yard line. Trace made 3 yards through the line. Kinnear made no gain at left end; Kerr was thrown for a 5-yard loss at right end. Kerr punted to Geneva's 27-yard line. Miller was substituted for Scannell. Miller, of Geneva, made 5 yards through the line, and made first down on the next play with a 6-yard run through tackle. Geneva advanced the ball a yard, when the whistle blew for the end of the half. Score, 0-0.

Third Quarter.

Geneva kicked. Trace returned the ball to the 33-yard line. On the first down Allegheny advanced the ball 2 yards through the line. Plumb made 4 yards through tackle, and Kerr made first down through the other tackle. Kerr made a yard at left end. Plumb made 10 yards through tackle. Kerr made 5 yards through the line, and Kinnear 4 more. Cunningham substituted for Kinnear. Trace scarcely made any gain through the line. With a half-foot to go to make first down, Allegheny was penalized for being off side. Miller missed Kerr's forward pass, and Allegheny lost the ball on downs. Miller, of Geneva, made 2 yards at right end. Thomas failed to gain through the line. A pass was incomplete. Geneva

CLASSICAL CLUB.

A very interesting meeting of the Classical Club was held in the Library on Tuesday, November 4, at 7 o'clock. Dr. Elliott was the speaker of the evening and took for his subject: "Theocritus," which he discussed very interestingly. After a discussion of the subject the meeting adjourned.

Allegheny College, as well as the City of Meadville, feels keenly the passing away of one of the leading and influential men of the city, Mr. John H. Kerr, whose death occurred Tuesday morning, following a short illness.

Mr. Kerr was known to many of the college students through the wide circle of friends of his children, Miss Dorothea and Norwood. The sympathy of the college at large is extended to the grief-stricken wife and her children.

Editorial

Does "November" say anything to you?

It does to us.
It tells us of the dawn of a new era, and brightens up the horizon of the future.

It tells us of the passing of an old regime, and as we pause for a moment in reverie and watch it pass, we see a great Duke fall before his assassins, and in quick succession, we see nation after nation become involved in the great war whose put up forces were released by the assassin's trigger.

Long columns of grey green sweep from the east and north, and long columns of horizon blue move on to meet them.

On the front, the two masses meet like storm clouds. And wherever the masses meet, as in a battle of the elements, fire and thunder and death leapt forth.

Struggling to repel the invading Hun, who since time pre-historic has attempted to extend his domain to the shadows of the Pyrenees the French are resisting heroically.

By November of 1914, they had won the first battle of the Marne and had stiffened their line so much that communiques from the front stated "slight alteration—allies repel invasions, battle line almost straight." The blue, then, had driven the grey from the outskirts of Paris—the edge.

Like the fuel that feeds a great fire, the columns are pushed into the battle, and always there are more to take their places when this precious fuel is reduced to ashes, or feebly glowing embers of the Bois de Bologne back towards Belgium, as far as Lens.

November, 1915, did not mark much progress on either side. The fighting was still in the vicinity of Lens.

The fighting here became more and more intensive, until, when November, 1916, had rolled around, the French and their Allies were wallowing through the sodden flats of the Somme, and in spite of all their misery and suffering, were launching one of the greatest offensives known to history.

Time rolled on and as we look at history again in November, 1917, we see a new form on the front.

It is the American soldier. He is ready to play his part, and he plays it. The Frenchman meets him with a wan smile, and together they unconsciously celebrate the anniversary of a great event—November 11, 1918.

Then November 11, 1918 itself, in its turn, came into being as history. To the Frenchman it was a day which he observed since history—merely the end of another war.

It had figured in his continental and colonial wars, in his revolution, in the Great Emperor's campaign, and in 1870.

He had remembered it most vividly since 1812, when Napoleon's grand army battled against the elements in Russia, and met such terrible defeat in the glare of burning Moscow.

And now that it came again, the

ENROLLMENT AT EIGHT OF LARGEST UNIVERSITIES

Much to the surprise of most people, the University of California has the largest enrollment for the school year of 1919-1920. The following figures indicate the attendance at eight of our largest universities:

Y. W. C. A.

Miss Madeline Stanford, '21; Miss Francis Pitt, '22; and Miss Mae Funk, '22, entertained the old folks at the County Farm Sunday afternoon, November 8.

The Y. W. C. A. meeting Sunday night was opened by a violin solo by Miss Drake. Then Miss Day, a national field secretary of the Woman's Home Missionary Society talked to the girls. She spoke especially of the McCrum Training School at Uniontown, Pa. She then introduced Miss Mary Hubda, a graduate of that school, who is now doing independent missionary work among the foreigners at Pottsville, Pa. Miss Day would like to interest the girls in the Home Missionary School at Uniontown as they are interested in the Isabella-Thoburn School in India.

eleventh day of November, the Frenchman celebrated his historic anniversary.

On the front he laid down and slept.

In the country he declared a holiday and gathered with his neighbors.

In the cities, great fetes wherein wine, and Americans figured strongly, were followed by fantastic parades.

People thronged the streets, not knowing where to go nor what to do, but obsessed by the idea that something must be done to celebrate the removal of a terrible menace.

But midst all that chaos, they struck up a key note of comradeship, and to see an American was to see a Frenchman on either side of him, cheerful and good humored whether they understood their yankee comrades or not.

The Americans and the French have something in common besides idle sentimentality. There is a band of friendship welded by the fire of the front, and a common ideal defended by blue and the khaki side by side.

They must remain side by side to maintain and protect the ideals and friendship realized in the November mud of France.

BULLETS

Editor of Campus:—

Last Sunday morning, contrary to my usual custom, I forced myself from the covers rather early, and, as I had nothing else to do and did not feel in a spiritual mood, strolled leisurely down town for my morning walk. Upon my arrival in town I realized that I must needs get my weekly information from the Sunday newspaper and so I turned my steps towards the House of Trace.

Upon my arrival I was amazingly shocked to find a miniature Y. M. C. A. smoker in progress. It was all Y. M. C. A. but the name and was largely composed of gentlemen(?) of the North Main Street variety. As is the custom with all great groups of philosophers sundry important topics were being discussed concerning the Hill and otherwise. While I was waiting for my supper I heard such an eloquent flow of language that I decided that I was verbally unqualified to associate with such great linguists and so left immediately.

It does seem rather strange that such a large number of our college men should thus idle their time in direct opposition to our beloved President's request that each student attend the church of his choice. But as I think it over the more, I come to the conclusion that maybe they are attending the church of their choice.

The past week has seen the passing of one of Allegheny's most interesting landmarks. The cupolo of Hulings has been torn down. That room which has witnessed the daring escapades of generations of college students no longer perches above the heads of our fair co-eds, tempting them to midnight pranks generally thought beneath the dignity of college women. Well does Mr. Bullet remember one night last year when he was a member of a group of men who invaded the sacred precincts of old Hulings and penetrated even so far as this historic monument. Before a hurried exit under cover of the noise of falling statuary I managed by the fittful light of a match to catch a glimpse of the walls which were completely covered with initials and inscriptions of the quaintest and most interesting kind imaginable. So great was the interest aroused in me by my brief visit to the cupolo that I even risked inquiring of one of the workmen who were engaged in tearing it down as to these same inscriptions. He obligingly showed me a few of the boards and many indeed are the romances one might weave from reading them. One indeed was so recent as to—but no, that cannot be revealed even by me, anonymous person that I am.

This old tower-like structure is even said to possess a ghost. Strange lights have been seen by observing students to illuminate its windows. The story goes that many years ago a co-ed was disappointed by her lover. Unable to bear her grief she climbed to the cupolo and dashed herself from its window.

One wonders if the improvement in the personnel of the card-taking force at the hall is an example of the improvements which are contemplated in other parts of the Hill. A good beginning has been made. Let the good work go on.

Mr. Bullet appreciates the interest which the staff has taken in his contributions. He will continue to submit them. He also likes the idea of having a feminine collaborator.

Mr. Bullet.

MANY ATTEND UNION SERVICES

The men and women who attended the Union Y. M. C. A. - Y. W. C. A. meeting on Wednesday evening, November 5, in the Chapel, were treated to an exceptionally good program. In addition to the regular singing the Misses Hovis rendered an excellent duet, which was heartily appreciated, as their singing always is. The other part of the program included a most inspiring address presented by Dr. Hutchins, of the Meadville Theological School. He took for his theme Shelley's words: "Imagination is the Secret of Morals." With an effectiveness that quite moved his hearers he aptly applied this thought to modern daily life, and concluded with the council, "Think of the Other Fellow." The gratifyingly large attendance was an evident indication that these Union services will meet with a liberal support by the students. Since the programs for the future promise to be as interesting as this first has been, the success of these services is now assured.

Y. W. C. A.

The girls of the Y. W. C. A. spent Thursday evening, November 6, at the Old Ladies' Home. Many popular and favorite old songs were sung. After which Ruth Sjöberg, '21, gave a solo.

Grand Finale of Grid Season With Westminster

Unremitting Effort to Be Expended to Triumph at Westminster

Allegheny Backfield Expected to Undergo Change Within Week

The loss of the game on Saturday has sure had a heart-rending effect on the hopes of Coach Hammett's football squad and of the supporters of Allegheny athletics. Of Allegheny's four games, defeat has resulted in three of them to date. Of course it is true that no defeat has been overwhelming, and the Gold and Blue has not lain down in any of the contests, but the stigma of defeat must be overcome.

There is on the schedule still one more game to be played. Allegheny has as its opponents on Saturday afternoon the Westminster College team at Wilmington, Pa. Coach Hammett will stage a grand comeback, and Allegheny's entire fighting front will be primed for the contest with a week of strenuous training. A crippled backfield is Allegheny's greatest weakness, and Coach Hammett's difficulty this week will be to work out the best combination to represent Allegheny at New Wilmington.

Westminster has been a strong contender this season for Western Pennsylvania football honors, and an exciting game is expected next Saturday. Cheerleader Rowley, as well as the habitual supporters of the team, would appreciate the attendance at the contest of a large group of students. A last effort to vindicate Allegheny's football reputation will be staged, and it would be well worth the while of Allegheny football fans to witness the event. Everybody to the Westminster game Saturday.

Kerr could make no gain through the line; Plumb was thrown for a loss due to inferior interference; Kerr made a yard around end; Kerr punted 40 yards to Geneva. After first down for Geneva the third quarter ended.
